

DIED SUDDENLY.

Rev John Murray, Parish Priest at Johnville

PASSED AWAY THIS MORNING OF HEART DISEASE.

Had Been 42 Years in the Ministry.

(Special to Daily Herald.)

Woodstock, July 7.—Rev. John Murray, the popular parish priest at Johnville, this county, died quite suddenly this morning of heart disease.

He had been in poor health for some years, but recently was better, and was able to discharge his duties up to the time of his death.

The deceased gentleman was a native of St. John, was 68 years old, and had been in the priesthood forty-two years. He was educated at Laval, and his first charge was at Richibucto. He was appointed to the charge of Woodstock parish in 1876, remaining here fifteen years, and doing excellent work. He took charge of Johnville in 1891, continuing there until his death, which will be very widely lamented.

The funeral will probably take place on Wednesday with interment at Johnville.

Has Lots of Friends in Pictou.

A correspondent at White Hill, Pictou Co., in the Westville Free Lance, after copying an account of the nuptials of Inspector A H Rowley, of the Bank of Nova Scotia, and Miss McKay of Truro, adds: "We join in hearty congratulations to Mr Rowley and his fair young bride and extend our best wishes to the couple or a long and happy wedded life. Senator McKay, her father, is a native of Pictou County, a near relative of Postmaster Angus McGillivray of this place, and has numerous friends throughout the county. Mrs McKay, formerly Miss Jessie Blair, a daughter of the late John Blair, belonged to one of the oldest and best known families in Truro. The bride is a great-grand-daughter of the late Rev. Daniel Cock, the first Presbyterian minister ever settled in Truro."

A SERIOUS ACCIDENT.

Little Child of J. M. Chappell Had a Narrow Escape from Death.

A very serious and what might have been a fatal accident occurred on Saturday evening. Edith, the seven year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Chappell of University Avenue, was playing with her brother, George, about supper time, when they got possession of some matches. The boy, while playing with these, in some unknown way, set fire to his sister's dress, which immediately flamed up, being of light material. The screams of the child alarmed her mother, who seeing the danger her child was in, seized a mat off the floor and attempted to smother the flames. Mrs. Chappell, however, overcome by excitement, fainted away and had it not been for the timely assistance of the neighbors both mother and child would have been burned to death. The child was badly burned on the hip and lower part of the back and is suffering considerable pain. Dr. Harry McNally was called, and did all he could for the little sufferer. Special praise is due Mr. George Sturgeon and Mrs. Francis for their untiring efforts in rescuing and looking after both mother and child.

WAS ANDRE MASSACRED?

A Startling Report of the Arctic Explorers' Fate.

Chicago, July 6.—A special to the Record-Herald from Winnipeg says:

Rev. Dr. Ferlie, a Church of England clergyman, who has arrived from York Factory, Northwest British territory, brings authentic information of the fate of Explorer Andre and his companions.

Two years ago, 1,800 miles north of York, a party of Eskimos under the leadership of "Old Huskie" saw the Andree balloon alight on a plane of snow in that vicinity, which is two miles north of Fort Churchill. Three men emerged from the balloon and some of "Huskie's" people approached them out of curiosity.

As they did so one of Andree's companions fired off a gun. This was a signal to uncivilized natives for battle. It was regarded as a challenge, and almost instantly the natives fell upon the three explorers and massacred them. Everything pertaining to their outfit was carried to the homes of the natives on the borders of the Arctic region.

"Old Huskie" himself gave this information to Ralph Alstine, agent for the Hudson Bay Company, and the story after being investigated by Dr. Ferlie, was told by him today. He says there is little room for doubt, as frequent reports have since come of the strange implements which the north natives have in their possession, the telescope being particularly described. The Hudson Bay Company has recently offered a reward for the recovery of any portion of the outfit belonging to Andree, and although the natives have gone on the search they have returned believing they will be punished if they continued their investigation.
