

THE MURDER TRIAL.

Three Witnesses yet to be Heard and Preliminary Examination Postponed for a Week.

ANDOVER, Jan. 2.—After hearing four witnesses today at the preliminary investigation into the charge against the two Italians, Leon Sepel and Tony Aroska, of having murdered Edward Green, the pedlar, the court adjourned for a week to permit of three further witnesses being present.

E. Panarsky, the Hebrew who was with Green at the time of the murder, and is the only eye-witness of the tragedy, has deposited $3,000 as bail for his appearance when called on. The four Italians, Niel Murray, and the two Hatches, father and son, are being held in custody. Murray, it is said, has an uncle at Houlton, Me., who will be here on Monday, and will go security for him.

The only important witness yet to be called is Ra nsford Lovely, who met the prisoners on the night previous to the murder with guns on their shoulders. Evidence has been given that they did not take the guns into their camp and the crown will seek to show that they were hidden and recovered before the crime was committed. James Denison and William Boyd will also give evidence. The former found one of the guns on the trail. Boyd discovered the pedlar's jewelry box.

It is understood that to support the charge against Tony Aroska, the younger of the two Italians, the crown is relying to a great extent on the evidence of the expert woodsmen and trappers who followed the trail. Aroska has not been identified as being at the scene of the murder and, although arrested with Sepel, the case against him is based on circumstantial evidence. With possibly a slight break near Sisson's camp the trail is now said to be complete.

At the hearing today Miles MacRae, the constable who organized the hunt and placed pickets at all the camps, was the first witness. He took up the trail, he said, on the Sisson Ridge tote road, where Shields and his party dropped it at dark on the Sunday night. It turned off half a mile from the camp. Following it, he discovered two places where a fire had been lighted. The trail then took a crooked course as far as the East Branch logging road, which was little used. At this point he came upon the branch which W. McGinnis in his testimony had said he threw across the trail to indicate he was following it from that point. The witness added that he then dropped the trail and followed out the road to the portage and reached the camp a quarter of an hour after the arrest.

Seymour Traflet, a game warden and an expert woodsman, who followed the trail with McGinnis, swore that he had no doubt the trail was that of the same men from the logs where the shots were fired to the camp where the prisoners were arrested. He said that after the arrest he went back carefully over the trail and satisfied himself that the prisoners had been to the camp before and had retraced their steps about half a mile to the Beaver Lake road, where they had made two fires. They returned to the camp after McGinnis and himself left the first time.

Panarsky was recalled and identified a watch and chain found as the personal property of Green, who had told him the articles were a gift from his uncle, now dead. He also identified the jewelry box, valise and pocketbook.

This closed the evidence for the day. At the request of T. J. Carter, who is conducting the case for the crown, Magistrate McQuarrie adjourned the hearing for a week to allow the other witnesses to be present.

Speaking to your correspondent this evening, Mr. Carter said he hoped to be able to have the case called on again on Friday and would endeavor to have the witnesses here by that day.

of the extent reported."

Mr. John Barry was of the opinion that the effect on trade in Canada would not be very great, though a slight advance in the prices of lemons was possible. "The increasing popularity of the California fruit has kept United States buyers from coming here to buy the Sicilian lemons, so that the demand is not so great as it once was." He said, "As for oranges, we get a very few only from that district and can keep up the supply from California and Florida."

"The destruction of the November cut lemons will probably have a much greater effect in the other European countries which get practically all their supply from Sicily," he continued. "The Russians use lemon juice in their tea and consider it an indispensable article of food. The Russians get the best quality of Messina lemons, and the next best is supposed to come to this side of the Atlantic."

MESSINA FOR MANY CENTURIES HAD BEEN A CITY OF DISASTERS.

Among the disasters that have been visited upon Messina during the 2,700 years of its existence, since its foundation by Cumæan pirates, are these:

Fifth Century B. C.—Seized by fugitives from Samos and Miletus.

396 B. C.—Destroyed by the Carthaginians only to be rebuilt by Dionysius of Syracuse.

269 B. C.—Again fell into the hands of the Carthaginians under Hannibal.

831 A. D.—Taken by the Saracens.

1061 A. D.—Taken by the Normans.

1740 A. D.—Forty thousand persons died of the plague.

1783 A. D.—Town almost entirely overthrown by great earthquake.

1848 A. D.—Greatly damaged by bombardment.

1854 A. D.—Cholera carries off 16,000 victims.

1894 and 1896 A. D.—Suffered loss of life and property by earthquakes.

Creditor—Say, I sent you my bill a month ago.

Editor—Yes, but you wrote across the back of it, "Please call and settle." We made it a rule to pay no attention to manuscripts written on both sides.

THIS COMBINATION ALWAYS WINS.

How often we hear of people who have had an aching joint or muscle or years. No more speedy remedy can be adopted than to rub on Nerviline and then apply a Nerviline Plaster. At once the muscles begin to resume their wonted vigor and flexibility. Inflammatory symptoms of pain disappear. Nerviline Plaster can be worn by the most delicate child or aged person. They are irrefragable as thousands have proved. Used along with Nerviline they are guaranteed to permanently drive out any muscular ache, pain or stiffness. Try these remedies, and judge for yourself. 25c. at all dealers, or N. C. Polsbn & Co., Kingston, Ont.

"The great obstacle to be overcome," the speaker went on, "was that the Irish were no farmers. Their natural bent is not that way. The Irish immigration to this country occurred at the time of the opening of the west, but few of them took advantage of the opportunity offered them. The speaker said also that better living is being urged by the Gaelic League and other agencies, and rural life is being stimulated. "If I did not think that Irish patriotism could find a solution," said Sir Horace, "I would cease trying to keep the remnant of our race at home, and would advise, at any rate, a considerable portion of them to seek their fortunes on this side of the Atlantic. The mission of the Irish is to infuse a spiritual element into our too materialistic civilization, but to accomplish this there must endure in Ireland a distinctive people and a life in which the Irish throughout the world may take a legitimate pride."

WAS IN BED FOR THREE MONTHS.

PEOPLE SAID SHE HAD CONSUMPTION.

Read how Mrs. T. G. Buck, Bracebridge, Ont., was cured (and also her little boy) by the use of Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup.

She writes: "I thought I would write and let you know the benefit I have received through the use of your Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup. A few years ago I was so badly troubled with my lungs people said I had Consumption and that I would not live through the Fall. I had two doctors attending me and they were very much alarmed about me. I was in bed three months and when I got up I could not walk, so had to go on my hands and knees for three weeks, and my limbs seemed of no use to me. I gave up all hopes of ever getting better when I happened to see in B.B. Almanac that Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup was good for weak lungs. I thought I would try a bottle and so got time I had used it I was a lot better, so got more and it made a complete cure. My little boy was also troubled with weak lungs and it cured him. I keep it in the house all the time and would not be without it for anything."

Price 25 cents at all dealers. Beware of imitations of Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup. Ask for it and insist on getting the original. Put up in a yellow wrapper and three pine trees the trade mark.

Voice of Experience.

"In mailing an article to a magazine," asked the literary tyro, "is there any peculiar way of arranging the stamps so as to convey the idea to the editor that I am an old hand?"

"You bet there is," answered Percollum. "Be sure to arrange enough of them on the inside to prepay the return postage if you expect ever to see the article again."—Chicago Tribune.

END OF LANDLORDISM.

Twenty Years will see last of it in England.

NEW YORK, Jan. 1.—The disappearance of landlordism in Ireland and the creation of a peasant proprietary has been prophesied by Sir Horace Plunfett at a dinner given in his honor at Delmonico's by friends on the eve of his departure for Ireland. He was the founder of the Irish agricultural organizations, which have a membership of over 100,000, and have done much for the revival of agriculture in Ireland. He had been staying at his ranch in Wyoming and has just returned from a visit to Mr. Taft.

Justice Keough proposed the health of Sir Horace, who in reply, said: "The farmers are the chief wealth producers of Ireland. If they prosper they may prosper, otherwise they will be in distress. They have been handicapped by landlordism, but landlordism is disappearing. In sixteen, or at the most twenty years, Ireland will be owned and governed by a peasant proprietary."

"The great obstacle to be overcome," the speaker went on, "was that the Irish were no farmers. Their natural bent is not that way. The Irish immigration to this country occurred at the time of the opening of the west, but few of them took advantage of the opportunity offered them. The speaker said also that better living is being urged by the Gaelic League and other agencies, and rural life is being stimulated. "If I did not think that Irish patriotism could find a solution," said Sir Horace, "I would cease trying to keep the remnant of our race at home, and would advise, at any rate, a considerable portion of them to seek their fortunes on this side of the Atlantic. The mission of the Irish is to infuse a spiritual element into our too materialistic civilization, but to accomplish this there must endure in Ireland a distinctive people and a life in which the Irish throughout the world may take a legitimate pride."

PRICE OF LEMONS WILL SOON JUMP.

Italian Disaster Cuts Off, it is Believed, Entire Messina Output.

An almost immediate increase in the price of lemons in all parts of the world will probably be one result of the disaster which has ruined Messina and the surrounding districts of Sicily.

Sicily is the great lemon producing country of the world, supplying all the countries of Europe and the eastern part of the North American continent, and also sends cargoes to South Africa and other places. Until recent years, when California began to come to the fore as a lemon producing section, all the lemons of the United States and Canada came from Sicily and largely from the district about Messina. In certain parts of Greece the fruit is grown, but very small quantities only are brought across the Atlantic.

Wholesale fruit dealers of Montreal discussed the matter with The Star the other morning, saying that as yet details were too meagre to express any definite opinion as to what the probable effect on the fruit trade would be, but that it was likely that a large quantity of the season's cut had been destroyed.

"Practically all the lemons consumed in Eastern Canada come from Messina," said Mr. Charles Hart, of Hart & Tuckwell, "and are shipped either by the Thomson liners in the spring and fall direct to Montreal or in bond through Boston or New York. The November cut, which is the finest of the year, has just been cut and stored in magazines, and is to lie over winter for curing. It is very probable that this great tidal wave spoken of, will have destroyed them. I think that the fruit still on the trees must be safe, but it is not as good for shipment."

"All shipments from Messina will probably be stopped for some time anyway, and as the stocks here are very light, the market will probably go up. "There is a great deal of lemon growing about Palermo also, but Canadian buyers do not want Palermo; they have always had a fancy for the Messina grown fruit, which keeps much better. We can also get lemons from California, a very good quality, too, but the crop there is light this year by about fifteen hundred cars. So, that I think the advance in price will probably take place immediately, if the disaster is
