The Laplanders.
The Laplander's average height is four feet eleven inches for the men and two inches less for the women.

Rice Water.
Cornstarch, so much used in America for food, is not in demand in China, as the natives use for similar purposes the water in which they have boiled their rice—congee water. This liquid when cold sets into a thick, viscous and transparent jelly, which is colored, sweetened and eaten as Americans eat blancmange.

The Maelstrom.
The famous maelstrom whirlpool is about four geographical miles in diameter.

Girding With the Sword.
The ceremony of investing a new sultan with the sword of Othman, the founder of the Ottoman dominion, is called taklid saif, "girding with the sword." This ceremony corresponds with the ceremony of coronation.

The Compass at the South Pole.
The needle of the ordinary compass refuses to work when near the south pole.

Convicts in Japan.
In Japan a convict may earn enough money while in jail to maintain his family. He has the best of food and lodging, is taught a trade and if he wishes pursues the study of foreign languages.

First German Tragedy.
The first German tragedy was "Cleopatra," written by Von Lohenstein in 1671.

Oats That Travel.
Get a head of wild oats and lay it on the table overnight, first moistening the oats. Next morning you will discover that the head of oats has crawled off the table and likely enough has made tracks for the outside door. This peculiar gift of traveling lies in the spikes that extend from the coverings of the grains. As the moisture soaks into the head of oats it swells, and the spikes change position in such a way as to set the head to tumbling over and over sideways. The larger and coarser varieties of wild oats have this power of locomotion developed to a remarkable degree, and even domestic oats will develop it if allowed by neglect to degenerate.

Vitality of Sheep.
Of domestic animals sheep come first as cold resisters. Sheep have lived for weeks buried in snow. When the great blizzard of March, 1891, swept Devonshire sheep were dug out alive from the enormous drifts twenty-four days later. Goats and pigs take, respectively, second and third places.

Why, Of Course.
The teacher had been talking about a hen sitting on eggs and, with the incubator in his mind, asked if eggs could be hatched in any other way. "Yes, put 'em under a duck," was the response.

LAUNCH IS BURNED.

Man and Four Girls Nearly Perish in Toronto.

Toronto, Aug. 24.—Only the quick-witted heroism of Mr. Joseph Whelan, of 170 Markham street, and the prompt assistance rendered by the boat Velda II., averted a tragedy on the Humber Bay early last evening, when the big gasoline launch Topeka of the National Yacht Club fleet, was burned to the water's edge following upon an explosion. As it was, two persons were burned, and two thousand people thronging the Lake Shore road will long remember the weird scene as the flames devoured the big launch valued at $1,300.

The party on board consisted of Mr. Whelan; his sisters, Annie and Maggie; his aunt, Miss A. Baker, all of 170 Markham street, and a girl friend, Miss Madge Devine, of 398 Queen street west. The gasoline had leaked out of the tank as it lay at the Humber moorings, and before he started last night, five gallons of fluid were taken on board.

When well out in the lake, Mr. Whelan opened the relief tap to clear it. A spurt of flame followed the opening of the valve, and in an instant it had ignited the gas generated by the gasoline and water at the bottom of the boat. The explosion threw Mr. Whelan several feet. In a second the craft had caught fire.

Mr. Whelan called for all to jump overboard as he had seen the boats putting off to the rescue. Miss Devine did not move, and Whelan bravely the flames long enough to grasp her and place her in the water. One of the Whelan girls crept away out on the stern of the craft and remained there.

A moment later, though to those on board the doomed craft the moment seemed ages, the Velda of the Queen City Yacht Club, also a gasoline launch, came up at full speed, and took the endangered people on board.

Mr. Whelan had been badly burned, and it was thought at first fatally. His hair, eyebrows and lashes were almost burned off, and his face, hands and arms badly blistered.

GET THEIR FINES BACK.

Clever Ruse Adopted to Beat Ontario Laws.

(Toronto Globe.)

It is not improbable that at the next session of the provincial legislature an important amendment may be made in the game and fish act, under which the magistrate in trying cases of alleged violation of the law, may be given larger discretionary power in the apportionment of fines imposed.

At the present time one-half of the assessment charged against an offender is paid over to the informant. This course has led to some interesting embroglios occasioned by the quickwitted perception of its possibilities by several parties of tourists—usually Americans—during the past two seasons.

These travellers usually holiday in the northland in pairs, and, in season and out of season, seem to develop the mania for shooting deer or moose. If they are surprised in this illegitimate sport by any of the game wardens whom Superintendent Tinsley has on the warpath they make a speedy track for the nearest magistrate and ere the warden's report and charge are filed, prefer informations against one another for the offence, plead guilty and are fined. By this astute move both culprits are, under the existing statute, entitled to a refund of half the fee, which the province thereby loses. It is to end this sharp practice that the act will probably be amended.

It is altogether likely also that the department of Fish and Game will review the regulations governing the licensing of guides with a view to making them accountable for unreported violations of the law which occur in their presence. Reports are received from time to time that licensed guides permit illegal shooting to go on unchecked and unreported in their presence.

Doctors say the country is full of it. First comes a chill, then cold develops—the inflammation grows—you can't draw a long breath—lungs and sides get sore, and pleurisy sets in. A good home-cure consists in taking twenty drops of Nerviline every four hours. Supplement this by vigorously rubbing the sides and chest with Nerviline, and when warmth and circulation are established, put a Nerviline Porous Plaster over the aching spot. Nerviline Treatment is always successful in colds, neuralgia, and pleurisy. Try it yourself.

RICH FIND OF SILVER.

Great Discovery on Property of Northern Mining Co. at Gowganda.

Montreal, Aug. 24.—Despatches from Gowganda say that the discoveries on the property of the Northern Mining Co. are the show veins of the camp. The company is a close corporation and no stock is for sale.

The vein exposed was fourteen to twenty-four inches wide containing calcite and native silver. Three native silver nuggets, weighing six, eight and nine pounds respectively, were uncovered in one day. The discovery was made three or four feet below the surface. The same vein has been unearthed farther to the west of the property, on ground seventy-five feet higher. Here it is from 12 to 34 inches in width. The directors are Lieut. Col. Morrison, D. S. O., Ottawa, president; W. J. Carrique, Montreal, vice-president, and T. F. Ahern, Ottawa.

WHAT YOU NEED FOR THE COUNTRY.

You need some handy balm ready for blistered hands, sunburned skin, cuts, burns, bruises, stings, and many little accidents incidental to open-air life. Zam-Buk is the ideal balm. It is antiseptic, soothing, and healing. Insect stings or barbed wire scratches cannot become poisoned wounds if Zam-Buk is applied. It soothes sore, aching feet, heals chafed places, cools patches of sunburn, relieves the pain of blisters. Mothers should see that the country cottage is never without Zam-Buk. Purely herbal, it may be regarded as Nature's own healer. Apply it to all skin injuries, rashes, eruptions, and diseases. All druggists and stores.

CHEAPER CABLE RATES.

Government's Position Has Been Consistent.

Ottawa, Aug. 20.—The report that Canada has blocked a movement for cheaper cable rates by declining to participate in a cable conference, is without foundation. The record of the present government demonstrates that it is, and has always been, strongly in favor of cheaper cable rates. This is shown by the fact that the government strongly promoted the State-owned cable which has been established between Canada and Australia. It is further shown by the financial assistance which was given to the Marconi Wireless Telegraph Company. In return for the aid given Canada exacted an undertaking in writing from the Marconi Company that they were only to charge one-half for cable messages the rates charged by cable companies. The financial aid given by the present government to the Canadian Press cable service from Great Britain is another evidence of its desire to facilitate cable communication with the old land. The fact is the government has always been strongly in favor of reducing cable rates.

BORROWING OFFICERS.

Canada Will Receive Loan of British Naval Experts.

(Canadian Associated Press Despatch.)

London, Aug. 23.—It is understood that the arrangement concluded between the Imperial Government and Canada for naval defence only awaits the ratification of the Dominion Parliament. The scheme adopted is described as highly satisfactory to both parties. It is stated that Canada will immediately commence her new navy. The Admiralty has sent a number of British officers who will shortly proceed to Canada to study and advise upon the work organization.

The Morning Post thinks the reports of the negotiations at the Imperial Conference indicate the complete conversion of the Admiralty.

The Paris Temps says the situation appears less satisfactory for the navy than for the army. The British Government must use the greatest prudence in consolidating the union of the United Kingdom and the colonies. Not that the loyalty of its subjects beyond the seas is to be doubted. But it is sensitive and would not tolerate opposition between self-government and the necessities of Imperial policy. "We must be always free," said a Canadian newspaper, "to give or refuse our support." If this is to be Imperialism, it creates more duties than rights for the United Kingdom and contains the germ of many difficulties.

Bullet in Head; Bears a Child.

Westbridge, Mass., Aug. 24.—After sending a bullet through the head of his wife Mary, who was afterwards taken to the Brockton Hospital, where she gave birth to a child, Mariano Janeiro committed suicide. Janeiro, who was 29 years old, was out of work and deranged mentally on account of sickness.

After dragging his wife from the kitchen to the top of the house, he kissed her good-bye, while she struggled to get away, and then fired. The man placed the revolver to his own head just as his three children rushed up at the sound of the first shot. Laying down his weapon he kissed them, put them out of the room, locked the door, and then blew out his brains.

The infant and mother are expected to live.

Balloon Wrecked.

Paris, Aug. 24.—The Bayard-Clement dirigible balloon, built recently by the Bayard-Clement Company for the Russian Government, was wrecked near Maisons-Laffitte yesterday during its preliminary trial. The aviators on board, including Col. Nach of the Russian Army, were not injured.

The airship made its ascent successfully, remained in the air for an hour and then came down without damage. But while on the ground a violent gust of wind tore the balloon from the grasp of the 40 men who were holding it. It was thrown against some trees and telegraph poles nearby, ripping the gas bag to pieces. The ship then fell into the River Seine. The four occupants had stuck to the car during these happenings. They swam for the shore.

Dental Work of 3,000 Years Ago.

Berlin, Aug. 24.—A piece of dental work 3,000 years old was exhibited at the International Dental Congress, which opened in this city yesterday. The object is a human jaw taken from an Etruscan Tomb and has a calf's tooth held in place by gold fittings. The workmanship is excellent and seems as fresh as though done yesterday. Emperor William's exhibit includes Roman forceps and other dental tools of the second century.

Windsor Hotelmen Raided.

Windsor, Aug. 24.—License Inspector Pacaud paid an unexpected visit to several hotels here Sunday, and as a result, information charging the illegal selling of liquor has been laid against the proprietors of the British-American, Eureka and International Hotel. Each of these hotels is now liable to a $100 fine, this being a second offence.
