30-POUND SALMON.

J. J. Hill Home From Fishing Trip in Gulf of St. Lawrence Enthuses Over Sport.

NEW YORK, Quly 15.—James J. Hill, the railway magnate of the Northwest, returned to work yesterday after a fishing trip that had covered several weeks in the upper reaches of the St. Lawrence Gulf.

"It was the same vacation that we have every year," he said. "The most interesting thing about it is that we were miles above the most northern settlement in North America. This settlement is a little fishing village first located in 1845, and has not increased in population since then. Beyond us, to the north, I believe there is no human habitation."

Mr. Hill said that he did not catch the biggest fish; that another member of the party had caught a salmon weighing thirty-three pounds.

"My catches," he added, "weighed from twenty to thirty pounds each. We used twenty-two ounce rods, with exceptionally long lines."

Although Mr. Hill explained that the fishing was done from light canoes, he scouted the idea that there had been any upsets.

"The guides who rowed the canoes are very skilful men," he said. "There was never any danger of an upset."

Mr. Hill's party included President Harris, of the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad.

Mr. Hill left for Washington yesterday afternoon. "I shall have to attend to business now," he said, "and will proceed as rapidly as I may to the West."

HOW WEAK GIRLS MAY GROW INTO STRONG WOMEN

The Blood Supply Must be Kept Rich, Red and Pure—Good Blood Means Good Health.

Healthy girlhood is the only path to healthy womanhood. The merging of girlhood into womanhood lays a new tax upon the blood. It is the overtaxing of the scanty blood supply that makes growing girls suffer from all those headaches, backaches and sideaches—all that paleness, languor, despondency and constant weakness and weariness—all that ill health.

Unhealthy girlhood is bound to lead to unhealthy womanhood and a life of misery. Nothing but the blood building qualities of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills can save a girl when she undertakes the trials and tasks of womanhood. That is the time when nature makes new demands upon the blood supply. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills actually make new, rich blood which meets those new demands with ease. In this simple scientific way Dr. Williams' Pink Pills fill a girl with overflowing health and strength.

Miss Eva Dennis, Amherst, N. S., says:—"Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have done me a world of good. I was completely run down, was very pale, easily tired and suffered from frequent severe headaches. Though I tried many medicines I got nothing to do me the least good until I began using Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Even the first box of these seemed to help me, and after taking a half dozen boxes I was again a strong healthy girl. I have not had any illness since, but should I again feel run down Dr. Williams' Pink Pills will be my only medicine, and I strongly recommend them to every weak and ailing girl.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all medicine dealers or sent by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 by The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Weary Walk Is Ended.

San Francisco, July 16.—When Edward Payson Weston yesterday handed to Postmaster Arthur Riske the letter given him by Postmaster Morgan of New York City on March 15 last, the little ceremony ended one of the most remarkable feats of pedestrianism on record. Although Weston was four days behind the schedule he had set for himself, when he stepped off the ferry Wednesday night the old man was not downhearted.

"It was a great walk," he said, "and but for unforeseen difficulties and hardships in the last three weeks of my journey I would have been here on the hundredth day. Still I am feeling fine and could do it over again."

It is the first time that a bona-fide walk has been made across the American continent. Weston laid so much stress on this fact that he walked over railroad bridges in the far west instead of resorting to ferries.

WHY COUGH SYRUPS FAIL.

They slip quickly over the sore irritated membranes, drop into the stomach and do little else but harm digestion. It's different with Catarrhozone—you inhale it. Every breath sends healing balsams to the inflamed tissues. Tightness, soreness and inflammation are cured by healing pine essences. The cough goes away, throat is strengthened, huskiness is cured. Nothing so simple, so convenient, so certain to cure as Catarrhozone. Try it. 25c and $1.00 sizes. Sold everywhere.

For Imperial Defence.

London, July 16.—The royal commission on electoral methods examines Earl Grey to-day.

Sir F. Borden, interviewed, said that the instructions to the Canadian delegates to the defence conference were based on the Ottawa resolution. The delegates intimated that they desire to avoid public dinners and other engagements as far as possible.

In a Melbourne despatch Minister of Defence Cook states: "I am thoroughly in favor of a local squadron provided it becomes the Australian section of the imperial navy. The offer of $10,000,000 is unconditional, but should the home authorities prefer to employ the money in building swift cruisers for the protection of Australian trade routes, so much the better. These could train Australian sailors and work in connection with local destroyers.

Lie Passed In House.

London, July 16.—The House of Commons, the tempers of whose members have been sorely tried by the frequent all-night sessions, was thrown into an uproar by a scene between Earl Winterton and William James Thorne, a Labor member.

Earl Winterton, replying to an interruption from the Labor benches, remarked that Thorne was unfit to take part in the debate. Thorne replied by saying that he was as sober as any member of the House, and concluded by saying, "I call him the complete liar that he is."

Thorne left the House, and invited Earl Winterton to follow. The latter apologized, but Thorne refused to withdraw his remark, and was suspended.

Impaled on Pitchfork.

Dunnville, July 16.—Aaron Anger, aged 21, met a horrible death in Dunn Township.

He, his nephew, Arthur Anger, and Harry Dickson, were drawing in a load of hay. Part of the load slid off, and Anger and a fork went with it. The handle of the fork struck the ground first, and before it could turn Anger alighted on the upturned tines with his full weight, entering over the heart and under the left arm. The tines penetrated the lungs and heart five inches.

At his request his companions pulled the fork out, and, with blood gushing from his nostrils, he died without uttering another word.

CRIES IGNORED.

Two Ottawa Hotel Servants Drowned at Aylmer.

Ottawa, July 16.—Dorothy and Jennie Green, hotel maids, aged 23 and 32, were drowned during the night near Aylmer, Que., a summer resort. Their escorts, L. Loyer and E. Guerin, were rescued in an exhausted condition.

They were crossing the river about 11 o'clock Wednesday night in an old flat-bottomed boat which began to leak. Their shouts for help were ignored, because of the habit of boating parties to make such noises without cause, and it was not until after 2 o'clock yesterday morning that attention was paid to them.

The men were found clinging to the overturned craft. Loyer and the girls could not swim.

One of the sisters had been helped several times, when suddenly as she was being dragged back on to the boat top her coat came off, and she sank to the bottom. The other sister was also forced to let go her hold. Their home was in Richmond, Ont. There is 40 or 50 feet of water at the spot.

"The French-speaking priests are at last under the impression that Mgr. Sbaretti's candidate is the Rev. Father Whelan, an Irish priest of distinction. I am told, however, that Mgr. Begin, Archbishop of Quebec, has been informed as to what is taking place in our archdiocese, and that his grace will see that the interests and aspirations of the French-Canadian clergy in the diocese of Ottawa are looked after."

Woman's Power Over Man

Woman's most glorious endowment is the power to awaken and hold the pure and honest love of a worthy man. When she loses it and still loves on, no one in the wide world can know the heart agony she endures. The woman who suffers from weakness and derangement of her special womanly organism soon loses the power to sway the heart of a man. Her general health suffers and she loses her good looks, her attractiveness, her amiability and her power and prestige as a woman. Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N.Y., with the assistance of his staff of able physicians, has prescribed for and cured many thousands of women. He has devised a successful remedy for woman's ailments. It is known as Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It is a positive specific for the weaknesses and disorders peculiar to women. It purifies, regulates, strengthens and heals. Medicine dealers sell it. No honest dealer will advise you to accept a substitute in order to make a little larger profit.

BELLS OF THE BASTILLE.

They Are Hung In a Little Rustic Building In Paris.

The bells of the Bastille are still in Paris in a little court in Avenue d'Eylau, where they are hung in a little rustic building. There is no doubt as to their authenticity. They carry in relief their story. "These three bells were made by Louis Cheron, founder to the court, for the royal Bastille in the year 1761." Fleurs-de-lis, crosses and sacred figures adorn the legend. The bells formerly were part of the clock installed by M. Sartine in 1764. In the archives de l'arsenal are all the documents relative to the work.

On July 14, 1789, the balls of the assailants stopped the clock of the Bastille at a quarter past 5 in the evening. Palloy, who demolished the prison, three days later received the order to deliver the clock to the commander of the Paris militia, who transported it no one knows whither. After the revolution the bells were found at the foundries of Rouilly-sur-Andelle, in Eure, where, under the reign of terror, the church bells were converted into money. The proprietor of the foundry was interested in these relics and did not melt them. He installed the three bells in his works with the movement of the clock. By this time the dial plate had disappeared and the figures which belonged to it. Some years ago the bells were transferred from the Rouilly foundry to Paris, and there they have since remained.—London Globe.

The French Academy.

The French academy is one of the five academies and the most eminent constituting the Institute of France. It was founded in 1635 by Cardinal Richelieu and reorganized in 1816. It is composed of forty members, the new member elected by the remaining thirty-nine members for life after personal application and the submission of the nomination to the head of the state. It meets twice weekly and is "the highest authority on everything pertaining to the niceties of the French language—to grammar, rhetoric and poetry and the publication of the French classics." The chief officer is the secretary, who has a life tenure of his position. A chair in the academy is the highest ambition of most literary Frenchmen.

How He Kept His Clothes Dry.

Among a large shooting party on a northern grouse moor was a certain elderly professor whose skill with his gun was hardly equal to the profundity of his intellect. Suddenly a heavy storm of rain came on, and as there was no shelter on the moor the shooters got thoroughly drenched through. At least, all but one suffered—the professor. He had mysteriously disappeared when the rain came on, and he did not rejoin the party until the sun was shining once more. To the amazement of the others the erudite one was as dry as a bone. The others, drenched and disgusted, inquired of him how it was he had escaped a wetting. "Directly the rain came on," replied the professor, "I went off by myself, stripped off my clothing and sat on them until the storm was over."—London Telegraph.

In Bed With a Snake.

For one thing East Africa must have credit; snakes are not numerous, as they are in the south—at least I never have seen many. There are pythons, but they do not appear to be dangerous. I shall never forget how, down in South Africa during the war, I once awoke and found a black mwamba in bed with me. The snake is absolutely deadly. It frightened me so that after the whole thing was over I went out and was sick. Fortunately I was quite ignorant of the fact that it was under the blankets with me and rolled out unconcernedly. Had I known it was there in all probability it would have struck me.—Forest and Stream.

Women In Japan.

Like most oriental races, the Japanese regard women as the inferior sex, and the Japanese woman cheerfully indorses the doctrine. "I once," said a globe trotter, "sat down to dinner at a hotel in Vancouver where there was a Japanese waitress. With me at the table were two Canadian women; but, to my surprise, the waitress not only gave me priority in serving the meal, but was very particular in seeing that I had the largest portion of everything. I was rather puzzled until I remembered that in Japanese eyes I was, as a man, regarded as far more important than a woman and treated accordingly."
