“First rate, Laura,” answered Mr. Ferguson. “I didn’t know you could make it. I was afraid you were going to have a third warming over of the Christmas turkey. By the way, I hope there’s nothing left of that turkey now—is there?”

ENGLAND IN PANIC

Over the Possibility of a Foreign Invasion So this Correspondent of a Yankee Newspaper Alleges.

NEW YORK, Fe. 26.—(Special)—A Times despatch from London says: “England apparently is in a panic over the possibility of invasion by a hostile army. Numerous incidents following the production of the play ‘An Englishman’s Home,’ built on such a possibility, show the state of mind of the general public. Lord Esher, having appealed to the Daily Mail for 11,000 volunteers to complete the quota of the public of London in the territorial army, an anonymous reader has sent to him a check for $50,000, to assist in the work of recruiting this force.

The solemn warnings which Lord Roberts has been uttering for two years, and the fervid speeches which Mr. Haldane, the Minister of War, has been making all over the country, have done their work, and suddenly, under the influence of the realistic play, the whole people have awakened to a realization of what war would mean. Nothing is talked in the streets, the club, and the home except the defence of the island. Efforts are being made to recruit the territorial army and the admiralty is asking the government for authority to lay down six Dreadnoughts this year.

LONGBOAT BEAT SHRUBB.

Canadian Indian dropped Behind in first part of the Race, But his Endurance Won the Day.

ENGLISHMAN COLLAPSED ON THE TRACK.

MADISON SQUARE GARDEN, N. Y., Feb. 6.—Maintaining an even stride, which rarely varied, Tom Longboat, the Onondaga Indian from Canada, won the in-door Marathon race last night at Madison Square Garden, when victory seemed almost within grasp of the plucky English champion runner, Alfred Shrubbs, who collapsed in the twenty-fifth mile, leaving the Indian to finish alone. Longboat’s time for the race was two hours, fifty-three minutes, forty and two-fifths seconds, which is nearly eight minutes behind the record made by Dorando, the Italian, in his race with Johnny Hayes, the Olympic Marathon winner last fall. The Indian finished in fine fettle and was in no wise distressed. The big Garden was thronged with excited thousands who cheered the two contestants almost continually throughout the race. Shrubbs, as was predicted by his followers, set out at the pistol shot at a pace that was remarkable. He gained lap after lap on his Indian rival, who continued to run in steady fashion. Only once or twice, and that after the first fifteen miles had been passed, did Longboat increase his speed. Then, finding that Shrubbs was still strong, he fell back again to his former pace. Nearing the twenty-fifth mile, Shrubbs became visibly distressed and frequently had to walk, during which period Longboat regained several laps. Longboat now began running fast and the Englishman, unable to keep up, lost his head. In the fifth lap of the twenty-fifth mile, Shrubbs gave up the contest.

LONGBOAT NOT WORRIED. Shrubbs increased his lead to six laps at the twelfth mile, but the Indian would not be worried out of his long swinging stride. Near the 15th mile he picked up 50 yards. Shrubbs however, continued to open up his distance between himself and his competitor and the fifteenth mile mark found him six and a half laps ahead. Shrubbs’ time for the fifteen miles was 1 hour 28 minutes, 28 4-5 seconds. Shrubbs’ running was a revelation to the spectators, who continually cheered the flying Englishman as he sped steadily around the track and drew further away from Longboat. The Indian tried vainly to cut down this lead, but Shrubbs showed no traces of weariness and continued his fast pace. Unable to keep up, Longboat dropped his sprint and fell back to his old pace, with the result that Shrubbs gained an additional lap, making seven laps in all at the seventeenth mile. During the running of the nineteenth and twentieth miles Shrubbs broke into a fine burst of speed and, though the Indian responded gamely, the Briton gained the eighth lap. His time for twenty miles was 2 hours, 1 minute and 25 4-5 seconds. The Englishman’s cheering admirers were given a fright when in the twenty-first mile, Shrubbs suddenly stopped to change his shoes. During his brief absence from the track Longboat gained one of his lost laps, but Shrubbs came on the course again and started at a lively clip with the evident intention of regaining the lost lap.

SHRUBBS TOOK THE LEAD. There was some delay in getting the race started but at 9.18 p.m. the two men were lined up, and a minute later they were sent away. Shrubbs immediately took the lead and, setting a fast pace, gradually increased the distance between himself and the Indian. Shrubbs’ tactics soon became plain. He quickened his pace after going a lap or so, and though Longboat ran with an easy stride, it was evident that the pace was too hot for him. When Shrubbs finished the third lap the Indian was a third of a lap behind, and from then to the end of the first mile, which Shrubbs finished in 4 minutes 32 seconds, the Indian slowly but surely fell behind. At the end of the mile Longboat was three-quarters of a lap behind, and at the end of the next, or the eleventh lap, the Indian just trailed in after the English runner. At the end of the second mile Shrubbs was leading by nearly a lap and a half. The time for the two miles was 10-18 4-5.

INDIAN’S BRIDE CHEERED HIM. Tom Flanagan, the Indian’s old manager, brought Longboat’s wife out on the track to encourage her husband. Pandemonium broke loose in the Garden during the twenty-second mile when Shrubbs walked a few yards. It was apparent that he was in some distress, but he was soon off again with a swinging stride, though it could be seen that his pace had slackened perceptibly. Cheered on by his bride and the shouts of his friends, Longboat increased his pace and soon began rapidly to cut down the lead of the now fast tiring Englishman. The end of the twenty-third mile found Longboat only four laps behind Shrubbs, who frequently broke his pace and walked to rest himself. The Indian kept relentlessly on, and in the first half of the twenty-fourth mile caused a hurricane of applause by regaining another lap on his rival. Shrubbs was in evident distress and it was only by plucky effort that he kept struggling on. Longboat regained another lap at the end of the twenty-fourth mile and was now setting the pace with Shrubbs manfully following him. The thousands of spectators were now in a turmoil. They yelled and cheered as the Indian slowly moved up abreast of the Englishman, who was now a scant lap ahead in the second lap of the twenty-fifth mile. Longboat ran without any seeming distress, while Shrubbs, unable to run any further, began to walk. Longboat quickly took the lead, and the Englishman collapsed on the track, leaving the triumphant Indian to finish the race.

KILLED IN EXPLOSION.

Italian Laborer met a Horrible Death on Transcontinental Construction.

An Italian laborer, who is employed as a railway navy on the Transcontinental railway construction, near Cross Creek, was the victim of a fatal accident at noon on Friday. The unfortunate man was working as a member of a crew for Wheaton Bros., who have a sub-contract, at present located nine miles from Cross Creek. It was the duty of the victim to carry dynamite from the place where it was being stored, to the cutting, where the other men were working. He was in the vicinity for this purpose when the other workmen heard an explosion, and on going to the scene found the Italian lying on the ground in an unconscious condition. The dynamite had evidently exploded while he was in the act of picking it up. The unfortunate man’s abdomen was so lacerated that his bowels protruded, his lower limbs were also badly injured, and less serious wounds covered other parts of his body. He was brought to Jonah’s hotel, Cross Creek, where surgical aid was rendered by Dr. Sterling, but despite the best attention he passed away at 7 o’clock this morning. The body of the unfortunate Italian was prepared for burial, and will probably be interred in the Roman Catholic cemetery at Stanley.

The big Garden was thronged with excited thousands who cheered the two contestants almost continually throughout the race. Shrubbs, as was predicted by his followers, set out at the pistol shot at a pace that was remarkable. He gained lap after lap on his Indian rival, who continued to run in steady fashion. Only once or twice, and that after the first fifteen miles had been passed, did Longboat increase his speed. Then, finding that Shrubbs was still strong, he fell back again to his former pace. Nearing the twenty-fifth mile, Shrubbs became visibly distressed and frequently had to walk, during which period Longboat regained several laps. Longboat now began running fast and the Englishman, unable to keep up, lost his head. In the fifth lap of the twenty-fifth mile, Shrubbs gave up the contest.

The opening game of the Intercollegiate hockey league was played at the Arctic rink last evening, between the U. N. ## GAME CASE REVIEWED.

Motion to Quash Convictions Against Fredericton Men Argued on Friday.
Before Judge Wilson in chambers on Friday afternoon motions were made to quash the convictions against Messrs. Henry Braithwaite and W. J. Duacan who were convicted by Police Magistrate Connors at Chatham in November last, the former being fined $100 and $27 costs and the latter $50 and $26 costs. The information was laid by Game Warden Herbert Fairley who is generally supposed to have been prompted by Mr. Arthur Robinson, the New York stock-broker, with whom Braithwaite has been having some trouble.

Messrs. J. A. J. Gregory, K. C., appeared for Braithwaite and Duacan and R. A. Lawlor, K. C., argued in support of the convictions. In the case of Duacan he admitted that the evidence was not very strong but there was a fair inference from the information that he was guilty. In the case of Braithwaite he contended that the fact that he had caribou meat at his camp in close season was in itself a violation. His Honor reserved judgment until Monday, 15th inst.

GOVERNMENT BUSINESS.

The local government got through with their business here last evening, and adjourned to meet in St. John on Tuesday, February 16th. It is expected that the date of the meeting of the legislature will then be announced. Premier Hazen stated last evening that the House would be called together early in March. He gave as a reason for the delay that the government was anxious to have all the reports ready to bring down at the beginning of the session. The Carleton election petition, which is believed to have something to do with the date of the session, will be decided by the Supreme court on the 12th inst.

The government yesterday appointed Ald. J. King Kelly of St. John, commissioner to investigate the charge of offensive partizanship preferred against Mr. Alexander Rogers, ex-M.P., registrar of deeds for Albert county. At the same time he will investigate a complaint against Mr. Miles B. Dixon, who holds a minor office in Albert county. Mr. Dixon is the gentleman who is prosecuting a charge of assault against Mr. Edson E. Peck, who was lately appointed stipendiary magistrate of Riverside by the Hazen government. The members of the executive took their departure for their homes by this morning’s train.
