

STOMACH MISERY BOYS.

Diapysin relieved indigestion about five minutes after taking it.

There would not be a case of indigestion here if readers who are subject to stomach trouble knew the tremendous digestive virtue contained in Diapysin. This harmless preparation will digest a heavy meal without the slightest fuss or discomfort, and relieve the sorest, acid stomach in five minutes, besides overcoming all foul nauseous odors from the breath.

Ask your pharmacist to show you the formula plainly printed on each 50 cent case of Pape's Diapysin, then you will readily understand why this promptly cures indigestion and removes such symptoms as heartburn, a feeling like a lump of lead in the stomach, belching of gas and eructations of undigested food, water brash, nausea, headache, biliousness and many other bad symptoms; and besides, you will need laxatives to keep your stomach and intestines clean and fresh.

If your stomach is sour or your food doesn't digest, and your meals don't tempt you, why not get a 50 cent case today from your druggist, and make life worth living? Absolute relief from stomach misery and perfect digestion of anything you eat is sure to follow five minutes after, and besides, one case is often sufficient to cure a whole family of such trouble.

Surely a harmless, inexpensive preparation like Diapysin, which will always, either at daytime or during night, relieve your stomach misery and digest your meals, is about as handy and valuable a thing as you could have in the house.

DRASTIC LICENSE LAW

New Bill Before South Australian Assembly

MELBOURNE, Dec. 30.—A correspondent of The Chronicle writes that temperance reform in Australia is at floodtide. The South Australian Legislative Assembly has just adopted a most drastic licensed victuallers' bill. Some idea of the changes which the measure legalizes may be gathered from the following facts. It closes all hotels on Parliamentary election days, Federal or State, Christmas Day and Good Friday. It renders it illegal for single women to hold licenses unless they are at present do so. It abolishes duplicate barrooms unless special permission is given by Magistrates, and requires travellers to journey ten miles from their homes before they become bona fide travellers. It tightens the provisions of the existing law with respect to closing at eleven p. m. If the bill passes the Legislative Council South Australia will have in operation the most advanced liquor law in the whole Commonwealth.

DEFEATED BY DR. HAMILTON.

In no way is health so menaced as by constipation. It leads to indigestion, insomnia, anaemia and a hundred ills. Ordinary remedies fail—they relieve—don't cure. The worst case is defeated and cured quickly by Dr. Hamilton's Pills, which cleanse the entire intestinal tract, stimulate kidneys and liver, keep the pores of the skin open. You'll never have stomach trouble, yellow complexion or headaches if you use Dr. Hamilton's Pills. They are a perfect system tonic. 25c at all dealers.

GOING INTO CONSUMPTION.

When your throat rattles, your lungs and chest are sore, your throat is stuffed with cold—don't fear consumption—use Catarrhoxone and get well. It clears the throat, cures hacking, relieves tight chest and soreness in the bronchial tubes. To clear away Catarrh of the nose nothing could be better. Catarrhoxone is Nature's own remedy—it heals and soothes—cures every form of throat, lung or bronchial trouble. Prescribed by many specialists and used by thousands every day. 25c and $1.00 at all dealers.

PREVENT TAKING COLD.

Often you come home, cold and shivering—feet are wet, throat is raw, chest a little sore. A bad cold is just beginning. Put a Nerviline Porous Plaster on your chest, rub your throat with Nerviline, and take a stiff dose of Nerviline in hot water. This prevents a chill, and checks the cold instantly. No remedies so useful in the home, so sure to prevent serious illness as Nerviline and Nerviline Plasters. Sold by all dealers, 25c each, but be sure you get the genuine, and re-use any substitute.

LABRADOR'S DEVIL-DOGS

FIERCE BRUTES WILL READILY ATTACK HUMAN BEINGS.

Animals Used to Pull Sledges Are Wolf-Like Creatures and Amply Deserve Their Name—Have Been Known to Kill a Man and Children Are Frequent Victims—Whole Family Eaten—Rabies Not Known.

The desolate coast of Labrador, five hundred miles in an air line from Belle Isle to Hudson Strait, peopled by four thousand whites and fifteen hundred Esquimaux, and frequented every summer by twenty-five thousand Newfoundlanders for the cod fishery, is absolutely without roads or any other public utilities; is guileless of charts, lights or beacons; knew neither mission nor medical aid until Dr. Grenfell established himself there sixteen years ago, and even to-day all communication in summer is by boat across the waters and in winter by dog teams over the snow-clad wastes. These "devil dogs," as they are frequently called, really deserve that name in many instances, for they often attack and sometimes kill and devour human beings. There are numerous cases of this on record, the most notable being Dr. Grenfell's own narrow escape from the fangs of the venomous brutes in the early part of the present year, which was fully told in the daily newspapers at the time. These Esquimaux dogs are half wolf in species and will attack any creature they think they can overcome. So dangerous are they to man and beast that their importation into Newfoundland is now forbidden. Dr. Grenfell says that it is no uncommon occurrence in the northern areas, where wolves are plentiful, for these dogs to have pups by wolves, which hover around the fishing stations, and he himself has often seen the wolfish offspring, though one observes but little difference between them and the ordinary dog.

Dillon Wallace, the explorer, describes how, in his winter journey from Ungava to Bradore, a huge gray wolf journeyed with his party for a long stretch, keeping its distance by day, but running in with his pack at night. So savage are these creatures that they have been known to attack and kill a strong, husky man. On April 13, 1906, Robert Cumby, 35 years old, residing near Battle Harbor, started with his dog team, in company with other men, for Lewis Bay to procure firewood. The dogs were vicious, and two men usually went with them.

After crossing the bay on the ice Cumby branched off from the other men, but they had not been separated long when his dogs began fighting. While he was attempting to clear the dogs his feet became entangled among the traces and he fell in the midst of the pack, which turned on him. He fought desperately with an axe, killing two dogs and almost severing the head from another and overcame him, and he was literally torn to pieces. A brother of the unfortunate man went to his rescue and narrowly escaped a similar fate. It was only after much time had elapsed and neighbors gathered that the mutilated corpse was rescued. In the same manner the captain of the mail boat brought to St. John's news of the finding of the skeletons of James Lane, his wife and their little boy, who were eaten by dogs the previous December while going from Harrison to the Moravian Mission station at Nain for the Christmas festivities. A severe storm raged, and it is supposed that the man, having pitched his tent, unharnessed the dogs which drew his komatik, when they fell upon and tore him to pieces, his wife and boy meeting the same fate. The dogs, after an absence of ten days, returned without their owner, and, being fat and sleek, the people suspected what had occurred and shot them at once.

While virtually every resident of Labrador has been bitten once or more by these "devil dogs," there has never been a case of hydrophobia. This fact is attested by Dr. Grenfell, who in sixteen years on the coast has come in contact with every settler, even in the remotest parts, and has treated all of them. The dogs are excessively quarrelsome and, wolf-like, hunt in packs and always attack the weaker among themselves, devouring them as they kill them. All seem anxious to take part in a fray, but peace is usually restored, even if twenty or more are engaged in combat, by the application of the dreaded Esquimaux whip used by the settlers. Only the unceasing application of the lash keeps them in subjection. The dog whip consists of a handle about eighteen inches long and a plaited whip of walrus hide about twenty feet long, and with it an expert driver can hit any part of the leading dog he chooses. In the coves and creeks along the seaboard, where the settlers live, no man ventures abroad without his whip. Every woman carries a stout club. It is death to a child to get among the dogs. In the more isolated settlements no visitor dare land without carrying a revolver.

Medicine Hat Cattle Trade.

Reports from the Medicine Hat district give an excellent account of the conditions of the cattle trade there. The season is described as the best that has ever been experienced. The past winter was so mild that the stock lost little weight, and picked up very rapidly in the ensuing spring. Shipments will in consequence be marketed much earlier than last year, and the beef will present a much better appearance. Prices are high, and great satisfaction prevails among the cattlemen. Few if any cattle will go from the district to Chicago this year. Last season over half the output went to that market. This fact may have had some influence on the increased prices offered by Canadian buyers, and also on the more encouraging treatment now enjoyed by shippers.

HOW TO FEEL "DOPEY"

Headaches—an easily-tired brain—feeling brain—even for a moment. There are too many men and women, always at their best, to give much chance of success to one thus handicapped.

These things are the direct results of sluggish liver—constipated bowels—y skin—overworked kidneys—in short, of a body whose sewers are clogged.

Nothing opens up these outlets of the waste, and clears the system of poison so gently, yet so effectively, as "Fruit-a-tives." "Fruit-a-tives" are the juices of oranges, apples, figs and prunes combined—by a process that greatly increases their medicinal value—with valuable tonics and internal antiseptics, and made into tablets.

Take one or two "Fruit-a-tives" every night, eat plenty of ripe fruit, and see how quickly your brain clears and headaches leave you. 50c a box—6 for $2.50. Trial size 25c. Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

COMMISSIONER OF PRESS.

Lord Minto to Revive the Office in India.

Lord Minto, in his capacity of viceroy of India, is about to revive the office of commissioner of the press at Calcutta, which was created by the late Lord Lytton in 1877, with a salary of $20,000 a year, and suppressed on the score of ill-advised economy four years afterwards, according to a story from the Marquis de Fontenay.

Lord Lytton's aim in calling this office into life was to furnish the native press with constant, timely and accurate information in order to minimize its ignorant and uneducated criticism of the Government and of the latter's measures.

The press commissioner was, as long as he lasted, the recognized intermediary between the Government and the press, the editors being informed that he was authorized to address them on behalf of the Government, and also to receive any reply to all enquiries and complaints.

Since the suppression of the commissionership, the native editor has been placed in a position of much difficulty, and has suffered from many disabilities.

Rarely possessed of any personal acquaintance with the high officials of the land, he has been ignorant of the real opinions and of the modes of thought of the ruling class. If a rumor reached him there has been absolutely no means by which he could assure himself of its truth or falsity. If he misunderstood or misinterpreted the meaning or motive of any public measure there has been no one to give him even a hint of his mistake, or from whom he could derive the slightest aid to a better understanding.

For in India there is no Parliament from the debates of which he might learn some of the curious bearings of public questions, no right of interpellation, from which to obtain even the shadowy outline of truth regarding a fact or measure.

Since the days of Lord Lytton the organs of the native press have enormously increased in number throughout India, and at their doors lies the principal native unrest and discontent.

Lord Minto and his advisers at Calcutta have come to the conclusion that while some of the antagonism of the vernacular press of India is attributable to race hatred and to sedition, a still greater part of it may be ascribed to ignorance, which a revival of the office of press commissioner will be calculated to dispel.

THINGS WORTH KNOWING.

Don't throw away your scraps of velvet. They can be used as cleaners for all sorts of things.

Keep all the kitchen utensils in one place, and a small one at that. It will save time and steps.

Alcohol and whiting makes a good silver polish and is excellent for polishing plate glass or mirrors.

Olive oil will remove tar stains from dress goods. Wash afterward with white soap and tepid water.

A weak solution of turpentine poured down the water pipes once a week will drive the water bugs away.

Skin Diseases.

A diseased or disfigured skin will always leave its stamp on the mind of the individual. Many people suffering from disfiguring skin diseases avoid society and lose all pride in their personal appearance. When the skin breaks out in eruptions and sores it is due entirely to an impure condition of the blood.

In all such cases Burdock Blood Bitters will quickly purify the blood and drive all the impurities out of the system.

 Mrs. J. J. Magee, Jr., Kinnmount, Ont., writes: "In the spring of 1906 I was troubled with a Rash that broke out all over me. It was the worst on my face and head, had a dry, scaly top, and when I would get warm it would become very itchy. I tried the doctor's medicine but it did me no good, so I then got one bottle of Burdock Blood Bitters and before it was all used the Rash was entirely gone."

 Mrs. Harvey Barkhouse, Gold River, N.S., writes: "I was greatly troubled with Sores on my face and finally became so bad I had to go to the doctor about it, but he could do nothing to help me."

"I thought about Burdock Blood Bitters and decided to try a bottle. I cannot recommend B.B.B. enough, as I had not taken all the bottle before my face was cured."
