

More bread and Better bread —And the Reason for it

A STRONG FLOUR can only be made from strong wheat. Manitoba hard wheat is acknowledged the strongest in the world—and that is the kind used for Purity Flour.

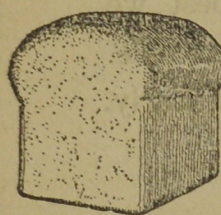

But that's not all. Every grain of this wheat contains both high-grade and low-grade properties. In separating the high-grade parts from the low-grade the Western Canada Flour Mills put the hard wheat through a process so exacting that not a single low-grade part has the remotest chance of getting in with the high-grade.

Of course this special process is more expensive to operate but it means a lot to Purity flour users—that's why we use it.

It means that Purity Flour is made entirely of the highest-grade flour parts of the strongest wheat in the world.

It means a high-class, strong flour and therefore yields "more bread and better bread."

Purity may cost a little more than some flours, but results prove it the cheapest and most economical of all.

ANOTHER WOMAN CURED

By Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Gardiner, Maine.—"I have been a great sufferer from organic troubles and severe female weakness. The doctor said I would have to go to the hospital for an operation, but I could not bear to think of it. I decided to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Sanative Wash and was entirely cured after three months' use of them."—Mrs. S. A. Williams, R. F. D. No. 14, Box 39, Gardiner, Me.

No woman should submit to a surgical operation, which may mean death, until she has given Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made exclusively from roots and herbs, a fair trial.

This famous medicine for women has for thirty years proved to be the most valuable tonic and renewer of the female organism. Women residing in almost every city and town in the United States bear willing testimony to the wonderful virtue of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It cures female ills, and creates radiant, buoyant female health. If you are ill, for your own sake as well as those you love, give it a trial.

Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass., invites all sick women to write her for advice. Her advice is free, and always helpful.

STORY WAS A FAKE

Miss Corinne D'Amour Confesses to the Police.

TO COVER UP SHORTAGE

Montreal Cashier Who Said She Had Been Kidnapped and Robbed on Two Occasions Admits to Authorities That She Made Up the Yarns to Conceal Her Theft. —Will Not Prosecute.

Montreal, April 3.—Corinne D'Amour, the cashier who reported the other evening that she had been kidnapped and robbed, and also, in February last, that she had been knocked senseless and robbed, confessed yesterday afternoon to Detective Carpenter that the two stories were a falsehood invented by herself to cover up the crime of robbing her employers out of cash to the amount of about $150, more or less.

Miss D'Amour, who is very well connected, is of a very delicate and somewhat nervous temperament, held out all right before the questions of a dozen newspaper men, but when taken before the chief detective she wilted.

When once she reached this state of mind the poor girl appeared to be much relieved and went to work to relate her strange story with all the sang froid imaginable. She said she had had a mania for expensive candies and for theatre-going, and as she generally treated a girl friend the bills began to exceed her weekly income.

Her employer will not prosecute.

THE MARINE INQUIRY

Old Straw Threshed Out by Opposition in Parliament.

OTTAWA, Ont., April 3.—In the commons today the opposition busily threshed the old straw. The abuses shown by Cassels' commission to have existed in the marine department were made the ground for attack on the government departments generally, and the whole day was spent in debating a resolution proposed by ex-Judge Doherty, now one of the Montreal members, on going into supply on the marine estimates, demanding the appointment of a similar commission to investigate other departments.

Hon. Mr. Brien in a most effective reply pointed out that he had taken at the first opportunity adequate steps to reform all abuses complained of and had already removed all ground of attack against his department. And in respect to other departments of the service there was no change made and no facts adduced waiting any investigation.

The debate was continued by Messrs. Crowthers, Eifemont, Sharp, Rivet and Mr. Ghen.

The last named moved adjournment of the debate at 12.25 a. m. It will be continued tomorrow and a diversion will probably be reached at six o'clock, after which the house will go into supply.

It is expected the balance of the estimates will be passed and the supply bill out through by Easter adjournment.

LAYMEN'S CONGRESS.

"Stewardship of Life" Is Subject at Yesterday's Session.

Toronto, April 3.—"The Stewardship of Life" centralized the thought at the congress meeting at the Massey Hall yesterday afternoon. Rev. J. G. Brown, D.D., led the devotional exercises. The "Glory Song" was sung by the association quartette.

The chairman, N. W. Rowell K.C., read a letter of regret from Dr. S. B. Capen, chairman of the International Council of the Laymen's Missionary Movement of the United States, who was unable to be present through illness.

The chairman announced that Morley Williams, the eminent New York lawyer, who is vice-chairman in the national council, was present to speak in Dr. Capen's place. It was Morley Williams who issued the call for the historic prayer meeting in Fifth avenue Presbyterian Church, which gave the laymen's movement its impetus.

The vice-chairman of the national council, Morley Williams, is a splendid type of the intelligence and manhood of the city of New York. Of square built westerner form, cultured diction, with persuasive, forceful, simple language, he enforced upon the congress the stewardship of life, with specific reference to the missionary movement.

J. N. Shenstone, speaking of the "Stewardship of business talents and possessions," said: "In the last few months we have come to a new realization of the stewardship of life. This means more than material possessions. Man is greater than his money. Personality is eternally greater than possession. There is also a stewardship of time."

John B. Sleeman, jr., of Washington, and L. H. Severance of Cleveland, also spoke.

SALVATIONIST UNIVERSITY.

Immense College System Planned to Educate Workers.

New York, April 3.—Commander Evangeline Booth of the Salvation Army, announced from the army's headquarters here yesterday that a new undertaking to be known as a "world university of humanity" for the training of workers for the army's social service operations, would be launched on April 10 in honor of the 50th birthday of her father, General William Booth.

The work of raising $5,000,000 for the founding of the university will begin on that date, and the first branches will be opened in America in New York and Chicago.

The headquarters for the rest of the world will be in London, and it is intended to extend the institutions to all the fifty-four countries now occupied by the army, as rapidly as possible.

It is believed that the university will raise the efficiency of workers, and attract a superior class to the service.

The number of graduates from the first is estimated at 3,000 a year.

Woman Led Double Life.

Philadelphia, Pa., April 3.—Associated with society men and women in amateur play at the Bellevue-Stratford one day and descending to the level of Tenderloin habitues the next is declared to have been the Jekyll and Hyde life led by Mrs. Iona Mae Nolan Murray, an accomplished amateur actress and educator of this city, whose body was found on Wednesday in a cheaply furnished rooming house at No. 467 North Ninth street.

Charge of Manslaughter.

St. John, N.B., April 3.—Richard F. Mitchell, formerly of Charlottetown, P.E.I., but latterly of Boston, was beaten to death on the Pierce farm near Boston. R. C. McKenzie and M. B. McGregor, attendants on the farm, which is a state institute for the treatment of nervous diseases, have been arrested, charged with manslaughter. Before going to Boston Mitchell, who was a printer, worked in St. John, Montreal and Hamilton.

Pounded Over the Head.

Ottawa, April 3.—Amedee Sylvester, aged 20, of Hull, is in a serious condition from a pounding over the head, received in a drunken brawl Thursday night.

OUR DEBT TO SETTLERS.

Inspiring Address at Laymen's Missionary Conference by "Ralph Connor."

TORONTO, April 3.—"Our debt to the English-speaking and European settlers," was the subject of the address by the Rev. C. W. Gordon, D. D. (Ralph Connor), at the Laymen's Missionary Conference. In introducing him the chairman said there may be many who do not know the Rev. Dr. Gordon, but what Canadian does not know "Ralph Connor" and the enthusiasm with which he was received evidenced the fact that the vast audience was ready to give a welcome to the author who is so widely known and loved. He began by a brief reference to the magnitude of the great west, pointing out that until a few years ago the general opinion was that the west was just a strip of land lying north of the international boundary. Now they knew that away to the north 600 or even 800 miles beyond the former supposed northern fertile belt lay a great country more fertile than any ever dreamed of. Into this great land there had come during the past few years nearly 900,000 English-speaking people, about 300,000 of whom were formerly United States citizens. A Senator at Washington had asked if these United States citizens did not help some day to secure the annexation of Canada to the United States, and another Senator said that he believed that was so. The speaker said he was sorry to have to shatter such a dream, for these people were loyal Canadians, and the day had gone by forever for any person or people to sell Canada.

WHAT SHOULD BE DONE.

He felt that the government should try and adopt some plan to keep in touch with the immigrant from the moment he left his own home till he was settled on the land, for the danger to Canada was in the people who drifted into the city, and not from those who settle on the land. But what is the Christian Church going to do with these people? The church should meet them, care for them, and endeavor to get them to drink in the spirit of Jesus Christ. The church should really take charge of these English-speaking peoples from the moment they left their English, Scotch and Irish homes until they were settled here. The last man who should shake these people by the hand should be the minister of their church, and the first to greet them in Canada should be a minister of their own denomination. What they in the west had to fear at times was the wealth coming to the people often so easily. One good old friend was asked what was the greatest trouble of his locality, and the answer was "Prosperity and the Methodists." "I will ruin the Methodist out, but I frankly say that wealth has its dangers," said Dr. Gordon. The church, he proceeded, should be ready to meet and welcome the new-comer. When a traveller emerged from a railway depot he was surrounded by men eager to look after his baggage and carry him to some place. These eager workers represented the hotels, but not a single church representative would be found there.

FROM OTHER LANDS.

Turning to the foreigners coming in, Dr. Gordon said that in the last couple of years over 300,000 people had arrived in this country who could not speak the English language. What must we do for them? Some were for keeping them out of our strip of land altogether; but this matter had already been settled for us by two facts. First, we needed them because they did work for us that Canadians were not willing to do themselves, such as the laboring on railroad building, etc. In the second place Dr. Gordon doubted if we could keep them out if we would, except at a cost greater than what it would take to make them Canadians, when we think what it was that brought them here, the last after liberty and land which they did not have in Central Europe. The Galicians on the farm made very good citizens, and their children would also grow up good citizens, but in the cities they were very dangerous. Necessary to deal with them was a strict, wise and careful administration of the law. We should also make our schools accessible to them and to their children. We should endeavor to instill into them the making of homes.

TO SOLVE THE PROBLEM.

The police and the government had been doing their best. But, after all, it was the Christian church and the people to whose lot it fell to finally solve the problem, and the churches were now doing good work here and in the west. But we should deal with them with a stronger and warmer charity, which would disarm them and allay their suspicions, and draw them to us by the bonds of love. To see what could be accomplished by the bonds of love one had only to look at the history of England and Scotland, and to look at our own relations to the motherland. There was a time when Canada was a boy, but a drum beat in South Africa sounded and Canada arose to do the work of a young man. Dr. Gordon trusted we should still always do our duty by our motherland, but it should not be forgotten that we were members of a greater empire, namely, that of Christ, and we might do well to cry in the words of Kipling, "Lord God of Hosts, be with us yet lest we forget, lest we forget."

THE MULLIN'S MURDER.

Young Nova Scotian and Companion in Jail at Boston Charged with the Crime.

Boston, April 3.—Weeping and moaning in fear Dionisios Spiropoulos while at work in the Central on or Main as he is known, a Greek barber and Peter Delorey of Antigonish, N. S., charged with the murder of Annie Mullins of the Arlington domestic lay in a cell in North Cambridge Police station throughout the night. A station officer kept constant guard outside the cell door night lest they should try to kill themselves. The guard kept a rock-lamp ready to show the slightest movement of the fear-ridden men. Though the prisoners were without weapons or any other instruments of self-destruction it was feared their frenzy might drive them to suicide with bare hands.

Both the prisoners were taken from the police station to Cambridge district court at 9 o'clock and arraigned before Judge Allyn on the murder charge. They were held without bail. Then they were hurried to the Middlesex County jail at East Cambridge and locked up under close surveillance. The arrest of these two men and the confession of Delorey satisfy the police that they have the solution of one of the greatest murder mysteries of New England. Delorey denies that he had anything to do directly with the death of Annie Mullins. He declares that after she had been dragged to the lonely field in Arlington where her body was found she was killed by Martin who cut her throat with a razor. Both men were arrested in Boston yesterday afternoon. Spiropoulos collapsed when he was arrested. Although subjected to a mental third degree he maintained his innocence. He was arrested at the North Station after he had been employed as a barber at Spruce Street Manchester since

"Quick lunch" is one of the commonest of city signs. The sign does not say "a healthy lunch of good food"—the character of the food apparently is not considered. It's just quick lunch—eat and get away. Is any wonder that the stomach reaks down? Food is thrown at it, sloppy, indigestible and innutritious food, very often, and the stomach has to do the best it can. Normally there should be no need for medical assistance for the stomach. But the average method of life is abnormal and while this continues there will always be a demand for Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It is the one medicine which can be relied on to cure diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. It is not a cure-all. It is a medicine designed for the stomach, and to cure through the stomach remote diseases which have their cause in the weakness and derangement of the stomach and digestive and nutritive systems. It cures when all else fails. Ingredients printed on each bottle wrapper.
