

"ELIJAH" DOWIE IS BOSS NO LONGER

Zion City Will Know Another Ruler For a Time

A RE-ORGANIZATION

Of Zion City's Industrial and Financial Methods--Faithful May Seek Work Outside When there is None at Home--A Cut in Salaries.

CHICAGO, Dec. 18.—John Alexander Dowie, head of the Christian Catholic church at Zion, has given up his rule and will soon leave for one of the islands of the Caribbean Sea, there to remain until spring in hopes of regaining his health. Announcement of the resignation was made at Zion City yesterday by Overseer John C. Speicher. Control of the church has been placed in the hands of Overseer Speicher, Judge D. V. Barnes, and Deacon Alexander Granger.

"The finances of Zion City institutions will be re-organized immediately," said Overseer Speicher, "in making the announcement at Zion Temple. The change will not affect the ecclesiastical, educational or political departments, but there will be a complete revolution in the industrial and financial methods."

Re-organization will be placed in the hands of C. J. Barnard, and will involve a separation of the various institutions which, under the present plan, have had their winnings and expenses pooled.

While on a trip to Mexico a few weeks ago Dowie suffered a slight stroke of paralysis. From this he recovered but his health since then has been poor and he has found it necessary to give up work for the present. It is said he expects to resume his authority on his return.

Under the reorganization plan, the men of Zion City will be permitted to seek work in other cities when there is little to be performed in Zion.

Strict economy has been adopted in conducting the affairs under the reorganization, and the new leaders began by reducing the salaries of all managers of Zion City industries who have been receiving $25 or more a week.

STRENGTH IN LIFE

Rev. A. B. Cohoe Talks of Life's Perplexities and How to Meet Them.

An exceptionally large congregation assembled in Brussels street Baptist church last evening and heard a powerful sermon by Rev. A. B. Cohoe on the subject of "Perplexities." The solution which the preacher offered of perplexities in life was to do only that which one knows is right, and to do that which lies nearest, which one knows is a duty. The individual who exercises his will and pursues this course will not avoid perplexities, but he will not be hindered by them, and action along the line suggested will open a way for fuller knowledge. From day to day, from moment to moment, man is confronted by perplexities. Let him do what in his own soul he knows is the right thing, and instead of weakness and doubt he will develop strength and faith. What may have been a sufficient solution of problems for men of former generations will not always satisfy the people of today. Every man must face his problems for himself, and find a solution sufficient for himself. The perplexed man is a weak man, and the weak man may become a vicious one. The man who exercises his knowledge of right, and his will to do the right, will be a strong man, and undaunted.

DIED IN SACKVILLE

SACKVILLE, Dec. 16.—The death of Maude, daughter of Mrs. Edward Anderson, occurred at her home Salem street, last evening. Miss Anderson had been an invalid the past two years and her death was not unexpected. She is survived by her mother, two sisters, Mrs. Ernest Ford, and Mrs. F. A. Harrison, and three brothers, Albert and Bliss, prominent farmers of Coles Island, and Lee, of Vancouver, B. C.

Valentine Wilkinson died last evening at his home Charlotte street, after ten days illness. Deceased was one of the oldest residents of the town, having reached the age of 81. He is survived by a widow.

FREDERICTON HOUSE WAS GUTTED BY FIRE; INMATES HAD VERY NARROW ESCAPE

FREDERICTON, N. B., Dec. 18.—(Special).—The residence of John Oldham, York street, known as the James Tibbitts home, was badly gutted by fire at an early hour this morning and members of the household, who included Mr. and Mrs. Oldham, two children, and Mrs. Oldham's father, Richard Williams, late of Woodstock, had a narrow escape from suffocation.

The fire caught from an over-heated stovepipe in the kitchen and travelled upwards through the walls to the roof. Mr. Oldham was awakened by smoke pouring into his room, and in his nightclothes he ran to the nearest fire alarm box and pulled an alarm.

The firemen responded promptly and extinguished the flames after a hard fight

MINISTERS' MEETINGS

Rev. A. B. Cohoe Addressed Baptists on Knowledge and Faith--With the Methodists

The Baptist ministers met in weekly session this morning. Rev. Dr. Manning presiding. Those present were: Revs. Dr. McIntyre, A. B. Cohoe, A. J. Prosser, J. H. Hughes, D. Long, D. Hutchinson, A. Chipman, Dr. McLeod, R. M. Ferguson, P. J. Stackhouse, R. Byrnes and Rev. Bolton Daggett.

The meeting was opened by Rev. P. J. Stackhouse leading in prayer.

Reports for the past week were read from the different churches. Two baptisms were conducted in the Tabernacle, and a memorial service in memory of late members of the church who died during the year was held in Victoria street church.

Rev. Bolton Daggett, Field Secretary of the Young People's societies of the United Baptists, was introduced to the meeting.

Rev. A. B. Cohoe delivered a very instructive address on "Knowledge and Faith," for which he was tendered a hearty vote of thanks. The meeting was closed with prayer led by Rev. W. A. Taylor.

At the Methodist ministers' meeting this morning, a large attendance was present. The reports for the last week were read and beyond this business of little importance was transacted. The next meeting will probably be on January 2nd.

A NARROW ESCAPE

Indiantown Man Had an Unexpected Bath in the Harbor

James Hutchinson, engineer and owner of the tug Kingsville, met with an accident last Saturday afternoon which he is likely to remember for some time. While carrying a small portable forge from the steamer to the wharf, he slipped from the gangplank and fell into the water. He managed to get out, however, but had a hair-breadth escape from drowning.

The steamer was lying in the bedroom at Indiantown and Mr. Hutchinson picked up the forge by the legs, placing the front part on his head. In crossing the gangplank he lost his footing and dropped into about fifteen feet of water.

With some difficulty he managed to work himself clear of the forge and gain the surface and get ashore. His escape was little short of miraculous.

The forge was fished out of the water and taken to Bradley's blacksmith shop.

A MISSIONARY SERMON

Rev. G. A. Kuhring Preached on India's Claims Upon the Christian Church.

In St. John's Stone church last evening Rev. G. A. Kuhring preached a spirited sermon on missions, taking as his theme "the claims of India upon the Christian church." Clearly and accurately he told of the need in India of missionary teaching. He likened the social construction of that great colony to a huge triangle, the apex of which is composed of 20,000,000 of the more highly educated classes, while underneath are 208,000,000 human beings struggling in the dark mazes of error and superstition. To bring light to the darkest corners was the duty of the Christian church.

Rev. Mr. Kuhring then sketched the history of missions in India, showing clearly that if from no higher reason than that of practical wisdom India has a claim upon the church. The church has made a heavy investment in men and money in India and the time is now at hand when it becomes necessary to greaten that investment or else relinquish and lose all that has already been gained.

In conclusion he said he himself had settled in his God whether the path of his duty led to his going to India or remaining in Canada, and he remained here only because he felt that this was where his duty called him.

FIRE AT BEN LOMOND HOUSE

Early yesterday morning there was a slight fire at the Ben Lomond House, owned by Sterling B. Barker.

The proprietor was awakened by considerable smoke and on investigating found that a beam had caught on fire from the fireplace. The occupants of the house were soon aroused and by means of buckets the fire was extinguished after the floor around the beam had been cut up.

The damage was only slight.

PROMPT ACTION OF THE CHICAGO BANKS AVERTED GREAT FINANCIAL PANIC

Chicago National Bank, Home Savings Bank and Equitable Trust Co. Have Failed Owing to Unwise Investments--Other Chicago Banks Took Over Their Assets and Will Pay Depositors in Full--Another Evidence of Weakness of American Banking System.

CHICAGO, Dec. 18.—Failure of the Chicago National Bank, the Home Savings Bank and the Equitable Trust Company, all of Chicago, was announced at 3:30 o'clock this morning by representatives of the Chicago Clearing House Association, after a session lasting 18 hours. James B. Forgan, president of the First National Bank, as head of the clearing house committee of the Chicago Associated Banks, gave forth the statement. The assets of these institutions, it was asserted, were involved in coal and railway properties of John R. Walsh, president of the Chicago National Bank.

John R. Walsh, head of the institutions which have been declared insolvent, was not at the meeting. The following were the members of the committee at the meeting: James B. Forgan, chairman; John G. Mitchell, James H. Eckels, Orson B. Smith, Ernest A. Hamill.

The statement was issued at the offices of the First National Bank. It is as follows:

"The Chicago National Bank, the Home Savings Bank, and the Equitable Trust Co., which have been controlled, officered and managed by John R. Walsh and his associates, have concluded to wind up their affairs and quit business in the city of Chicago. After a thorough and careful examination of their affairs by the Chicago clearing house banks it is stated that all of the depositors of these institutions will be paid in full upon demand, the Chicago clearing house banks having pledged themselves to this result, thus putting all the resources of the Chicago banks behind the depositors of these three institutions.

"The difficulty with these institutions has been that their investments have been made in assets connected with the railway and coal enterprises of John R. Walsh.

"These assets were not immediately available to meet deposits, and have been taken over on terms which enable the three institutions to pay their depositors in full.

"Mr. Ridgely, comptroller of the currency, and Captain Kuback, of the auditors' department at Springfield, were seen and expressed themselves as greatly pleased at the action of the Chicago banks, and stated that it reflected great credit upon the Associated Banks of Chicago, which have again indicated their ability to meet any emergency in a manner entirely satisfactory to the public."

The meeting of the Chicago Clearing House Association began at noon Sunday. Notices were sent to the members of the board by Mr. Forgan after it had been learned of the condition of the banks and the trust company.

Clerks were notified and fifty or more with ten stenographers, hurried to the First National Bank. Behind closed doors the Clearing House Association began its work of finding a way that might enable them to ride the financial sea in safety. That a panic would be likely to follow was the first thought of the committee. Resolutions were adopted and heads of other banks pledged themselves to give assistance.

The amount involved in the failure would not be stated by the committee members.

All information concerning the meeting of the committee was kept secret until three o'clock this morning and half an hour later the association gave the statement to the press.

Directors of different banks were in attendance as were other bank officials from nearby cities.

In addition to the formal statement of the failure and the announcement that the banks involved would not open their doors this morning, the following announcement was made, signed by the clearing house committee of the Chicago Associated Banks:

"To the public:—Depositors of the Chicago National Bank, the Home Savings Bank, and the Equitable Trust Company are respectfully advised that their deposits will be paid in full upon demand."

The following statement was given out by Comptroller of the Currency, Wm. B. Ridgely:

"The action of the Chicago clearing house banks in coming to the aid of the Chicago National Bank, the Home Savings Bank, and the Equitable Trust Company, has relieved a most critical situation, which if it had not been taken promptly in hand, might have led to very serious consequences, not only in Chicago but elsewhere. The action of the clearing house banks makes it absolutely certain that all the creditors of the three institutions will receive their money immediately, and should thus relieve any apprehension on the part of the public in regard to the financial troubles in Chicago. The critical situation in which these three concerns have been placed has been due to the large loans made to the railroad, coal mining and other enterprises owned and controlled by John R. Walsh.

"This again emphasizes the danger of the managing officers of banks in investing in outside institutions requiring large amounts of money. The comptroller's office has for some time been criticizing the conditions of the Chicago National Bank, and calling upon its officers and directors to reduce the amount of these loans and the investments in the bonds of Mr. Walsh's corporations. In spite of promises that this would be done these items have been continued in the bank, and in order to prevent further encroachments it was necessary for the comptroller to take radical action. The comptroller's office has for some time been endeavoring to obtain an examination of the Chicago National Bank simultaneously with an examination of the state institutions by the state bank examiner, but was not able to bring this about until a few days ago. The result of the examinations revealed such a serious condition that it was necessary to take immediate action. The comptroller telephoned from Washington instructing Bank Examiner

Beaumont to bring the matter at once to the attention of the clearing house committee and left for Chicago on the first train to be on hand to personally take whatever action was necessary.

On the arrival of the comptroller in Chicago a conference was immediately held with the state authorities and the clearing house committee, which continued from 10 o'clock Sunday morning until 5 o'clock Monday morning. In addition to the clearing house committee representatives of all the clearing house banks were called into the conference about 7 o'clock Sunday evening. The comptroller stated that great credit is due not only to the clearing house committee but to all the other clearing house banks for the prompt, vigorous action and the broad minded spirit shown in meeting this emergency."

The action taken by the comptroller of the currency compelled the three institutions to wind up their affairs.

A careful canvass of the situation revealed that the Chicago National Bank had deposits to the amount of $16,000,000, the Home Savings Bank had savings deposits to the extent of $10,000,000 divided among about 8000 depositors. The liabilities of the two banks and of the Equitable Trust Company were roughly estimated at $26,000,000. The assets of the three institutions made up about $20,000,000 of this amount and the directors and officials of the Chicago National Bank came to the front with securities amounting to about $3,000,000 to be faced with a deficit of about $3,000,000 to be faced and the Chicago banks represented at the meeting declared at once that they would meet the situation and care for the deficit. If it proved necessary to advance more than $3,000,000 to meet all demands the banks pledged themselves to make up the amount whatever it might be.

The Chicago National Bank was organized in November, 1881, with an authorized capital of $300,000, increased to $500,000 in 1887, and to $1,000,000 in 1901. Its resources, according to its latest reports made to the comptroller of the currency, are $21,000,000, of which nearly $11,000,000 are loans and discounts, with $4,000,000 cash on hand. The liabilities include nearly $4,000,000 in individual deposits and $4,000,000 due to other banks.

The Home Savings Bank was organized originally in 1867 with a capitalization of $100,000. A late statement of the resources shows an aggregate of $4,327,271, of which $3,782,000 is reported as being in municipal railroad and other loans. The savings deposits aggregate $3,822,653.

The Equitable Trust Company was chartered by the state of Illinois August 29, 1887, to act as executor, administrator, trustee, guardian, assignee or receiver, and to receive and execute trusts of every character. The capital stock is $500,000. Its resources are $4,612,381.

"The liabilities include $2,007,563, of which amount $454,000 are deposits in trust and $500,000 in certificates of deposit."

PROMPT TO LEARN

(Kansas City Times.)

"We had a Swede girl working here as a chambermaid last week who certainly took the cake for 'hard-headedness,'" said Jack Malloy, chief clerk at the Hotel Baltimore, yesterday. "One morning I decided to sleep late, having a headache. Leslie was with him at the time of his death. His wife and family are at Maitland."

"I was awakened by some one trying to unlock my door. I had left my key in the door, so the efforts of the person outside failed. Then there came a loud rapping. 'What is it?' I called."

"'Aye, kum ta clean da room,' came from outside."

"'Well, go away from here, Hilda, and let me sleep.' I growled. 'This room can be fixed up this afternoon. Now get out and don't wake me up again.' I went back to sleep and about half an hour later there came another loud rapping at the door."

"'What is it?' I called gruffly. It was Hilda again."

"'Meester Malloy,' she said, 'da house-keeper take me not to bother you, so Aye won't any more.'"

THE TIMES NEW REPORTER

ABOUT THE FERRY.

The new ferry steamer Ludlow may spend Christmas in Rodney Hospital, but she fulfilled the prediction of the Times new reporter that she would be on the route before Christmas. She was on and is now off, and may be on again and off again before New Year's. It is a fine thing to be able to rush down to the ferry floats and then sit down and wait for Wm. Lung or the Onangundy, feeling that whatever happens there is a fine new hundred thousand dollar ferry steamer in Rodney Hospital, with steam up day and night to keep the mosquitos away.

Those who were disposed to mourn the loss of the famous ferry boat smelt, d-d-titled in the reek of the cabins of Wm. Lung and the Onangundy, have no further cause for grief. The smelt is still with us, and any man may carry away enough on his clothes to last him a week.

Breathes there an Algerine so dead Who never to himself hath said, Who hath not held his nose and cried, As over the ferry he hath died. 'Tis the Onangundy smelt.

"There ain't the like this side of—well—'This side the cabins of Wm. Lung. 'Where praise our western hard hat smelt."

"Where stench will spread from shore to shore."

"Until her cabins reek no more."

HAPPY MR. BINKS.

Mr. Peter Binks, with parcels in every pocket and a cheerful smile on his kindly visage, was seen on King street this morning.

"'Worried?'" said Mr. Binks to the Times new reporter. "Not I. I am beginning early. I have six days in which to do my Christmas shopping. I will do a little every day, and get through in good time. It is the man who waits till the last minute and rushes out with a long list of things that he can't find, who tears his hair and loses all the fun. Get busy, young man—get busy."
