"CATARACT" A RINGER

New York, Nov. 1—Identified unhesitatingly by John J. McCafferty, his former trainer, as Freckman, a racer stolen last February from the Oakland race track, the horse called Cataract spent yesterday in a stable at the Jamaica track. Men in charge under Robert Pinkerton, by the aid of ammonia and other washes, removed the dyes which disguised the animal, who under the name of Cataract was debarred from starting in the maiden race on Monday, which act of the officials probably saved the betting ring here and poolrooms elsewhere from one of the big "killings" which accompanies the victory of a "ringer."

The negro who had immediate charge of the horse, and who is known as Wilson, has disappeared. He is a fat man of about twenty-five, not too intelligent in appearance. He has been warned away from Baltimore and Providence because of suspicious actions.

M. L. Mitchell, in whose name and colors the suspected racer appeared on the programme, said yesterday that he had bought the horse for $25 from his foreman, a negro named G. Steel, who, he alleges, has been in his employ for three years. Steel declares he got the horse from another negro, who says he purchased him from an expressman named Mooney, at Gravesend. Mooney is said to have told the last mentioned negro that the horse was left in his care. Who left him has not yet been developed, but it is known that when the animal was placed on the "thoroughbred express" at Sheepshead Bay to be conveyed with other horses shipped to the Jamaica track to race there, a man named Martin paid for the transportation of the horse Cataract.

Officials at the course said that one Farley, convicted of having run a "ringer" three years ago at Detroit, had been seen in this vicinity, and that his presence made them suspicious. In Michigan it is a penal offence to "ring" a horse, but there is no such penalty in New York state, though there should be, horsemen say. The real Cataract died as a three-year-old, and the selection of the name for the "ringer" was a bungling bit of work.

has been visiting his father, Alex. McDermott, the stevedore, left on return to Vancouver Wednesday.

NELSON WON'T MEET TERRY FOR $16,000

LOUISVILLE, Oct. 31—Battling Nelson has received an offer of $16,000 from Jack McGuiggan of the National Athletic club of Philadelphia for a fight with Terry McGovern in December.

Nolan, Nelson's manager, said they would not consider such a purse, as he considered a fight between McGovern and Nelson would draw a $40,000 or $50,000 house, and he could not see why they should not have more of the coin.

Nolan announced that after the present theatre engagement it was his intention to take Nelson to Europe, as an enticing offer had been made for an engagement of six weeks. He now figures that they will leave for the other side of the pond in about eight weeks.

Young Corbett Talks

BOSTON, Nov. 1—Young Corbett says that Terry McGovern will never meet him in the ring, and he is willing to make 128 pounds to bind a match.

As an extra inducement he offered to turn the entire proceeds of the match over to Terry if he failed to knock him out inside of six rounds.

As a club in Philadelphia has offered a $10,000 purse, it can be seen that Terry can't afford to overlook a match with Corbett and his backwardness in getting on with a bout shows that he has some fears about meeting his conqueror.

Corbett has his mind set and is making every effort to get a match with Battling Nelson, and will go to Denver as soon as he gets through his eastern engagements and stay there till he gets the Battler to tie up for a bout.

Big Match in Sight

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 31—James Coffroth has a big match in sight for November. He is negotiating with Bob Fitzsimmons and Jack O'Brien to box for the middleweight championship. Coffroth expects to secure the November permit from the supervisors, and perhaps he may capture the December one as well. It is said he has made his peace with the political powers and that he will be allowed again to take a hand in the fighting game. O'Brien already has agreed to fight before the Yosemite club. A challenge came over the wire Saturday night from Bob to Jack, so Coffroth can easily make the match. Coffroth is in Chicago.

Coffroth received a telegram from his partner, Eddie Graney, as follows:—

"Try to get Fitzsimmons to fight O'Brien on November 29. Have O'Brien clinched."

Fitz and O'Brien

NEW YORK, Oct. 28. — "I want to fight. I want one bad, and as soon as possible, and it's got to be for the world's heavyweight championship."

Thus spake Red Robert Fitzsimmons, he who plucked the belt from that great boxer James J. Corbett, and who has never been licked but twice in his life and then by James J. Jeffries.

"I think I'll be more likely to get a fight from Jack O'Brien than any one else," said Fitz, "so I'll just challenge him. You can just wire O'Brien in 'Frisco and publish the challenge."

The Lanky One blew into Broadway yesterday, coming from the Windy City, where he closed his show, "A Fight for Love," Saturday night. It is his intention to remain in New York until he gets signed up for a fight. Then he'll go west immediately and begin training.

Fitz looks as well as he ever did and it is hard to believe so long as he keeps his poll covered, that he has reached the two-score-and-two mark.

When he walked down Broadway he was attired in a long, swagger paddock coat and wore a swell silk hat. He carried a cane with a heavy silver head and was followed by a pair of black poodles, most elaborately clipped.

"I got 'em in Paris last summer," explained Bob, with pride, "and they cost me a pretty penny, but the trouble is they don't know a word of English and as I don't know French the only way I can make 'em understand me is to whistle to 'em."

FOOTBALL

Acadia and U. N. B.

WOLFVILLE, N.S., Nov. 2—A football match between Acadia and U.N.B. took place this afternoon. Forwards—Acadia, Bates, Bagnall, Webster, Messenger, Geldart, Fitch, McKinnon, Freeze.

U.N.B.—Belyer, Mason, Loggie, Woods, Clarke, Smith, Wood, Gregory.

Quarters—Acadia, Kierstead, Lewis.

U.N.B.—Thomas, Everett.

Halves—Acadia, Howe, McMillan, Estey, Dewitt, Craig.

U.N.B.—Smith, Dumphy, Dysart.

Full—Acadia, Craig.

U.N.B.—Hayward.

Referee, Geo. M. Parsons, Halifax.

The game was very close throughout, some excellent work being done by the U.N.B. in passing and tackling, in which they far surpassed the home team. Acadia's strength was in her forwards, and she controlled the ball easily in the scrimmage, keeping in the visitor's territory and forcing a safety touch, which counts 1 to 0 for the intercollegiate cup. The visitors were treated to a drive this morning and to a reception this evening in College Hall.

HORSE NOTES

Maud Keswick, 2.03¼, "the fastest Canadian," also the fastest new 2.10 performer of 1905, was hauling a cheese wagon a year ago and was sold cut of it for $400.

The latest from the Blue Hill farm, J. M. Johnson, proprietor, gleaned from the papers, is that Nancy Hanks will be bred to Todd next year. Fanella will be bred to Peter the Great, the sire of Sadie Mac. Bingen, Lord Roberts and Directum Miller will make the season at the farm. Next year Mr. Johnson will not campaign a stable of horses. Jesse Humphreyville will hang out his shingle at Dover (N. H.) and train a public stable. He has had hard luck this year as every one will agree, but he concluded his season at Dover (N.H.) and went out on the fly. Erskine Reed started in the 2.13 pace on Oct. 18th and caught in his hopples and both Reed and Humphreyville made their exit over the fence and were among the "Also rans."—St. Croix Courier, Nov. 2.

L. R. Peck, Providence (R.I.), gave $12,500 for the three-year-old filly Sadie Fogg down in Kentucky after Lou McDonald had driven her a mile in 2.09¼ at the test. Last spring he was on the market for $25, and an old wagon.
