

THE RACE ISSUE IN CIVIC POLITICS

Acting Archbishop Asks Ottawa Mayor To Resign FROM CIVIC CAMPAIGN

French-Canadians Have Selected One of Their Compatriots for Mayor and the Vicar General of Ottawa Wants Mayor Ellis to Retire in His Favor.

OTTAWA, Dec. 21.—(Special)—The Ottawa municipal campaign promises to be an exciting contest. Today, Mayor Ellis published a letter from Vicar General Routhier, who was acting archbishop when he wrote the letter, asking Mayor Ellis to retire from the contest. The letter is as follows:—

Archbishop's Palace, Ottawa, Ont., Dec. 19, 1905. To His Worship the Mayor of Ottawa—Mr. Mayor,—Last year you had to fight to obtain a second term which, according to practice, you should have been accorded. I regretted then with you that the election was not made by acclamation, but victory, however, was a deserved consolation for the struggle made. Your term will soon expire, and with honor to yourself.

The French-Canadians, according to an understanding, have the right to claim a representative of their own race for mayor. They have chosen Mr. Tallon for their candidate. Already, as you are well aware, several of the English-speaking people have received him warmly. Is it not only just that you accord them this right? I regret sincerely that you do not enter the contest, for it seems to me that you cannot be successful. You will understand Mr. Mayor that all the French-Canadians cannot be loyal to Mr. Tallon just as they were to you last year.

I would regret your defeat and rather than that you should suffer it would be better for you to retire from the contest. In renewing my thanks for all the good you have done for the city. Yours sincerely,

J. O. ROUTHIER, V. G. Mr. Ellis writes the Vicar General questioning his right to ask him to retire and refusing to do so.

Jones of Bartonside, are seeking incorporation as the "Crosby Molasses Company, Limited." The object is to acquire the business of Lorenzo G. Crosby, of St. John. The capital stock is to be $60,000. The company's business will be conducted along independent lines, free from combinations or price agreements. Mr. Crosby is erecting a large warehouse on Nelson street, adjoining his office, for storing molasses for the company. F. A. Jones, one of the incorporators, is senior member of the firm of Jones & Swan of Bartonside.

HIGH FINANCE; LOW MORALITY

(New York Herald.) It really seems as if low morality went hand in hand with high finance, and high finance seems rather a development of prosperity than a result of it. Men seem to grow more avaricious as they grow richer. We are admittedly highly prosperous, but this, too, is the time that the whole world reads of the country's greatest shame, in the shocking disclosures developed through the life insurance investigation. The men who had been and are being nearly every shred of respectability stripped from them are in the present money market campaign. One hesitates to think what the situation must be in other corporations when their actions in administering great trusts have been so shocking. It is the richest man of the community that have the securities. That is clear, and having raised them to high prices they will want to sell them to poorer people if the latter will buy. That is the unknown factor in the equation. Who will take at high prices the securities that the big men, the wealthy men, want to discard? It seems strange that the general public rarely thinks of the judgment of the seller and of the considerations that prompt the selling of stock, who those who sell know, or think they know, that prices are high enough. And as to high prices, it seems strange that they should be regarded always as "bull arguments." Nothing so clever as to raise prices, nothing brings the substitute article so rapidly into the market, nothing so adds to the cost of production, nothing so reduces profits quicker, nothing so speeds recovery in the production of raw materials as high cost. Dun's index number for December, giving the cost of articles entering into consumption stood at $101.27, the highest since twenty-three years. Similarly, the London Economist gave its "index number" for December as 2.27, the highest reached since 1883 in England. No one can predict on this point, but it may mean the turning of the tide.

HOW IT WAS DONE

AMHERST MAY HAVE CHEAP POWER AS AN INDUCEMENT FOR NEW MANUFACTORIES

(Amherst News.) It has been generally known that the Maritime Coal Company, of which David Mitchell is the manager, has had under consideration for some months the construction of an electric power plant at the mouth of their mine to supply the industries of Amherst with motive power to operate their plants.

The establishment of such a central station is full of possibilities to our town. It promises to work a complete revolution in the industrial life of Amherst. The company has already secured a right of way for their line to Amherst and we are assured that if our manufacturers give this scheme their support that the company will begin the work of construction at an early date.

An electrical engineer is expected here this week, who will spend some days in this vicinity working out the details of this enterprise, and his report will be submitted to a meeting of the Board of Trade. As matters stand at present, we believe it rests with the citizens and manufacturers of the town to say whether or not this plant should be built.

D. R. JACK WILL BUILD LARGE BRICK BUILDING ON UNION STREET SITE

Jack said this morning that the walls would be two feet thick and the steel structural parts would be made heavy enough so that any number of stories could be added when necessary. The building will have a frontage of 50 feet and will extend back 60 feet. Mr. Jack will have his own office in the new building. He has written the mayor asking that he be permitted to use the side wall of the engine house for that side of his building and offers in exchange to set his building back even with the front of the engine house, giving the city 3 feet more space on the sidewalk at that point for a distance of 50 feet.

SUDDEN DEATH OF W. KENNEDY

He Was Out Yesterday Afternoon and Expired Early This Morning. News of the death of Wm. Kennedy, which occurred at an early hour this morning, came as a shock to his many friends. Mr. Kennedy had worked up till Friday of last week, when he complained of pain in the region of the chest, and was taken to his home where he was attended by his physician. He seemed all right on Tuesday and on Wednesday went out for a while about five o'clock in the evening. He appeared perfectly well and in good returning to work today. About 2:30 this morning he became suddenly weak and expired almost immediately.

WHERE BABIES SWIM

(Philadelphia Bulletin.) "I shall spend the winter in Samoa," said a traveller. "It is always summer there. There the babies swim." "Can you imagine a quarter, a more charming sight than a host of babies, none over two years old, laughing and crowing and swimming like fish in pools of clear sea water?" "You will see this sight in Samoa. Samoan women believe sea births benefit babies, and in that equable climate they bathe their little ones daily the year round." "The youngsters soon learn to swim. They can swim before they can walk." "And to see these pretty brown babies swimming in the sea is well worth a 5000 mile trip to Samoa."

A STORM COMING

Storm warning signal No. 3 was displayed at one o'clock from the signal station, Custom House, indicating a fresh to heavy gale at first from the eastward. A heavy rain storm is now on to the westward of Boston and Montreal.

OTTAWA, Dec. 21 (special)—St. John delegation of grocers that was to be here to say to join with Montreal men to protest against the charges in the bonded warehouse regulations, by which the annual charges are increased from $10 to $15 a year, missed connections. The Montreal men will wait their arrival.

THE TIMES NEW REPORTER

TWO EARNEST SOULS. Mr. Peter Binks and an alderman were in close confab this morning. Mr. Binks confided to the alderman that he had been making a weekly deposit in a savings institution from which he now fears the returns will be so small that he might as well have spent his money for beer. The alderman, to the surprise of Mr. Binks, confessed that he had every week put away a small sum to pay for shares in the same incorporated aid to thrift.

"Why," said Mr. Binks, "I should have thought an alderman and member of the treasury board, and general authority on civic finance, would be the last to make an indiscreet investment." "Alas!" replied the alderman, "we are all human. I did it for the best—just as we did in the case of the Ludlow and the waterworks. We didn't know what we were up against."

After a long conversation the two set off together to hunt some new way of taking care of their savings. Mr. Binks said that he had been thinking of a hole in the St. John industry that he could keep his eye on, but the alderman pointed out that to do so might deprive some other man of the opportunity, which would be selfish. If any citizen knows of a hole in the ground in Colorado or a hollow tree in Mexico where the savings of Mr. Binks and the alderman would be safe he is requested to communicate at once with the Times new reporter.

The establishment of such a power station will reduce the cost of insurance, it will give us a cleaner and better town; it will lead to the establishment of new industries, it will furnish small industries with abundant power at a minimum cost; it would furnish power for elevators; it would affect a complete revolution in our industrial life by lessening the cost of production, it would open up vast possibilities for growth in this town.

We have always been opposed to the system of bonusing, but rather than have this scheme fall through we would favor an annual grant from the treasury of the town to make it a success, knowing that thereby, every citizen of the town would be directly benefited.

A meeting of the Board of Trade will probably be held this week and the scheme in its entirety will then be submitted to the consideration of our citizens.

REV. MR. COHOE WILL REMAIN

Popular Pastor of Brussels Street Reconsiders His Resignation and Will Stay Here. Rev. A. B. Cohoe has decided to remain in St. John for another year, and supply the pulpit of Brussels street Baptist church. This welcome news was announced at the regular weekly prayer meeting last night. As has previously been stated, Mr. Cohoe's chief reason for resigning was the fact that he did not consider Brussels street church financially able to support him as they were at that time. Now, however, a determined effort has been made to place the finances on a satisfactory basis, and the committee having the matter in charge report that they have met with a ready response to their proposals and many members of the congregation who are not directly identified with the church have been canvassed, that something over the required amount will therefore be in a better financial position than for a number of years back.

BANK CLEARINGS

Bank clearings for the week closing today are reported at $1,185,823, and for the corresponding week last year $1,146,746. One of the sons of Henry Close, a gentleman of color residing in Union Alley, called at the police station today and reported that his father, who has been hearing with Mrs. Graves, yesterday allowed her to take his watch, which she said she would keep for him. Now it is claimed Mrs. Graves will not give up the timepiece, and the aid of the police is sought to recover it. As Detective Killen is ill, Deputy Chief Jenkins will probably look after the case.
