FOOTBALL LEAGUE MEETS TONIGHT

There will be a meeting of the city intermediate league executive in the Neptune Rowing Club rooms tonight at 8 o'clock, to deal with the Beaver Club's application for admission to the league, and incidentally the Neptune's protest against the former club's application. It is hoped that the meeting will clear the football atmosphere, as matters stand at present, there would appear to be troubled waters. In all probability the executive will draw up the schedule of games for the coming season.

There was a general meeting of the Beaver A. A. Club last night at which football matters and other routine business was transacted.

DID TWIN SULLIVAN BEAT JACK O'BRIEN?

Philadelphia People Seem to Think That Is What Has Happened as O'Brien Has Not Sent Word.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 23—There are grave fears here that something has happened to Philadelphia's favorite fighter, Jack O'Brien. Nothing has been heard from him since July 29, when he wrote to his father that he was in strict training under the care of Frank P. Slavin, the former Australian heavyweight, for his fight with Jack, Twin Sullivan, of Boston. The men were to have met before the Dawson City Athletic Club, of Dawson City, Alaska.

It is far from O'Brien to miss the chance of gaining the advertising a victory is calculated to bring him and the fact that nothing has been heard from him, leads many of his admirers here to think that Mr. Sullivan administered the sleeping potion when the pair met on August 10. O'Brien's father, Patrick Hegan, is somewhat alarmed, and there is not a day but finds him wending his way to the main office of the telegraph company here in search of news of the fight.

"It's strange," the old gentleman remarks, as he starts back home to report that nothing has been heard from Jack. "He never did the likes of this before, and, besides, he never lost the chance to send his mother a telegram after a fight. I wonder if there is a chance of him having lost the battle? In his last letter he said he was in good condition, and we expected to hear of his winning long before this."

It has been eight days now, and O'Brien has failed to send word about his fight with Sullivan. In his letter of July 29, he spoke of having struck it rich in the Klondike, and said he was picking up large sums of money, going from town to town on horseback and giving exhibitions with Paddy Slavin. On top of the match with Sullivan he had signed to fight a big fellow named Bates, who claims to be the champion of the gold fields.

In his letter O'Brien said he was in excellent shape and expected to win from Sullivan with ease, and did not fear the outcome of his battle with Bates, who weighs 220 pounds, and is in every way as big as Jeffries. Bates only claim to distinction is due to the fact that he knocked out Dick Burley, the San Francisco hippodromer, in a single round some weeks ago, and in consequence crowned himself the fistic king of the Klondike.

DURNAN WINS CHAMPIONSHIP

Eddie Durnan, Toronto, defeated Tom Sullivan, of London, by 15 lengths in the race on Toronto Bay last night for $1000 a side, and the championship of America, which latter title seems to have been appropriated for the occasion, as the first claimants since Gaudaur's retirement. Sullivan led by two lengths to the turn, but he lost at the turn, and Durnan coming around in splendid style, passed him, and gradually increased his lead. Sullivan was plainly tired by his exertion in the first part of the journey, when he tried to break Durnan's heart.

20,000 saw the race. The time for the mile and a half was 10.33, and for the three miles 20.55 4-5.

All Sullivan could say was that the best man won. Durnan was a pronounced favorite before the race. A great deal of money changed hands.

MYSTERY IN GOLF GAME

Travers' Last Ball Had Landed in Caddy's Pocket.

A "rule of the green" of the oldest sort that has ever been seen on a links in the history of golf occurred in the final for the first cup between Walter J. Travers and Jerome D. Travers at Shinnecook Hills Golf club tournament.

They were all even playing the home hole, Travers having the honor and getting off a screaming ball. There was a slight pull to it, and, flying somewhat off the course, the ball hit an Indian caddy boy in the back.

Travers drove a straight ball, and then all hands set out to search for Travers's ball in the stubble. There were 200 or 300 engaged in the search and every inch of ground was scanned over and over again for ten minutes.

"Time is up," said W. A. Putnam of the Green committee, as he looked at his watch. Travers cast a sharp glance in his direction, which meant that he didn't want to claim the hole on the technicality. As a last expedient Travers called up the caddy boy who had been struck and who had been as zealous as the others in searching for the ball.

John Ward searched the boy's pocket, and, to the general surprise, the missing ball was found in the lad's pocket.

The Indian caddy was as much surprised as anyone. He had been crying and rubbing the sore spot where the ball hit him and did not notice that it had caromed into the pocket. It was a "rule of the green," for which no penalty rested against Travers, who dropped the ball and played on.

ENGLISH FOOTBALLISTS SAIL FOR AMERICA

London, Aug. 24—The Pilgrims, the English football players, who will make a two months tour of the United States and Canada, sailed on the Bavarian from Liverpool today. The team includes a number of the best association players in the United Kingdom and is captained by Fred Milnes of Sheffield. Sir Charles Kilpatrick, the Scotch Baronet, is one of the members.

TWO RUSSIAN VIEWS

To Prince Kropotkin, whose latest book, "Russian Literature," is forced often to deal with the bigotry and rigor of Russian political influence, it must be some satisfaction to be able to say of present developments: "The absolute rule of the Russian monarchy is tumbling to pieces, the old forms of life totter and the new break away through the barriers of ages, manifesting the power of construction and upbuilding of the new life among educated workers as among the peasantry."

Tolstoi does not take nearly so optimistic view. He feels the Russian liberals, although opposed to war, to be nevertheless on the wrong track, and to a visitor who tried to interest him in some of the social progress plans connected with the liberal movement, he would not listen but declared vehemently: "I am not in that camp."

The picnic of the Carleton F. B. church Sunday school, which was held yesterday on the grounds of J. Lowell, M. P. P., South Bay, was a very enjoyable outing. There were races and other picnic sports for which prizes were given.
