

BODY OF SERGIUS LYING IN STATE

Gloomy Ceremonials in Moscow ---Police in the Dark Regarding Knowledge of the Assassins---Grand Duke Alexis Defies Death---Duke Paul Restored to Favor.

Moscow, Feb. 22.—The coachman who was driving the coach in which Grand Duke Sergius was riding when he was assassinated is dead of his injuries. He sustained 76 distinct wounds.

There was a continuous procession of Muscovites yesterday passing through the Kremlin gates to visit the Choudoff Monastery and the scene of the tragedy in Senate Square. They paused to cross themselves at the tall cross which has been erected at the exact spot where the assassination occurred and before which a lamp is constantly burning, as before a shrine. Pieces of the carriage and other evidences of the tragedy are continually being found.

The remains in the coffin are now covered with a light gauze, through which part of the uniform of the dead grand duke is visible.

Besides practically continuous requiems, an unusually solemn funeral mass was conducted yesterday before the Moscow Metropolitan.

The body will be given temporary interment in the chapel of "Andrew the first-called." It is a gloomy room in an ancient Russian architecture, pillared and gilded with Byzantine ornamentation. The burial place is immediately behind the famous "red staircase" of the Choudoff Monastery, from which for centuries the emperor and the empress have greeted their subjects after the coronation ceremonies and on great state occasions.

In spite of four days' diligent investigation, the police know practically no more concerning the assassins than when he was captured.

A Brave Man.

New York, Feb. 22.—A St. Petersburg despatch to the Herald dated Tuesday says:

"Grand Duke Alexis started tonight for Moscow. When remonstrated with he replied: 'I am on the list of those condemned to death, so it does not matter.'"

The Grand Duke Vladimir is too ill to go. The emperor sent a representative to the frontier to meet Grand Duke Paul, bearing all his uniforms and decorations and a message. He has been restored to full rank and all his titles and emoluments which were sequestered at the time of his recent marriage.

Dantchenko, a famous Russian war correspondent, has made a sensational speech at the Hermitage Restaurant in Moscow. He denounces the war as futile, benefiting the bureaucrats only, and says it means ruin to Russia.

Railroad Strike Worse.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 22.—1.10 a.m.—The railroad strike situation is reported to be growing worse in the Southwest, and private advices are said to show the existence of a reign of terror in Thidias, and Caucasus generally. Many murders by Tartars and Armenians are reported. The railroad employees at Dorpat struck yesterday.

The situation in Poland along the Austrian border is also causing great uneasiness.

Trains for Vienna are unable to leave Warsaw in consequence of the strike which is expected to become general on the railroad. Later in the day all the employees of the Vienna railroad struck and the entire traffic by direct route from Warsaw to Austria and Germany was suspended. The strikers forcibly prevented the bringing out of locomotives from the round houses.

Had 76 Distinct Wounds.

Moscow, Feb. 21.—The coachman who was driving the carriage in which Grand Duke Sergius was riding when he was assassinated, died today of his injuries. He sustained 76 distinct wounds. Pieces of the carriage and other evidences of the tragedy are continually being found.

Besides practically continuous requiems an unusually solemn funeral mass was conducted today by the Moscow Metropolitan. The Alexis chapel in the Monastery, in which the service was held was packed to overflowing with courtiers, ladies-in-waiting, administrationists and members of the nobility.

In spite of four days' diligent investigation the police know practically no more concerning the assassins than when he was captured fleeing red-handed from the scene of the tragedy.

Caucasus In Revolt.

Berlin, Feb. 22.—The Vorwaerts prints a special despatch without indicating the place from which it was sent, saying:

"The whole Caucasus region is in revolt. Armenians, Persians and Circassians have formed a coalition against the Emperor of Russia, and seized arms and even cannon from Russian soldiers. They hold the governor of the district as a prisoner. The revolutionists are organizing camps outside the cities."

Lodz, Feb. 21.—The factories here have commenced taking on new hands to replace strikers. The situation is extremely uncertain.

At Libau.

Libau, Feb. 21.—The number of strikers is increasing, but there is no disturbance.

Oppose Revolution.

Warsaw, Russian Poland, Feb. 23.—The Polish national democratic party has issued a manifesto discountenancing revolution, "there are no arms," says the document, "no money and no leaders, and no aid can be expected from other countries. Austria is weak, France is Russia's ally and England is always practical. Therefore a revolution would only result in useless bloodshed. Better continue work peacefully and attain our ends." All the schools in the city are now closed except the elementary schools for young children, and proprietors of private schools have decided to close owing to the uncertainty of the situation.

JUST LIKE RUSSIA.

Lima, Peru, Feb. 21.—A sensation was created here today when health officers, who were disinfecting a house in front of the police station, discovered under the floor of one of the rooms, 150 hand grenades, charged with dynamite, and with fuses attached. The police are endeavoring to ascertain from whence these bombs came.

BUILDING WITHOUT WOOD.

Two Baltimore architects have drawn plans for a building entirely without wood. It will be six stories, and will have a frontage of 41.5 feet. The entire structure is to be of reinforced concrete and steel. Even the doors, trims, window sashes and door jambs are to be of metal. The windows will be glazed with wire glass. The frame for the showwindows will be of steel, into which the plate-glass will be fitted. The side walls, columns and rear walls, as well as the supporting columns of the front walls, will all be of concrete. The floors will all have a top-dressing of cement one and a half inches thick. The stairs will be of concrete, with slate treads and wrought-iron balustrades. The elevator shaft will be of concrete, as will also the inclosure around the stairway and the elevator hall. The cellar and roof are to be of cement. In order to eliminate all wood, even the flagstaffs on top will be of steel.—Engineering and Mining Journal.

BRANCH ROADS STILL BLOCKED.

Salisbury and Harvey Making a Desperate Effort to Get Through.

There is no change today in the branch line service.

The Salisbury and Harvey Road is making desperate efforts to break through the drifts. Superintendent Sherwood has a gang of men along the line picking and shovelling out the roadbed, but progress is very slow owing to the very heavy drifts, which have in some instances piled from twelve to fifteen feet high.

On the shore line every effort is being made to get the locomotives, which have been stalled at Spruce Lake, to Carleton.

Mails along both these lines, and along the N. B. R. and Coal Co., railway, are being conveyed by teams.

WHAT GLITTERS IS NOT ALWAYS GOLD!

Such Is the Experience of Two Young Englishmen Who Arrived Recently in St. John.

Two Englishmen arrived here on the Parisian and their story as told to a Times reporter is like that of the Irishman who some years ago emigrated from good old Tipperary with visions of finding gold pieces on the streets of New York. However, they were disappointed.

So are the two Englishmen in question, who according to the statement made by them were under the impression that capital did not control labor but rather vice versa in Canada and that if a man goes to work and his employer finds fault with him, all he has to do is to leave and go to the next door-neighbor and get a job.

"This," said one of the young men, "was the representation made by steamship agents in the old country, but we found the state of affairs considerably different on arriving here."

They further contended that it is not right for agents from this side to misrepresent the actual state of affairs in Canada, but in many such instances people have been grossly deceived.

The young men left for Springfield where they will endeavor to secure work in the coal mines.

TAKING OUT MANY BODIES.

No Doubt That Mining Disaster at Virginia Mines Has Had Ter- rible Results.

Birmingham, Ala., Feb. 22.—Two staff correspondents of the Birmingham News, who have returned from Virginia mines, say that when they left there this morning, 48 bodies had been taken out. A number of other bodies were in sight, but could not be reached because of the water. The explosion broke the water pipes, flooding a large part of the mine. It is therefore possible that some of the miners were drowned. Forty-four bodies have been taken to Bessemer. In many instances, it is impossible to identify the dead, so badly are they blackened and mangled. Absolutely no hope is held out now of finding any one alive in the mine.

There were 116 men in the mine and no doubt all are dead.

WEARIED OF SUCCESS.

From the Nashville (Tenn.) News.

The mysterious disappearance of a reputable and successful business man from Lafayette, Ind., five years ago, and his recent reappearance, with the explanation that he had simply grown "tired of everything" and sought a new life, does not appear so strange to the heart as it does to the mind. Such a feeling is incomprehensible to the intellect, yet it is a more or less familiar one to those hidden depths of human nature where lie the real life forces. Paradoxical as it may seem, it is simple truth that we weary of pleasures and ease sooner than of sorrows and toil. This Indiana man had a prosperous business, a comfortable fortune, pleasant family relations, and the respect of his neighbors. Maybe you think nothing more is necessary to perfect content. But if you think that, think again. The happiest laugh does not ring out from the home of such a man as this. The most radiant smiles are those that alternate with tears. Wealth, good repute, and family, even, are externals. There is another world in which a man really lives—the world of his ideals, and when these have dulled and levelled down to commonplace, and aspiration has atrophied and effort ceased, his surroundings, however favorable, turn into the tomb of a soul that is dead.

WATCH FRONT WHEEL.

(From the Washington Star.)
"Watch the front wheel," said a venerable citizen the other day, just after he had witnessed a serious accident on Pennsylvania avenue, in which a man had been knocked down and run over by a wagon. "Those four words constitute a whole warning chapter, and if people in their hurry and scurry would only heed them there would be fewer broken bones, cripples and fatalities. Do not let your attention be attracted by the driver. The animals may be turned suddenly in your direction by a quick jerk of the reins or some other cause, and the driver's gaze rarely indicates the direction his team is going to move in. The attention of the average driver is usually attracted by matters that are happening about him—passing teams, pretty girls and the like. But watch the near front wheel and you will find it an easy matter to avoid an approaching team, even though it be a runaway. The next time you go across the avenue try the experiment of watching the front wheel and you will agree with me that it is a 'saving clause,' as they say in Congress."

Tien Tsin, Feb. 22.—About 300 Russian raiders attacked and slightly damaged the railway between Hai-cheng and Tatchekiao on Monday night and again disregarded the neutrality of the territory west of the Liao river.

The presence of regular soldiers was not reported. It is evident that the villagers keep the Russians well informed as to the disposition of the Japanese troops. The damage to the railway was immediately repaired.

A Sharp Fight.

Tokio, Feb. 22.—The headquarters of the Japanese armies in Manchuria report a continuance of the Russian bombardment of various parts of the Japanese line. The Russians recently placed a number of heavy guns at Chiacitun, which is two miles west of Ta mountain. Scouts of both armies collided west of Shahopao, Monday night. A sharp fight took place.

FROM HALIFAX

Work of Opening up railway Service is Rapidly proceeding--- Prominent Windsor Man Dead.

Halifax, Feb. 22.—(Special).—The officers of the French steamer Pro Patria which arrived here today from St. Pierre asked as to reported distress there, stated the reports have been exaggerated as there is no unusual distress apparent in the French colony.

Some headway was made yesterday in opening up the railway service, the I. C. R. being opened as far as Oxford Jet., and the D. A. R. operating between Kentville and Windsor. The D. A. R. management expect to get a special train to Halifax this evening. The I. C. R. men working from Windsor Jet. out on the D. A. R. line were as far as Beaver Bank last night. The D. A. R. men are working from Windsor to meet them. The I. C. R. train which had been stalled at West river, reached Halifax at 3 o'clock this morning, and No. 19, which had been at Truro, left there at 3.30 yesterday afternoon, going by the Oxford branch. The train took about two hundred stalled passengers. It is expected that the line between Truro and New Glasgow will be all open today.

The death occurred at Windsor this morning of John Nalder, a prominent citizen of the town. He leaves a widow and grown up family. One son who is attending the University of New Brunswick is now on his way home.

all fights all, from the Chief to the last soldier, have done their duty. They have not spared their stomachs and have driven back the enemy everywhere. Nevertheless, we have not yet been able to thoroughly defeat the enemy. The most difficult and heaviest fighting is yet before us and the end of the war is far distant. Let commanders instruct subordinates that any hesitation or irresolution increases the loss, and a determined attack causes less loss. It is therefore imperative to advance with determination. Commanders must punish the unworthy without the slightest mercy. There must be no following of personal inclinations, but in the strict line of duty."

Japanese say their troops are well fed, having meat almost daily. The prisoners have been touched with the sympathy of the Russian soldiers who provide for them with care.

Railway Giving Way.

London, Feb. 22.—According to the Daily Telegraph's St. Petersburg despatches, the Siberian Railway is giving way under the tremendous strain to which recently it has been subjected. A general sagging of the rails and other serious defects are showing themselves and though the railway is only capable of carrying barely sufficient provisions for General Kuropatkin's army, this is becoming increasingly difficult and the number of trains daily soon must be reduced.

Building More Destroyers.

PRICE IS PLEASED.

The St. John Skater Was Splendidly Treated in Moncton Last Night.

Jimmy Price, who skated in Moncton last night and won from Smith in three events, has gone to Westville, N. S., where he will meet McDonald, the champion of that section in a mile race tomorrow night. The rink in Westville is 12 laps, with posts extending from the ice to the roof. It is expected that Price will give a good account of himself. Percy Lyons, Price's manager, said this morning that they were royally entertained in Moncton. John Cochran, of the passenger department, I. C. R., and Walter Davidson, formerly of this city, did all in their power to make it pleasant for them. At the rink everything was satisfactory. Smith skated nicely, but is evidently not in Price's class, as the St. John boy had no trouble in beating him.

In the 440, Price won by about 25 feet, in 41 seconds.

In the half-mile the pistol missed fire three times, so it was decided to start on the word "go." Price was a little late in starting, as he failed to get the word, but he finished with a good lead.

In the mile event, Price caught Smith in 8½ laps and trailed him to the finish. Mr. Lyons says there was a lot of money changed hands. The betting on the mile race was 15 to 5 in favor of Price.

Speaking of hockey, Mr. Lyons said the Moncton boys have chartered a special train to take the road to Sackville for tomorrow night's game. In the event of the Moncton team winning, St. John is talked of as the place to play off.

There is somewhat of a mix-up in connection with the waterworks system at Partridge Island. It is learned that yesterday on account of the dismissal of a number of employees by Contractor Kane, the remaining workmen decided to strike. Some of the men returned to work today, and the places of the others, who returned to the city, have been filled
