The pfd. stock was also down ½; Anaconda made a gain of 1¾; Kansas and Texas, Mexican Central and Hide and Leather pfd. about a point, and Reading, Wabash and Amalgamated Copper large fractions. MARINE NOTES

The West India liner Ocamo left St. Kitts Tuesday, coming north.

The Pilot Commission at Halifax have held an investigation of the report of the officers of the C. P. R. steamer Empress of Ireland that they could not get a pilot when coming into this port last Thursday night, and that the steamer had thereby been delayed for over an hour. The commission heard J. E. De Wolfe, agent of the C. P. R. at Halifax, regarding the captain's statement. The pilots of No. 4 boat testified to having seen the C. P. R. liner go past them at full speed, though they burned flare lights. It is understood that copies of the evidence will be sent to the marine department, also to Captain Foster of the steamer, and if the latter has anything to say he will be heard when he comes back to this port on Saturday.

Last Tuesday was the eighth anniversary of the loss of the steamer Portland in the fearful storm of November, 1898, when she carried 200 souls to their doom. Not one on board escaped. Several bodies afterwards were washed ashore on Cape Cod and identified by friends and from time to time various articles were picked up at sea which are thought to have formed part of the cabin fixtures of the steamer. But where she met her fate or whether those on board of her were engulfed without a chance for their lives still remains one of the mysteries of the sea.

The Portland left Boston harbor in a blinding snow storm, the exact number of passengers she carried never having been definitely determined. Thatcher's Island, off Cape Ann, was passed in safety, for coasting vessels report seeing the white steamer between 9 and 11 o'clock. This is the last known of her except for four shrill blasts of her whistle heard by the life savers of Peaked Hill on the evening of the 27th. Those signals were believed to have been the death cries of the big side-wheeler as she was being drawn helplessly beneath the pitiless waves.—Portland Express.

FORTUNE FOR HOTEL CLERK

NEW CASTLE, Pa., Nov. 30—Thomas McCarthy, a clerk in a local hotel, and his brother, Michael McCarthy, of Wampun, a suburb, received word last night that an uncle, Timothy McCarthy, had died in Australia, leaving them the sole heirs to a fortune of $3,000,000. The brothers said last night that their uncle went to Australia 20 years ago and had made his fortune in gold mines. They are making preparations to go to Australia and claim the money.

ONE MORE BIG TIME

The sharp turn in the weather last night, and the glazed condition of the ponds and lakes about the city indicates a permanent change for the colder, or, in other words, heralding the presence of winter. Victoria Rink is soon to be made ready for flooding for the ice season, but before this is done a grand farewell carnival will be held next Tuesday, at which thirty dollars will be awarded in prizes; $15 for masqueraders and $15 for gate prizes. A night of big fun.
