MEN'S LEAGUE HEARD SOME GOOD SPEECHES

A most pleasant successful function was the banquet of the Men's League of Germain Street Baptist church held last evening in the vestry. About eighty men sat at the tables and disposed of the excellent dinner in short order. Before the five-miunte speeches were begun the league elected these officers: T. S. Simms, president; E. L. Rising, vice-president; S. H. Davis, secretary-treasurer; L. W. Simms, assistant secretary-treasurer: W. F. Nobles, historian; E. M. Sipprell, leader. Committees on membership, visiting, devotion and social matters were elected also. Toasts followed, Dr. G. U. Hay acting as toastmaster. The King was honored by a verse of the National Anthem. G. F. H. Buerhaus proposed Canada, Dr. Hay and E. W. McCready responding. Ald. Lewis proposed The Church and Rev. W. W. McMaster, the pastor, responded. S. J. McGowan sang "Men of the North" in fine voice and being heartily encored gave "Men of the Northern Zone." D. Hunt proposed "Our League," E. M. Sipprell and T. S. Simms responding. A song by Rev. Mr. McMaster came next and then F. A. Dykeman proposed "Canada's Winter Port." Judge McLeod, W. C. Cross and T. H. Estabrooks spoke in response. W. F. Nobles proposed "The Ladies." Percy Rising and L. E. Fisher replied and the company gave the ladies three cheers and a tiger and a verse of "For They Are Jolly Good Fellows." All joined hands then and sang "Blest Be the Tie That Binds" and "Auld Lang Syne."

Mr. Dykeman in the course of his remarks said St. John was under bondage to the local legislature, a result of which was that the street railway sent delegations to Fredericton; the delegations gave dinners to members of the legislature and the company escaped its just share of the taxation. He felt that St. John had not sufficient self-governing powers. He asserted that aldermen were likely to forget the interests of the citizens between elections, on which account he strongly favored the initiative and referendum under which the people could quickly compel attention to their best interests.

Judge McLeod said he could not agree with the proposer of the toast. He did not think St. John was a stricken city. He came to St. John forty years ago this week. Never in that period was the city so prosperous as it is today. He opposed the referendum. If elected representatives neglected their duties the people should replace them. The present system was good. It prevented ill-advised measures due to popular clamor which sometimes was unjustified. Deliberate thought was necessary and the voters must remember that they were charged with grave responsibilities. If the city council needed more power it should apply to the legislature. The speaker believed the port would be nationalized, and that all the money spent on the harbor had been well invested. The principal eastern ports should be equipped by the government. The East had made sacrifices for the West. The two must grow together. There should be direct steamers from St. John to the West Indies. The trans-Atlantic freighters, too, should come here direct. He thought this the freight port and Halifax the passenger port.

W. C. Cross and T. H. Estabrooks also replied to this toast. They both stood up strongly for St. John. They agreed that it never had been more prosperous. Mr. Estabrooks said business was better than it ever had been and that opportunities for young men here were better than ever before.

Rev. Mr. McMaster, in the course of his address, advocated building a hall adjoining the church to accommodate the Sunday school. The proposal was warmly applauded.

THE RUNAWAY GIRL SCORED A BIG HIT

Pollards Juvenile Opera Company Gave Another Excellent Production Last Night.

That the Pollard Opera Company has made a decided hit in St. John goes without saying. At each performance they add greatly to their already lengthy list of friends, and last night was no exception, when a large audience, despite the inclement weather, wended their way to the York Theatre, and listened to and watched the production of the Runaway Girl.

Miss Daphne Pollard as Connenita was a favorite with the audience, while Teddy McNamara is a comedian considering his youth, who has never had an equal in this city. His song last night, Just Follow the Man from Cook's, evoked much applause, and several encores had to be responded to.

No higher praise could be given the company than to say that all the members of the company played and sang their parts in an excellent manner.

The Belle of New York will be the bill for tonight, and many consider it to be the young people's masterpiece. Be that as it may, those in attendance at the York this evening will thoroughly enjoy themselves.

ZIRA AT THE OPERA HOUSE

Ellis Company Give a Good Production of Celebrated Play.

The first production of Zira, at the Opera House last night was seen by a fair audience. Zira, in which Miss Margaret Anglin scored such a success in New York, is a really good play, possessing as it does sme impressive scenes and strong characters. It is doubtful if Miss Helen Aubrey ever appeared to better advantage than at last night's performance. As Zira, she proved herself capable of handling strongly emotional roles and received two curtain calls. Lee Koehler, a recent addition to the Ellis Company, gave a splendid conception of Captain Arnold Sylvester, and his work was much appreciated. Miss Clement, as Ruth Wilkins did very creditable work and those who have seen her in other roles could not but remark last night that she is rapidly making her way upward as a versatile actress. Caroline Newcombe, as Lady Constance Clavering, was rather a a disappointment, while Algernon Eden did fairly well in the role of Rev. Gordon Clavering. Daniel Bagnall gave a good interpretation of Sir Frederick Knowles and Drury Midgeley, was at home in the role of Mark Trent. Owen Coll doubled, having been entrusted with the roles of Surgeon Watson and Arthur Fielding.

Miss Marion Longfellow contributed a speciality between the third and fourth acts.

Zira will be the bill for the balance of the week.

KINGSTON DEANERY CHORAL UNION MEETS

SUSSEX, Nov. 1—Thursday being the day appointed for the annual meeting of the Kingston Deanery Choral Union, at Sussex, while a very disagreeable and stormy day, which had a tendency to make the attendance smaller than would probably have been the case, about sixty visiting members of the society in different parts of the deanery were on hand, the majority coming by the morning express from the west, and others on the Maritime express and C. P. R. from the east, etc.

After a lunch in the Medley Memorial hall, prepared by the ladies of Trinity church sewing circle, a rehearsal was held in the church and at half-past twelve dinner was served in the Medley Memorial Hall, which had been handsomely decorated for the occasion, and afterwards the choral music was rendered in the church at three o'clock under the leadership of Rev. C. P. Hanington, the sermon on the occasion being preached by the Rev. E. B. Hooper, of Moncton.

Among the visitors were Archdeacon Pentreath, of Vancouver, Canon Richardson, co-adjutor elect for the diocese of New Brunswick, St. John, the Revs. W. B. Armstrong, of Petitcodiac; E. B. Hooper, Moncton; R. M. Shewen, of Oak Point; A. W. Daniel, of Rothesay; Rev. Mr. Whalley, Hampton; Rev. Mr. Coleman, Springfield. Mr. Hamell Warneford, president of the society, also being present. The visitors then again repaired to the hall where tea was served, and after speeches made by the visiting clergymen and others, expressing their keen appreciation of the pleasant time spent in Sussex though stormy weather prevailed, all present were invited by the Rev. C. P. Hanington to sing: "For they are jolly good fellows," in honor of the ladies of Trinity church.

In the evening a missionary service was held in Trinity church at eight o'clock at which addresses were delivered by Rev. Canon Forsyth and Canon Richardson, of St. John.

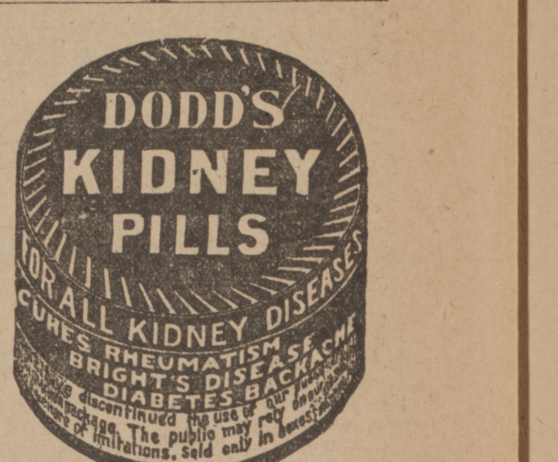

There is an extremely pretty girl in Brooklyn who has not been blessed with an oversupply of this world's goods. Recently she met a young man who is decidedly well off and who immediately began to show her considerable attention. The young man in question is of an extremely bashful disposition, and one evening recently, when the girl's mother appeared abruptly in the sitting room at a most inopportune moment, he literally bolted.

"I am shocked, Ethel, that you should show so little modesty as to let that young man kiss you!" the mother said, severely.

"And I am astonished," the girl retorted, almost crying with vexation, "that you should show such an amazing lack of discretion as to see him do it!"

Moncton, Nov. 1—(Special)—As the result of two or three inches snow fall, some parts of northern New Brunswick now have sleighing.

Dr. Thomas D. Walker has returned home.
