SECURE THE PROPERTY

The question of the expropriation by the city of the thirty-foot strip along Union street, west side, in front of certain properties has been enlarged to involve consideration of taking over the whole of those properties. Whatever is done must be done quickly, and it must provide for immediate possession of the thirty feet in question. The C. P. R. must have room for its tracks, and the winter port business must not be held up.

There is a growing feeling that the city should expropriate the whole of the property and avoid any further complications. It is pointed out that to take only the thirty-foot strip would not be sufficient to meet the needs of the case, looking to the future, and that it would be better to proceed at once to expropriate the whole of the property in question. The aldermen are no doubt looking carefully into the matter, and the citizens will expect them to take such action as will not in any way interfere with the development of the winter port business. As already stated, there is no time to waste in connection with the decision in this matter. Time is business, and business is money for the port.

WHAT NEXT?

It is stated that there is no hope of getting the dredge W. S. Fielding to work at the I. C. R. piers as she is not at all suited to do the work there. It is stated that there is more dredging needed at the Sand Point berths than Director Cushing estimated, and some citizens are strenuous in their assertion that only the purchase of the Bothfield will meet the exigencies of the case.

There are so many conflicting assertions that the average man is at a loss to know what the exact conditions are. It appeared clear a few days ago that the necessary work could be done without the Bothfield. Now there seems to be doubt again. Of all the remarkable civic conditions that have ever arisen to confuse the public mind this affair of the dredging appears to be the most remarkable. It would be absurdly ridiculous if it were not so serious.

At the present stage this paper is not prepared to urge such a course as the purchase of the old dredge Bothfield. There is no particular cause for panic.

TECHNICAL EDUCATION

The announcement that the federal government has under consideration the question of granting aid to technical education in Canada is welcomed generally by the press of the country. The Montreal Witness devotes a long editorial to the subject, pointing out what technical schools have done for Germany and Austria, noting the fact that United States factories are now recruiting much of their skilled help from technical schools, and regretting that Great Britain has not given more attention to a matter of such vital importance to her industrial and commercial welfare, in competition with other nations. Turning then to Canada the Witness says:

In Canada we are worse off still in this respect, and it is one of the most serious obstacles to the development of legitimate manufacturing industries throughout the Dominion that it is so hard to obtain the class of specialized labor that is required. In many cases it is not to be had at all in this country and yet Canadian labor unions are successfully blocking the importation from England, and elsewhere, of the artisans without whose assistance Canadian mills and factories cannot attempt the enlargements they might otherwise well accomplish. The news from Ottawa of the Federal Cabinet's interest in the cause of technical education will be welcome news in many an industrial centre of this country. The instructional work of the department of agriculture has unquestionably contributed in a very large measure to the improvement of agricultural methods and to the favor that Canadian butter, cheese and bacon now enjoy in the British markets. It has been recently announced that a department of mines is to be created next session to keep Canadian mining interests abreast of their opportunities. During the last ten seasons demonstrations of the Scotch method of packing and curing herring has shown Canadian fishermen how they may obtain twice as large a return. Let the Canadian artisan also be given a chance to gain that complete knowledge of his subject which under existing conditions it is extremely hard for him to obtain. Probably the best method for government to aid in the development of technical education would be by grants proportioned to local effort and success."

Mr Hearst, in his letter of acceptance, published today, asserts that it is the nomination of the Democratic party he has received, and poses as the great defender of Democratic principles. As a matter of fact he is Murphy's candidate, and depends for his election on the vote of the dissatisfied of all parties, who may be deceived by his professions of a disinterested desire to serve the welfare of the people.

It may be hoped that some of Judge Ritchie's pointed remarks about the evil of permitting young children to be on the streets late in the evening will penetrate the consciousness of parents and rouse them to a sense of their responsibility.

The School for the Deaf now has its teaching staff complete. It is a well-conducted institution and is doing a much-needed work. There are still children in a number of homes that would be much better in attendance at this school.

MOOSE AND DEER AT GASPEREAUX

CHIPMAN, Oct. 13. — Samuel Baird, who has just returned from a hunting trip on the head waters of the Gaspereaux, reports moose and deer very plentiful in that section, notwithstanding that the "American Fish and Game Association" give New Brunswick no credit for such big game roving at sweet will all over the province.

Mr. Baird contented himself this time by securing a handsome deer at the head of Salmon Creek, and as the beauty had been secured alive its owner lost no time in hastening homewards with his valuable prize.

William McAlister, who lives in the Midland between Iron Bound Cove and Salmon Creek, lost his house by fire this week. The fire caught on the roof from a spark and as the wind was blowing a gale the building was quickly reduced to ashes. Most of the furniture down stairs was saved, but everything upstairs was lost, and the family will feel the loss bodly at this inclement season of the year.

Miss Carrie Williams, the 12-year-old daughter of Albert Williams of Salmon Creek, was recently operated on for appendicitis by Dr. Caswell of Gagetown, Dr. Hay of Chipman and Dr. Nugent of Briggs Corner. The young patient is doing as well as can be expected and good hopes are entertained by her many friends for her speedy recovery.

Rev. Milton Addison baptized six converts last week at Gaspereau, and is now holding a series of religious meetings at Upper Salmon Creek church, where he has already baptized one convert and more candidates for baptism are announced for next Sunday afternoon.

A hurricane set in here last Sunday morning and it has blown a perfect gale ever since, followed by heavy rains, which have raised the water in the river a foot or more. The wind has uprooted some very old trees and blown down fences, but the welcome rain will soften the ground for fall plowing and supply water for not a few wells which have run dry the past summer.

AT THE ROLLAWAY

It is a very interesting programme that the Harmony Club have prepared for their sports at St. Andrew's Rollaway on Thanksgiving night. There is no line of sport that is so interesting, and so exciting to spectators as roller sports. When roller sports were in vogue here twenty years ago, the rink was made to accommodate the crowds that wished to enter and no doubt on Thanksgiving night next the St. Andrew's Rink will be taxed to its utmost capacity. There is a one mile professional race, a one mile amateur race and a one mile boys' race, and these three alone will be worth the price of admission.

HIELAN' LADDIES WILL ASSIST

Added to numerous attraction in connection with the grand Thanksgiving night masquerade in Victoria Roller Rink will be a street parade and drill of the Scots Companies, Boys' Brigade. The kilted laddies will march from the head of King street with the band and give an exhibition of bayonet drill in the rink. Prof. Bolero's jumping the forty foot gap on rollers at a height of 60 feet will add a thrilling element to the evening's amusement. The club has offered forty dollars in prizes, ten of which will be a lucky ticket award. On Thanksgiving afternoon there will be a band and a handicap race. Children free in the morning. Last night every pair of skates in the Vic was in use; things are booming down there.

A RAILWAY RUMOR

SYDNEY, Oct. 13.—(Special). — With respect to a story from Moncton that the Dominion Coal Co. had purchased the Moncton & Buctouche Railway, General Manager Duggan of the company last night stated that the report was all news to him. He had heard nothing about it.

Miss Margaret McGowan entertained a few of her friends to a birthday party at her mother's home, 408 Main street, October 10th. After refreshments had been served, the young folks enjoyed themselves with music, games, etc. During the evening Miss McGowan received many handsome and useful presents from her relatives and friends.

Captain James Chapman, of Newcastle, Queens county, is in the city.

SONG OF THE GRATE

(By Lewis Allen)

Sing me the song of the open grate,
The song of the glowing coal,
And the winds without may chill the world,
But they cannot chill my soul.

Sing me the song of the fireplace wide,
The song of the smoke-wreaths thin,
And the Arctic blasts may howl without,
There's a tropic warmth within.

Sing me the song of the glowing hearth,
The song of the crackling blaze,
For it's there I'd sit me down to rest
In the winter of my days.

IN LIGHTER VEIN

HOW HE WON HER.

He told the maiden a story—
The old, old story, 'tis true—
Yet she didn't cry "Chestnut!"
For to her the story was new.

TOOK NO MORE CHANCES.

Irish Sergeant—All down in one gulp! Do you always drink your whiskey like that?

Scotch Sergeant—Rather! I once had a glass upset!—Ally Sloper's Half-Holiday.

NOT ALL HARD.

Housekeep—I tell you, the price of anthracite these days makes it come hard to the coal buyer.

Wiseman—Yes, but it doesn't make it come hard to the coal cellar. Sometimes it's mixed with bituminous—The Catholic Standard and Times.

THE SECRET OF IT.

"You're always in debt? You ought to be ashamed of yourself."

"Oh, I don't know! If you were in my place you'd probably be in debt, too."

"What place?"

"Able to get credit!"—Ally Sloper's Half-Holiday.

QUITE A MOUTHFUL

"But," said the real estate man, "you shouldn't let this bargain get away from you. Why don't you argue the thing out with your wife?"

"No use," replied Meekley; "my wife has stubborn notions against it. The moment I opened my mouth she'd put her foot down and—

"The idea! I should think you'd be choked to death."—The Catholic Standard and Times.

WONDERFUL KANSAS.

The Kansas agriculturist put his elbows back on the rail fence and yawned heavily.

"Yep," he said, "we've overdone it a little with our big corn crops. There's good money in it, but it's kind o' wearin' on a feller's mind. Job Hudson he sort o' got tired o' watchin' the stalks grow an' give it all up to once. But Job's doin' well in his new business."

"What's he doing?" inquired the stranger from the east.

The tall Kansan yawned again.

"Job's runnin' a big factory makin' cyclone cellars for the Russian market," he replied.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

NEW DONALDSON LINER CASSANDRA

The new Donaldson liner Cassandra, which arrived at Montreal a few days ago from Glasgow, was launched on June 27 from the Scott yards, Greenock, and has been built especially to meet the increasing passenger trade with which the Donaldson line has to cope. She will carry only second and third class passengers, but the former will have all the best parts of the ship, and the accommodation usually reserved for the first class. Provision is made for 200 second class passengers, 1,000 third, and on her initial voyage she brought out 106 of the former and 176 of the latter. She is finely appointed throughout, and the conveniences are of the most modern type.

Her burthen is 8,000 tons gross, and her holds, five in number, are capable of taking in 9,000 tons of dead weight. She is fitted with cold storage, and the loading and unloading appliances are of the most approved pattern. She is 445 feet in length and 50 feet beam. She is twin screw, and is lighted throughout by electricity, of which plant, as well as engines, pumps, etc. she has a duplicate set. With her initial performance her officers are well pleased, and yesterday described her as a good, steady sea boat, and said that with her steering they were satisfied. Her speed is 18 1-2 knots.

She is in command of Capt. John Mitchell, who is well known in this port. Her chief engineer, Mr. Roberts. The other officers are: First, Newman; second, McKee; third Houston. The engineers are: Second, Neil; third, Montgomery; fourth, Gordon; fifth, Cove; sixth, Henderson, and seventh, Walker. Dr. Alexander is the surgeon, and R. S. Willughby, the purser.

Insurance of Freight

A revolution in regard to the insurance against fire of all freight handled by their system is announced by the C. P. R. By an amendment in their policies the company are now prepared to make good to the shipper all freight burnt or injured by fire while in their possession. The new arrangement, which went into force last Wednesday, is said to be the first made by any transportation company in the world along these lines and it is expected that all railway companies on the continent will be compelled to adopt the same policy to keep pace with the innovation.

In an interview with a representative of The Telegraph yesterday, J. N. Sutherland,, general freight agent of the C. P. R., said the change had been a matter of negotiation with the insurance companies for some months. The necessary amendments in the policies carried by the C. P. R. had been finally arranged and went into effect October 1.
