LATE LOCALS

William A. Cathers has opened up the grocery store formerly owned by the late Robert Ritchie, corner of Queen and Germain streets. The store has been thoroughly renovated and re-modelled.

Dr. B. S. Price, of this city, has been invited to accept a position on the teaching staff of a medical university in Kansas. He has not yet decided to accept, but will leave shortly on a visit to the institution.

A meeting of the Temperance Federation will be held in W. C. T. U. Hall, Germain street, tomorrow evening. A full attendance is requested, as this will be the last meeting before Tennyson Smith's campaign opens.

Mrs. C. H. Hall was re-elected secretary of the Associated Charities, at a meeting held yesterday afternoon, when it was decided to procure an assistant for her as soon as possible.

It is said that one of the I. C. R. sheds on Pond street was entered last night by youthful burglars, who took a block and strap. The name of one of the boys is said to be known by the authorities.

James W. Smith, who has been conducting a shoe business at 37 Waterloo street, has suspended payment. The liabilities are said to be $1,000 and assets about the same. The Ames-Holden Co. and J. M. Humphrey & Co. are the principal creditors.

Marlborough Lodge, Sons of England, will give a smoking concert to their friends in Foresters' Hall, Charlotte street, this (Thursday) evening at 8.30; the lodge will be in session from 7.30 to 8.30. All the brethren are invited and may bring a friend if they wish.

THE DREDGING

The Globe yesterday made an unfair statement regarding Mr. Mayes' dredging operations. At the time the Globe stated that the dredge Beaver was still idle, it was actually at work, and instead of the work of placing crib No. 3 being delayed for several days it is likely to be placed tomorrow.

Mr. Mayes could not prevent the accident to the dredge, and his men worked continuously in pouring rain to have the repairs made. The Beaver has done remarkably good work ever since she was brought here, and but for the boulders encountered the work would have been completed much sooner. With regard to No. 3 crib site, the sliding in of Union street prolonged the work far beyond what was anticipated.

TO CHOOSE A RECTOR

A meeting of the congregation of St. Paul's (Valley) church will be held in the school room this evening for the purpose of electing a new rector to succeed Rev. A. G. Hamilton-Dicker.

It was learned today that although several names have been mentioned, none have been at all seriously considered, save that of Rev. E. Bertram Hooper, at present rector of St. George's church, Moncton.

Should Rev. Mr. Hooper be elected—which seems more than likely—it is not known definitely when he would be able to come to St. John.

GOLDEN WEDDING AT MILL VILLAGE

Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Clark Celebrate Half Century Mark of Married Life.

(Halifax Mail).

A very pleasant evening was spent at Locust Lodge, the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Clark, Mill Village, November 6th, it being the fiftieth anniversary of their wedding, which took place at Carleton, St. John, N. B., November 6th, 1856, the officiating clergyman being the late Rev. E. R. Harris. A large number of relatives and friends were assembled in honor of the event. Those from a distance included H. Ward Clark, Mr. and Mrs. C. Gordon Jones, of Boston, Mass., and Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Clark, of Bridgewater. Other members of the family present were Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Pineo, Miss Laura Clark and Ernest L. Clark. Telegrams and letters of congratulation were received during the day from absent friends, and a large number of presents testified to the esteem in which Mr. and Mrs. Clark are held, among the presents being a beautiful clock and gold-headed cane from friends in Mill Village, gold coins from sons and daughters, also from Miss Elizabeth Brow, of Boston, Mass. The early married life of Mr. and Mrs. Clark was spent in Carleton; from there they moved to Berwick, where most of the family of twelve children were born. About seven years ago they removed to Mill Village, where they now reside, and where, judging from their hale and hearty appearance they may yet celebrate their diamond wedding. The evening was spent in a happy manner, music being furnished by Mrs. C. A. Young and Miss Mary Mitchell. A beautiful poem entitled "The Golden Wedding" was read by Mrs. A. N. Mack, and an enjoyable collation was served. The rooms were prettily decorated for the occasion and much attention was attracted by a beautiful wedding cake, brought from Boston, and which graced the centre of the dining room table. The company dispersed at midnight, wishing their host and hostess long-continued prosperity and many years of happiness to come.

[Mr. Clark is an uncle of C. F. Olive, of the Times staff, who sends congratulations.]

THE RIVER AND SEWAGE

UPPER SHEFFIELD, Nov. 13, 1906.

Editor of the Times:

Sir:—It would be a great misfortune for people along the river in this section of the country to have the water in the river rendered unfit for drinking and all other purposes for which it is used; for we believe the purity of the water in its present state cannot be doubted. You can let it remain months in an iron vessel and the purity of the water is not the least impaired. G. W. Fuller, the New York sanitary expert, must have been misinformed. Anyway it would not apply to water on this section of the St. John river, and, as for using wells, any kind of a high freshet overflows great numbers of them. In the year 1887 it was over some of them five or six feet.

Yours
S. B. TAYLOR.

CHARITY IS THE TEST

The preacher went on to say that all other societies, which may be constituted for the amelioration of their members, or of others, are praiseworthy and commendable, in so far as they promote the great precept of charity, which is the sum and substance of the law.

Dr. Thompson referred to the dignity and pre-eminence of charity over all other virtues. If there be any other commandment, it is comprised in this word, "Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself." The great danger which threatened a powerful society, was the temptation to act on principles at variance with the law of God and Christ, which is true charity. Any other form of benevolence is not charity. The most common form of such deviation from the law of God, as far as societies are concerned, was the arrogating to themselves of powers and privileges which they did not possess; of trespassing upon the domain of church and state; of presuming to impose upon their members certain obligations, the sanctioning of which belongs only to the sovereign power of the state, or of the church. Such societies are a menace to the state and cannot fail to be disapproved of by the church.

Without any such trespassng or outrageous usurpation, there was ample scope for any society to labor in promoting the welfare of its own members and the great work of uplifting society in general.

Rev. Dr. Thompson stated that he had great hopes for the future of the Knights of Columbus, precisely for the reason that their principles were based upon the gospel of Christ, and they were thus guarded effectively against the pitfalls into which even powerful organizations have fallen.

After the ceremony the knights again formed in line and marched back to their rooms.

This afternoon at 1.30 o'clock the first degree was exemplified. At 4 p. m. the second degree will be exemplified and at 7.30 the third degree. The degree work will take place in the assembly rooms of the York Theatre.
