

A CONFLICT OF OPINION

As to the Extent of the Damage Done to No. 3 Crib

CAN IT BE PLACED

Is the Question Which is Agitating the Civic Sub-Committee --- Director Cushing Says Damage Will Not Interfere With Placing It.

The condition of No. 3 crib was the principal subject of conversation around city hall this morning and various opinions were expressed. The consensus of opinion among aldermen who had gathered there, and Director Cushing and other officials, was that the crib had not suffered any damage which would cause a delay in placing it in position and that as far as it is concerned "everything is lovely."

Despite these optimistic expressions, however, the situation was considered sufficiently serious to warrant the calling of a special meeting of the sub-committee of the board of works which has been dealing with west side matters and in addition to the members of the committee, Director Cushing and Engineer Peters were present as well as Supt. Downie and Engineer Brown of the C. P. R. The meeting was convened shortly before noon in city hall and reporters from the city papers were not admitted. It is understood that the whole situation was thoroughly canvassed and that Director Cushing repeated his statement that he did not think the crib was damaged to such an extent that there would be a delay in placing it.

Before the meeting Director Cushing informed the Times that while he had not heard from the diver who went down this morning to examine the crib he did not believe the situation was as serious as it had been represented. If as he understood it, some timbers had been wrenched from the bottom of the crib they could be replaced at the top of the structure and thus preserve the proper height. He did not know what the diver would find but he expected to receive a report later in the day.

In spite of these favorable reports from City Hall, men who know the crib from the inside of the damage say that the crib has been badly racked and torn in the various attempts to raise it that it was put in place, now it would surely fall out. It is known that face timbers have been torn away, and it is believed that a considerable portion of the crib is still on the bottom, the crib having broken apart during the process of raising it.

After the meeting this morning, Alderman McGoldrick said that the aldermen did not know how badly the crib was damaged. They are waiting for reports from the diver. If it is no worse than Director Cushing thinks it is, then the work of placing the crib will not be delayed.

Soundings are being taken this afternoon on the crib site and by tonight it is expected the committee will have sufficient information on the whole question to enable them to grapple with it at once.

It has been suggested that Engineer Sheeven, Armstrong, Scammell or Holt, or some other competent authority, should examine the crib and report whether or not it is now in a condition to be placed.

LATER

Another section of the bottom of the crib, 100 feet long and about seven feet high has been taken up since noon. The situation is therefore very serious.

The dredge Beaver has been kept idle for many hours because it failed to restore the water pipes where broken by the recent slide. This is another matter that should be looked into.

Albert McArthur of Main street, arrived home on Saturday after spending twelve days on a hunting trip in the Branch, Ontario. Mr. McArthur was very successful in dropping a moose with a spread of 36 inches, a beautiful deer and several partridge.

Everything is in readiness for St. Peter's high tea, which opens this evening in St. Peter's hall, Elm street. The hall on both sides is lined with booths, which are very dainty and original, and as usual the supper tables are decorated in a magnificent manner.

The Marathon Football team will dine at White's on Wednesday evening at 9 o'clock. All members of the club wishing to attend will notify members of the football team.

THE TIMES LEADS.

The St. John Star claims a daily circulation for the past two months of 6,032, which is 1,208 less than The Times had before the "gold" contest started. Advertisers in The Times pay for a circulation of 7,300 and receive the balance without extra charge.

A certain cigar store applied to The Times for free advertising, which was refused. It is noticeable that The Star now carries this advertisement, offering The Star free with a ten cent purchase, which also includes a Times coupon.

If The Times offers a circulation of 9,000 and only requires the advertiser to pay for 7,300, it looks like a better proposition than The Star can offer when it only claims 6,032 circulation. The Times claims the largest evening circulation in St. John, and it seems to be settled by The Star's admission that The Times IS IN THE LEAD. This paper claims the privilege of giving advertisers extra circulation without extra charge. We ask which is the better bargain, 7,300 at 11c per page line with 1,700 circulation added gratis or The Star's claimed 6,032 circulation, at the same rate as charged by The Times.

BOY THIEVES ARE AT WORK

Fourteen-Year-Old Lad Charged With Burglary

ADMITS HIS GUILT

H. G. Harrison's Grocery Store in North End Entered Last Night---Evidently the Work of Boys --- The Amount Stolen Was Small.

Herbert Clayton, aged about 14 years, was arrested yesterday by Detective Kilen on suspicion of breaking and entering three different stores, all the alleged robberies having been committed only a few hours apart.

On November 15 he is charged with breaking and entering James V. Russell's shoe store on Brussels street, and stealing therefrom a pair of rubber boots, a pair of leather shoes and seven cents in cash. The youngster is also charged with breaking and entering the meat store of John W. Adams, on Brussels street, on the same night and destroying some meat and stealing a small sum of money.

Lastly he is charged with breaking and entering A. J. Russell's candy store on Garden street, and stealing a quantity of candy and cigars, on the morning of the 16th inst.

In court this morning he tearfully admitted knowledge of the crimes charged against him, and was remanded.

Another robbery is recorded as having taken place, and this time it is in the north end. The grocery store conducted by H. G. Harrison, on Main street, was entered sometime between five o'clock Sunday afternoon and this morning, and between $1 and $1.50 taken from a till. Another till was not touched, and in view of the fact that none of the stock, including cigars, etc., was touched, Mr. Harrison is of the opinion that it is the work of small boys.

The robbers obtained an entrance in the store by forcing a hole through the panel of a door and thereby enabling them to remove a prop, which was placed against the door.

Mr. Harrison told the Times this morning that as he visited the store yesterday afternoon about five o'clock and no entrance had been effected up to that time.

MURDER IN MONTREAL

Man Shot by Highwayman on Tuesday Night Died in Hospital This Morning.

MONTREAL, Nov. 19 (Special).---Horace W. Grigg, who was shot by a highwayman on Tuesday evening in a Montreal street, died early this morning in the hospital. In an ante-mortem statement Grigg said that his assailant was short and had a voice like a negro, but he did not see his face.

POLICE COURT

Fred Lean, James Boyd and Charles Carmichael got into a fight on Union street Saturday, and were taken to the Brussels street lock-up. When the case came up in court this morning, Lean and Carmichael were fined $20 each or two months in jail, and as there was no evidence against Boyd, who seemed to have been the victim of the other two, he was discharged.

Robert Peterson, drunk and profane, was fined $8 or two months.

John Dukeshire, drunk on Broad street, was fined $8 or 30 days, as also was Frank Hopper. Charles Johnson forfeited an $8 fine also for drunkenness.

A milk team owned by the Clover Farm Dairy Company and driven by Harry Floyd ran away from in front of the company's store on Sydney street about 12.45 o'clock today. The horse in its mad flight ran against a telegraph post at the corner of Sydney and Union street, smashing the wagon up badly. The horse, after breaking away from the wagon, continued on down Union street and was captured at Weatherhead's stable. Some cans of milk in the wagon were spilled about the street.

The regular meeting of the Fortnightly Club will be held this evening at the residence of F. A. Dykeman. A paper on "Dr. Johnson and his friends" will be read by William Brodie and F. R. Fairweather will discuss "Marlborough and Blenheim."

FORTY-THREE LOST IN STEAMSHIP COLLISION EARLY LAST EVENING

Awful Accident Occurred in Puget Sound---An Ore Steamer Collided With Passenger Boat, Which Sank --- Sea Almost as Smooth as Mill-Pond --- Many Passengers Knelt in Prayer and so Went Down to Death.

SEATTLE, Wash., Nov. 19.---The steamer Dix, Captain P. Lemmon, bound from Seattle to Port Blakely with passengers, sank two miles north of Alki Point, shortly after seven o'clock last night, after having collided with the ore steamer Jeannie, Captain P. H. Mason, of the Alaska Coast Co.

Forty-three passengers and members of the crew of the Dix are missing and 36 were saved. The Dix is a total wreck. The Jeannie was not injured in the least. The master of the Dix was saved. The collision occurred while the Jeannie was almost as smooth as a mill pond and after the boats had been steaming in sight of each other for a quarter of an hour.

The Jeannie was backing when she collided with the Dix, and the impact was great. The Dix struck the Jeannie on the starboard side. She listed heavily to port for a brief period, righted herself, then sank stern first. There was hardly time to launch life rafts or boats before she was almost entirely submerged. Passengers jumped from the decks into the water; women screamed and officers and men called orders that could hardly be heard above the din.

The passengers from the Dix who could swim made their way to the sides of the Jeannie and were dragged aboard.

Forty-one DROWNED
SEATTLE, Nov. 19.---The passenger steamer Dix, with passengers and crew numbering 80 persons, was rammed and sunk by the ore steamer Jeannie in Puget Sound last night. Forty-one persons, including women and children, were drowned.

The Jeannie was not moved until after all who had reached her had been hauled aboard. Then she cruised about picking up several who managed to stay above water. It was after ten o'clock before the Jeannie left the scene of the catastrophe and steamed to the Virginia street dock, with her 36 survivors.

Who Is To Blame?
The Jeannie of the Alaska Coast Company had finished unloading at the Great Northern docks at Smith's Cove and had started for Tacoma shortly before seven o'clock, just about the same time the Dix left the Flyer Dock for Port Blakely. There were no passengers on the Jeannie.

The Dix was making the last trip of the night and was well filled with passengers. When within two miles north of Alki Point the two vessels were within a short distance of each other, steaming along converging lines. The captain of the Jeannie says he signalled for the Dix to pass him and that his whistle was answered. The Dix was then within speaking distance of the Jeannie and to the port of her.

Suddenly Mate Dennison, who was at the wheel of the Dix, put her hard over to starboard as if to cross in front of the other vessel.

Captain Mason of the Jeannie, who was on the bridge, saw that an accident was imminent and, calling out a warning to the man at the wheel of the Dix, gave the signal to reverse his own engines and his vessel was slowly backing away when the two came together with only a slight crash. For a moment all was still, then a panic followed.

When the Dix began to sink stern first, some passengers and members of the crew leaped into the sea. Other passengers huddled in groups on the decks or knelt in prayer. The women, who had little chance for their lives, stayed with the sinking steamer and were drowned as it sank.

HAS ABERDEEN BEEN SOLD?

Reported that Capt. George Perry and Others Have Purchased Her.

A rumor was current in the north end this morning that the steamer Aberdeen had been sold to Captain George Perry, W. S. Gody and a third person, but Captain Perry stated to the Times that the report was not absolutely correct. He said, however, that something of that nature might develop later on.

The Aberdeen was running this season between Woodstock and Fredericton, and Captain Perry stated this morning that the season was a very profitable one for her.

The Aberdeen is owned by Robertson Scott, of Fredericton, and Engineer Johnson.

Captain Perry said that if he purchases the steamer she will run next season between Fredericton and Woodstock.

The Aberdeen will winter at Marble Cove.

THE TIMES NEW REPORTER

HIRAM IN TOWN.

Mr. Hiram Hornbeam spent Sunday in the city, and went over in the afternoon to the west side of the harbor.

"Hy Hen!" said Hiram. "I haint seen such a crowd since the exhibition. It's Sunday, too. They don't think 'nuthin' of workin' on Sunday now. I mind years ago when old Jones used to the Settlement hauled in some 'buckshot' one Sunday because it was 'epilin' everybody said Jones' 'ud git his'n all right when the time come. It was an awful thing to break the Sabbath -- er do anything but go to meetin' in' an' then talk about the neighbors. Hello! look at that thing un-loadin' them ballast cars. Jist look at that! Why it 'ud take more'n a hundred men to do it that quick. I mind when I was a young feller I worked on a ballast train once. We shoveled the ballast on 'n' then we had to shovel it off again. Now they load it with a steam shovel and take it off with a steam scraper. Say! That C. P. R. know how to do things. If it was the city council had this job to do I s'pose it 'ud take 'em till this time next year."

Hiram made many enquiries about the Ladies', but could not learn that anything had yet been done toward sending that additional $2,000 on the $80,000 bounty.

He was also much interested in the fragments from the bottom of No. 3 crib which were exposed to the public gaze when they should be many feet under the water.

"This town," said Hiram, "is certainly gettin' its bumps. Even Halifax is out after its scalp."

MR. BINKS'S VIEWS.
Mr. Peter Binks was around town this morning consulting his friends about having a delegation sent to Ottawa to appeal on behalf of St. John for an artesian well-borer.

Mr. Binks says he sees no particular reason for such a delegation and therefore one should be sent at once. Every body admits that the waterworks extension is not yet completed, and therefore a well-borer should be sent.

It was suggested to Mr. Binks that a delegation in the interests of St. John as a mail port might be of some value, but he did not share that view.

"We must not antagonize Halifax," said Mr. Binks. "We must love Halifax, along with all others who despitely use us. But it is really time for us to send another delegation to Ottawa, and I think we could use a well-borer before spring."

W. H. Welsh, of the Canadian Detective Bureau, is in the city with a view to establishing a branch of the Bureau here. He called on Chief Clark at police headquarters this afternoon.

THE INTEREST IS GROWING

Various Contestants Are Strenuously Balloting

FOR THE GOLD PIECES

St. Mary's Band Still Leads But High School and Scots Co. of Boys Brigade Make Heavy Gains--A Court Wygoody Sympathizer Writes.

The various organizations in The Times contest show no signs of losing their pace in the race for the purse of gold. Today a large number of ballots were cast, nearly 800 being received for the High School A. C., while the friends of St. Stephen's Scotch Boys' Brigade sent in a total of 500.

The bandmen still hold their grip upon the leadership in spite of all attempts to displace them, their vote today being increased several hundred.

Court Le Tour I. O. F. and the Neptune Rowing Club also show a marked improvement in their standing.

A friend of Companion Court, Wygoody I. O. F., sends the contest editor a vote for that order artistically framed in gold and the accompanying verse:

"Sisters wake up!
Why is Wygoody behind?
There is always room at the top,
But as long as we're ahead,
We don't mind."

A DOWN-HEARTED SISTER.

Sussex is evidently aroused over the contest for the two hundred dollars, judging from the tremendous increase in The Times circulation in that town. Other provincial towns also show a marked increase in the sales of the paper, while the number of yearly subscriptions received surpasses all previous records.

MERGER WILL GO THROUGH

Bar of Montreal Will Take Over People's Bank

ON FEBRUARY 1ST

Directors of People's Bank Deny Report That Merger Will Not Take Place---Scott Act Cases in Fredericton---Shipments of Moose Heads.

FREDERICTON, Nov. 19.---(Special).---It seems to be the general impression in well-informed circles here that the Bank of Montreal will take over the People's Bank of New Brunswick on February 1st. A meeting of the directors of the People's Bank was held Saturday afternoon but what took place has not been made public. The directors say there is no foundation for the report lately circulated that the merger had fallen through.

J. W. Wallace, teller of the Bank of Montreal, here, has been transferred to St. John and will be succeeded by Fred Gibson, now of the St. John office.

The will of the late P. G. Ryan has been admitted to probate. The estate was sworn at $8,600 of which $5,000 represents real estate and the balance personal property. Mrs. Ryan is the executrix under the will and the sole beneficiary.

Three cases of Scott Act offences were acknowledged in the police court this morning and fines of $50 imposed. Up to November thirteenth, the heads of 125 moose and 25 caribou and 24 deer were shipped to the United States from this province via McAdam.
