In the case of the McLaughlin Carriage Company v. Marshall A. Smith yesterday afternoon the plaintiff secured an injunction until further hearing.

GEORGE HAM INTERVIEWED
TALKS OF SEVERAL THINGS

But Particularly His Remarks Have to do With Canada and The Position This Nation Holds in the Eyes of the World.

(Winnipeg Free Pass.)

George H. Ham, still of Winnipeg, though claimed by Montreal, is being welcomed today by his many friends after an absence since the visit of the Washington press correspondents in July last. He is here in connection with the work of the Western Immigration association and expects to remain a week or so, spending the time chiefly in Winnipeg, but taking a run out to Neepawa for a day or two. He is staying at La Claire hall, on Garry street. He is accompanied by his daughter, Mrs. Lomer Beard, who yesterday went to Neepawa to visit her sister, Mrs. Burley.

Mr. Ham notices in Winnipeg after each interval of a few months, an increasing number of strange faces, and he misses one and another of the familiar ones of former days. He still looks back to the years he spent in this city as the happiest period of his life, and he has lost nothing of his confidence in the stability of the city's foundations or of the brightness of his hope for its future. He noticed the pessimistic telegram recently published in the Toronto News, and the prompt resentment which its gloomy forebodings awoke here, but he says a great deal more attention was paid to the matter here than in the east, as everybody knows down there that Winnipeg has passed the boom stage, and that while some lines may be a little overdone, this fact is merely incidental and the common experience of all new countries.

Referring to his recent trip to Washington Mr. Ham speaks with warmth of the kindness with which he was everywhere treated and of the magnificent way in which he was banqueted. At the famous "gridiron" dinner he saw again the boys whom he accompanied out here last summer, and who, he says, are still talking about Canada. Many of the correspondents were still as much interested in Canada as during that trip, they would like similar trips in the future. Some of them express a determination to come again to the west and some are going to Quebec this summer. Another pleasing recollection is that of his introduction to President Roosevelt. In the course of the interview the president said he hoped, when his term of office expired, to travel across Canada on the C. P. R.

It is probable, Mr. Ham says, that the Canadian Press association will visit the west next summer, going as far as Edmonton.

Other visitors to whose coming we may look forward, Mr. Ham thinks, are some British journalists who were out here in 1904, Neil Munro, of Glasgow; John Day, of the Sheffield Independent, and Henry Alexander, Sr., father of Mr. Alexander, of the Aberdeen Free Press. Mr. Derry, of the Independent, he says, has been doing a good work for Canada since returning home. He has delivered a great number of illustrated lectures on Canada. He was so well pleased with his visit that he is coming back next summer, when he will bring his wife with him.

Canada is holding a very good place before British eyes, Mr. Ham observes, and is looked upon as the coming country of the century. The government emigration echeme is very energetically prosecuted in the old country, and from the fact that the middle man is now taking away the profits of the tenant farmer, so that farming is unprofitable, we may expect a much larger immigration than ever.

The launching of the two C. P. R. Empresses has been a great hit for Canada. Englishmen are now beginning to realize that for the first time under the Canadian flag on the C. P. R. red and white checker board, one can sail from Liverpool to Hong Kong half way around the world.

The fact that the C. P. R. offices at Charing Cross overshadow other buildings so much in dimension, grandeur and finish, cause people to ask, "What is this Canadian institution?" and to reason that Canada must be a very good country, when its building is so much superior to everything else around.

The further fact of Canadian running for the British parliament has also helped to bring Canada before the eyes of the people of Great Britain. Mr. Ham notes with pleasure the success of his fellow townsman, Hamar Greenwood, Liberal candidate, who was elected for York, also the candidature of Donald McMaster, formerly of Montreal, Conservative, who was defeated.

POLICE COURT

In the Police Court this morning Benjamin Hicks and William Brown were fined $4 each for drunkenness. Edward Donovan pleaded not guilty to drunkenness, stating that he had a sore foot and had sat down to rest it on Cradle Hill. Officer Covey stated that the prisoner was drunk and Donovan was fined $2 but as it was his first offence he was allowed to go.

John Harmsworth pleaded guilty to using profane language and also to being drunk on the Quebec train and was fined $2 for drunkenness and $8 for the profanity.

Annie Williams, an Assyrian, complained that she had been assaulted by Chas. Thomas, who has frequently figured in police circles. The complainant stated that the fracas occurred over a buck-saw, and that Thomas struck her ten times. Thomas denied it and called Annie Thomas who corroborated his statement. Mary Joseph stated that she saw Thomas pull Mrs. Williams' hair. The defendant said that she pulled her own hair. In order that the defendant can procure more witnesses the case stands until Friday. The complainant was very much excited this morning and had to be cautioned many times to calm herself.

FURS HAVE ADVANCED

The increasing popularity of furs, assisted by general prosperity the world over has greatly increased the values of nearly all the finest furs. For instance, in the London fur sales in December, sealskin advanced 40 per cent. In January, Russian sable advanced 40 per cent., mink advanced 20 per cent., muskrat 40 per cent., and at Leipzig Persian lamb advanced 30 per cent.

The lady who was fortunate in securing her sealskin coat the past season has had the use of her garment and incidentally saved $100 to $150 and will be quite justified in asking that her husband transfer the saving to her bank account. Still, the mild weather has left heavy stocks on hand with the large manufacturers.

Dunlap, Cooke & Co., departing from their usual custom, are closing out many lines of heavy manufactured furs and furlined garments at exceptional terms in order to keep their work-people busy.

THE M. A. FINN BUSINESS

The transfer of the wholesale stock of wines and liquors belonging to the estate of the late M. A. Finn, to which reference has already been made in The Times, was completed yesterday, the entire wholesale stock passing to the new owners, Comeau & Sheehan. Mrs. Finn's agent confirmed the report of the transfer but declined to make any statement with respect to the details of the sale which, however, is believed to be satisfactory to the purchasers and the seller.

In today's issue the business, good-will and franchises attaching both to the wholesale and retail premises of the late Mr. Finn are offered for sale. As the stand is one of the most valuable among the liquor trade in this city, it would not be surprising if there was some lively bidding to secure the good-will and franchises attaching to both the wholesale and retail premises.

AT THE OPERA HOUSE

A good time will be had by all those who attend the Opera House tomorrow night. Yielding to many requests, the Ellis Co. will present for one night only that screamingly funny comedy, "A Strenuous Time," which made such a pronounced hit on their previous visit. One night only, as the company lay off Friday and Saturday to make room for the "Devil's Auction," but next Monday night, Feb. 26th, Mr. Ellis will appear in the part of Sir Philip Marchant, in that powerful play, "The Power of Money," one of his best roles. The company will remain here until March 10th, changing the bill twice a week, then close to go to New York. This afternoon and tonight the last performance of the "Rajah" will be given. Seats for next week on sale now.

FUNERALS

The funeral of the late Mrs W A Eddleston was held this afternoon from her late home, Haymarket Square, at 2.30 o'clock, and there was a large attendance of mourning friends. There were a number of very beautiful floral tributes. The services were conducted by Rev. Dr. Raymond, and interment was at Cedar Hill.

SUPREME COURT CHAMBERS

The matter of Vassie & Co. vs. McNeil, a Digby man, was before Chief Justice Tuck yesterday afternoon. Vassie & Co. had a claim against the defendant and endeavored to secure a judgment but were unable as he was not within the jurisdiction of the court and could not be served. The defendant had an accident policy on his son's life and assigned it to his wife. The plaintiffs learned that a check had been sent to Wm. Thomson & Co., agents here for the Canada Accident Insurance Co., the one in which McNeil's son was insured and that Thomson & Co. intended to pay the money to the defendant's wife. To prevent this they got out an injunction. His honor granted a stay of proceedings on Jan. 22nd. and yesterday ordered it to be continued and reserved judgment. F. R. Taylor for Thomson & Co; Dr. A. W. Macrae for the insurance Co.

Yesterday W. A. Ewing applied to the Chief Justice for a rule nisi to show cause why the recent judgment of the Supreme Court in the Cushing case should not be set aside for want of jurisdiction. The rule, which would have postponed the sale ordered by Mr. Justice Barker to take place next month, was refused.

GRAND OPENING

Tomorrow and next day (Friday), Macaulay Bros. & Co. will have the pleasure of making a grand opening of all the sample costumes, shirt-waist suits, jackets and silk blouses for spring and summer, 1906. They are the productions of the Novi-Modi Costume Company.

The range and variety is much greater than can be or is kept in stock by any firm, so the ladies of St. John can, during the two days named, make selections, and have in nearly every case exclusive garments. It may be well stated that there has never before been such an opportunity given to see and purchase such beautiful garments, the full range of the Novi-Modi Co.'s stock. All are invited to Macaulay Bros. & Co.'s showrooms for Thursday and Friday of this week.

THE DEVIL'S AUCTION

The attraction at the Opera House Friday and Saturday evenings and Saturday matinee will be Yale's "Devil's Auction." This year Manager Yale has a great production to give the patrons of the Opera House. New scenery, more beautiful and gorgeous than ever, new ballets, new songs and marches and an abundance of bright comedy has been introduced. The new artists with the company, George M. Topack, W. H. Lovella and Miss Leonie Pam, are a great trio of fun makers, while Miss Sadie Stephens, whose stature and beautiful stage appearance has already made her a great favorite, enacts the role of Carlos. M. George Mercier, a leading ballet master of Paris, France, will have charge of the ballets and dances.

COUNTY COURT

The review of the case of Wm. H. Vail v. S. J. Dibblee was before Judge Wedderburn in chambers yesterday afternoon. This was a criminal case heard before Magistrate Ritchie some months ago. The plaintiff accused the defendant of stealing a quarter of beef of his from a river steamer. The case was originally a Kings Co. one. The defendant's counsel argued yesterday that a civil action could not now be entered. Court considers.

TO STUDY LAW

Howe Cowan, formerly of this city, but now engaged in business in New York, will enter the law department of the New York University this fall, and will take the examinations at Fredericton to pass for the bar here. Before leaving St. John, Mr. Cowan was employed as secretary, to ex-Mayor Sears during the North End Relief Fire Fund, also as secretary to Col. J. J. Tucker, M. P. His many friends in this city will certainly wish him every success in his work.

ANOTHER POSITION

Edwin Fritz has accepted a position in the office of the Flood Co. Ltd. This is the second assistant within the past few days secured by this office from the Currie Business University, Ltd.
