ATTENEDANCE RECORDS WENT BY THE BOARD AT EXHIBITION YESTERDAY

Already the attendance at the exhibition this year is far ahead of Saturday and Monday of the last exhibition. Yesterday 10,608 persons paid admission to the fair, as compared with 7,516 on the same day at the last show. With fine weather this year's attendance should total far ahead of all previous records. Yesterday's threatening weather undoubtedly had a deterrent effect upon the attendance and, taking this into consideration, the showing was little short of marvellous.

The Pike and the amusement halls came in for a large share of attention, while the industrial building was thronged from early until late.

The orchestra consists of seventeen pieces as follows: Four 1st violins, two 2nd violins, viola, 'cello, double bass, flute, clarionette, two horns, two cornets, trombone and drum.

Today the programme at the afternoon and evening performances, at 3.15 p. m. and 8 p. m., will include the following selections: March, Diplomat, Sousa; overture, Die Schone Galathe, Von Suppe; intermezzo, Dainty Dames, Blake; Gems from Carmen, Bizet; valse, Amour, Strube; selection, Mlle. Modiste, Herbert; serenade, Moonlight, Moret; Lilliputia, Rogers; Exerpete from Fantana, Hubbell; two step, Peter Pan, Henry.

It may be interesting to mention that the Bostonia orchestra have just completed an eleven weeks' engagement at Peak Island (Me.), and at the end of this month will start on a tour, opening in Boston and extending as far west as Utah. Concerts will be given in the principal cities en route.

A glass tank was partly filled with water, in full view of the house. There was ample space beneath and around it. A robe was thrown over the tank, remaining in position for about 30 seconds. Then it was drawn aside and there was disclosed the figure of a young woman reclining in the tank and below the surface of the water. Called upon to do so, she climbed out and with the robe over her shoulders stood out upon the stage. The trick was repeated and was watched with keenest interest.

Flower judging commenced yesterday. The results were:

For the best general display of plants—H. E. Goold.

Awards in class 69 for cut flowers will be announced today. In class 70, for plants and flowers in pots, there were no entries. H. E. Goold will judge the school floral exhibits.

In the poultry building the exhibit far surpasses that of two years ago and excels any seen here for many years. There are an exceptionally large number of entries.

The judging will probably begin this afternoon. Sharp Butterfield, of Windsor (Ont.), one of the best known authorities on fowls on this continent, will officiate.

Superintendent Riley reports that the numerous birds are in better condition than any shown here in recent years. The class of white and buff Wyandottes are especially well filled as are also the white and brown Leghorns and black Minorcas. Mr. Riley also speaks highly of the variety of crested fowl. The water fowl, too, show to better advantage than formerly, there being a fine selection of geese and ducks.

The largest exhibitors are E. C. Campbell, of Calais; A. Boswell, of P. E. Island; Seth Jones, of Sussex, and Hugh Campbell and Mrs. D. P. Riley, of this city. Governor Snowball is also showing a fine class of birds. In this building is also a remarkably interesting exhibit of Belgian hares, black and white rabbits, Guinea pigs and a variety of pigeons. Those showing in these classes are J. C. Johnston, F. H. W. Kelly, Wm. Jackson and E. C. Campbell. The poultry exhibitors not already mentioned include McLean Bros., of Charlotte street, city; John H. Tonge, city; Dr. Grant, Calais; Hiram Lemon, A. Hector, Wm. Mullin, city; W. McMonagle, Hampton; Wm. Reid, John Bain, A. Casseley, W. Jordan, John Cole, John A. Scott, W. H. Jackson, John E. Warren, W. O'Leary, H. H. Mott, Rev. Father Gaynor, W. F. Kervin, James Letteney, Frank Hamm, city; Wm. Robinson, Amherst; Hatheway & Son, Fredericton; Miss Mabel Damery, John Barber, city; Wm. Crowley, Sandy Point Road; Mr. Goodspeed, Fredericton; Barry Clarke, city.

The judging in the exhibits of Clydesdale and Percheron stallions did not take place yesterday. The awards will be made today, together with those for the cart and dray horses owned in the city and county of St. John.

Judging cattle will also be commenced today. In the beef cattle section, the Shorthorns will be inspected first, and other breeds if time permits. There are two good herds of Shorthorns awaiting the judge's eye. They are shown by R. A. Snowball, of Chatham, and C. A. Archibald, of Truro. In the dairy class the Guernseys and Quebec Jerseys will be taken early and other fat cattle may follow. The Ayrshires will not be judged until tomorrow and the remaining Jersey breeds on Thursday. Walter McMonagle and R. Robinson, of Sussex, are the principal exhibitors of Guernseys and Guy Carr, of Compton (Que.), has a good herd of Quebec Jerseys to be shown.

The Telegraph and the Times' booth proved an attractive feature to the passing crowds. Many questions were asked as to the use to which the funny looking pieces of cardboard indented with type were put and the plates and other evidences of the way in which the papers are printed were frequently examined. Each visitor received a souvenir post card and a copy of the handsome illustrated edition of St. John, which was issued by The Telegraph Publishing Company. Copies of The Telegraph or the Times, according to the time of day, were much sought after. The decorations in red, white and blue gave the booth a handsome appearance, and well set off the large picture of the buildings from which the two big papers are issued.

Dida the Mysterious

Dida and Hellman made their first appearance in the smaller amusement hall yesterday afternoon. Hellman, the magician, opens the performance, and while he, of course, does not commence to compare with The Great Herrmann as a magician or sleight of hand performer, still he gives a fairly good performance. It could be considerably improved, however, if enlivened with a good up-to-date line of "patter."

"Dida, The Mysterious," is a wonderful illusion, in fact, one of the best ever seen here, and yesterday's spectators were well pleased with it.

The Ladies Orchestra

The Bostonian Ladies' Orchestra arrived yesterday and gave their first concert from the band stand in the Industrial Hall yesterday afternoon. The concert was one of the most enjoyable features of the fair yesterday, and the large number of visitors who thronged the galleries during its progress were charmed.

Among the pieces which the orchestha, under the leadership of Mrs. Belle Yeaton Renfrew, played yesterday may be mentioned gems from Carmen, the Light Cavalry overture, Yankee Consul and a charming little novelette entitled Dainty Dames.

In ability to give full expression to the selections, in attack and in perfect blending of tone, the orchestra may be said to have equalled anything heard in St. John for years. It was at first feared that the best effects might be lost owing to the elevation of the band stand and its distance from anything which might act as a sounding board, but happily such did not prove the case and the frequent applause was ample evidence of satisfaction from those visitors who in many instances paused first to listen and remained standing until the end of the programme.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE MARRIAGE

BOSTON, Mass. Aug. 27, 1906.

Editor, The Times,

Dear Sir:—A dispatch to your paper from Toronto, dated Aug. 10th. alleges that Christian Scientists have been performing the marriage ceremony "quite extensively in Toronto," and, as this is held to be an infraction of the law, will you permit me to say a word in correction.

Article 39, of the Manual of The Mother Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, provides that Christian Scientists who are to be married must have the ceremony performed by a clergyman who has the necessary legal authority.

My correspondent in Toronto has examined the records of 1312 marriages there, from Dec. 20, 1905 to June 23,1906, and he does not find the name of a Christian Scientist among those who performed the ceremony.

There has been a mistake somewhere, and, as Christian Scientists are a law-abiding people, I will thank you for space in which to make the foregoing explanation. Yours truly,

ALFRED FARLOW.

RECENT DEATHS

E. J. Russell, once a well known resident of this city, died at his home in Boston Saturday, aged seventy-five years. Geo. W. Russell, the son of deceased, who is at present visiting in this city, received the melancholy news yesterday and will leave for Boston today to attend the funeral. Mr. Russell came from England when about twenty years of age to fill a position in the London House. He was with that firm for several years. He was naturally an artist, and eventually devoted himself entirely to his sketch book and his easel. As a painter of vessels he did a thriving business when new vessels were building, and many fine pictures of vessels owned in the city were his work. He also did considerable illustration work in the way of humorous cartoons for newspapers, and issued at one time here a comic paper. He was also a musician of recognized ability. He sat for two or three terms in the city council as alderman from Brooks ward. Several years ago he moved to the United States and there did work for yacht clubs, and the like. Not long ago he painted for the Brooklyn Navy Yard a picture of the famous Constitution.

Mr. Russell married Miss Julia Lydia Lebrun Marsh, of Fredericton, a sister of the present police magistrate of Fredericton. The children by that marriage were George, Charles, of Ottawa; Sophie, of Boston; John, in the west; Fred, in Boston, and Albert, of Philadelphia. Mrs. Russell died while the family resided in Carleton. After Mr. Russell's removal to Boston, he married again, and there are two children by that marriage.

Mrs. William Cunningham died at her home in Millidgeville Sunday evening. Deceased was well and favorably known and will be sincerely missed. Her funeral will be held at Bayswater this afternoon.

G. M. Ferguson, of Amherst, was at the Royal yesterday.
