ENGLISHMEN MAKE THE BEST HUSBANDS

Lord Northcliffe Gives His Opinion on an Interesting Subject.

NEW YORK, July 7.—Alfred Harmsworth, Lord Northcliffe, editor and owner of the London Daily Mail, who recently arrived here, in an interview praised the women of America, and the men of England.

"The American girl," said the noted journalist, "lives to be loved, before and after marriage. The American man 'rushes' his wooing; after marriage he forgets to pay homage to his wife and spends his time in making money for her. The Englishman takes his time about his courting, and after he marries he makes more love to his wife than ever."

"In London we have the very flower of American women as wives of Englishmen. Why does she like the Englishman for a husband? Because the Englishman knows how to humor his wife. He studies her likes and dislikes. He notes her whims, and he respects her desires though they be in direct opposition to his own."

"While the American is busy making money for his wife, the Englishman is busy making love to his. In the last analysis the woman prefers a man who makes love to her to one who makes money for her."

"The American woman is independent. She has the advantage of having a father who makes money, and she marries the Englishman who makes love to her."

"American men may make fairly good lovers before marriage, they may shower their fiancées with American beauties; they may stuff sweaters down their pretty throats; they may provide sorts of entertainment, but it is so palpably lavished upon the girl that she becomes surfeited with the purely material demonstration of the man's affection."

"He forgets to tell her that he loves her; in his business-like way, he recalls the day when he honored her with the avowal of his affection, and he looks with pride upon the four-carat solitaire, or the band of brilliant which gleams upon her third right-hand finger, and like that famous 'Ad' he thinks 'auf'ed.'"

MORNING NEWS

Local

Transfers were issued last evening, for the first time, by the street railway, via the Carleton ferry. Patrons of the system can now transfer from Clibb's Corner to the head of Rodney wharf or vice versa. The work of double tracking the Carleton branch is being rushed along rapidly.

The Agricultural Society, through its secretary, R. R. Patchell, on Saturday sold eight imported pigs of the famous Yorkshire breed. The sale was held at S. T. Golding's stable and was largely attended. The prices ranged from $8 to $14. The society will shortly meet to consider the advisability of bringing out more of these pigs and also of importing some cows of the "Brown Swiss" breed.

W. H. Coy, of the firm of Coy, Rideout & Ross, real estate and investment brokers, of Sackville, was recently elected to the first aldermanic board of that progressive city. Mr. Coy is a New Brunswick man and is well known in the maritime provinces.

Provincial

No. 85 train on the I. C. R., known as the fast express from Halifax, left the rails between Stellarton and New Glasgow yesterday afternoon. No one was injured, and the only damage to the rolling stock was the breaking of some undergear on the cars.

General

Cornelius O'Leary, one of the oldest passenger conductors of the C. P. R., was struck by an electric car in Ottawa yesterday morning and died at the hospital afterwards.

Balloon racing is the vogue in England just now. The first one was held Saturday, when several balloons ascended from the Ramblers Club, London, and descended during the evening in Essex. The first prize, a cup valued at fifty guineas, was won by Frank Butler.

A lone highwayman held up five Yosemite Valley stage coaches near Wawona, Calif., yesterday, and all the passengers were robbed of their money and jewelry. Because C. Meade Emory, a prominent lawyer of Seattle, attempted to prevent Chester Thompson, a young student, from calling upon his niece, Thompson shot and fatally wounded him on Saturday night. Thompson was arrested after a struggle.

It is expected that King Edward will visit Germany for the christening of his grand nephew, which will occur on Aug. 12th.

Saturday was Hon. Joseph Chamberlain's 70th birthday, and as a result the whole city of Birmingham was in fête. Mr. Chamberlain took advantage of the occasion to give out a characteristic message to the nation, as follows: "Treat foreigners as they treat us, and treat your citizens better than you treat foreigners."

Mrs. D. X. Coughlan, of Boston, is in St. John on her way to Bathurst.

MR. COURTNEY
WILL RETIRE

Deputy Minister of Finance to Leave Government Service on November 1.

Ottawa, July 7.—On the finance items in the house today, Mr. Fielding said that Mr. Courtney, the deputy minister, was retiring. He had tendered his resignation and would retire on November 1.

The minister said that he intended appointing a gentleman in the service as deputy minister and taking into the department a new man, which would strengthen it as assistant deputy minister. There was now a vacancy in the department for a law clerk. He did not intend filling this vacancy, but would appoint a legal gentleman to be assistant deputy. The salary of the new deputy would be $4,000, and the assistant deputy $3,000.

Mr. Fielding stated that the cost of the tariff commission had been between $14,000 and $15,000. A vote of $2,000 more was being taken. However, there would be no hearing before the preparation of the tariff, but it might be advisable to send a commissioner to look into some special industry.

In reply to Dr. Sproule, Mr. Fielding said that so far as the house was concerned it would be easy to make an estimate as to the probable date of prorogation, but in the absence of information as to the intention of the senate, he could not make any statement regarding the date.

The house went into supply on the agriculture estimates, taking up the subject of the archives on an item of $10,000.

Mr. Fisher gave a brief review of the fact this branch was doing. He paid a high compliment to Dr. Doughty, the archivist, for the excellent work he had been doing.

R. L. Borden, said that Dr. Doughty was an enthusiast. His whole heart was in his work and had wonderful capacity for system. There were unusual qualifications in the same man. "I venture to say," said the leader of the opposition, "that the government and parliament would make no mistake in giving him a very liberal vote and a pretty free hand as to how he shall carry on his work. He ought to have the assistance of an experienced staff."

Neither passed.

At the afternoon session, Dr. Stockton called attention to the blight which was working havoc with cedar trees.

In reply Mr. Fisher said that the experts of his department were not able to give any satisfactory reason for the injury. It was probably caused by open winters.

There was a general discussion on the work of the department.

At the evening session Mr. Dubeau, J. H. Little, asked the government to grant further assistance to the bacon industry in Quebec. In reply, Mr. Fisher promised to do what he could in this line.

In reply to an enquiry regarding the government's policy on the question of salaries of country postmasters, Mr. LeMieux said he hoped to give fair play to all.

A committee of postmasters would be upon the government during recess.

Mr. Stockton, Mr. Barker and Mr. Sinclair spoke of the deserving nature of the postmasters' claims. Mr. LeMieux agreed and spoke favorably of the policy of a general advance in salaries.

AN ADDED ATTRACTION

The Gitanas, a band of Scandinavian gypsies, are offered as a special attraction in the Zoological Annex at the Bannock & Bailey circus. These interesting people sing quaint folk-songs, play upon curious and unfamiliar musical instruments, and present the characteristic dances of the roving Romanies of Northern and Central Europe. The Gitanas, in connection with several other companies of special entertainers, give an added zest to the hour spent in the circus now before the beginning of the triple-ring circus performance in the big hippodrome pavilion.

It is understood that W. T. R. Preston has instructed his London solicitors to enter action for heavy damages against the Allan Steamship Company and their Liverpool agent, John Ennis, for the injury and loss caused him by the act of the latter, in handing to A. Jury letters received from Mr. Preston. Those letters were private and confidential, and their delivery to a third party is held by Mr. Preston to have been unauthorized, unlawful and damaging.

The inspection of the 62nd Regiment will be July 28. The inspecting officer will be Lord Aylmer. A church parade of all the city corps may be held either on the 15th or 22nd inst.

THE "FRISCO" HORROR

On next Thursday, Friday and Saturday, at the Opera House, Miles Bros., of San Francisco and New York, will give the most vivid triumph of instantaneous photography in the San Francisco horror. The matchless panorama shows San Francisco bathed in the April dawn resting proudly on the bay—a city of 400,000 people—a city of towering buildings and splendid avenues and dense throngs of mart and industry, a moment later, and with the quickness of a flash, the films tell the story of the sudden shock, the earth's convulsion and the wrecking of the city. The great Palace Hotel, pride of the city, is seen tumbling in upon itself, a royal hostelry one minute, a shapeless wreck the next. Leonard J. Mack will tell the story of the destruction as he saw it. In addition, an excellent programme of comedy and sensational subjects will be seen. The tour is under the direction of Meyer Cohen.
