PETITION MOST EXTRAORDINARY

Montreal City Council Requested to Ask the Pope to Canonize Six Jesuit Fathers and Two Friars.

(Montreal Star.)

A petition of much interest was presented to the mayor today, and will be brought by his worship before the attention of the city council.

The petition, which is very largely signed by residents of the province of Quebec, asks that his worship and members of the city council should request the pope to canonize six Jesuit fathers and two friars, who, in the early days of Canada, gave up their lives in endeavoring to Christianize the Indians.

The names of the Jesuit fathers given are: Daniel de Brebeuf, Lalemant, Garnier, Chabanel and Jagues. The names of the two friars are: Gaupel and Lalande.

The petition, which is a lengthy one, says that the pope is prayed to give canonization to the above-mentioned because in the years 1648 and 1649 they were massacred by the Iroquois while endeavoring to Christianize them. They gave their lives, it is said, in the noble endeavor to raise humanity and to convert savages to the faith.

At different times the martyred lived in the city of Quebec; which, by the way, will next year celebrate the three hundredth anniversary of its founding. The desire is that the canonization should take place before this anniversary is held.

Continuing, the petition says that members of the federal and provincial parliaments will also submit petitions to the pope praying that the honor in question be conferred by his holiness upon the martyred men.

In addition to this it is pointed out in the petition that the martyrs have been eulogized by Protestant and Catholic alike. For instance, when the Archbishop of Canterbury was in the city of Quebec in 1904, he touched upon the lives of these martyrs and said that the murdered missionaries had given to the world the most noble example of self-sacrifice, and this in the face of the most terrible persecution and torture.

Speaking of the petition the mayor said that he would bring it before the attention of the city council at the earliest possible moment.

FAN AND PARASOL FOR BABY COMPLEXIONS

A person has to look a long way these days to find the overheated, blowsy-looking women of previous summers. The gentler sex have learned that it is the girl who looks cool and comfortable who commands most attention in hot weather, and profiting by the knowledge they have very generally adopted those magic aids to summer comfort, the fan and parasol.

It is distinctly a sensible move, and one that will reflect its wisdom in the perceptible gain to health and beauty. The use of a parasol is an almost certain preventive of the distressing "hot weather headache" which comes from exposure to the direct rays of the sun, while it is equally efficient in keeping at bay those summer annoyances, freckles and tan.

These blemishes are decidedly unfashionable this season. The typical summer girl of '06 is a marvel of dainty pink-and-whiteness, and nobody can be pink-and-white who is long exposed to a summer sun; hence the ubiquitous parasol.

As for the fan, that has come back into vogue along with the wild rose complexion. Everything nowadays bears the Watteau stamp, from complexions to wall-papers, and a Watteau girl without a fan is not to be thought of.

The lingerie parasol is, if anything, more popular than last summer. It is seen in linen of all grades, from the finest batiste to the heaviest product of the Irish looms, and it is variously embroidered in shadow work, Hedebo cut work, English eyelet work embroidery and the always handsome satin stitch.

Sometimes the only ornamentation is the owner's monogram in satin stitch on one section. And, again, as often, the entire parasol is covered with a succession of embroidered ruffles. Women who have a taste for ornamental needlework embroider their own parasols and have them mounted after their own ideas.

Occasionally they carry the fad still further and embroider fans to match the parasols, having both mounted in mother-of-pearl, ivory or white enameled wood. The lingerie fan is indeed the most exclusive of summer novelties, because one must either embroider it herself or have it embroidered to order.

Coaching parasols of tartan taffeta or batiste, with the selvage serving as a border, are another English importation, and nothing could be more chic. In every instance they are lined with a check of contrasting tones, and the long enameled handle is invariably decorated with a little bow of the same material as the parasol. These parasols are comparatively inexpensive, the silk ones being sold at $4.95 and the batiste at $2.50.

Taffeta parasols displaying indistinct Dresden effects are very popular. Sometimes these show polka dots combined with the floral designs. Hand-painted parasols are usually carried only when the costume displays decorations to correspond.

Some of the newest Japanese fans are decorated with dainty gauze flowers that are wonderfully true to nature, the most striking of these are the cherry blossom, iris or wistaria on a gauze background, the foliage being printed on the paper and the flowers on the gauze.

It is worth noting that there is a marked predominance of purple, heliotrope and purplish pink in fancy fans. Also the up-to-date fan is decidedly small. Tiny fans which can be tucked in the handbag or vest pocket, and are used indiscriminately by men and women, may be bought for twenty-five cents.

Most of the imported fans, whether made of paper or mousseline de soie, are of the new shell shape, being considerably deeper in the center than at the sides.

WHITE'S INSURANCE PAID TO HIS WIDOW

Victim of Harry Thaw's Bullet Had Big Policy in the Equitable.

NEW YORK, July 6—The widow of Stanford White was paid today by the Equitable Life Assurance Society $149,040, the value of the single policy Mr. White had carried on his life for a number of years.

There are several policies for amounts aggregating about $50,000, on which no claim for payment has yet been presented. When Mr. White took out these policies his physical condition was not perfect and the contract he made with the Equitable provided that if death occurred within a certain period a deduction of a stipulated per centage should be made from the face value of each policy. The bullet which Harry Thaw fired into the architect's brain terminated his life within the period mentioned in the policies and consequently reduced their value.

Thaw's Mother May Testify

NEW YORK, July 6—Mrs. William Thaw, the mother of Harry Kendall Thaw may return to America in time to appear as a witness for the defence of her son when he is placed on trial for the murder of Stanford White.

It is known that Mrs. Thaw will not permit her failing health to prevent her appearance on the witness stand if such a proceeding is necessary. In fact, she would return to America immediately if the lawyers for the defence deemed her presence in New York at this time of material assistance to them. This, however, is not necessary. The mother of the murderer, it is understood, will make a deposition in London before a commissioner of the law firm of Black, Olcott, Gruber & Bonynge, and this important statement will be forwarded to New York.

Among the numerous telegrams and cablegrams received by Mrs. Evelyn Nesbitt Thaw at the Lorraine was a cable from London which came from Mrs. William Thaw. The exact wording of the message is not known, but it is believed that the mother of Thaw assured the wife that no stone would be left unturned to free the murderer, and that she would be in New York whenever her presence here is wanted.

According to a close friend of the Earl and Countess of Yarmouth, Mrs. William Thaw is quoted as saying that she had suspected for years that her son was not mentally strong, and it was because of this weakness that she always stood by him in his various troubles even when the late Mr. Thaw lost all patience with the young man and in his will left him a small income in the hope that by that means the son would be persuaded to give up his youthful indiscretions.

According to a report the defence has decided to plead that Thaw was the victim of brooding insanity and not "emotional insanity." By this plan, it is said, it will endeavor to show that Thaw was constantly reminded of alleged wrongs that his wife had suffered before her marriage, and that his feelings reached the critical point in the Cafe Martin on the night that he shot White.

FIVE YEARS IN PRISON; DIAMOND GOES WITH HER

OMAHA, Neb., July 6. — Mrs. Mae Hayes, convicted of the theft from a local jewelry firm of a $300 diamond, which she is alleged to have swallowed, was today sentenced to five years in the penitentiary by Judge Sutton in the district court. Mrs. Hayes was looking at unset gems in the jewelry store, and, according to the testimony, when the clerk's back was turned, she put a large stone in her mouth. Two detectives who had been shadowing her at once arrested her and she claimed it was her fright that made her swallow the diamond. The gem has never been recovered, although Mrs. Hayes offered to submit to a surgical operation if prosecution was dropped. This the state would not agree to.

NO TRACE OF THE BODY

MACHIAS, Me. July 7—No trace had been found Friday of the bodies of the four seamen lost Wednesday afternoon by the wrecking of the three-masted schooner Ella G. Ells off Libby island. Capt. A. Breen of Brooklyn, N. Y. the only survivor, remained on the island until Friday endeavoring with the assistance of the three light keepers to find them.

Capt. Breen was unable to give any information regarding the unknown seaman beyond the fact that he was a Norwegian, about 25 years old. O. Johnson, the other seaman, belonged in Norway and was 25 years of age. Mate Edward Brown and steward William Duplissy lived at St. John.
