

Average Daily Circulation... 7,104 Last Week...

THE EVENING TIMES

Times Want Ads ... Yield ... Good Returns.

NO. 11, NO. 159.

ST. JOHN, N. B., TUESDAY, APRIL 10, 1906.

ONE CENT

THE FATE OF POMPEII IS RECALLED BY THE SCENES AT OTTAJANO

Vesuvius Overwhelmed Victims While They Prayed at the Altar--Women and Children Buried by Collapse of Market in Naples-- School Children Smothered by Ashes.

NAPLES, April 10--A frightful disaster has occurred in the centre of this city, following the eruptions of Mount Vesuvius.

Two hundred people, it is estimated, were buried this morning in the ruins of the market Monte Oliveto, when the roof collapsed under the weight of cinders from the volcano.

The exact number of people within the building at the moment of the catastrophe is not known. The disaster was appalling. The court yard covers 600 square feet, and was roofed.

Several hundred people were buried in the ruins of the market. The scene was a scene of horror.

A Second Pompeii

NAPLES, April 10--Terrifying news is reaching this city this morning from points throughout the district surrounding Ottajano.

The present disaster is looked upon as a repetition of the catastrophe to Pompeii and Herculaneum, except that in this instance the loss of life is less.

The fate of many children at Ottajano is unknown. When the military carts arrived at the scene of the disaster last night the soldiers arranged to have the children and aged people get into the carts, to which they thankfully acceded.

When the vehicles had gone a few hundred feet it was found that although there were four horses to each wagon they could not pull their loads through the deep ashes, in spite of several desperate efforts made to do so.

This caused a panic among the children who expected to be buried in the ashes from the volcano and they fled in all directions in the darkness and blindness, and have not since been heard of.

Searching parties went after the children, but in spite of continuous shouting and calling no trace was found of them, and it is feared that the children have been smothered in the ashes.

Broke Into Furnace

NEW YORK, April 10--A cable despatch to a morning paper from Naples says:

Several led in Bascoltrone who were unharmed when the danger following the eruptions of Mount Vesuvius seemed most imminent, subsequently ventured to walk on the cooling lava. They went too far and the crust broke under their weight.

They were swallowed up before the helpless onlookers.

Many school children who were thought to have fled from their school and to have become lost on the mountains are safe. They wandered about for hours while the volcano rained red hot stones and sand, but they miraculously escaped unhurt.

Ninety Six Bodies Found

NAPLES, April 10, 7.25 a. m.--All efforts on the part of the press representatives and the authorities to ascertain the exact number of those who have already fallen victims to the eruptions of Vesuvius have so far failed.

The finding of 96 bodies is determined as follows: At Sanguiseppe 49; at Terrigno 20; at Ottajano 27.

Tales of Awful Horror

NAPLES, April 10, 9.15 a. m.--The scenes at Ottajano when the first victims were unearthed there were most horrible. The positions of the bodies showed that the victims had died while in a state of great terror, the faces being convulsed with fear.

Three bodies were found in a confessional of one of the fallen churches. One body was that of an old woman who was sitting with her right arm raised, as though to ward off the advancing danger.

The second was that of a child about 8 years old. It was found dead in a position which would indicate that the child had fallen asleep with a little dog close to it, and had died with one arm raised across its face, to protect itself and its pet from the crumbling ruins.

The third body, that of a woman, was reduced to an unrecognizable mass. These three victims were recently laid side by side, while a procession of friends and relatives offered up prayers beside them.

Several led in Bascoltrone who were unharmed when the danger following the eruptions of Mount Vesuvius seemed most imminent, subsequently ventured to walk on the cooling lava.

They went too far and the crust broke under their weight. They were swallowed up before the helpless onlookers.

Many school children who were thought to have fled from their school and to have become lost on the mountains are safe.

They wandered about for hours while the volcano rained red hot stones and sand, but they miraculously escaped unhurt.

Ninety Six Bodies Found

NAPLES, April 10, 7.25 a. m.--All efforts on the part of the press representatives and the authorities to ascertain the exact number of those who have already fallen victims to the eruptions of Vesuvius have so far failed.

The finding of 96 bodies is determined as follows: At Sanguiseppe 49; at Terrigno 20; at Ottajano 27.

Tales of Awful Horror

NAPLES, April 10, 9.15 a. m.--The scenes at Ottajano when the first victims were unearthed there were most horrible.

The positions of the bodies showed that the victims had died while in a state of great terror, the faces being convulsed with fear.

Three bodies were found in a confessional of one of the fallen churches. One body was that of an old woman who was sitting with her right arm raised, as though to ward off the advancing danger.

The second was that of a child about 8 years old. It was found dead in a position which would indicate that the child had fallen asleep with a little dog close to it, and had died with one arm raised across its face, to protect itself and its pet from the crumbling ruins.

The third body, that of a woman, was reduced to an unrecognizable mass. These three victims were recently laid side by side, while a procession of friends and relatives offered up prayers beside them.

Several led in Bascoltrone who were unharmed when the danger following the eruptions of Mount Vesuvius seemed most imminent, subsequently ventured to walk on the cooling lava.

They went too far and the crust broke under their weight. They were swallowed up before the helpless onlookers.

Many school children who were thought to have fled from their school and to have become lost on the mountains are safe.

They wandered about for hours while the volcano rained red hot stones and sand, but they miraculously escaped unhurt.

Ninety Six Bodies Found

NAPLES, April 10, 7.25 a. m.--All efforts on the part of the press representatives and the authorities to ascertain the exact number of those who have already fallen victims to the eruptions of Vesuvius have so far failed.

The finding of 96 bodies is determined as follows: At Sanguiseppe 49; at Terrigno 20; at Ottajano 27.

Tales of Awful Horror

NAPLES, April 10, 9.15 a. m.--The scenes at Ottajano when the first victims were unearthed there were most horrible.

The positions of the bodies showed that the victims had died while in a state of great terror, the faces being convulsed with fear.

Three bodies were found in a confessional of one of the fallen churches. One body was that of an old woman who was sitting with her right arm raised, as though to ward off the advancing danger.

The second was that of a child about 8 years old. It was found dead in a position which would indicate that the child had fallen asleep with a little dog close to it, and had died with one arm raised across its face, to protect itself and its pet from the crumbling ruins.

The third body, that of a woman, was reduced to an unrecognizable mass. These three victims were recently laid side by side, while a procession of friends and relatives offered up prayers beside them.

Several led in Bascoltrone who were unharmed when the danger following the eruptions of Mount Vesuvius seemed most imminent, subsequently ventured to walk on the cooling lava.

Several led in Bascoltrone who were unharmed when the danger following the eruptions of Mount Vesuvius seemed most imminent, subsequently ventured to walk on the cooling lava.

They went too far and the crust broke under their weight. They were swallowed up before the helpless onlookers.

Many school children who were thought to have fled from their school and to have become lost on the mountains are safe.

They wandered about for hours while the volcano rained red hot stones and sand, but they miraculously escaped unhurt.

Ninety Six Bodies Found

NAPLES, April 10, 7.25 a. m.--All efforts on the part of the press representatives and the authorities to ascertain the exact number of those who have already fallen victims to the eruptions of Vesuvius have so far failed.

The finding of 96 bodies is determined as follows: At Sanguiseppe 49; at Terrigno 20; at Ottajano 27.

Tales of Awful Horror

NAPLES, April 10, 9.15 a. m.--The scenes at Ottajano when the first victims were unearthed there were most horrible.

The positions of the bodies showed that the victims had died while in a state of great terror, the faces being convulsed with fear.

Three bodies were found in a confessional of one of the fallen churches. One body was that of an old woman who was sitting with her right arm raised, as though to ward off the advancing danger.

The second was that of a child about 8 years old. It was found dead in a position which would indicate that the child had fallen asleep with a little dog close to it, and had died with one arm raised across its face, to protect itself and its pet from the crumbling ruins.

The third body, that of a woman, was reduced to an unrecognizable mass. These three victims were recently laid side by side, while a procession of friends and relatives offered up prayers beside them.

Several led in Bascoltrone who were unharmed when the danger following the eruptions of Mount Vesuvius seemed most imminent, subsequently ventured to walk on the cooling lava.

They went too far and the crust broke under their weight. They were swallowed up before the helpless onlookers.

Many school children who were thought to have fled from their school and to have become lost on the mountains are safe.

They wandered about for hours while the volcano rained red hot stones and sand, but they miraculously escaped unhurt.

Ninety Six Bodies Found

NAPLES, April 10, 7.25 a. m.--All efforts on the part of the press representatives and the authorities to ascertain the exact number of those who have already fallen victims to the eruptions of Vesuvius have so far failed.

The finding of 96 bodies is determined as follows: At Sanguiseppe 49; at Terrigno 20; at Ottajano 27.

Tales of Awful Horror

NAPLES, April 10, 9.15 a. m.--The scenes at Ottajano when the first victims were unearthed there were most horrible.

The positions of the bodies showed that the victims had died while in a state of great terror, the faces being convulsed with fear.

Three bodies were found in a confessional of one of the fallen churches. One body was that of an old woman who was sitting with her right arm raised, as though to ward off the advancing danger.

The second was that of a child about 8 years old. It was found dead in a position which would indicate that the child had fallen asleep with a little dog close to it, and had died with one arm raised across its face, to protect itself and its pet from the crumbling ruins.

The third body, that of a woman, was reduced to an unrecognizable mass. These three victims were recently laid side by side, while a procession of friends and relatives offered up prayers beside them.

Several led in Bascoltrone who were unharmed when the danger following the eruptions of Mount Vesuvius seemed most imminent, subsequently ventured to walk on the cooling lava.

Several led in Bascoltrone who were unharmed when the danger following the eruptions of Mount Vesuvius seemed most imminent, subsequently ventured to walk on the cooling lava.

They went too far and the crust broke under their weight. They were swallowed up before the helpless onlookers.

Many school children who were thought to have fled from their school and to have become lost on the mountains are safe.

They wandered about for hours while the volcano rained red hot stones and sand, but they miraculously escaped unhurt.

Ninety Six Bodies Found

NAPLES, April 10, 7.25 a. m.--All efforts on the part of the press representatives and the authorities to ascertain the exact number of those who have already fallen victims to the eruptions of Vesuvius have so far failed.

The finding of 96 bodies is determined as follows: At Sanguiseppe 49; at Terrigno 20; at Ottajano 27.

Tales of Awful Horror

NAPLES, April 10, 9.15 a. m.--The scenes at Ottajano when the first victims were unearthed there were most horrible.

The positions of the bodies showed that the victims had died while in a state of great terror, the faces being convulsed with fear.

Three bodies were found in a confessional of one of the fallen churches. One body was that of an old woman who was sitting with her right arm raised, as though to ward off the advancing danger.

The second was that of a child about 8 years old. It was found dead in a position which would indicate that the child had fallen asleep with a little dog close to it, and had died with one arm raised across its face, to protect itself and its pet from the crumbling ruins.

The third body, that of a woman, was reduced to an unrecognizable mass. These three victims were recently laid side by side, while a procession of friends and relatives offered up prayers beside them.

Several led in Bascoltrone who were unharmed when the danger following the eruptions of Mount Vesuvius seemed most imminent, subsequently ventured to walk on the cooling lava.

They went too far and the crust broke under their weight. They were swallowed up before the helpless onlookers.

Many school children who were thought to have fled from their school and to have become lost on the mountains are safe.

They wandered about for hours while the volcano rained red hot stones and sand, but they miraculously escaped unhurt.

Ninety Six Bodies Found

NAPLES, April 10, 7.25 a. m.--All efforts on the part of the press representatives and the authorities to ascertain the exact number of those who have already fallen victims to the eruptions of Vesuvius have so far failed.

The finding of 96 bodies is determined as follows: At Sanguiseppe 49; at Terrigno 20; at Ottajano 27.

Tales of Awful Horror

NAPLES, April 10, 9.15 a. m.--The scenes at Ottajano when the first victims were unearthed there were most horrible.

The positions of the bodies showed that the victims had died while in a state of great terror, the faces being convulsed with fear.

Three bodies were found in a confessional of one of the fallen churches. One body was that of an old woman who was sitting with her right arm raised, as though to ward off the advancing danger.

The second was that of a child about 8 years old. It was found dead in a position which would indicate that the child had fallen asleep with a little dog close to it, and had died with one arm raised across its face, to protect itself and its pet from the crumbling ruins.

The third body, that of a woman, was reduced to an unrecognizable mass. These three victims were recently laid side by side, while a procession of friends and relatives offered up prayers beside them.

Several led in Bascoltrone who were unharmed when the danger following the eruptions of Mount Vesuvius seemed most imminent, subsequently ventured to walk on the cooling lava.

CIVIC CANDIDATES TAKE FINAL PREPARATORY STEPS BEFORE BATTLE AT POLLS

Nomination Papers of Contestants for Mayoralty and Aldermanic Chairs now in Hands of City Clerk--Looks Like a Stiff Fight in Every Ward.

One week from today citizens will have an opportunity to say who of the thirty odd candidates who have filed nominations with the Common Clerk today, will represent them at the council board after May 1st, and whether they shall sit at the board for one or two years.

Up to the time of going to press no nominees whose names had not already been mentioned had filed papers. There was considerable talk this morning of a "dark horse" to run in opposition to Ald. Vanvorz in Dukes and the name of S. S. de Forest, who was mentioned as a probable nominee, Mr. de Forest when seen said that he had been approached and asked to run but had not decided whether he would or not.

The list of qualified voters in each ward this year will be about five per cent greater than last year.

The list of those who filed nominations this morning is as follows:

- ALDERMEN AT LARGE. Joseph M. Smith, by Geo. W. Hoben, John Riddick, F. A. Young, P. F. Tigue, Chas. S. Phelps, Mayes Case, M. D., and others. C. B. Lockhart, by--Chas. E. Belyea, James Carleton, Andre Rolston, Hiram Nice, Win. Smith, John Halsum and others. James Hamer, by--F. E. Williams, A. Isaac, A. H. Stanton, J. Johnston, A. J. Charlton, James Walker, M. D., and others. Wellington Green, by--G. H. Colwell, S. A. Cunningham, W. T. G. Cosman, C. M. Cough, Michael Colohan, A. J. Russell and others. Wm. B. Wallace, by--John Johnston, John Soar, W. Hawker, W. A. Porter, Edwin J. Everett, A. F. Emery, M. D., and others. Timothy T. Lantulum, by--W. K. McKean, Robert Thomson, G. McKean, J. P. Quinn, Thomas German, Philip Granann, etc.

ALDERMEN AT LARGE. Ald. Joseph B. Hamer nominated by--W. M. Barlow, John P. MacIntyre, Harry W. deForest, E. W. Elliott, and D. H. Short. Geo. W. Sleem by--Thos. J. Dean, Fred T. Murphy, Robt. J. Murphy, Rupert W. Wigmore, P. S. Purdy, and G. W. Colwell.

ALDERMEN AT LARGE. Ald. James Sprout nominated by--William A. Owens, Thomas Kelley, James Garnet, A. G. Halseide, and C. L. Corey. Thomas Kirkham nominated by--D. J. O'Neill, John Cozger, Thomas E. Dillon, James J. Toke, Samuel Patterson, and J. D. Campbell. Robt. J. Green, by--Jas. G. Taylor, Edward Bates, Thos. A. Dunlop, J. H. Walker, W. G. Dunlop, Chas. M. Frezee, and others.

ALDERMEN AT LARGE. Ald. William Lewis, by--James Doyle, W. A. Barnes, B. C. Waring, and R. G. Haley. Stephen B. Bustin, nominated by--Robert Ross, D. B. Griffith, S. J. Doherty, J. Lang, Fred L. Roderick, W. C. Allen and others.

ALDERMEN AT LARGE. Ald. John B. M. Baxter, by--C. H. Braeman, Henry M. Lee, J. P. McAndrews, John A. Adams, J. J. Gordon, J. M. Belyea and others. Francis E. McManus, by--Frederick Nice, John Haslam, Francis Maguire, D. F. Grady, Michael Genes, M. C. McRobbie and others.

ALDERMEN AT LARGE. Ald. Henry H. Pickett, by--J. L. McArthur, J. B. McLean, Silas Alvord, W. J. Paris, J. B. Kiestead, F. B. Schofield, and others. James King Kelley, by--S. E. Logan, Jas. Moulton, A. Gordon Rahnie, LeB. Wilson, B. L. Gerow, E. P. Rayford, and others.

ALDERMEN AT LARGE. Ald. Isiah W. Holder, by--E. Vanvorz, Sylvester Vanvarz, J. N. Smith, W. S. Cady, and Capt. G. H. Perry. Geo. E. Day, by--Joseph T. Knight, John McMullin, James Gault, Arthur W. ...

ALDERMEN AT LARGE. Ald. John H. McBride, by--Fred C. Colwell, H. P. Robertson, Amos A. Wilson, Thos. F. White, Edw. F. Greany, John McManus and others. Ald. James H. Frank, by James Reynolds, E. Peters, Geo. W. Ketchum, John P. McIntyre, W. W. White, F. E. Holman and others.

ALDERMEN AT LARGE. Up to 3 o'clock the nomination papers of E. Sears for mayor and R. R. Pathebell and H. L. McGowan at large had not been filed. Jerry Murphy appeared at City Hall with a largely signed nomination paper for mayor but was informed by the city clerk that he was not qualified.

ALDERMEN AT LARGE. The question of combinations and cliques in the civic elections was freely discussed on the street today, though the majority of the aldermen and candidates who were approached spoke of the reported combines in a joking way and all denied any knowledge of any concerted action on their part. Most of them were inclined to view the statements which appeared in the morning papers as amusing, though some were rather put out that their names had been mentioned in connection with the matter.

ALDERMEN AT LARGE. The statement attributed to Dr. W. A. Christie, candidate for Wellington ward, that he was approached by a delegation who asked him to contribute toward the fund for the election of a certain clique, and the denial made by the delegates mentioned, have created considerable talk. In conversation with S. B. Busin who is candidate for Sydney ward in opposition to Ald. Lewis, he said: "I will state emphatically that I am in no combination; that I made no pledges to anyone or to any parties as to my conduct if elected; what little property I have in the city, and what efforts are put forth by me to keep down taxes will help to conserve my own property; I will be more than usually conservative on all questions of raising money and increasing the bonded debt. The city in proportion to its wealth is too heavily mortgaged by its public debts, which is a fine mortgage on all real estate in the city."

ALDERMEN AT LARGE. Benjamin Sheppard, who was referred to by Dr. W. A. Christie, as having asked money to contribute to the pool for the election of a certain clique of candidates, said he had been misquoted in the Sun. He said he had called upon Dr. Christie but had not asked him to contribute any financial help. Mr. Sheppard further states that a man in the city employ told him he had been, on Friday, offered $50 by Dr. Christie if he wanted it to form a pool. What he, Mr. Sheppard, said about Dr. Christie was that Dr. Christie said he went to the doctor's office and asked for money it was a lie.

ALDERMEN AT LARGE. John Kenny said that he, in company with John E. Wilson, Chas. Nertus, Thos. Kirkham, John A. Sinclair and Geo. A. Blair had called upon Dr. Christie last week and assured him of their support, but neither directly or indirectly was the subject of finance mentioned. Dr. Christie did not ask for any and did not promise any. He learned that a delegation had waited on him, but he had not promised to subscribe to any fund. Mr. Kenny said he knew of no combination, but he thought perhaps some of the aldermen might be helping one another in the way of leaving the same men to represent them at the polls, so as to save extra expense.

ALDERMEN AT LARGE. Mr. Sprout speaking to the Times this morning regarding his leaving called on Dr. Christie and stated that he did not go with any intention other than to ask the doctor for his support in the coming election and the fact that he happened to call at the same time as Mr. Sheppard and Mr. Stomum was simply chance, as he happened to be passing that way and met them. When he learned that the doctor was going into Dr. Christie's he said: "I'd go in with you and ask the doctor for his support. That was the only object of my calling on him; and I know nothing of any clique or any combination."

ALDERMEN AT LARGE. SACKVILLE. SACKVILLE, April 9--The death of Martin Tremaine, one of the oldest of Butte's oldest residents, occurred Friday night. Deceased, who was 90 years old, was widely known in his native county, and was held in the highest esteem by all who knew him. He is survived by a widow, one son, Dr. Harmon Tremaine of Somerville, (Mass.), and three daughters, Mrs. Dr. Gray of Fairview, Mrs. Joseph Wry of Whinnipeg, and Mrs. Albert Carter of Point de Butte. He also leaves one brother, Alder, and one sister, Mrs. Eunice Moore, both of Sackville.

ALDERMEN AT LARGE. After a painful illness of cancer of the throat, George Curk of Woodhurst passed away on Thursday night, aged 60. Deceased leaves a widow and eight children. Mrs. D. Crossman and Mrs. P. Crossman, of Woodhurst, and Mrs. John Doyle of Amherst; Albert and Henry of Dorchester, John of Sackville and Hiram of Foxcroft, (Me.) Funeral this afternoon.

ALDERMEN AT LARGE. Mrs. Cochran, of Campbellton, is the guest of Mrs. Tremaine, one of the oldest of Butte's oldest residents, occurred Friday night. Deceased, who was 74 years old, and leaves a widow, five sons and one daughter. The sons are Hazen and Job, of Finnish, Robert of Sackville, and William and John who live at home. The burial was in charge of Bradford L. O. L., of which he was a member.

ALDERMEN AT LARGE. John Alexander Downie arrived in Caledonia today. He will procure necessary legal documents and will then proceed to Zion to fight for his rights.

ALDERMEN AT LARGE. Local lumbermen are looking forward to good business for the coming season, better in fact than during the past two years. There is a large number of last year's logs in the river above Grand Falls while the quantity of loose lumber below that point is roughly estimated at a good round figure. Preparations to cope with the situation in the lower part of the river, are being hurried to completion; and while it is not probable that any of the mills will begin operations until after the 20th of this month as there are not enough logs on hand to keep the mills going until the drives arrive. Indications are that the coming summer will be a busy one which means the employment of a larger number of mill hands and a better season for business generally.

ALDERMEN AT LARGE. It was learned today from local lumbermen that in the upper part of the country present prospects for driving are favorable as there is plenty of snow and a large quantity of lumber has been hauled to the streams, in readiness for the drive, at the breaking up of the ice. Just how many logs are likely to come down is not known, as so much depends on the height of the water and how long it lasts.

ALDERMEN AT LARGE. With reference to the lower part of the river, it was learned today from D. D. Glasier & Sons that at a rough estimate the quantity of loose logs of last year's logs below Grand Falls aggregates about 9,000,000, and these are expected down with the ice. Preparations to pick them up are being pushed forward with all possible speed, and before the end of next week all will be in readiness for the dash up river at the opening of navigation; which is expected on or about the twentieth.

ALDERMEN AT LARGE. Above Grand Falls there are said to be about 15,000,000 feet of last year's logs in the stream, while all of this winter's ALDERMEN AT LARGE. The flowers of triumph are watered by tears.

SUPREME COURT MOTIONS HEARD

Several Interesting Cases Taken up at Fredericton This Morning.

FREDERICTON, N. B., April 10 (Special)--The supreme court this morning heard the following common motions. J. F. Robertson appellant, and A. C. Fallweather, respondent. Mr. Teed moved to make the judgment of the privy council the judgment of this court, granted.

In the matter of the Casuing Sulphate Fibre Company, Limited, under the winding up act, J. D. Hazen moved for a rule compelling the Eastern Trust Company to show cause why the rule of this court made January fifth, allowing an appeal from that portion of the order of Justice McLeod, postponing the sale of the mortgaged premises of the company under an order of the equity court should not be rescinded. Rule refused.

Ex parte, Terry vs. Nadigan, Mr. Laforce moved for a rule for certiorari and a rule nisi to quash a conviction for selling liquor contrary to the liquor license act in the parish of St. Ann, Madawaska. Court considers.

Ex parte, Dingle re Nadeau, Mr. Laforce makes a like motion for a conviction for selling on February thirteenth. Court considers.

Ex parte, McCrea, Mr. Carter moves for an order compelling Judge Carleton to show cause why he should not file proceedings in the case of W. H. Watson, convicted under the Liquor License Act. Withdrawn with leave to enter at next term.

The Chief Justice announced that the court would take recess from Thursday until Tuesday of next week.

WALL STREET

NEW YORK, April 10--Opening prices today started towards recovery from the closing weakness of yesterday, helped by higher prices in London this morning. There were only a few exceptions to the advances which were generally small and dealings were in the main light.

Forty-nine bodies already have been taken out of one of the churches at Ottajano.

The bull movement in the Montreal market has received a temporary check due in a great measure, to the fact that the market in Wall street, and the disposition on the part of the banks to lend out as little money as possible.

Had easier conditions prevailed the bulls would have started recovery from the closing weakness of yesterday, helped by higher prices in London this morning. There were only a few exceptions to the advances which were generally small and dealings were in the main light.

Forty-nine bodies already have been taken out of one of the churches at Ottajano.

The bull movement in the Montreal market has received a temporary check due in a great measure, to the fact that the market in Wall street, and the disposition on the part of the banks to lend out as little money as possible.

Had easier conditions prevailed the bulls would have started recovery from the closing weakness of yesterday, helped by higher prices in London this morning. There were only a few exceptions to the advances which were generally small and dealings were in the main light.

Forty-nine bodies already have been taken out of one of the churches at Ottajano.

The bull movement in the Montreal market has received a temporary check due in a great measure, to the fact that the market in Wall street, and the disposition on the part of the banks to lend out as little money as possible.

Had easier conditions prevailed the bulls would have started recovery from the closing weakness of yesterday, helped by higher prices in London this morning. There were only a few exceptions to the advances which were generally small and dealings were in the main light.

Forty-nine bodies already have been taken out of one of the churches at Ottajano.

The