BIG INTERESTS WORKING FOR A BULL MARKET

Eager to get the Outsider Into the Game --- Warnings Are Unheeded --- The Silence of the Talkative Bankers --- Bryan's Speech is Well Received.

(New York World.)

The market during last week demonstrated the complete control which the big interests, who are working for a bull market, maintain over the situation. Under ordinary conditions the developments in the money market would have produced a decline in securities. Assurances, however, were given that large amounts of gold would be secured within the next ten days, and that any stringency in the money market would be temporary only. In addition to these pledges, the big interests gave support to their favorite stocks, and strong banking interests, who usualy pose as conservative, aided in the dissemination of bull tips on Union Pacific and some of the other stocks which the pools are using as market leaders.

PLAN FURTHER ADVANCES.

There can be no doubt of the intention of those who dominate the market movements at present to cary prices much higher and to make securities as attractive as possible to the outsider. It is possible that there will not only be increases in dividends, as a part of this programme, but that other surprises like that which Mr. Harriman gave his stockholders in Union Pacific will be arranged in order to arouse the speculative public throughout the country. The amount of gold already secured for import will offset the unfavorable bank statement of Saturday, and well-informed bankers assert that a large additional amount will be engaged during the coming week. The assurance is also given that the secretary of the treasury will take action when it is necessary. For these reasons the bull leaders are claiming that the money situation will not interfere with the upward movement. Every expedient to allay public apprehension and to create confidence among those who are expected to relieve Wall street of its present burdens will be resorted to. It is probable that nothing short of a series of financial catastrophes such as occurred in Philadelphia last week can interfere with the programme as now mapped out.

WARNINGS UNHEEDED.

In the mean time the public is in no mood to listen to warnings or to pay heed to the plaints of the pessimists; it seems to want nothing but information of a bull character. Whatever inherent weakness there may be in the situation is being ignored or overlooked. The heavy real estate speculation which was in a measure responsible for the Philadelphia collapse, and which is tying up the money of institutions all over the country in securities of doubtful value, the reckless expenditures and extravagance on every hand, the inflation of all classes of securities, the departure of many of the big corporations from conservative business policies, the participation of directors in stock-jobbing schemes of the most flagrant character, the ignoring on the part of the big financiers of the lessons of the life-insurance exposures, the political unrest that exists everywhere in the country, the possibility of upheavals at the coming election, are signs to which the present oracles of Wall street are blind. If they portend evils, the happy-go-lucky trader of the moment reasons that they are of the future and concern him not at present.

OMINOUS SILENCE.

No better evidence can be had of the extent to which self-interest governs the banking interests of Wall street than is furnished by a comparison of their present attitude with that which they assumed a year ago. At that time the great falling off of the bank reserves in the face of a heavy speculation brought loud cries of dissatisfaction and condemnation from the bankers, who declared that an attempt to continue a bull market under such unsatisfactory monetary conditions was little short of criminal recklessness. The situation is now almost analogous to that which existed then, yet not a banker is raising his voice in protest. The speculator is told not to be uneasy—gold will be imported and he will be furnished with enough money to continue to advance the market. Invitations to banquets at the countryside, whence florid philippics to the financial world are customarily voiced by the "Demosthenes of the Discount Desk" and other mouth-pieces of the dominant interests, are being declined with thanks. The present silence of our financial monitors is a significant and suggestive instance of Wall street's inconsistencies.

BRYAN'S SPEECH PLEASES.

The Bryan speech was received in Wall street with a good deal of genuine interest, although it had no particular effect upon the market. The general feeling seemed to be that he had strengthened the position of the radical element and committed himself to principles to which he may not be able to adhere consistently later on in his campaign. Wall street believes that his advocacy of railroad ownership instead of railroad control by the federal and state governments will not prove popular, and will probably not be brought out with much emphasis in the presidential campaign two years hence. Wall street was pleased with his declaration on the free silver question, as that is the only issue which has heretofore made it impossible for certain interests to give him support. As a matter of fact, the feeling toward Mr. Bryan in the financial district is by no means antagonistic, as it has been heretofore.

KERRY GOW COMING

For the present season, the management of Joseph Murphy's beautiful "Kerry Gow" offer Ireland's sweet singer, Allen Doone, in Mr. Murphy's former role. Mr. Doone, while a newcomer to the legitimate drama, was formerly prominent in vaudeville, where he demonstrated his vocal qualities and his cleverness to excel in more important roles. Possessed of a sweet, melodious tenor voice of great range, his singing of the pretty little Irish love ballads, "Sweet Nora Drew," "The Cooing of the Doves," "The Song of the Forge," etc., written especially for "Kerry Gow," offer a rare musical treat in addition to the rich study of character type that this pretty play affords. The supporting company is practically the same who have so many years appeared with Joseph Murphy. Miss Mary Firmior, as the pretty colleen, Nora Drew, continues. William F. Sheehan, who has created the role of O'Driver for more than twenty years is spontaneously funny. John Daly, another veteran in the cast, will be seen in his famous old role of Major Gruff. Josie Claflin, Jas. Ryan, Mark Harrison are all old members of this famous organization. The admirable scenic features of the blacksmith shop, where the horse is shod in full view of the audience. The exciting race track scene, the flying home of the carrier pigeons 'mid the shouts of the excited peasantry are still continued among the many delights of "Kerry Gow," to appear at the Opera House Monday next.

A CREDIT TO THE FAIR

No feature of the exhibition is reflecting such great credit on St. John as the Dunlap, Cooke Co. exhibit. Between their handsome King street store and the magnificent exhibit shown in the fair the company is getting all the fur business their large staff of sales people can attend to. Many rich and costly furs are being disposed of—some of the finest ones to American visitors. Everybody speaks so highly of the Dunlap, Cooke Co. exhibit that it almost seems to overshow every other single feature of the exhibition—and there is a disposition on the part of all to wish the company the grand success they are meeting with. Such enterprise merits success.

THE ROLLER CARNIVAL

The comic supplements of the different American papers are being eagerly scanned by parties who intend skating at the Salvage Corps carnival on Monday night next at St. Andrew's Rollaway. There are two prizes offered for comic characters, one for ladies and one for gentlemen. A comic character can be made sometimes at very little cost, and it frequently wins over more expensive costumes. However, the great interest that is being taken in the securing of good costumes indicates that the best carnival held here in years will be held on Monday night next. Skaters must be costumed and masked or made-up. Tickets are selling rapidly, and should be secured at once.

IT DOES CURE WOMANLY ILLS

"I feel it my duty," writes Mrs. S. Mead of Fredericville, Ont., "to let you know that sometimes previous to the change of life I suffered more than I could tell. Neighbors told me Ferrozone was the only remedy and their advice was good. Ferrozone put a stop to my pain and sickness, had a direct action on my troubles that relieved from the start. I safely passed the turn, and now enjoy perfect health and rest. No womanly medicine can be better than Ferrozone." Instant relief is found in Ferrozone for female weakness of every kind, 50c. per box at all dealers.

EXHIBITION VISITORS

Out of town customers and visitors to St. John during exhibition week are cordially invited to call at the offices of the Northwestern Land & Investment Company, Canada Life Building, to examine charts, plans and maps of Western Canada. Their demonstrator will be on hand to explain fully the towns in the northwest where money can be profitably invested; offices open from 8.30 a. m. to 6 p. m. 9-30—7i d.

Marie Tempest has signed a contract to sing at the Palace Music Hall, London. This is her first vaudeville appearance.

CROPS ARE VERY LIGHT THIS YEAR

According to Albert County Journal the Outlook is a Gloomy One.

The following very gloomy statement, which it is hoped is not justified, appears in the Albert County Journal:

"The present indications are that the crops of Albert County will be much below the average, a result due to the extremely cold and wet spring and to the great drouth and heat of the summer. The reports from all parts of the county are alike. The hay which gave good prospects in the early part of the season while it is a fair crop, is below the average, but it is by far the best crop of the season. Oats and potatoes have suffered very much from the drouth in the different sections of the county. The grain in many instances will not be worth harvesting, the growth having been retarded by the great drouth and where there is some growth of straw the kernel is small on account of the grain ripening too fast. The potato crop is about a total failure and many farmers will not have enough for their own use. Buckwheat is also reported a light crop and turnips are not up to the average. The reports from those districts away from the seaboard are even more discouraging than those along the sea front, where the sea moisture proved of some benefit. In Albert county the growing of apples has always been considered a crop of considerable importance, but this crop is also a great failure. On the whole the harvest this year will not likely be nearly so bountiful as last.

"Crops are now beyond help, and rains will be of little benefit to them."

A GOOD PROGRAMME

Band concert from 8.10 to 9.35. Fancy and trick roller skating by the LeRay children, the world's champion juvenile fancy and trick roller skaters. Two races, commencing at 10.05. This is the programme for tonight at the St. Andrew's Rollaway. Two boys, Knodell and Gleason, will skate a one mile race. Both boys can skate fast and are evenly matched. After them two older boys, Nixon and Olive, will skate a one mile race. Nixon has won a race here in 3.39, and in Amherst Tuesday night he won a race in 3.35. Olive won his race here two weeks' ago in 3.37. Both boys can skate faster than this, and the race will be a dandy. Those who have never seen a roller skating race should do so tonight. Either the LeRay children or the races are worth the price of admission alone, but there is no extra charge tonight.
