A Canadian Author

(Sydney Post.)

Oliphant, Anderson & Ferrier, of Edinburgh and London, announce a book for young men which is sure to awaken the interest of many people in this country. The author is the Rev. Albert G. Mackinnon, whose father was a minister in Hopewell, Nova Scotia, and Georgetown, Prince Edward Island, and whose brother, the Rev. Clarence Mackinnon, is well-known in Sydney. Mr. Mackinnon is minister of the United Free Church, Lochmaben, Dumfriesshire, Scotland, and his Sabbath Evening Lectures are regularly published in the local paper. The volume is written in the language of today. The title is, "Spiritually Fit: A Young Man's Equipment."

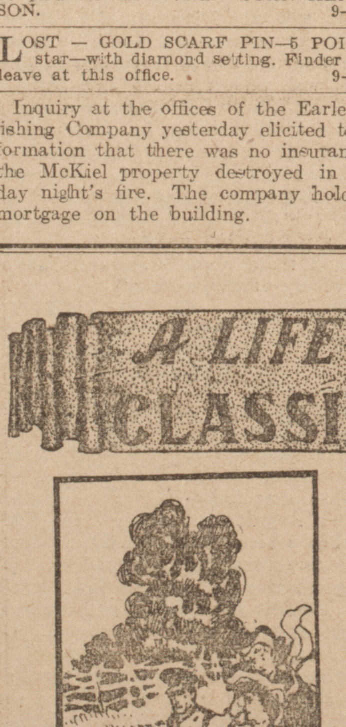

FISHING NOTES

A Deer Island letter says:—"The supply of herring is plentiful but factories are limiting the supply, which means a cut in prices now being paid weir owners, namely $4, and stringers only bring $3. L'Etang river is plugged with herring and though boats are plentiful it is difficult to dispose of the whole catch.

The auxiliary boat Alpha, built by Leeman & Co., of St. Andrews, for Allan Guptill of Grand Manan, has received her engine at Eastport and gone into commission. She is fifty feet over all, with a twelve feet beam, and draws four feet of water. She has a twenty horse power Knox gasoline engine and will be used in the fisheries.

It is to be hoped that Anthony Comstock takes the precaution to remove all the mirrors from his bathroom before taking his daily bath.—Washington Post.

A LIFE STORY IN CLASSIFIED ADS.

THE CLASSIFIED AUTOMOBILE.

CHAPTER XXV.

There's much in the world besides business cares,
And for true relaxation there's nothing compares
With an automobile, for it means pleasant rides
And a quick way of transportation provides.

Our hero knew this—his wisdom we've seen—
And one day he purchased a well-made machine;
"A machine," he remarked, "with a broad guarantee,
A Want Ad. in the Times brought it to me."

A word or two more will this chapter complete;
With the Times want ads. no others compete.
This is no idle statement—it's backed by the facts;
Times Want Ads., you'll find, are known by their acts.
(To be continued tomorrow).
