Mr. Preston, Emigration Agent for the Dominion government in London, Eng, has stated that any of the farm peasants from Northern or Middle Europe make the very best agriculturists. Farmers in New Brunswick who need labor and can accommodate a man and his family with lodging and give him the use of a few acres for his own cultivation, cannot do better than apply to Mr. Preston. He describes them as a class that remain on the land for generations, are thrifty and industrious and willing to work as farm laborers or farm tenants. Applications will be gladly forwarded by the St. John board of trade or through this office.

SOME OLD SCOTCH RECIPES FOR SOUPS

Old Fashioned Recipes for Making Wholesome Soups Made Tasty by Scotch Methods.

If there is one thing the Scotch cook is more famous for than another in the cuisine, it is her soups and her broths There is more wholesome nourishment in a kettle of good Scotch broth than in quantities of fancy French made-dishes, but many of the old-time receipts have been lost sight of in the attention modern cooks have given to the concocting of purees and bisques and bouillons. Nothing is so heathful for the hungry school-child at noon as a steaming hot bowl of nutritious broth.

Here are a number of simple receipes taught in the cooking schools of Glasgow some forty years ago and which form the groundwork of the Scotch cook's education.

Cabbage Soup—One white cabbage, 2 oz. butter, 1 pt. milk, 3 pts. cold water; pepper and salt to taste.

Wash the cabbage, slice it into a pot, add the butter, put on the lid and leave it for ten minutes on a gentle heat. Add the water and boil for an hour, then add the milk, season and boil again. Serve with small squares of toasted or fried bread.

Milk Soup—Four large potatoes, 1 pt. milk, 3 tablespoonfuls fine sago, 2 oz. butter, 1 small onion (or two leeks), 2 quarts water and seasoning.

Peel and slice the potatoes and put them into a pot with the white part of the leeks or the entire small onion and the butter. Cook together for five minutes and add the two quarts of boiling water. Boil until the vegetables are soft—usually about an hour—then add the milk; when it comes to the boil again stir in the sago, boil for fifteen minutes longer, season to fancy.

Scotch Broth—This is the old-fashioned recipe for the broth of the country. The ingredients are 1 1-2 lbs of beef; 1 1-2 lbs. neck mutton; 2 large carrots; 1 large turnip; 1 onion; 1-2 small cabbage; 1-4 lb pearl barley; 3 quarts cold water; 1 teaspoonful chopped parsley and seasoning.

Wash the barley and put it into the pot with the meat and water; wash-vegetables thoroughly, scrape the carrots, peel turnip and onion and cut them all into small dice. When the broth has boiled for an hour add the vegetable, slicing the cabbage thinly. Boil all together for two hours, skimming frequently. Last of all before serving, add the parsley. The meat may be served separately with a little of the broth strained over it.

Brown Soup—1 lb. shin beef; 1 small carrot, 1 onion, small piece of turnip, 1 oz. dripping; sprig of sweet herb; quart cold water and salt and pepper.

Cut the meat into small pieces, peel and slice the onion and cut the carrot and turnip into thin strips; heat the dripping in a pot and when it is quite hot brown the meat and onion in it, making them a rich brown shade, then pour off the dripping, add the vegetable and sweet herb and water. Let it simmer for two hours, take out the herb, season and serve.

Kidney Soup—One ox kidney, 1 carrot, half turnip, 1 onion, 3 potatoes, 1 tablespoonful flour, small piece celery, 2 ozs. butter (or dripping), 1 teaspoonful vinegar, 1 teaspoonful salt, half teaspoonful pepper, 1 tablespoonful ketchup, 5 pts. cold water.

Wash the kidney and cut it into small pieces, wash and slice the vegetables. Dry the pieces of kidney and rub them with flour; heat the butter in a pot and when quite hot add the onion and brown it well, lift it out, brown the kidney half at a time then add the other ingredients and let them simmer for three hours. Strain the soup. Return it to the pan with the pieces of kidney. Put the flour in a basin, mix it smoothly with a little cold water, add it to the strained soup, boil five minutes, season and serve.

Fish Soup.—This is a wholesome soup for Lent, and it is an economical dish to get up.

Select a nice fresh haddock of about one pound in weight and secure from your dealer some fish trimming. The other ingredients are 2 onions, small piece carrot, small piece celery, tablespoonful chopped parsley, half pt. milk, 2 tablespoonfuls flour, 1 slice crumb of bread, seasoning.

Wash all the fish well, skin the haddock, take off the meat and put it aside. Put all the trimmings into a saucepan with cold water to cover it with a little salt. Skim well as it comes to the boil and add the vegetables, cut up, and the bread. Boil gently one and one-half hours. Strain, return the soup to the pan with the fish cut into nice pieces. Simmer for five minutes. Put the flour into a basin and mix smooth with the milk, add to the soup and allow it just to come through the boil. Add seasoning, parsley and serve.

Marrow Soup—Two lbs. of pumpkin or marrow, 1 large onion, 2 ozs. butter, 1 teaspoonful sugar, 2 pts. water, 1 pt. milk, 1 tablespoonful flour, pepper and salt.

Peel and cut the pumpkin or marrow into large squares. Peel and slice the onion. Put the vegetables into a saucepan, add the sugar, salt, pepper and butter, putting cover over the pan. Simmer the vegetables well, add the water, stew slowly for 20 minutes (or until the vegetables pulp), then add the flour (mixed to a paste with a little of the milk. Stir the soup until it comes well through the boil, then let it simmer for ten minutes. Stir frequently. Serve with small squares of toast or fried bread. If desired, the soup may be pressed through a sieve before it is thickened.

Stock from Bones—A housewife frequently has trimmings of meat, cooked or uncooked, which, if she is thrifty, she may make into a nutritious stock. Put the odds and ends into pot with some bits of carrot and onion and salt and pepper; let them simmer on the back of the stove for some hours and strain off at night. An earthenware crock is best for soup stock and, closely covered, may be left sitting on the stove. This stock is used for making gravy, soups and sauces instead of water.

THE VALUE OF CHARCOAL

Few People Know How Useful it is in Preserving Health and Beauty.

Nearly everybody knows that charcoal is the safest and most efficient disinfectant and purifier in nature, but few realize its value when taken into the human system for the same cleansing purpose.

Charcoal is a remedy that the more you take of it the better; it is not a drug at all, but simply absorbs the gases and impurities always present in the stomach and intestines and carries them out of the system.

Charcoal sweetens the breath after smoking, drinking or after eating onions and other odorous vegetables.

Charcoal effectually clears and improves the complexion, it whitens the teeth and further acts as a natural and eminently safe cathartic.

It absorbs the injurious gases which collect in the stomach and bowels; it disinfects the mouth and throat from the poison of catarrh.

All druggists sell charcoal in one form or another, but probably the best charcoal and the most for the money is in Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges; they are composed of the finest powdered willow charcoal, and other harmless anti-septics in tablet form, or rather in the form of large, pleasant tasting lozenges, the charcoal being mixed with honey.

The daily use of these lozenges will soon tell in a much improved condition of the general health, better complexion, sweeter breath, and purer blood, and the beauty of it is, that no possible harm can result from their continued use, but on the contrary, great benefit.

A Buffalo physician, in speaking of the benefits of charcoal, says: "I advise Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges to all patients suffering from gas in the stomach and bowels, and to clear the complexion and purify the breath, mouth and throat; I also believe the liver is greatly benefitted by the daily use of them; they cost but twenty-five cents a box at drug stores, and although in some sense a patent preparation, yet I believe I get more and better charcoal in Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges than in any of the ordinary charcoal tablets."

WHAT ABOUT OUR ALDERMEN

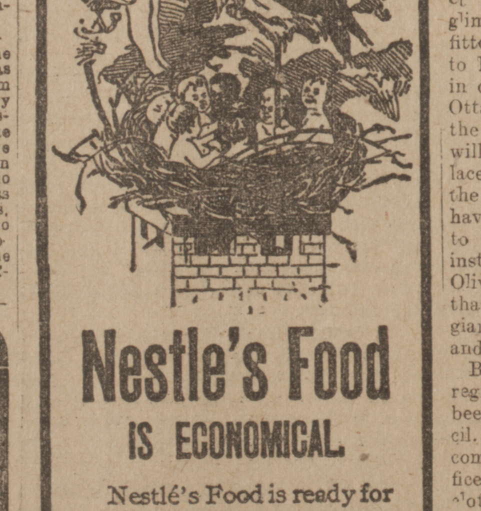

(Toronto News).

Concurrent announcement of the departure of Prince Arthur of Connaught from Japan for Canada, and the authorization of new uniforms for the Ottawa Cabinet, fills one with delightful anticipation. One thinks of the Prince speeding eastward on a special train, accompanied by seventeen trunks of clothes and a valet for each trunk. One also catches a glimpse of the military tailors and outfitters at Ottawa working day and night to have the Cabinet clothed decently and in order. When the Prince finally reaches Ottawa and takes dinner with Earl Grey the banquet hall of Government House will be a sight for gods and men. Gold lace will glitter everywhere and between the courses it may be quite possible to have a bout or two with dress swords, to give a piquancy to the occasion. For instance, Mr. Emmerson may say to Mr. Oliver: "I think my trousers fit better than yours." Mr. Oliver, after the Georgian manner, will reply, "Thou liest," and then there will be doin's.

But in all this sartorial discussion we regret to note that a uniform has not been provided for the Toronto city council. It is quite settled that the Prince is coming here. Why has the Colonial Office been so negligent as to prescribe no clothes for the mayor and aldermen? We fancy it is not yet too late, and so we suggest to the British authorities that pink serge be the basic material. The reason for this is that the members of council seem unable to blush when giving up the rights of the city to the street railway, and the pink would by reflection give a little color to their faces when the Prince extends the right hand of fellowship.

APPROPRIATE INTERJECTIONS.

For the tailor—Oh, scissors!
For the farmer—Good land!
For the butcher—Bah!
For the confectioner—Oh, fudge!
For the novel reader—Great Scott!

THE EXILE FROM ERIN

(American Lumberman.)

Oh, Erin, dear Erin, for thee I am yearning,
My heart turns to thee like the rose to the rain.
To thy pleasant, green islet my feet would be turning,
To bathe in thy river and rest on thy plain.
But the exile from home, though so far from thee faring,
May revisit in day dreams each long-cherished scene;
So the shamrock so bright on my heart I am wearing
And keeping, loved Erin, thy memory green.

BOILS ALL OVER HIS FACE AND NECK

BURDOCK BLOOD BITTERS DID FOR HIM WHAT FOUR DOCTORS FAILED TO DO

KEEWATIN, ONT., July 28th. 1905.

MESSRS. THE T. MILBURN CO., LTD., TORONTO, ONT.,

DEAR SIRS:—I am writing to let you know what Burdock Blood Bitters has done for me. I am a young man, twenty years old, and a year ago last March I began to feel dull and sick, and was greatly troubled with boils coming out on my face and neck, mostly on the latter. I would no sooner get rid of one than I would have, perhaps, two or three more appear.

I had four doctors trying to cure me but they had very little success. They would stop them for a month or six weeks and then they would be as bad as ever again.

Almost every patent medicine, advertised to cure boils, I could get hold of, I tried, but still without success. At last one day, last spring, someone happened to say: "why not try taking Burdock Blood Bitters for the blood?" I was willing to try anything and immediately sent for a bottle, but at the time was doubtful if it would be of any use. However, I used that bottle and while I was taking it I began to feel better, although I still kept having a few boils but not nearly such bad ones. I did not miss any work, while otherwise, I used to miss, sometimes, a week out of every month. I kept on taking the medicine until I had taken six bottles, and needless to say, I was not sorry I did so when I tell you I have not had a boil appear for the past three months. Everybody was surprised when they heard that Burdock Blood Bitters had done for me what four doctors failed to do. If any sufferers are afflicted with boils, I would strongly advise them to use B.B.B. It makes you feel like a new man. I always keep a bottle in the house, now, as I think it is a medicine that should be in every household.

Yours truly,
HENRY A. SMITH.

EMBEZZLED NEARLY $7,000,000

A company that keeps track of all the embezzlements from financial concerns has just made its report for the year 1905.

It will be seen that trusted clerks in the United States and Canada have walked away with nearly $7,000,000 in bank funds during the year, and that banks were by far the greatest sufferers.

The embezzlements in detail are shown as follows:

	1905	1904
Banks	$6,816,729	$3,190,029
Benevolent societies and institutions	118,018	170,671
Building and loan and other Associations	424,855	329,082
Court Trusts	798,667	596,043
Federal and State	1,300 719	646 784
Firms and Corporations	1,272,635	246,612
Insurance Companies	55,835	2,844,705
Municipal	649,553	237,172
Transportation	136,814	142,174
Miscellaneous	1,049,705	1,665,699
Total	$12,623,536	$10,068,971

It is estimated that the losses by Canadian banks alone were less than $400,000.
