MR. HARRIMAN AND THE STOCK MARKET

The Investigation Caused a Break In Stocks Monday---Comment of New York Paper.

(N. Y. Journal of Commerce, Tuesday)

The stock market yesterday had a bad day, the result of the Harriman investigation by the Interstate Commerce Commission. The street seemed to have made up its mind that the investigation, when it did appear, would be sufficiently sensational to warrant reductions in quotations of considerable volume, and this is probably the real basis for weakness. At any rate the testimony at the hearing was not of a particularly sensational character and there were few facts developed that had not been testified to at previous hearings by other officials on the Harriman railroads. London came weaker, with quite a little selling pressure and private accounts for that center also showed a disposition to accept Mr. Harriman's testimony—whatever it might be—as a bearish influence. Probably the most important part of the testimony, however, was that considerable part of the Harriman holdings of the Northern Pacific and the Great Northern which they were forced to take after the distribution following the Northern Securities decision, had been sold, and that instead of the income that was at the time obtained on these securities of $3,000,000 a $3,500,000, the proceeds of the sales were now netting between $6,000,000 and $6,500,000. Otherwise the burden of the testimony was that Mr. Harriman and his friends had not speculated, but had had in view the interest of the stockholders in the various transations. In the instance of the Alton, to the reorganization of which the afternoon session was almost entirely devoted, it was shown, however, that Mr. Harriman, in connection with George Gould and two other associates, controlled 97 per cent. of the Alton stock and sold bonds to themselves and subsequently declared a 30 per cent dividend to themselves. This dividend being justified according to Mr. Harriman by the fact that under the preceding administration the Alton had paid to capital account of earnings a sufficient amount of money to warrant, the 30 per cent distribution and that, therefore, as the stockholders had been deprived of this amount it was only right that reparation be made when the error of bookkeeping or financial management had been discovered. Taken as a whole, however, the session was a dull one except for the brilliant work of counsel on both sides and the absolute calmness and shrewdness displayed by Mr. Harriman while on the stand.

CANADIAN RAILWAYS

The railway statistics blue book for the year ending June 30, 1906, was brought down in parliament last week. The development of Canadian railways is demonstrated by the increase in mileage. In 1905 there were 20,487; in 1906, 21,353.

There were 2,931 locomotives, 1,289 first, 716 second-class, 61,929 cable and bok cars, and no less than 61 official cars. In number of passengers carried an increase is shown as compared with 1905. The figures are:—

1905	25,288,723
1906	27,989,782

Earnings show remarkable figures for 1906:

Passengers	$33,392,188
Freight	81,433,115
Mail and express	4,510,649
Other sources	5,986,912
Total	125,322,865

The number of fatal accidents in 1906 was less than during the three preceding years, being 361, including passengers, employes and others.

RUSHING BUSINESS THROUGH IN UNITED STATES CONGRESS

by him. The president is already besieged with applicants for the places but it is believed that long ago when the subject of a commission was proposed he already had in mind the men who would be best adapted for the work.

It is early to make predictions with reference to presidential candidates but in these closing days of the congresional session the air is full of straws. In the south and in other localities where organization means everything Fairbanks through his agents has preempted the regular forces. Wherever congressional influence counts Speaker Cannon has a staunch following. Secretary Taft obstinately refuses to do anything but smile. The press as represented in Washington is for him. All the boys like him but say that there is little chance for him because he will not do dirty work, which, according to their philosophy is indispensable to a successful candidacy. The opinion is growing that such weight of pressure from the north, south, east and west Democratic, Republican and Independent will be brought upon Theodore Roosevelt that he will be swept in by the avalanche. It is already evident that his program of reform will not be more than half completed by the end of the present term and it will be put up to him to serve four years longer or turn away leaving his work half done.

But little is said about the candidacy of Leslie M. Shaw, secretary of the treasury who will retire from this office on the 4th of March. He would like to be president and he deserves to be elected to this highest office. He is a really great man. He is not a demagogue. He is not popular but he never speaks on any subject without illuminating it with flashes of an intelligence of the first order. In a recent speech before the church unions of Chicago he said, "My own idea of a church is a great religious democracy where the rich and the poor the educated and the ignorant, the cultured, and all others gather to worship and commune with a being so far exalted as to make relative human conditions unmentionable, unthinkable, and unnoticeable in his presence. I do not know that such conditions are practicable everywhere, but our Catholic friends seem fairly successful in their maintenance."

FRED. LOGAN, HOME.

Returning after the races in Pittsburg and Brooklyn where, however,, he did not do himself justice, Fred. Logan, the speedy local skater, arrived home yesterday. Speaking of his defeat at Pittsburg, Logan said there were several reasons. Since the races at Montreal he had been suffering from a cold, he said, and was not in very good shape for fast work. Before the races, too, he had fallen and injured his shoulder and his poor condition made him nervous when the critical moment came.

The style of the rink was also one of the main obstacles against Logan. It was long and narrow and while he made good headway on the sides, he lost on the ends.

POLICE SPORTS BROUGHT $423.

The police sports held in the Victoria Rink recently, increased the police fund $423. Sergeant Caples sold the most tickets—between 600 and 700.

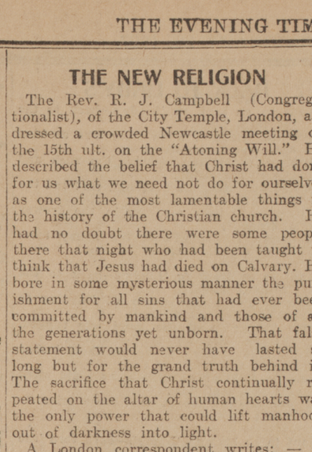

The police wish to thank all who donated prizes for the sports, and also all who purchased tickets. They also wish to acknowledge with thanks donations of $5 from Joseph A. Likely and $1 from Rev. J. J. O'Donovan, of Carleton.

J. D. Colwell, of Upper Jemseg, passed through the city on his way home from the great Sunday school workers' convenvention held in Boston. Mr. Colwell and Rev. J. B. Ganong intend visiting outlying districts in Queens county in the interest of the Sunday school work.

THE NEW RELIGION

The Rev. R. J. Campbell (Congregationalist), of the City Temple, London, addressed a crowded Newcastle meeting on the 15th ult. on the "Atoning Will." He described the belief that Christ had done for us what we need not do for ourselves as one of the most lamentable things in the history of the Christian church. He had no doubt there were some people there that night who had been taught to think that Jesus had died on Calvary. He bore in some mysterious manner the punishment for all sins that had ever been committed by mankind and those of all the generations yet unborn. That false statement would never have lasted so long but for the grand truth behind it. The sacrifice that Christ continually repeated on the altar of human hearts was the only power that could lift manhood out of darkness into light.

A London correspondent writes: — A most remarkable sermon was preached on Thursday by the Rev. Mr. Campbell. The effect of his utterances was to throw over completely the doctrine of plenary inspiration and to leave the interpretation of the Bible a matter of its appeal to the common sense and sentiment of individuals. "The Bible is not a Blue-book," he declared, and at another point he threw to the winds St. Paul's declaration on the Atonement. It has been held, he said, that what St. Paul said settled everything. That was not in his opinion true. St. Paul's opinion was simply St. Paul's opinion, but it was entitled to respect as that of a great man and a seer of truth.

WELL, WHAT DID HE DECIDE.

Kindheart (to man who had slipped on the ice)—did you fall?

Strongheart—Fall! No! I merely sat down to think over this Japanese school question.

Bocker—I see they have discovered an island of ice in the Antarctic ocean.

Knicker—And next summer, I guess, when the hot spell is on, some guy will discover a mountain of coal somewhere.

DONALD'S DECISION.

Two Highlanders were standing on Tarbet pier watching the boats setting out for the fishing ground, when Hamish remarked—"She'll be a gran' fast boat that skiff o' Mactavish's." "Ay she'll be so," answered Dugald, ""but she'll not beat Shon Macintyre's. She'll no haud a candle to her, nor keep up to her, forbye." A heated discussion ensued on the merits of the two boats, and words were fast coming to blows, when a third Scotty arrived on the scene, and the matter was referred to him for decision. "Weel," says Donald, with a look of wisdom that would have done credit to Solomon himself, "if there'll be any difference, they're both the same;" then, after a pause, "especially Mactavish's.—Glasgow News.
