Six Women Shot and Stabbed at the Annual Outing of a Colored Band in New York--One Man May Die.

NEW YORK, June 22--Shooting and stabbing affrays and fights of other descriptions culminated the annual excursion of the Lewis and Clark Corps, a colored organization in West Thirty-seventh street, between Eighth and Ninth avenues, which was held Thursday at Palisade Grove, New Jersey, opposite Yonkers.

One man was taken to Bellevue Hospital suffering from stab wounds, and it was said he will die. Half a dozen women were either shot or stabbed. One had her wound dressed in the French Hospital and managed to jump out of a window and escape before the police arrived. Revolvers and razors were flashed in the face of the captain and crew of the barge when they tried to prevent the fights, and shots were fired over their heads when they tried to prevent four men, leaders in the fight, from escaping.

At nine o'clock in the morning, the Charles Spear, a large barge under the command of Captain John Scott, and a crew of five men, towed by the tug Neptune, left the pier at West Thirty-fifth street with about 600 men and women. Among the passengers was a large representation of the San Juan Hill and Hell's Kitchen gangs.

Considerable liquor had been taken aboard, but when the barge reached the grove there was only a little left.

Immediately after the party landed there were numerous fights and the men divided themselves into parties, and by noon there was fighting all about the grove, and men and women were stabbed and shot.

Captain Scott and the captain of the tug blew their whistles, calling about three hundred of the men and women to the barge. When Captain Scott gave orders to leave there were about half a dozen men unconscious in the grove.

As the barge left the pier revolvers and razors were drawn again, and when the crew got the men apart they found Beulah Burke, twenty-six years old, of No. 237 West Sixty-first street, unconscious from a dozen stab wounds.

Four men who drew their revolvers most frequently jumped into a small rowboat towing astern and started to row toward the Jersey shore.

A small naphtha boat was going in the same direction, and they apparently thought that it was chasing them, for they fired. The launch turned in another direction and the four men landed and quickly disappeared.

All the way down the river, fighting continued, and when the boat docked a fight started on the pier. One woman was stabbed in the arm and another was shot in the shoulder.

Jeremiah Damery, reported by Dr. Simmonds, of the Slaughter House commission for not taking out a license to haul meat from the slaughter house, agreed to take out a license on being advised to do so by his counsel, D. Mullin. J. B. M. Baxter represented the Slaughter House commission, and read the section of the act passed on February 4 of this year, which made it compulsory for the drivers of meat from the slaughter house to make application to the commissioners for a license. Mr. Damery thought that the city license was all that was necessary.

His Lordship Bishop Casey this morning in the cathedral confirmed 150 boys and 80 girls. The bishop celebrated mass and was attended by Rev. Fathers Holland and Meahan. His Lordship addressed the children, giving them sound advice. The bishop will also address the children this afternoon.

MARK TWAIN IS CUTTING
A WIDE SWATH IN BRITAIN

American Humorist Was King Edward's Guest at Garden Party Today.

LONDON, June 22--King Edward, on learning that Mark Twain had arrived in England, sent him an invitation to attend the royal garden party at Windsor Castle today.

Mr. Clemens was completely surprised at this mark of the monarch's hospitality but said "he guessed he would have to accept."

When he meets the king he will undoubtedly be invited to take luncheon with the royal family at Buckingham Palace. The veteran humorist received a dozen titled callers, and said that he had managed to "get in four batches of sleep since he got up, which is three more than I had expected."

Mark Twain's engagements also include the Pilgrims' luncheon, June 25; the Lord Mayor's dinner to the Savage Club, June 26; and the dinner of the American Society on July 4. He will give a dinner in honor of the Earl and Countess of Portsmouth on July 5.

Mr. Clemens also will be entertained by the Lord Mayor of Liverpool before his departure. He will go to Oxford on June 28, remaining there until the 29th. He will lunch with the chancellor of the university after the conferring of the degree, and on the following day the dean, canon and students will give a dinner in his honor.

On June 23 the Rhodes scholars will give a reception to Mr. Clemens, and he will spend the afternoon watching the pageant. In his own words, he "will break the Sabbath" by spending the afternoon of June 23 with Archdeacon Wilberforce.

SCORES KILLED IN FIGHT WITH SOLDIERS IN LISBON

Public Square Filled With Bodies of Dead and Wounded-- Mob of Civilians Fought Troops for Hours--Spirit of Revolt is Widespread.

NEW YORK, June 22--A Paris despatch to the Times today says that despatches received there last night from Lisbon by way of Madrid report that popular hatred of the system of government by decree instituted by Premier Franco after the dismissal of parliament in the beginning of May has had as its outcome a riotous fighting between the troops and the people and much bloodshed.

The premier made a journey from the capital to Oporto in the hope of obtaining a popular endorsement of his policy, but at every station between Lisbon and Oporto crowds hissed and hooted the train as it passed.

Oporto received the premier with crepe banners in place of flags and yells and insults instead of the hoped for cheers.

When the dictator returned to Lisbon there was a furious riot outside the railway station. Cavalry charged the mob and infantry fired into it. The officers' commands were drowned by cries of "Death to the dictator." Revolvers were freely used by the crowd and a young officer was mortally wounded.

A neighboring square was filled with killed and wounded laid out in rows. The principal fighting occurred under the windows of the Hotel D'Angleterre. Several English visitors witnessed the struggle. It is said that the people fought for hours with sticks and stones against the soldiers who fired volleys.

Women with their aprons filled with stones supplied missiles to the men and urged them on. Republican leaders harangued the people to revolt. Barricades were built and cafes invaded, the mob breaking up furniture for their extemporized fortifications. The chief Lisbon cafe was completely destroyed. The mob fought with great fury undismayed by the volleys of the troops.

Thursday was a day of mourning for the dead. All the newspapers appeared with deep black borders and on business offices and private houses flags were flying at half-mast and windows were draped with crepe. Last night the troops were again firing on the people in the public squares. Most serious events are expected. The spirit of revolt is widespread. The censorship is strict.

Thunder of Battle Echoes Across Narrows at New York as Harbor is Held Against Enemy.

DOING PICKET DUTY ON SHORE ROAD, FORT HAMILTON

SEVENTH REGIMENT, WAITING FOR LANDING PARTY AT FORT
HAMILTON

NEW YORK, June 22--New York's harbor defenses withstood successfully the recent attack of a hostile fleet, which twice attempted to penetrate the Narrows between Fort Hamilton and Wardsworth. In a day and a night attack the Seventh and Thirtieth regiments of the New York National Guard shared the honors of the defense fairly with the seasoned regulars, and the attacking ships were repulsed after a lively night assault following a reconnaissance in force during the afternoon.

HOW WOULD YOU LIKE TO HOLD A BLOCK OF THIS BANK STOCK

NEW YORK, June 22--Directors of the Fifth Avenue Bank, of No. 530 Fifth Ave. have "cut a melon" for their stockholders per cent, calling for the distribution of $150,000. The extra dividend will be paid on July 1, when the regular quarterly dividend of twenty-five per cent is due. In all a dividend of 175 per cent will be paid to the stockholders on the first of next month. The bank was formerly known as the Russell Sage bank, although the stockholders are pretty well scattered. It has a capital stock of $100,000, a surplus of a similar amount and undivided profits of more than $1,600,000. It has frequently paid handsome extra dividends in addition to its regular dividends of 100 per cent a year. In 1903 for example, it paid an extra dividend of 100 per cent, 120 per cent in 1905 and 100 per cent extra in 1906. The present extra dividend of 150 per cent A. S. Frisell, the president, says, will come out of the earnings of last year.

and she replied that it was from her husband. "You're a liar," said he, after hearing the answer. He went up stairs and called the complainant up. "There is a pack of cards, I am going to tell your fortune and I will tell you whether or not you got that letter from your husband," said Hamilton. Mrs. Jones said that he could not tell fortunes and that ended it.

On Thursday Hamilton asked for the loan of the complainant's umbrella, which was handed to him. Yesterday he asked for the watch and chain, and she refused to give it to him. He walked into the room, however, and removed it from beneath the pillow. She had a pocketbook there containing $1 and Mrs. Jones alleges that he also took that and went out with money and watch. He returned the watch, but denied taking the money. In cross-examination Mrs. Jones admitted that Hamilton had borrowed the watch frequently. The prisoner was remanded.

rushed its Gatling guns down to the menaced point on the shore front. So close to the fort was the attacking party that the big guns on the ramparts could not be sufficiently depressed to be brought to bear upon them, but the Gatlings were soon spitting vicious spurts of fire, while two detachments of the Seventh were pouring in upon the invaders a racking cross fire at close quarters. The landing party returned the fire for a time with spirit, but they were outnumbered and soon were adjudged out of action.

you'll hear a war-whoop that'll do you good. Great weather--ain't it?"

TERRIFIC SPEED.

The speed with which the new west side wharves are being built gives color to the expectation that they will be ready for business inside of two years. This gives great satisfaction to everybody. It was feared that it would take three months after the site of one of them was dredged before it would be finished, but there is no danger of any such delay. It can easily be completed in less than two years, and the other one also. Indeed the board of works may take steps to delay the work a little, lest the speed should develop friction and burn up the contractors.

DIFFERING VIEWS ON JAP QUESTION

Tokio Says Japanese Feeling Against United States is Deep--Manila and New York Rep. Alleged Jap Plot to Capture Philippines.

TOKIO, June 22--There is every indication of an early collapse of the anti-American agitation. The efforts of the progressists to utilize the movement to further their political ends has been met by a formal declaration on the part of the conservatives, who are strongly supporting the government. A similar statement has been made on behalf of the unionists. While this latter utterance is somewhat critical in its remarks on Viscount Hayashi, the party's leaders express the conviction that a proper settlement can be obtained through diplomatic channels. Their failure to get the co-operation of these parties has precipitated a division among the progressists, a strong faction refusing to endorse the policy of Count Okuma and his party.

A committee on financial interests is working actively to suppress the agitation. The financial situation is bad. Most stocks are at bottom prices and several smaller banks have failed. Runs on others have occurred, and there are also signs that Japan's financial agents abroad have given warnings against the consequences of continuing agitation.

The latest phase of the situation is a movement to induce the chambers of commerce to organize for the diversion of exports and imports from San Francisco to Seattle.

MANILA, June 22--Existence of a scheme to create pro-Japanese sentiment among the natives, especially in the northern sections, has become evident, and the government is watching the actions of certain Japanese who have married Filipino women and are living here. Arrests are possible if the developments expected take place. Throughout the island provinces there prevails the belief that if Japan seizes the Philippines she will give them independence under her protectorate. This tends to make Japan popular among the natives.

NEW YORK, June 22--Captain Stephen L'H. Slocum, U. S. A., thirteenth cavalry, of the general staff in the Philippines, was a passenger on the Koenig Albert of the North German Lloyd line, from Genoa and Naples, and although he would not talk of the situation in the Far East, as he is on his way to Washington to report, Mrs. Slocum, who was with him, had something to say in regard to the Japanese.

"It may not be generally known," said Mrs. Slocum, "but in the East it is believed that Japan is behind the movement in India among the natives to revolt against British rule. Great Britain knows this and it is discussed among the officers stationed in India."

When Mrs. Slocum was told of the war talk in this country in reference to Japan, she said: "There may be more in it than you think. In the Philippines it is said that the Japanese stand ready to pour 60,000 soldiers into the islands at a moment's notice and they are only waiting the chance."

That the American soldiers are having a hard time of it in fighting the hostiles was stated by Mrs. Slocum, and she told of the terrible deaths of a party of twelve soldiers who were captured by the natives, buried to their necks in the sand and had their heads eaten off by white ants.

TOKIO, June 22--A joint meeting of five chambers of commerce was called for today to consider and pass resolutions on the American question but owing to the inability of representatives from Kioto Kobe to arrive in time, the formal meeting was postponed. The absentees are, however, expected early next week. The chambers of commerce to be represented are those of Tokio, Osaka, Kobe, and Yokohama. It is apprehended that the subject of commercial retaliation though it might come up for discussion, will not assume any definite form. Most careful deliberation is expected before any resolution is given final form.

JOHN D. ROCKEFELLER'S
NAME DIDN'T SAVE HIM

Arrested for Speeding
His Auto His Chauffeur is Fined.

TARRYTOWN, N. Y., June 22--John D. Rockefeller was arrested for speeding yesterday just after he had given orders to close the gates on his Pocantico Hills estate because of the reckless driving of chauffeurs.

While coming up from the city Mr. Rockefeller was enjoying a spin along the State road at Elmford at a rate of thirty miles an hour when he was held up by Constable Bunsenmeier, who brought the car to a stop by stretching a rope across the road.

As Mr. Rockefeller poked his head out of the car door Bunsenmeier said: "You are arrested for exceeding the speed limit."

"I am John D. Rockefeller and I am bound for my home at Pocantico Hills," replied the oil king.

Bunsenmeier was taken by surprise but he said it made no difference. So, him whether his prisoner was John D. Rockefeller or not, he had been going thirty miles an hour and must suffer the consequences.

"Well," said Mr. Rockefeller, "I suppose I'm caught, but, as a favor, will you accompany me to my home, Pocantico Hills until I call up the justice of the peace? I am anxious to get home."

Bunsenmeier agreed, hopped into the car and was driven to Mr. Rockefeller's home on the hill, where the wealthy prisoner called up Justice Seth Bird at Tarrytown and told him that he had been arrested. He asked the justice if he could not fix the case up without his coming to court. The justice agreed, providing that the chauffeur was brought before him. This Mr. Rockefeller assented to and the chauffeur appeared before Justice Bird and was fined $25.

One Man Killed and Fifteen
Injured in a Bomb Outrage Yesterday.

The number of persons arrested in Odessa since the dissolution of parliament is approximately 300. One man was killed and 15 were injured in a shop into which the terrorists threw a bomb because the owner declined to contribute to the terrorists' funds, to which the principal merchants are contributing regularly so as to escape bomb outrages. The police are utterly unable to cope with the terrorists.

THESE BURGLARS OPERATED IN STRICTLY UP TO DATE WAY

Squirted Ether Through the Keyholes of Sleeping
Rooms and Then Robbed Occupants.

NEW YORK, N. Y., June 21--The confession of Chris Schang, a nineteen-year-old prisoner at the jail in Mineola, N. Y., will show, the police believe, the undoing of the gang of burglars, which for six months has terrorized the wealthy colonies of Nassau and Suffolk counties.

Schang named his pals and said that they had secured loot valued at between $50,000 and $60,000. About $20,000 worth of the plunder was recently recovered.

In describing the methods employed he said that when he and his two accomplices entered a house they would invariably squirt ether through the keyholes of the bedrooms in which persons were sleeping, so that the occupants might be affected by the fumes, and the robbers could conduct their operations without being disturbed.

THE TIMES NEW REPORTER

HIRAM DISAPPOINTED.

Mr. Hiram Hornbeam arrived in town this morning with a group of long-limbed youths and was much disappointed that there was not a ten mile run in connection with the sports on the Victoria grounds this afternoon. "I just made up my mind," said Hiram, "that we had some likely young fellows out to the Settlement that could lay over anything in these diggin's when it came to a long run. I don't call 'em they could get under way fast enough in a hundred yards or anything like that, but fer stayin' qualities you kin put a young fellow that's got a gal ten miles away from home up against anything on earth. I been there, so I know. By Hen! Many a time I jist tetchted the high places in a hurry to git home afore the old man got askin' questions about what kep' me out so late. I callate if it hadn't been fer mother he'd a found it out a mighty sight sooner'n he did. Well, we'll see the sports--anyway. An' if them Kings county fellas shows up well
