PROF. BELL IS PREPARING TO TAKE WINGS AND FLY

He Has Large Force of Experts at Baddeck Working on His New Airship.

HALIFAX, N. S., April 15—(Special)—"Prof. Alexander Graham Bell will not be a competitor in the race for flying machines for the Gordon Bennett cup which is to take place in Paris early this summer," says W. F. Bedwin, superintendent of Prof. Bell's kite laboratories at Baddeck.

During the winter the full force of experts have been employed putting together a large number of tetrahedrons, which in a short time will be placed in one piece, the whole body to form the body of an air-ship.

In a former air-ship that was experimented with on land, a covering of small triangles was made of silk, in future all trials will be conducted over water and a specially prepared oil surface will be used for all cloth that may be necessary to use in the work.

He says there are no deviations from experiments of former years. The general outline of the machine will remain the same. Practically the propelling power will be obtained by means of a specially constructed electric motor. This engine is of 20 horse-power, in weight far below that of the ordinary motor of the same power, and it is expected to send the air-ship along at the rate of six or seven miles an hour. No outside agency, such as gas, will be used in the trials to be made during the summer. The flight of the machine will depend entirely on the action of the air on the plane of angles assisted by the motor. Mr. Bedwin says it is ready to be placed in the water after the new motor is attached. After the trial is over on the lake surface the apparatus will be attached to the air-ship, and an effort will be made at flying with an operator aboard to look after the machinery and guide the ship. Professor Bell and family will arrive in Badeck early in June.

SUNDAY NIGHT BURGLARY

Access to the building was obtained by sawing one of the three-quarter inch iron bars in a grating over the window in Thorne's alley. J. H. McHugh, of Doherty & McHugh, was in his office up stairs and heard the thieves. He hurried down, but the noise he made frightened the marauders away.

VICTIM OF A SAD ACCIDENT

Edward Riley May be Totally Blind as Result of Blow From Snowball.

Edward Riley, who since the early age of five has been blind in one eye, is now at the age of twenty-five, in danger of losing the remaining optic by a blow from a snowball which he received last Thursday afternoon. Riley's home is at 118 Winter street, but he is at present in the public hospital, and attending physicians cannot say whether or not the sight of the injured eye can be saved.

Riley was born twenty-five years ago, and until about five years of age enjoyed the privileges of most other boys. At the age of four and a half years, while playing with some companions, one lad threw a handful of sand at a playfellow, who jumped to one side, and the sand went in Riley's face and eyes. He was placed in care of Drs. Fritz and Bruce, but at the age of thirteen the left eye became sightless and had to be removed.

Riley spent some time at the school for the blind, Halifax. His father, James Riley, died a few years ago, and Edward, later, secured work with J. S. Gibbon & Co.

Last Thursday afternoon, about two o'clock, Ward and Robert Stevens, also employed with Gibbon & Co., were going along Marsh street, Robert, the elder, is a teamster, and was standing in Riley's cart talking to him. Ward, it is said, was throwing snowballs at his brother, and just as a large snowball was coming with great force, he turned his head, and Robesrt, jumping aside—the missile struck him in the eye blinding him. He was taken to the home of his sister, Mrs. Frank Murphy, 46 Pond street, where he remained till his mother, who works at cleaning cars, came from work in the evening. She took him to the office of Dr. Fritz, who found the anterior chamber of the eye full of blood, and ordered the patient to the hospital.

Mrs. Riley, mother of the afflicted man, has refused to take action against Stevens, as she does not believe he acted maliciously.

Dr. Fritz says in such cases the eye has sometimes been saved. Edward Riley said yesterday he could tell when the lights were lit but could not distinguish objects.

NO RAFFLES IN CHURCHES

Rev. D. Hutchinson Says Churches Encouraging Gambling Should Close Their Doors.

In a sermon to the congregation of Main street Baptist church last evening, Rev. D. Hutchinson spoke of the evils of intemperance, licentiousness and the gambling habit. Speaking of the latter evil he said:

"It is even found in some of the churches.

"We blush for shame to find raffles and voting contests carried on in churches, their real name being gambling contests.

"Such churches," continued the speaker, in ringing tones, "had better close their doors and nail them up. Gambling is as black as hell—it is a menace to commerce."

The speaker then dealt with theatre going, and in support of the proposition that it was an evil, declared that plays which suggest passion and depict evil were more sought after than those of a healthy moral tone.

He also called attention to the pictures on the bill boards in the city, and said that the city council should prohibit such "vile, indecent, suggestive posters being placarded throughout the city."

LIVED BY CHEWING PIECES OF LEATHER

Crew of Nova Scotia Bark Trinidad Had Very Serious Experience.

NEW YORK, April 15—Among the passengers who arrived last night on the steamer Segurania from Santiago, Cuba, were six seamen who were wrecked in the British bark Trinidad.

The Trinidad left Santa Cruz March 28 with a cargo of mahogany. On April 1st she ran into a hurricane, which blew for two days with terrific force. The men were at the pumps all the time and as she had lost her masts and rudder she became unmanageable. The storeroom and cabin were flooded and all provisions were ruined. The men were completely exhausted and almost crazy from their sufferings. On the fifth day they were picked up and taken to Nassau by a sponging schooner. Capt. Christiansen and several others are still at the hospital. The others came to New York. One of the crew, said that when found they were chewing bits of leather. The Trinidad was built in Nova Scotia.
