THE CHECKER TOURNAMENT

Barker, the Champion of America, is Meeting Worthy Foeman.

BOSTON, March 21—The feature of the national checker championship today was the success of August J. Heffner of this city, in winning his way to the finals of the tournament by his defeat in the semi-final round of L. S. Head of Bronxville, N. Y. Three other players were still in the running for the championship when the play closed tonight. C. F. Barker and George Andrews of Boston adjourned their contest in the second round with a victory each and two drawn games. The winner of this contest which will be continued tomorrow will meet H. V. Reynolds of Syracuse, N. Y. for the right to play Heffner in the finals for the championship. Head and Reynolds by getting into the semi-finals will participate in the prize distribution in the major division, while the fourth man to obtain a prize in this division will be the winner of the Barker-Andrews contest, Heffner having already qualified for a prize.

Those who have still a chance for the three prizes in the minor division are Joseph Maize of Pittsburg; Harry L. Pigeon, of Lynn; Charles H. Pierce, of Minneapolis; Willis Hill, of Lowell and Zinck of Boston and the loser of the Barker-Andrews contest. Two players, Charles McKean of Salt Lake City and A. M. Klinka of Philadelphia were eliminated entirely from the contest yesterday.

Interest today centered in the match between Heffner and Head this afternoon. Heffner was fortunate in drawing an opening with which he was unusually familiar and continuing the game in a masterly fashion he was able to defeat the Bronxville player. As the two had played two drawn games yesterday and a fourth game tonight also resulted in a draw, Heffner was given a place in the finals.

ROLLER SKATING

Olive Defeated Hunter.

The second of the series of one mile races in the Queen's Rollaway between Olive and Hunter was skated last night and proved very interesting. The men seemed fairly well matched for the first nine laps. After that, however, Olive put on a spurt and won handily in 3.27. Both started at scratch.

The boys' race last night was also interesting. There were four starters—Dearborn, McGowan, Nixon and Gleason. All started off very evenly but McGowan fell in the second lap and Dearborn had the same misfortune in the third. This practically put these two competitors out of the race, although they pluckily continued to skate. Gleason won with Nixon second, the time being 1.58 2-5. The following were the officials: Fred Logan, starter; F. L. Potts and E. McCaw, judges; W. Campbell and B. Alward, scorers; Manager Mundee, timer.

THE RING

JEFFRIES GOING ABROAD

Right on the heels of the announcements to the effect that James J. Jeffries, the heavyweight champion pugilist, had gone broke and was waiting the arrival of Bill Squires, of Australia, to reimburse himself by fighting for a $30,000 purse, comes the apparently authentic statement that Jeffries means to go on a jaunt to Europe in company with his wife. An exchange says that Jeffries is out of ready cash there can be little doubt, but it is dollars to doughnuts that Mrs. Jeffries has a fat account in the bank. There can also be little doubt of the desire of Jeff to pound Squires for a few rounds for the pleasure of taking the major portion of a $30,000 prize. But Mrs. Jeff is known to object strongly to her husband returning to the ring and in the sudden announcement of a European trip may be read a little scheme of Mrs. Jeffries to remove her husband far away from the fight promoters of the coast, who are trying all they know how to lure the big fellow back to the roped arena.

ROBSON DOING WELL

Spike Robson, the little English feather, made good again in Philadelphia on Saturday night. After a severe trip of six rounds, during which he received a knockdown blow, the Briton managed to cut Young Erne up considerably. Robson's victory was complete, but it was a rough passage.

Robson will now await the coming of the newly elected benedict Abe Attell, who he will fight in Philadelphia on April 3. Attell will also meet, while on his honeymoon, Tommy O'Toole, and expects to clean up $2,500 on the two fights.

TENNIS

Will Meet Jay Gould.

Boston, March 21—Joshua Crane, Jr., of the Tennis and Racquet Club, of this city, by defeating Charles E. Sands, of the Racquet and Tennis Club, of New York in the finals of the national tennis championship today, won the right to meet Jay Gould, of New York, the present title holder, in the challenge match on Saturday.

The scores were: 6-2; 6-4; 4-6; 6-4. In order to win Crane was forced at all times to play at his top speed, and although he won the first set with comparative ease, his opponent was always dangerous until the last shot that was made.

THE STANLEY CUP

Wanderers and Kenora Will Play Final Game for its Possession Tonight.

MONTREAL, Q., March 22—(Special)—A despatch from Winnipeg says that the Wanderers and Kenora will play tonight for the possession of the Stanley cup.

Wednesday night's fiasco has been called no game and unless the teams otherwise agree, Friday's game will decide the possession of the trophy.

N. S. PRESS MEN IN ANNUAL MEETING

Halifax, N. S., March 21—The annual meeting of the Nova Scotia Press Association was held today. J. Murray Lawson, of the Yarmouth Herald, was re-elected president; H. G. Harris, of Kentville, secretary.

It was decided to change the date of the annual meeting, so that it be held in summer or early autumn, instead of winter, and that it should take place in any part of the provinces, not necessarily in Halifax, as hitherto.

The next meeting was scheduled for Yarmouth in October, and it was decided to ask the New Brunswick Press Association to co-operate so that the meeting might be made of mutual benefit to the press of both provinces.

A resolution was passed asking the local government to establish a permanent industrial exhibition of minerals and resources of the province, something on the line of the commercial museum of Philadelphia.

It was pointed out that Nova Scotia government's present immigration bill is the direct result of representations made some months ago by a committee of the press association.

There was a very good attendance of the members of the Y. M. A. of Exmouth street church last night to listen to a very interesting lecture by A. Gordon Leavitt on Things I Have Seen. Mr. Leavitt's subject was Birds and Bird Life and his remarks were followed with close attention. At the conclusion a hearty vote of thanks was tendered the lecturer.

CHANGES IN THE MILITIA CAMP

Recommendation That the Term be Sixteen Days Instead of Twelve.

Ottawa, March 21—The annual report of the militia department was presented to parliament today, it recommends 16 days in camp instead of 12. It says that the allotment of sixteen days to the field artillery has had a good effect. It says that the condition of the Royal Horse Artillery is not satisfactory. The matter has received the earnest consideration of the militia council, and steps have been taken which will, it is hoped, improve matters. At the same time it is but bare justice to state that officers and men of both batteries worked heartily and well at the Petawawa artillery camp, where for two months they were almost incessantly at work assisting the batteries of the active militia at their gun practice.

About field artillery, the report says: The 12 Pr. gun is being replaced in other armies by a more modern quick-firing weapon, a supply of the new 18 Pr. Q. F. gun, adopted for the British service, has been ordered from England, the delivery of which is shortly expected.

The acquisition of further guns, with a complement of ammunition, will still be needed for the field forces, but, beyond that, it is not considered necessary to add to the artillery for the existing forces.

HEART TROUBLE CURED

In the rush, hurry and worry of modern times, we overwork the heart. Is it any wonder then that there comes a breakdown of this wonderful little engine, when such a continued strain is placed upon it day after day. There are many forms of heart trouble and the slightest derangement of this important organ is extremely dangerous. To strengthen the weak heart it is necessary to use a remedy that will act upon the heart tissue, restore and revitalize it and at the same time tone up and invigorate the nervous system, we have such a combination in

MILBURN'S HEART AND NERVE PILLS

Mrs. Ella Dingman, Morganston, Ont., writes of her experience with them: "It is with the greatest of pleasure that I recommend Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills. I was troubled for a long time with my heart; I had weak and dizzy spells, could not rest at night, and I would have to sit up in bed the greater part of some nights, and it was absolutely impossible for me to lie on my left side. At last I got a box of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills and they did me so much good I got another box and they effected a complete cure. I have not been troubled with my heart since."

Price 50 cents per box or 3 boxes for $1.25 all dealers or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

BIG SMELTER FOR COBALT

Company Organized to Build One to Cost $5,000,000.

Ottawa, March 21—A company of Ottawa and New York capitalists has been organized and has applied for incorporation to build an electrical smelter for Cobalt district. On getting their charter the company propose to erect in Cobalt a $5,000,000 smelter, and they claim to be able to smelt and refine the ores at about one half the cost which is involved through the old process. It will be the first of its kind on the continent, and process is the invention of J. H. Reid of Newark, New Jersey.

In order to demonstrate its superiority the company propose to erect in Ottawa a small plant of twenty-four tons capacity per day. This plant will be in operation about May 1.

While electric furnaces are being successfully operated in Germany, the continuous separating process contemplated by the present company is a new invention, although a very simple one. About fifteen prominent Ottawans are interested in the project.

While the first plant in Cobalt district will cost about $500,000, other units may be added as the work develops. The site has not yet been selected, but it will probably be on Montreal river or near New Liskeard. The company is capitalized at $2,000,000.

Indigestion

Stomach trouble is but a symptom of, and not in itself a true disease. We think of Dyspepsia, Heartburn, and Indigestion as real diseases, yet they are symptoms only of a certain specific Nerve sickness—nothing else.

It was this fact that first correctly led Dr. Shoop in the creation of that now very popular Stomach Remedy—Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Going direct to the stomach nerves, alone brought that success and favor to Dr. Shoop and his Restorative. Without that original and highly vital principle, no such lasting accomplishments were ever to be had.

For stomach distress, bloating, biliousness, bad breath and sallow complexion, try Dr. Shoop's Restorative—Tablets or Liquid—and see for yourself what it can and will do. We sell and cheerfully recommend

ENGLISH TUNNEL PLAN KILLED IN PARLIAMENT

London, March 21—The revived project of tunnelling the English Channel received its death blow, at least for a long time to come, by the announcement of the government's well considered decision against the enterprise in parliament today. Premier Campbell-Bannerman, in the house of commons, and the Earl of Crewe, lord privy council, in the house of lords, made identical announcements to this effect, which were echoed and approved by Mr. Balfour, the opposition leader in the lower house, and Lord Lansdowne, the leader of the opposition in the upper house.

It is understood that the bill will now be withdrawn.

Ottawa, March 21—The labor disputes bill passed the senate tonight without amendment. It will be given the royal assent tomorrow, when the senate will adjourn until April 4.

WAR'S LATEST INVENTIONS

The French military airship La Patrie, made a remarkable trial fight of 33 miles from Noison to Meudon, near St. Cloud, recently. It accomplished the journey at a speed of 25 miles an hour, traveling practically against a wind blowing at 30 miles an hour. The airship had four men aboard, and Captain Voyer steered by a fairly direct route, but made many ascents and descents and rapid turns to test the navigability of the airship The great machine responded admirably, and the result of the trial has given great satisfaction to the military authorities in France. It also brings up the great question of, Has civilization made war less cruel? It is doubtful, except, perhaps, so far as the care of the wounded and the absence of killing for killing's sake are concerned.

In other respects war, if not more cruel, has certainly become, and yearly becomes, more and more terrible. For it is no longer a case of man against man, as in the days of old, but machine against machine. A man "hoist by his own petard" is now only a pawn in the frightful game between the engines of war devised by man to slay his fellow-men What could be more hoorrifying, even in imagination, than the torpedo cutting through the waves to seize its prey and stain the sea crimson? Or the silent, stealthy submarine thrown up as it were from the ocean bed instantaneously to end a thousand lives or more?

On land the sinister monstrous gun heaves itself over the parapet to fire its smokeless shot and then sinks back into its lurking place. The invisible storm of shot shell fills the air with impalpable, intangible but none the less sudden death.

But these are dangers the modern warrior knows of and is prepared to face, What of the new terrors "civilization" has in store for him? Some are already nearly perfect, if perfection can be mentioned in conjunction with such engines of destruction. There is, for example, the armored motor fort, which, like some great prehistoric beast, will run, cumbrously, but none the less swiftly, over the ground, an affrighting spectacle, belching fire and death, huge, horrible and invulnerable. Then there are improved war balloons and war kites, capable, in favorable circumstances, of well-nigh annihilating an army.

It is a large question endeavoring to forecast what invention may do for us within the next few years. Possibly airships may come into play. In war risks are run which people may not be inclined to hear of in peace. There is little doubt that the airship will be developed soon so as to be effective, but the risk will always be great.

It war it will be used and accomplish much in the way of intelligence.

The risk is great in submarines, and the one disadvantage lies in their practical blindness. We are yet to have bigger ships and faster destroyers for fighting purposes. We shall have more very large armored cruisers and numerous fast seagoing cruisers of medium size to patrol the ocean. One most pressing need is a mechanical contrivance for supplying the firing line with ammunition. It must, of course, be bullet-proof, capable of going over any ground and small enough to be a bad target for artillery. In the near future an aeroplane shooter will be wanted. It is difficult at present to hit even a captive balloon, and a swiftly moving aeroplane could at present observe the positions of fleets and troops with absolute impunity. This might easily decide the issue of great battles.

DR. DRUMMOND IN MERRY MOOD

Author of The Habitant Told Some Good Stories at Montreal Dinner.

The Montreal Herald in a report of the St. Patrick's society dinner says the following of Dr. W. H. Drummond's speech:

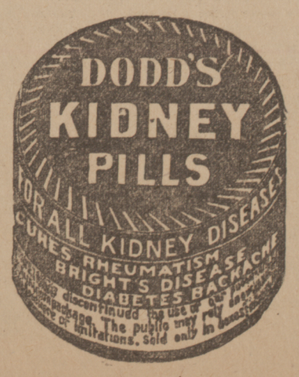

Dr. Drummond, when he rose to respond, was greeted with applause. He told his audience a number of good stories, and finished by reading a poem which he had composed for the occasion and which was very warmly received. All of his stories were illustrations of characteristics of the Irish race, as for instance the case of the man who was tried for murdering his father and mother, "a crime which is looked upon in Ireland as a very detestable one." The jury found him guilty, but strongly recommended him to mercy on the ground that he was an orphan. Illustrating Irish optimism, he told of the man who, failing to find work in San Francisco, announced his intention of going to Honolulu to look for a job. A friend remonstrated with him on the ground that in Honolulu the thermometer is 120 in the shade. "Well," replied the Irishman, "I don't expect to be in the shade all the time." As illustrating Irish clannishness, he told of a gentleman named Donnelly, who was a prize-fighter of renown in Ireland in the days of George IV. Having beaten everybody in Ireland, the prize-fighter was invited to England and in due time had an interview withe the King. "I suppose," said the King, you are the best man in Ireland?" Donnelly considered the matter for a moment. "No, Your Majesty," he replied, "there's many a boy in Ireland following the plow that could beat me. but I'll tell Your Majesty," added the prize-fighter, "I'm the best man in England." "And so he was," added Dr. Drummond.

By way of showing an Irishman's cleverness in repartee, he repeated a story told him by his brother about a watchman who, when going his rounds, found a door open. With a piece of chalk he wrote on the door, "I found this door open." Dr. Drummond's brother met the man next morning and said: "That's a strange way you have of spelling door." "Well," replied the watchman, "I don't know that it's my fault after all. I wrote it in the dark."

Again there was the man who was up for being drunk. His record was against him, as he had eighteen previous convictions against him for the same offence, but the prisoner was equal to the occasion and excused himself on the ground that his mother had weaned him on salt herring.

The last story told by Dr. Drummond was of an experience in Cobalt with three gentlemen, two of them of Semitic extraction and the third an Irishman from the old country. The Irishman got tired of the conversation and rose to go. Dr. Drummond accompanied him to the door and said to him, "We're over here in England helping with the hay." The Irishman thereupon, much to the astonishment of the two spectators, insisted upon presenting Dr. Drummond with a gold nugget which he had found in British Columbia when he made the strike that laid the foundation of his fortunes. "I have it yet," said Dr. Drummond, as he showed it hanging to his watch chain. The two spectators however, who found the Irishman shrewd enough in practical affairs, could not understand how Dr. Drummond had got his friendship so easily. "I repeated to them just what I had said to him," said Dr. Drummond. "They said they didn't understand, and I said, 'No, you don't and you never will.'"

U. N. B. WON DEBATE

Fredericton, N. B., March 21—The U. N. B. won from King's College in the debate at the Opera House this evening. The subject was "Resolved that a closer confederation with British possessions in America would be mutually beneficial."

Dr. Inch presided in the absence of the lieutenant governor, and the judges were Hon. C. W. Robinson, J. D. Hazen and W. H. Sangster. King's had the affirmative and the U. N. B. the negative side. The speakers were limited to fifteen minutes each and ten minutes was given each side in which to reply.

The different speakers were given a splendid hearing and advanced many strong arguments. Capt. Sherry, of King's, had the privilege of making the opening,as well as the closing speech.

The judges awarded the U. N. B. 685 points for argument and closing, against 717 for King's and for delivery 273 against 216 for King's. The totals were: U. N. B., 958; King's, 933.

The U. N. B. clearly had the best of the debate and the judges' decision was received with cheers.

At the close of the debate the visiting team, judges and other guests, including Rev. Dr. Boulden, president of King's,and Chancellor Jones were entertained to supper at Windsor Hall.

THE LATE DR. STOCKTON

The following resolution, passed by the N. B. Historical Society was yesterday, in engrossed form, forwarded to Mrs. A. A. Stockton:—

St. John (N. B.), March 18, 1907.

To Mrs. Alfred A. Stockton, Mount Pleasant Avenue:

Madam,—At a meeting of the New Brunswick Loyalists' Society held this day the following preamble and resolutions were passed unanimously:

"Whereas, the late Alfred A. Stockton, Esquire, D. C. L., M. P., etc., etc., has from the inception of the New Brunswick Loyalists' Society held the office of vice-president, the duties of which he discharged honorably and with satisfaction to the members of this society; and

"Whereas, he has for many years taken the deepest interest in the work of the society, at all times promoting its welfare and the objects for which it was organized by every means at his command; be it therefore

"Resolved, that we, the members of the said New Brunswick Loyalists' Society in special meeting assembled, do hereby record this expression of the great loss which we feel that the society and the community generally have sustained by the death of Dr. Stockton, who, prominent in this community, by reason of his legal and literary attainments, his integrity, honesty, probity and uprightness, was ever held by us in the highest esteem.

"Further resolved, that the historian of the society be directed to convey to the widow of the late Dr. Stockton a copy of the foregoing resolution, with an assurance of the deep sympathy of the members of this society for herself and family in the hour of their bereavement."

I remain, Madam, your obedient servant,
DAVID RUSSELL JACK,
Historian the New Brunswick Loyalists' Society.

SCOTCH TEA AND ORANGE GROVE

The Scotch tea and orange grove held last night in Calvin Presbyterian church was a great success. There were twelve tea tables besides ice cream, orangeade, fancy work and candy booths, all under the care of competent waitresses. The tables and the interior of the room were very handsomely decorated with colored bunting. The orangeade booth was surrounded with a miniature orange grove and, indeed, oranges entered liberally into the general scheme of decoration. There was a very large attendance and the waitresses had all they wished to do for a while.

The following were in charge of the tables: Mrs. Wark, Mrs. McGarrity, Miss Bruce, Miss Hetherington, Mrs. Semple, Mrs. Hayward, Miss Milne, Miss McKay, Mrs. Nason, Mrs. Hannah, Mrs. Love, Mrs. Hill, Miss M. Hill, Mrs. Benn, Mrs. McKenzie, Mrs. Coombs, Mrs. Walker, Mrs. Buchanan, Miss Buchanan, Mrs. McDermott, Miss Kelso, Mrs. Clark, Mrs. Murphy, Mrs. J. Robertson and Mrs. W. Robertson.

The following were in charge of the booths:

Ice cream—Mrs. Rippey, Miss Tweedie, Miss Flemming; orangeade, Miss Grace Clark, Miss Smith, Miss Semple; fancy work, Mrs. Rossiter, Mrs. Allingham, Mrs. Reed; candy, Miss L. Hayward, Miss G. McHarg.

An excellent programme of vocal and instrumental solos, duets, quartettes and readings was also presented, the following taking part: Misses Adams, Emily Roberts, Mildred Mitchell, Jean Hannah, Eileen McLean, Comben, Baskin, Dunlavey, Bessie Hill, Vi Buchanan, Gertie McHarg, and Messrs. Rippey and Cruikshank.

Fourteen candidates—seven male and seven female—were confirmed by Bishop Richardson in St. Paul's church last evening before a very large congregation. The bishop delivered two impressive addresses. Tonight there will be confirmation in St. Jude's church, Carleton.

Want A Dainty Bite?

Then just order Steak Pies. They're trouble savers. Take them home, heat them up—then eat them up. Really they're great! That's what everybody says! Same people come regularly for them every Saturday. Proof enough they're great. Made in the Old Country way, full of clear fresh steak. You be in for some tomorrow? If so, come early, they don't stay in the store long enough to get cool.

What Does Your Grocery List Say, Tomorrow?

Does one little line say Scotch Zest Bread? Then make sure there's enough sent home to last over; you know tomorrow will be Saturday, the next day Sunday. It's far better to order Scotch Zest Bread, because it keeps moist three days and besides, it's pure, sweet and clean.

Made just as good as ever by Scottie, and there aren't many who make better bread.
