FREDERICK, GRAND DUKE OF BADEN, DIED THIS MORNING

CONSTANTINOPLE, Grand Duke of Baden, Sept. 28.—The Grand Duke Frederick of Baden, who has been suffering from intestinal inflammation for some time past, after remaining unconscious for many hours, died at nine o'clock this morning. Throughout the night the cabinet ministers and the court officials and chaplains had waited in an apartment adjoining the death chamber, for the end to come. The public life of the deceased was for fifty years intimately connected with the efforts to unite the German states of the empire. He was born in Karlsruhe, Sept. 9, 1826, and on his accession to the throne in 1858, became Prince Bismarck's most able and energetic coadjutor, outside of Prussia, in the formation of the confederation. The grand duke, therefore, was regarded with veneration by this generation of Germans, and with him disappeared one of the few surviving statesmen of the Bismarckian period. His diplomacy resulted in bringing several of the minor German sovereigns to his views, that a union of the German states meant increased strength for all. When at length they all agreed on this subject, it became the late grand duke's duty at the dinner at Versailles, when King William of Prussia was proclaimed German emperor, to deliver a speech during

SIR THOMAS IS VERY ANXIOUS

Lipton Says He Will Challenge for America's Cup Under Old
Rules if He Can Get a Boat.

LONDON, Sept. 28.—After further consideration of the matter, the officers of the Royal Irish Yacht Club have decided, instead of sending a reply to the New York Yacht Club, to call a meeting of the Irish Club for October 2, at which the answer of the American club to Sir Thomas Lipton's recent challenge for the America's cup and what further action, if any, is necessary, will be fully considered. Sir Thomas Lipton expects to be present and will explain what he is anxious to do in order to bring about another series of races for the cup, namely, build a ninety-footer under the new American rule. He is so desirous of arranging for another contest that he said to the correspondent of the Associated Press that he believed after all he would challenge under the old rule if he could get a designer of note to plan a boat for him. He was afraid, however, that it was impossible to get a man whose boat would have any chance of winning, to do the work, as all those he had spoken to took the same view of the matter as William B. Ewart, who says it is useless to attempt to capture the cup with a freak boat which would have to be sailed across the Atlantic and, who, under no circumstances, will undertake to design such a yacht.

ONUS FOR THE JAPANESE INFLUX RESTS ON LAURIER, ASSERTS PREMIER McBRIDE

Mr. Borden and Party Enthusiastically Received in Kamloops, B. C., Last Night—Conservative Leader Thoroughly Satisfied With the Prospects of Success in British Columbia.

KAMLOOPS, B. C., Sept. 28.—(Special)—R. L. Borden, M. P., and a party consisting of Premier McBride, Messrs. Bergeron and Reid, addressed a large gathering here last night. Premier McBride dealt with the Asiatic question, placing the onus of the influx upon the Laurier government. He denied absolutely that he had counselled Governor Bannister to not to sign the Natal act. Other Asiatic legislation passed by the province was disallowed in Ottawa.

Mr. Borden was greeted with cheers. He dealt with the Grand Trunk Pacific contract and severely criticised the financial arrangements. He said the better terms question was not dead, as Mr. Templeman asserts, but was a very live one. Mr. Borden said he had promised in 1904 that British Columbia had a good case for an enquiry and he would see that it was done. That promise was still good. Dealing with the Asiatic immigration question, he said he would be guided by the wishes of the people of British Columbia, and hinted that the recent influx following upon W. T. R. Preston's advent to Japan was very suggestive.

Mr. Borden said the Conservatives now have a policy just as good as that with which they swept the country in 1878. He emphasized the work of the railway commission, but its jurisdiction was not large enough and his party would provide for it by a public utilities corporation. He expressed satisfaction at the outlook in this province and his reception.

WILL NOT GET THE DISCOUNT

Permanent Firemen Complain of a Grievance Against the Chamberlain.

Some of the permanent firemen are complaining because Chamberlain Sandall has refused to allow them the 5 per cent. discount on their taxes in the semi-monthly payroll to be disbursed on October 5. SLIGHT FIRE IN BIG COAL POCKET

The fire department was summoned this morning at 1:40 o'clock by an alarm from box 7 for a fire in one of the towers of the Dominion Coal Co's big coal pocket on the north wharf.

There were fifteen deaths reported at the office of the board of health during the present week as follows: From consumption and cholera infantum, two each; debility, inanition, pyæmia, meningitis, dila colitis, diabetic coma, bronchial asthma, catarrhal jaundice, carcinoma of liver, uræmic convulsions and accidentally smothered, one each.

Chamberlain Sandall says that he notified the men that the advantage of the discount could be taken in their last half-month's pay or it could be divided in the two pays for the month. Some had made arrangements to this effect and those who hadn't would not get the discount. It was too late now to make any different arrangement.

Chief Kerr and Ald. Bullock, chairman of the treasury board, called on the chamberlain to see if the matter could not be satisfactorily straightened out, but it is understood that the men can not receive the discount it is probable the matter will be brought up at the next meeting of the treasury board.

The fire department was summoned this morning at 1:40 o'clock by an alarm from box 7 for a fire in one of the towers of the Dominion Coal Co's big coal pocket on the north wharf.

The fire is thought to have started from the boiler, as the blaze was in the flooring under the boiler. The alarm was sent in by Wm. Rhoddy, the night watchman. Some difficulty was experienced in getting at the blaze, owing to the height of the structure but after about an hour and a quarter's work the flames were subdued. The damage was slight and will not interfere materially with the work. The building was insured.

McClellan Forces Hold Their Own After Riotous Day at the Polls

CROWD AROUND VOTING PLACE IN 11th DISTRICT.

NEW YORK, Sept. 27.—By cutting the majorities of the Murphy leaders in a dozen districts to the narrowest margin and overwhelmingly defeating the efforts of Murphy to deprive Maurice Featherston and Francis J. Lantry, followers of Mayor McClellan, at the primaries, made definite progress in their efforts to depose Charles F. Murphy as leader of the Tammany organization.

In the Twentieth district, where Murphy and the entire organization had centred its fire on Maurice Featherston, the Mayor's political representative, Featherston received a vote twenty-five times as large as that of the men opposed to him. Murphy's own candidate made definite progress in their efforts to depose Charles F. Murphy as leader of the Tammany organization.

Three candidates had been put in the field against Featherston and all the resources of the organization had been drawn upon to defeat him. When the amazing result of the election was announced the "silent leader" was cheered by a throng of several thousand persons who choked Seventy-ninth street, in which is club house is situated.

THE TIMES NEW REPORTER

NO LONGER A SECRET

It has leaked out that the real purpose of the city council in the movement to have the I. C. R. trestle pulled down and the Lower Cove slip opened up again is to provide a new hospital for the ferry steamers. Rodney Hospital must soon be utilized for other purposes, and as there is likely to be another addition to the ferry fleet within a year or two it is necessary to provide a hospital. Moreover, by utilizing Lower Cove slip Aid, Lewis would be able to have the derelicts under his eye all the time, and keep tabs on the boilers.

PLEASURE IN STORE.

ST. MARTIN'S, N. B., Sept. 28.—(Special)—Mr. W. E. Skillen announces that the leading feature of the October number of the New Brunswicker will be a series of photographs showing the Mayor's clerk in pursuit of the giant moose of McCumber Hill. It is further intimated that films will be prepared and that later in the season the great hunt will be a feature of the moving picture shows in St. John. The Mayor's clerk has received from President Roosevelt a hunting jacket and a set of rules to be observed when confronted by a bear. The weather is fine and cool.

Any gentleman with a grain conveyor concealed about his person is warned to give City Hall a wide berth—No. 5 wide.

Mr. Hiram Hornbeam is in the city today and purchased two barrels of cornmeal. He says that flour and oatmeal at present prices are too rich for a poor man's blood. He says, however, that the talk about a failure of the potato crop this year is all rot.

The Times new reporter is prepared to receive a few jokes on approval. His supply is running low and the winter is at hand.

THE CHURCH PITTED AGAINST THE STATE

PROVINCIAL OPPOSITION

J. D. Hazen, M. P. P., Has Just Returned from a Successful
Trip Through Queens Co.

President Roosevelt an Bishop of Lon- don Play Tennis

Match on White House
Grounds --- Editor of the Churchman Was the Only
Spectator Present.

J. D. Hazen, M. P. P., leader of the local opposition, returned home today from a trip through Queens county Messrs. Woods and Shipp, the candidates of the local opposition in Queen's county, have entered upon their campaign with vigor.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28.—A notable athletic event took place at the White House yesterday, when by special invitation of the president, the Right Rev. and Honorable Arthur Foley Winnington-Ingram, Lord Bishop of London, joined in a game of tennis with Mr. Roosevelt, Secretary Garfield, and Assistant Secretary Cooley. Messrs. Garfield and Cooley have long been members of the famous tennis cabinet. The bishop had been invited to play with the president and Mr. Cooley were their opponents. The game was kept a secret for several hours, the contestants approaching the tennis court from the White House proper and no visitors being admitted to Secretary's Loeb's office after four o'clock. The windows of Mr. Loeb's office overlooked the tennis court. The court is hidden from the view of passersby in the street, by a high screen of painted canvas, and there is no access to the grounds south of the White House. The only spectator was Silas McKee, editor of the Churchman, who with the lord bishop is a guest of the president. The aim and object of the match was to determine whether the side captained by the president of the United States or the distinguished prelate should win at least two sets out of three, and the play, which began shortly after four o'clock continued till about six. The outcome is not known, for all were cautioned by the president to say nothing about it, but it is certain that more than two sets were played, so the presumption is that the third set was necessary to decide the contest. All the calculations are that, as the lord bishop would say, was a tight match.

Last night at Briggs' Corner, in the Parish of Chipman, another opposition meeting was held. It was in the Grange Hall, and was universally regarded as the finest opposition meeting ever held in the parish of Chipman. It was equally notable from the fact that a large number of voters were present who were previously supporters of the government in recent elections, but are now strongly in favor of the opposition. The chairman of the meeting was Charles Baird, and addresses were delivered by H. W. Woods, A. R. Shipp and the leader of the opposition, J. D. Hazen.

At both meetings Mr. Hazen's criticisms of the way expenditures on the Central railway had been made and his outspoken condemnation of the government which had undertaken to extend the Central railway to Fredericton at an expenditure of $250,000 and had since then spent about $1,000,000 on the road and had failed to build to Fredericton, the object aimed at by the original act met with the strongest approval of the audiences. At both meetings Mr. Hazen was ably seconded by the treasury board, called on the chamberlain to see if the matter could not be satisfactorily straightened out, but it is understood that the men can not receive the discount it is probable the matter will be brought up at the next meeting of the treasury board.

JOE GANS WON OVER MEMSIC

Fast 20 Round Battle in Los Angeles Last Night.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Sept. 28.—Joe Gans again, last night, proved himself the premier fighter in the lightweight division, by defeating George Mensie in 20 rounds of fast fighting.

In the first round Gans hit Mensie on the nose twice, while Mensie could not get inside of Gans' long left. Mensie did all the rushing while Gans blocked every straight lead.

In the fourth round Gans got a left to the stomach and in the fifth he stayed on the defensive. The fourth round was the sixth, both landing blows. In the seventh Mensie brought blood from Gans' eye and put in three hard ones to the body. In the next round Mensie landed right and left to the jaw but Gans more than evened it up. The crowd hissed Gans in the ninth for hitting in the clinches. Gans held Mensie at bay in the eleventh with fast jabs to the body and toyed with him by rocking his head with lefts in the twelfth.

After a warning from the referee in the thirteenth Mensie stopped clinching. He rushed wildly at times and then steadied into blows that had little effect. Gans landed goods blows from round to round, but did not come near a knock-out.

In the last round Mensie forced Gans to jump away from his wild rushes, but in the last minute Gans landed a right with sickening force to the stomach which forced Mensie to cling to Gans' gloves to keep from falling.

Three candidates had been put in the field against Featherston and all the resources of the organization had been drawn upon to defeat him. When the amazing result of the election was announced the "silent leader" was cheered by a throng of several thousand persons who choked Seventy-ninth street, in which is club house is situated.
