

Murray, who had called at court several times for his liquor, was again disappointed.