PERSISTENT LIQUIDATION

Pressure by Presidents and High Officers to Sell Bank and Trust Co. Stocks.

(N. Y. Journal of Commerce.)

Very few people know anything of an interesting movement that has been going on ever since the March panic, namely, the persistent liquidation, privately, of bank and trust company stocks by presidents and other high officers in these institutions. The shares of banks and trust companies have fallen many points and the spell of selling has not yet run its course. The pertinent query is asked by handlers of bank stock: "Why are the heads and other officers of banks and trust companies disposing of their holdings?" As ever, the optimist has one reply, the pessimist another. The latter declares that the losses sustained by financial institutions were last month far more serious than the public are aware of and that consequently the shares are worth just so much less; the insiders knowing this, are selling before figures are published showing the actual position. So much for the pessimist.

The optimist cheerfully admits that there has been unusual pressure to sell bank trust company shares, "but," he adds, "this just shows how enthusiastic are the men who know what is what—they are letting go everything they have to buy Stock Exchange securities. Of course an opportunity like this seldom occurs. Standard stocks are selling away below their investment value, and at current prices they have great speculative attraction. Bankers realize this and are taking advantage of the bargains available. Other people will be sorry some day that they did not do the same. Look at the rise already since the slump; the man with nerve wins everey time."

Neither side suggests that perhaps these financial shares were quickly disposed of by needy institutions who reasoned that by so doing they would be able to make purchases that would help the general market. In other words, sentiment would be helped by bank buying and not seriously injured by unostentatious liquidation of unlisted non-active securities. It is just possible also that friends had to be taken care of and that in order to do so bankers had to dispose of private holdings.

J. S. BACHE & CO'S WEEKLY LETTER

NEW YORK, April 27—The feeling in regard to real money market conditions is evidenced by the return to short term notes. If money was easy, or at least normal, the railroads would dispose of bonds. The outpouring of Treasury funds has made the New York situation easy as to call funds only, but this has allowed the Bank of England to drop its rate to 4 per cent, inasmuch as the probability of gold importing has been dissipated. The Bank would have reduced to 4 long ago if the fear of losing its gold had not prevented.

The stock market is at present for speculators only, as far as any indications as to permanent advance is concerned. During the week prices have been hoisted, but they easily drop back and dullness begins again.

The fact that all bonds are cheap has for some time been the opinion of those who give thoughtful attention to such matters. The very high class issues are still especially inactive. Some attention is being given to bonds of less reputation, but still worth the consideration of the investor.

A number of bonds are today selling at prices far below those which good bonds bearing a like rate of interest ordinarily command. This would indicate, to a certain extent, lack of confidence in these securities by the general investing public. In the history of railroad development in this country the securities of a large majority of the roads have to pass through this transitional period, and it has frequently been the case that those who have had the courage to buy bonds during such periods have seen their option justified later by great increases in value.

It is a fact that many investors judge securities solely by prices. Often, the same people would purchase a 5 per cent bond at 100 who would not touch it at 80, though no such proportinate change in the conditions or prospects of the issuing corporation had taken place.

PRICE OF MONEY IS NOT A FACTOR

Crop News is Now Said to be the Chief Element in the Case.

NEW YORK, April 27—The price of money has ceased to be quoted as a factor in holding down stocks. Both abroad and here the financial situation has undergone radical improvement. The Bank of England's rate of 4 per cent is not excessive at this time of the year; during the last eight years 4 per cent has been the rate in the last week of April, 3 1-2 per cent was the figure last year, 2 1-2 per cent in 1905 and 3 per cent in 1904, and 1902. The bank's surplus is now 45 1-3 per cent, which is, under existing circumstances, comfortably above the danger line. The Bank of France is expected to shortly follow the example of the Bank of England, the Imperial Bank of Germany, the Bank of the Netherlands and the Bank of Bengal, and when the 3 per cent rate is restored in France the period of dear money may be said to have passed.

Exchange here was yesterday away below the export point, and no alarm need be felt over the possibility of our losing gold. The government has rendered all the help it promised and ere long an accounting will probably be called for.

Stock market sentiment, however, is not affected by money. Crop news is now the chief factor. Yesterday's reports were neither so alarming nor so optimistic as previous rumors, but the advance in wheat was noted by the stock market and perhaps taken too seriously in view of the fact that the manipulators of stocks have now turned their attention to the manipulation of farm products. The crop outlook is not unclouded, but, on the other hand, it would be ridiculous to thus early set down next harvest as a failure.

STOCK MARKET STILL IN A RUT

NEW YORK, April 27—The stock market continues in a rut, and nothing is in sight to dislodge it. Developments that would under normal circumstances exercise a beneficial influence upon securities are totally ineffective. Even were money obtainable at 1 per cent, it is questionable if stocks would show buoyancy. It is not that pessimism sits over the market; uncertainty, rather, is the keynote. Those who have stocks do not want to sell at heavy sacrifices, while those who would not be adverse to buying something are waiting for another decline. Just how long the inactivity and monotony will continue it is hard to guess. Curiously enough, we are now having a market entirely in keeping with what was diagnozed as desirable following the convulsions of the last few months, yet Wall street is bitterly dissatisfied. Panics are scarcely more objectionable to the street than is intense dullness.

THEATRES

AT THE OPERA HOUSE

This will be the final week of The Lyceum Stock Company in St. John and the management have arranged an attractive program for the farewell week. Tonight the great society drama "Aristocracy," will be presented with the entire strength of the company in suitable roles. Those who witnessed the opening bill, "The Charity Ball" will find in "Aristocracy" one of the greatest society plays ever written. The story is an intensely interesting one and deals with the smart set. The first act is laid in Monlo Park, near San Francisco, and the second takes place in London. The third and fourth acts are laid in New York city and a thrilling tale is stirringly told. Mr. Jelenko will be seen as "Prince Emil Von Haldowald" a foreign prince who has married a daughter of Jefferson Stockton, an American millionaire. Not content with securing the finacier's daughter and a fabulous dowry the prince takes advantage of the absence of the aged financier and endeavors to alienate the affections of his youthful wife. Mr. Jelenko will have splendid opportunities in the exacting role and Mr. Powell will enact the role of "Jefferson Stockton" the millionare. Miss Hicks will have a splendid role as Diana Stockton the young wife and Mr. Stepling should win additional honors as the Marquis of Normandale with the remainder of the cast well assigned.

Two new members will make their debut tonight, Milton Dawson, formerly of "The County Chairman" company will be seen in a dual role while Miss Florence Arno will take Miss Goodall's place in the cast—the latter being seriously ill. Scenic Artist Aiken has painted a massive production for this presentation. On Wednesday afternoon souvenir photos of Miss Goodall will be presented to the ladies. "Aristocracy," will be given on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday nights and Wednesday matinee. On Friday night and Saturday matinee a superb revival of "The Charity Ball," will be the offering. A reception will be held on stage in honor of Jack Butler at the Saturday matinee. The company will close their engagement here on Saturday night with a performance of "What Happened to Jones."

AT THE NICKEL

There are probably three features in connection with Keith enterprises that most impress their patrons—always the best amusement offerings, cleanliness in and about their theatres and the clock-like precision of attaches and the show itself—and these features are equally noticeable at the Nickel, which is now devoted exclusively to continuous performances of moving pictures and illustrated songs. For some time past the carpenters and plumbers have been busy in the building and in a day or two there will be added important accommodations in the shape of ladies' waiting and toilet rooms both in the theatre proper and in the assembly rooms.

The system of changing the programme twice weekly has proved popular and the constant stream of patrons in and out all day long is a revelation to every one but the Keith management themselves whose success with moving picture theatres in other towns has been almost phenomenal. And St. John bids fair to fall in line.

THE THAW-WHITE PICTURES

The motion pictures of the Thaw-White tragedy, together with more than 100 other specially selected films will be shown at the St. Andrew's rink on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday evenings, and Wednesday afternoon, when a ladies' matinee will be given. These pictures are among the finest ever seen here.

ITEMS OF INTEREST

Typewriting Bureau, 20 Canterbury St.

Since Ungar's Laundry installed its new carpet-cleaning machinery a few weeks ago, not one inch of carpet has been damaged, but made quite like new again.

The subject of "The Judgment" was presented in a clear and forceful manner, last night by Mr. Mitchell at York Theatre. Subject tonight: "God's Plan of Blessing," Illustrated by large chart. All are welcome.

Interest in the unique entertainment in St. David's school room this evening under the auspices and in support of the Free Kindergarten is general. Tickets have been placed on sale at Nelson's, Smith's, Wade's, Travis's, Hawker's, Brown's, Dick's and Paddock's drug stores and at Simonds's and Gilbert's groceries, so that all sections of the city can be accommodated. The entertainment is called a Toy Symphony and Wax Works exhibition and will be a most pleasing novelty in which some of our best known local performers will take part. The object is a most worthy one.

THE PORTLAND Y. M. A.

Portland Methodist Y. M. A. will in all probability figure prominently in sporting circles during the coming summer. As an organization it is one of the most enterprising in the city and besides athletic projects has planned other events of interest which will keep the members pretty busy for the entire season.

A fast base ball team will be put on the diamond and no doubt will be heard from with good report. The association will also figure on the cinder path as they have among their members some of the fastest local runners. There is some talk of aquatic events and there is good prospect of putting a football team on the gridiron, as they feel elated over the success of their basket ball team during the past winter.

Preparations are being made to fit out a first-class reading room which will no doubt prove a strong attraction to many of the older members.

The topic of interest at present is an excursion which the association will take to the Belleisle by steamer Champlain on May 24. Portland Y. M. A. will also hold an excursion to Gagetown, on Dominion Day by steamer Victoria.

The past season which is just closing has been, probably the most prosperous in the history of the organization in its five years of existence and today it is in a prosperous and flourishing condition with a very promising outlook for the future.

WATCHING THE CROPS

Perhaps the most commonsense stock market verdict on crop news was passed last week by Watson & Co., of New York In a letter to their customers they said: "While there has doubtless been considerable damage done by bug and unseasonable weather to growing grain, there is as yet but slight foundation for alarm as far as the market for securities is concerned, even should the loss so far prove as large as the most exaggerated stories place it, when one remembers the large surplus supply of wheat of last year's crop available and the higher prices that would undoubtedly be obtained for it if present reports prove true. It is future weather conditions in important sections which it is well to watch rather than to grow pessimistic over what has already occurred."

MARINE NOTES

The South African steamship Degama will probably be ready to sail on Tuesday for South Africa ports. She is taking away an immense cargo.

Two C. P. R. steamers left port yesterday, the Mount Temple, for London and Antwerp, and the Lake Erie, for Liverpool.

Norwegian steamer Kathinka, Captain Thorsen, arrived yesterday from Kingston, Jamaica, the steamer was eight days coming up to this port. The trip was uneventful, with the exception of one day had heavy wind and cross sea. She has on board a large cargo for Halifax.

A brigantine is getting to be somewhat of a novelty in these days, and before long they will be as obsolete as the Spanish Galleon. There is, however, a very tidy craft of this rig lying at the Railway wharf at the present time, she is the Lady Napier, Captain Richard, from St. John, to load lumber for Jamaica, shipped by A. D. Mills and sons.—Annapolis Spectator.

Captain Murray Lewis, who has been sailing mate of the tug George L., left for Yarmouth yesterday to take charge of the new passenger and freight steamer Ruby L., which was recently launched at Margaretville for the bay service between that port and St. John. She will make her trial trip off Yarmouth today and if everything is satisfactory will sail tomorrow for St. John to commence her regular sailings. We wish the new boat every success under the command of one of our most popular steamboat men.—Friday's Digby Courier.

MORNING LOCALS

The farewell service of the Seamen's Institute was held in the old Chipman house last night. There was a very large attendance of sailors and citizens, and a number of addresses were delivered reviewing the past work of the institute.

The quarantine launch while lying at the Ballast wharf, took fire Saturday night about 11.30 o'clock by the machinery getting overheated. The lining was burned off the boiler and also a considerable portion of the surrounding woodwork was destroyed as well as some parts of the machinery. Box 45 was rung in but the firemen were hardly needed as there were several barrels of water in a scow nearby and these were used.

Jost Marr, the two-year-old son of Rev. H. D. Marr, was painfully burned yesterday morning about the hands and legs. He was playing with a celluloid comb and his brother, Avard, was also in the bedroom. Avard found a match, and in lighting it, set fire to the comb. Seeing what he had done he told his father, who quickly hurried to the room, where he found the boy's night robe in flames. Mr. Marr soon extinguished the flames with his hands, and in so doing his left hand was slightly burned. On arriving, Dr. Day found that the child was not seriously burned. Mr. Marr was to have preached in Zion church yesterday morning but owing to the accident he was unable to attend.

CHICKEN CUTLETS.—Prepare a croquette mixture, using the formula given for chicken and sweetbread croquettes, but omitting the sweetbreads at choice. Form the chilled mixture into cutlet shapes, dip into the yolk of an egg and diluted with one tablespoonful of melted butter to each yolk of egg, then into fine breadcrumbs, disposed on a buttered baking pan, agate preferred, and reheat in a hot oven. Pipe a duchess potato mixture onto the edge of the cutlets, brush with beaten yolk of egg and reheat in the oven; fill the open centers with buttered peas or asparagus tips. The asparagus tips may be mixed with Hollandaise sauce. Note that the yolks of eggs only are used in egging and that the cutlets are not double breaded.

FILLETS OF CHICKEN WITH MUSHROOMS—Remove the fillets from the chickens, separating them into large and mignon fillets; remove the membrane from the large fillets and the tendons from the small fillets and trim neatly. Cut transverse slits in the upper side of each fillet, and in the larger insert pieces of truffle stamped into rounds, with the lower edge fringed, and tiny strips of truffle in the smaller fillets. Smoked and cooked beef tongue may be used in place of the truffles. Brush the fillets with beaten white of egg and dispose in a buttered agate baking pan; turn in a few spoonfuls of rich broth, or wine, and cook about 15 minutes, covered closely with a buttered paper. Sprinkle the fillets with a little salt before brushing with the egg. Dispose around a socle of fresh bread. Garnish the top with heart leaves of lettuce and surround the base with a veloute sauce, to which the trimmings of the truffles, chopped fine, and eight medium-sized mushroom caps sauted in butter have been added.

Will Bring You What Millions Have Used to Get Well.

If you need help, won't you accept it on such fair terms as these? Say, if you will, that the facts about Liquozone seem too good to be true. Doubt, if you must, that this product does what other means cannot accomplish. But remember that millions know better, because they have tried it. And for each one who says that these things can't be done there are thousands to answer, "They were done with me.'

We ask you to use what they used; to use it at our expense. Let the product itself convince you.

What Liquozone Is.

Liquozone is a tonic-germicide, the virtues of which are derived solely from oxide gases. No alcohol, no narcotic, nothing but gas enters into it. The process of making requires large apparatus, and consumes 14 days' time. The object is to so combine the gases with a liquid as to carry their virtues into the system.

The result is a germicide so certain that we publish with every bottle an offer of $1,000 for a disease germ that Liquozone cannot kill. It destroys them because germs are of vegetable origin. But to the body Liquozone is exhilarating, vitalizing, purifying.

That is its main distinction. Common germicides are poisons when taken internally. They are impossible, for they destroy the tissues as well as the germs. That is why medicine proves so helpless in dealing with germ diseases. Liquozone, on the contrary, acts as a remarkable tonic.

We Paid $100,000

For the rights to Liquozone, after thousands of tests had been made with it, after its power had been demonstrated for more than two years in the most difficult germ diseases. Conditions which had resisted medicine for years yielded at once to it, and diseases considered incurable were cured.

That was five years ago. Since then millions of people in every part of the world have shared in the benefits of this invention. Nearly every hamlet, every neighborhood, has living examples of its power. Now we ask you to let it do for you what it did for them.

Germ Diseases.

Most of our sickness has, in late years, been traced to germ attacks. Some germs—as in skin troubles—directly attack the tissues. Some create toxins, causing such troubles as Rheumatism, Blood Poison, Kidney Disease and nerve weakness. Some destroy vital organs, as in Consumption. Some—like the germs of Catarrh—create inflammation; some cause indigestion. In one of these ways, nearly every serious ailment is a germ result.

Such conditions call for a germicide, not for common drugs. Liquozone does what other means cannot accomplish. And it is wrong to cling to old ways when millions of people know a way that is better.

50c Bottle Free.

If you wish to know what Liquozone does please send us this coupon. We will then mail you an order on a local druggist for a full-size bottle, and will pay the druggist ourselves for it. This is our free gift, made to convince you; to let the product itself show you what it can do. In justice to yourself, please accept it today, for it places you under no obligations whatever.

Liquozone costs 50c. and $1.
