WALL STREET IS STILL IN A GUESSING MOOD

More Gold Exports --- The State of the Money Market--Bonds Are Much Depressed--Comment on the General Movement of the Market.

(New York Herald, Thursday)

Apparently the whole market hung upon the question of whether the government would or would not proceed against Mr. Harriman criminally. Reports of the preceding day were to the effect that the administration would drop proceedings. Yesterday's Washington dispatches were that a motion would be made in court soon to compel Mr. Harriman to reply to questions, which on the advice of counsel he declined to answer at the Commerce Commission's inquiry. Of course an issue such as this could only be influential in a purely professional market, such as that of yesterday. Were the question determined one way or the other Wall Street would in all probability find that harvest uncertainties, the position of the bond and investment market, threatened business contraction or some other factor that disturbed sentiment and checked public buying was disturbing the security market. Crop and weather advices, while mixed, were generally better yesterday. Wheat was irregular. Cotton eased off. A further engagement of $1,000,000 gold for export was announced, but these developments seemed void of influence.

GOLD EXPORTS AND EXCHANGE

Gold to the amount of $1,000,000 was engaged for export to Paris by Lazard Freres yesterday. The metal will go forward to France today, and make a total amount sent during the present movement of $6,800,000. Sterling exchange in Paris ruled at 25fr-12c but demand bills here ruled strong and a shade higher, at 4.8875 to 4.8900, which rate, together with the remission of interest by the Bank of France for gold in transit, still enables exports of Paris to be profitable. Other forms of sterling remittance ruled strong yesterday, with sixty day bills at 4.8863, ninety days at 4.82 1/4 and cable transfers at 4.8735 to 4.8740.

MONEY MARKET AFFAIRS

Call money ruled unchanged at 2 per cent. Time money was dull and easy for short dates and firm for the long maturities, but a somewhat easier tendency was reported. Time rates were quoted at 3 1/2 per cent for sixty days, 3 3/4 per cent for ninety days, 4 1/4 per cent for four months, 4 1/2 per cent for six months, 5 1/2 per cent for seven months and 5 1/4 to 5 1/2 per cent for nine to twelve months. On Sub-Treasury operation banks reported a loss of $640,000, making a total loss by banks to the government since Friday of $3,747,000. During the same interval last week banks lost $1,306,000 to the government. Customs collections were $790,517.

NEW BONDS AND NOTES

Bonds were depressed again yesterday as a result of some sales at very low prices for issues recently released by dissolved syndicates. Atlanta, Knoxville and Cincinnati division 4 per cents of the Louisville & Nashville system, which were underwritten at 98 1/2 and interest, sold as low as 88 3/4 Norfolk & Western, 4 per cent divisional bonds, underwritten at 96, were offered at 88, without takers. Syndicate participations in the Norfolk & Western $10,000,000 4 per cent convertible bond syndicate recently extended for six months were offered at 90, without takers. Southern Railway notes were particularly weak for some reason, and could be bought to net 9 per cent on the money. Erie notes could be bought on an interest basis of 8 per cent. Other notes were a shade better during the day.

GENERAL MARKET MOVEMENTS

There was very little of interest in the market yesterday, aside from the dividend increase on American Smelting and Refining Company stock, which went on an 8 per cent basis. This was followed by a 3/4 point break in the stock, which might have been construed into evidences of conservative action on dividends by professional traders. Apparently, however, some persons clung to the last to the stories of a possible ten per cent rate. The heaviness of the Harriman issue was easily referred to the Washington advices on the attitude of the administration on the question of prosecutions. The heaviness in United States Steel was ascribed to a revival of the agitation over defective rails. The weakness in Amalgamated Copper appeared to be sympathetic with the decline in American Smelting stock.

ITEMS OF INTEREST

The shingle sawyers and shingle bunchers have asked their employers for a ten per cent increase in their wages. It is the general opinion that the increase will be granted.

Housecleaning made easy. Phone 58, and ask Unger's how it's done.

The board of governors of Acadia University met yesterday and selected Rev. Wm. B. Hutchinson, of Lawrence, Kan., as president in succession to Rev. Dr. Thomas Trotter. The election was unanimous.

Typewriting Bureau, 20 Canterbury St.

Samuel George Haelet, of Eau Claire, Wisconsin, who has been away from the city for 31 years, as told by the times in a previous issue, arrived home yesterday.

The great money-saving sale of boots and shoes at Waterbury & Rising's Union street store started with a rush yesterday morning. All day long the store was thronged with people, and notwithstanding that a staff of eighteen persons were in attendance it was at times impossible to give attention to the crowd. The prices are so extremely low that many were heard to say that a whole family could be foot-clad for what it would ordinarily cost to buy a single pair.

At Macaulay's sale Monday will be offered beautiful Hamburg embroideries, umbrellas, art coverings, curtain muslins, art satens, cretonnes, curtains, men's house coats, smoking jackets, dressing gowns, bath robes, linen scrims, art curtain muslins, etc. One dollar will go as far as three at ordinary sales. Read the ad on page 8.

At a meeting of the members of Carleton Cornet Band, last night, Charles Hayes, bandmaster, tendered his resignation, which was accepted. Milton Perkins was appointed his successor.

CURTAIN SALE AT M. R. A'S, MONDAY.

Read Manchester's announcement of a sale of sample Irish Point and Nottingham lace curtains in the regular sales in this issue. The bargain flurry starts Monday morning at 8:30 o'clock in the Housefurnishings Department, and will be augmented by some exquisite lace bedspreads in Renaissance, Guipure d'Art and Marie Antoinette patterns. These, too, at cut figures. Read the advertisement.

David Conkey met with a painful accident yesterday. He was working about Gorham's meat factory, Main street, when the knife came down and severed all of his fingers and the thumb on one hand. He was taken to the hospital. Conkey lives at 22 Main street.

CUSHING GOES SAYS COUNCIL

Warm Discussion at Interesting Council Meeting Held Yesterday.

At a special meeting of the common council yesterday afternoon, the report of the board of works recommending that R. H. Cushing, director of public works, be returned from the service of the city forthwith was confirmed after a warm debate. The opinion of the recorder was taken as to the city's liability for damages, but publication of his remarks was not permitted. The subject from a legal standpoint is dealt with elsewhere.

By resolution the consulting engineer was empowered to act temporarily until a successor is appointed. An offer from the Y. M. C. A. to present the Chipman house to the city if the building was removed within ten days, was declined with thanks after a close discussion on motion of Ald. Kelley who described the historic building as a "ramshackle old trap."

The report of the water and sewerage board giving F. A. Barbour's recommendations as to laying new and larger mains in certain sections of the city was passed. Ald. Frank chairman of the water and sewerage board was requested to ascertain what remuneration Engineer Barbour would expect for his services in connection with the redistribution system.

The discussion on the matter of dismissing Councilman Cushing brought out some spirited remarks from Ald. Haney and Ald. Lewis who championed the director's cause.

LIFE CHANCES OF AN ACTION

There is quite a difference of opinion among city lawyers as to whether or not the city is liable for the salary of R. H. Cushing who was dismissed from the position of director yesterday. Some of the legal men claim that Mr. Cushing can collect his salary for seven months despite the fact that the appointment was made "at the will and pleasure of the council," as it is argued some adequate cause for the action would have to be shown. Among the names mentioned as possible successors to the position are F. W. Holt, George Waring, H. G. Hunter and W. Z. Earle.

QUEEN'S ROLLAWAY REOPENING TODAY

The Interior Transformed and More Attractive Than Ever.

This afternoon when the Queen's Rollaway Rink will reopen to the public after a week of thorough renovating and elaborate decoration, it will present the aspect of a mid-summer fair, completely transforming the familiar interior into a bower of bunting, oriental lanterns, prettily contrasted by the white ceiling paint and new hardwood floor.

A thoroughly new managing Queen's Rollaway has expended no small amount of cash in bringing about these radical improvements and patrons of the popular resort from now henceforward will doubtless enjoy their skating fun much more fully, particularly now that the summer season is here, when roller skating, bareheaded, is so very enjoyable.

As well as the ceiling and wall trimmings, a great deal of nice paint has been expended on the lobbies and exterior of the building, making the rink an attractive place to pass the time.

A thoroughgoing system of ventilation has also been arranged, so that the warmest day will be no hindrance to the full indulgence in the wheel-sport. The 62nd Band will render a choice programme of popular airs for evening patrons which is to be the order of things at regular intervals throughout the week, as per newspaper announcement, and next week the grand attraction will be Rockless Rollaway, a trick cyclist and roller skate wonder, whose act is participated in by Miss Fannie Light, considered the queen on roller skates. These vaudeville artists are known in every theatrical centre, their act being an exclusive and high priced one. Rollaway patrons will certainly appreciate the attraction, which is now filling the big, new rink in Quebec city every performance.

As usual, Queen's Rollaway will have an efficient and polite corps of attendants.

BRIGADE BOYS CLAIM SHABBY TREATMENT

A march-out was held last evening by St. Stephen's Company Boys' Brigade with Col. Ogilvie as the inspecting officer. The juddies turned out 50 strong and the march taken was up Garden street to Coburg, along Charlotte and down King to Market square, where the members went through portions of their drill, then marched back to their rooms by way of Prince William, St. James and Charlotte streets.

During the march the boys say they were much annoyed by the action of two young men named Walsh and Hamilton, who were driving the mail team and it is claimed persisted in driving through the ranks and though cautioned by the police one is said to have held the boys up in the middle of King street by refusing to drive on.

Col. Buchanan, who devotes considerably to the training of the Boys' Brigade, says that he will not let the matter rest but will see what street rights the brigade has.

CZAR'S GUARDS WERE IN REVOLT

ST. PETERSBURG, June 6.—The Fourth Squadron of the Hussars of the Guard, stationed at Tsarsko-Selo, to which place the imperial family had just removed, revolted against the strict discipline which recently had been instituted by a new commander. The trouble for a time threatened to spread through the entire regiment, but the mutinous troops were promptly surrounded and disarmed by other troops and order was restored without bloodshed. The ringleaders have already been turned over to a court martial.

The news of the mutiny at Tsarsko-Selo was received during the weekly reception of the Foreign Minister, M. Isvolsky, of the diplomatists and caused considerable apprehension, the first news reporting the affair to be far more serious than the revolt of the soldiers of the Preobrazhensky regiment in June, 1906. The officers of the Hussar regiment say that the outbreak was not political.

Ottawa, June 7.—(Special)—William Barnaby Robertson, of St. John, has been gazetted a preventive officer in his majesty's customs.

BRITISH PREMIER TO WED

London, June 6.—According to rumor, the people of Great Britain are on the eve of a great social sensation and the voice of indignation will be loud in the land.

Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman has coquetted with Ireland, but, according to whispers in political circles, he has more serious intentions on another damsel. The matter is freely talked about in the lobby of the house of commons and in political clubs, but so far the only reference to it in cold type has been in the Liverpool Courier, which says:

"A popular and exalted light of the Liberal party and a right honorable gentleman, as prominent in their councils as in the government, is about to re-enter the blessed state of matrimony under quite romantic circumstances. In order to obviate what might be a very general deduction by outsiders, it should be stated that the gentleman in question is well advanced in years."

Lady Campbell-Bannerman died last August at Marienbad. It is said that the woman who nursed her through her long illness will be the second wife of the premier, who is now 71 years of age.

In political inner circles it is being referred to in a shocked tone, in an indignant tone and in a sorrowful tone. Possibilities are that the marriage will shatter the Liberal party, and that "C."

R. will be "banished" to the house of lords.

Also, the irony of fate has never been more caustic. It looks as if Great Britain was about to experience a fresh illustration of what Lord Beaconsfield said, that "The most ridiculous of all imaginable sights is the British public in one of its fits of indignant righteousness."

OBITUARY Mrs. Wm. C. Myers

The death of Mrs. Mary Myers, wife of William C. Myers, of St. John, N. B., took place yesterday after a short illness. Deceased was twenty-nine years of age and came to St. John six years ago, her native place being Joggins Mines (N. S.). Much sympathy is felt for the young husband in his sad bereavement, as the young woman was one who had endeavored to do all by her pleasant disposition and amiable character. Besides her husband Mrs. Myers is survived by three brothers, all of Nova Scotia; and two sisters—Miss Ella Burgess, of Halifax, and Mrs. John Flynn, of Boston.

Mrs. Craig Parker

Mrs. Sarah Parker, wife of Craig Parker, of Public Landing, Westfield, died Friday afternoon at her home there, aged eighty-two years. She had been failing for some months, though previous to that enjoying excellent health. Mrs. Parker is survived by her husband, two sons—Charles, at home, and Manks, of Westfield; four daughters—Mrs. Hattie Lawton and Mrs. George Miller, of this city; Mrs. William Campbell, of Westfield, and Miss Mary Parker, at home—and one grandchild—Miss Alice Parker, at home. Many will be sorry to learn of Mrs. Parker's death and will extend sympathy to the bereaved family. The funeral will be at Public Landing Monday at 11 a. m.

Rev. Gregory O'Bryan

Dr. R. F. Quigley received a despatch from Montreal yesterday announcing the death of Rev. Gregory O'Bryan, S. J., Thursday night. Father O'Bryan had his death in good health for some time, but his death had not been looked for. Only a few days ago he presided at a public dinner of graduates of Loyola College, an institution with which he was connected. Members of the cathedral congregation who have attended missions at which Father O'Bryan preached will hear of his death with regret, for they had great admiration of his ability, and knew his great zeal and devotion. A native of Halifax, Father O'Bryan was between fifty and sixty years of age. Mrs. Wallace, of Halifax, wife of Judge Wallace, is a sister. Mrs. P. D. Quinn, at one time a resident of St. John, and Miss O'Neill, her sister, both living in Montreal—are aunts of the deceased.

BEWARE OF PERFUME

(New York Commercial)

Men in business have formed such an antipathy to the man who uses perfume or has his barber put anything on his hair that they have no qualms in it that many men who don't know this is unable to connect with good jobs which might be theirs if they did know it. Even the women have become affected. In more than one large business house the stenographers have been asked to forego dousing a lot of scent upon their handkerchiefs or blouses. A slight trace is not disagreeable, but in some cases even the smallest vestige is objectionable. This applies to the women. To the men the slightest shadow of it is fatal.

It was only the other day the manager of a house in which many men are employed was examining an applicant for a position. The applicant was neatly dressed, had a pleasing, although a slightly bold, appearance, and talked correctly and intelligently, although a trifle egotistically, says the Chicago Tribune.

Suddenly the manager, who had seemed to be weighing in his mind the merits and demerits of the applicant, said: "Sorry, but we can't use you." "Could you tell me why?" asked the applicant; "perhaps if I were given an opportunity—"

"That's just the trouble," he said. "You were given an opportunity, and you rejected it."

"But I've been given no opportunity," said the man, not knowing what was meant.

"Yes, you were," answered the manager; "you've been given an opportunity to cover yourself with cheap perfume and to let chance your most generously have availed yourself. We can't use walking perfume bottles."

Other managers took the same view. They said that the day of the scented business man has gone by. They also said that their experience taught them that the man who used perfume was likely to spend in thinking about himself time that he ought to give to his work.
