PUMPED HIS BLOOD INTO WIFE'S VEINS

Mrs. Anderson of Philadelphia, Dying from Anaemia, May Now Live as the Result of a Transfusion of Blood from Her Husband's Veins to Her's.

NEW YORK, March 30—For the first time in this city, transfusion of blood was resorted to yesterday to save the life of a patient, says a despatch from Philadelphia. Mrs. Anderson was dying from anaemia in the Polyclinic hospital. The doctors decided on a bold stroke to save her life, and the husband of the dying woman cheerfully permitted a quantity of his blood to be pumped into his wife's veins.

The woman was brought back to consciousness and now has more than a fighting chance for complete recovery. Anderson, himself, though weakened by loss of blood, and the ordeal of the operation, soon rallied, and bids fair to be himself again in a few days.

Anderson was anaesthetized and the pulse artery in his left arm was severed. The large vein in Mrs. Anderson's left arm was severed and the artery of her husband was inserted in the incision. For an hour the man's heart pumped blood into his wife's veins. Then the arteries were loosened and the proper connection made.

THE EMPRESS OF BRITAIN

Big C. P. R. Liner Docked This Morning With 1465 Passengers.

The royal mail steamship Empress of Britain from Liverpool via Halifax arrived off Partridge Island early this morning and came up to her berth on the west side about 10 o'clock.

The trip across the Atlantic to Halifax was quite rough at times, but the big steamer came through all right except for one day when the engines had to be eased down for some time, otherwise the trip across was uneventful. The steamer has on board one of the largest bokings of immigrants ever brought to this port by the C. P. R. line. There were 162 saloon, 465 second cabin and 838 steerage passengers, making a total of 1465 souls.

The immigrants are mostly English and Irish. Many of them are well to do and are going to the great west. There was very little sickness among the passengers. Only twenty-one passengers landed at Halifax.

Capt. J. A. Murray is in command, W. Webber, the purser stated that the passage was a good one taken as a whole. It will take the Canadian and United States immigration officials all this afternoon to inspect the large number of passengers. Quite a number of them will go to the United States, but the most of them are for western Canada. Among the passengers are a number of Salvation Army immigrants and Army representatives are looking after them.

William B. Howard, C. P. R. passenger agent says all of the immigrants will get away tonight before 12 o'clock.

WILL COME IN A BUNCH

Good Crop of Civic Candidates Expected Next Week.

It is expected that next week will see a big list of candidates for civic honors in the field. Nomination day is only nine days away now, and the indications are that nearly all the present aldermen will be opposed.

Ald. Vanwart has decided that he will again be a candidate for Dukes ward. He had almost made up his mind not to offer again, but at the solicitation of a large number of his friends he has consented to stay in the fight.

Ald. Sproul said this morning that he had not decided yet what he would do. There has been some talk of his offering for alderman-at-large.

It was reported this morning that Ald. Lewis was thinking of retiring and that his son, James Lewis, would be a candidate for Sydney ward. It is almost certain that there will be opposition there.

There is talk of Joseph H. Mosher or Israel E. Smith being brought out as opponents to Ald Tilley in Guys ward. W. D. Baskin will also be a candidate for Guys.

Several combinations will without doubt be sprung next week, as a quiet but determined effort is being made to make up slates by well known ward heelers.

A. H. Chipman arrived in the city today from Pittsburg, Pa.

Miss Grace Estabrooks returned from Fredericton today.

OVER THE HOT SANDS

Mystic Shriners Have Ceremonial Session--Thirty-three Candidates Initiated.

There were great doings at the York assembly rooms on Thursday evening, when a ceremonial session of Luxor Temple, Mystic Shrine, was held and thirty-three candidates were initiated into the mysteries of the order. The pilgrims come from all over the maritime provinces and, according to report, their journey over the "burning sands" with the ever thirsty camels was an event never-to-be-forgotten. Some two hundred of the faithful were on hand to assist in making the pilgrimage enjoyable for the novices. A large proportion of the new members were local men. The membership of Luxor Temple is now about four hundred.

It is probable that the next session of the temple will be held at some point up the St. John river, the exact spot not having been selected yet. Wherever it may be the gathering will likely be a memorable one.

EASTER MARKET

Business Was Brisk This Morning and There Was An Excellen Display.

The country market was thronged with buyers this morning, and there was a good display of produce of various kinds. Despite the fact that Easter comes early this year the offering of early vegetables and meats is fully up to other seasons.

J. E. Quinn makes a fine showing of early vegetables, consisting of cauliflowers, beets, greens, spinach, cucumbrs, tomatoes, rhubarb, sweet potatoes, cranberries, celery, lettuce, radishes, parsley, etc. Mr. Quinn also has some very nice strawberries. Potted plants are shown in great profusion and the vari-colored blooms made a brilliant showing.

S. Z. Dickson's meat stall presents a fine appearance with carcases of fat western beef, spring lamb, veal, poultry, etc., as well as a full stock of vegetables. Mr. Dickson's display is fully up to the usual Easter showing.

F. L. McLean

Word reached the city yesterday afternoon of the death of F. L. McLean at his father's residence at "the Range," Grand Lake. Mr. McLean, who was 30 years of age, had been in ill health for some time. He was very well known by the citizens at Indiantown, who will regret to hear of his early death. Mr. McLean was unmarried and resided with his father.

AUCTIONS

Today's auction at Chubb's corner was rather slimly attended and the bidding was slow and light.

Auctioneer Lantalum offered for sale $1,000 Stanfield, Limited, 6 per cent gold bonds, which were withdrawn at 90.

Horticultural Society 4 per cent. bonds to the amount of $2,000 were also put up but were withdrawn at 93.

Some 3 1-2 per cent city school bonds were also withdrawn at 88 1-2.

A party of north end gentlemen went up the river Thursday on a wild goose chase, and one of the number, George Colwell, succeeded yesterday in dropping a nice sized goose.

MAGISTRATE SCORES GOOD FRIDAY DRUNKS

"You're a Nice Lot" Was His Honor's Message to Them This Morning.

"You're a nice lot and you ought to be ashamed of yourselves!"

This remark was made by Judge Ritchie when disposing of the Good Friday drunks at this morning's session of the police court.

John McNamara had taken "only fiveq glasses of ale," but his honor thought it was hardly the thing for Good Friday, and fined him $8 or thirty days in jail.

Patrick O'Donnell was fined $8 or thirty days for being drunk on Mill street. He said he was about to sail for "the Cape," but his honor remarked "I don't think they want you even there."

Michael Cosgrove, admitted a charge of drunkenness. He had a ticket for Alberta, but was fined $8 or thirty days.

Mario Perry forfeited a deposit of $8 for drunkenness.

Mary Degan was fined $8 or two months on a similar charge.

James Barry, arrested on Main street last evening for refusing to move on when ordered to do so by Policeman Henry pleaded not guilty. The officer stated that Barry had come out of Quinn's bar room and his condition was such that he (Henry) advised him to go home or into an alley. He refused to do so and was consequently arrested. He was released later on a $50 deposit. Barry said he was not drunk at the time of his arrest, which he seemed to think was unjustified. The case was temporarily set aside..

Neile Frankie, arrested for being drunk was asked if he was a Christian and replied in the affirmative. His honor told Frankie he had put the question to him to see if he was any exception to the rule, and remarked that all claimed to be Christians.

The case of the C. P. R. against a young man, charged with stealing a jar of cheese from a C. P. R. car in No. 1 shed at Sand Point also came up and was postponed till Monday at 11 a. m. owing to the illness of Mr. Gilliland, one of the witnesses.

WESTERN MEN AMAZED AT ST. JOHN'S HARBOR AND SHIPPING TRADE

Members of Parliament From the Canadian West Had Their Eyes Opened by a Further Inspection of the Port's Facilities Today.

The western members of parliament have an interesting programme mapped out for them today. At 10 o'clock this morning they made an inspection of the I. C. R. terminals, and were accompanied by L. R. Ross.

At 11.45 they went over to the west side and lunched at 1 o'clock on the Empress of Britain, and at 5 o'clock this afternoon they will be given a clambake by John Long, warden of the municipality, at the breakwater.

The members enjoyed the trip very much about the I. C. R. terminals. They were first taken out to the new island yard, and also inspected the workings of the new round house. They then returned to the depot and were taken down to the Ballast wharf and up around the branch, visiting the I. C. R. piers at Long wharf.

When seen by the Times after they had inspected the terminals, the members expressed their great surprise at the splendid facilities here.

A. J. Adamson said that the business prosperity in St. John was remarkable. He had no idea of the shipping trade carried on at this port, and before his visit he had a very erroneous idea of the value of the St. John harbor. After hearing so many poor reports of the harbor he was surprised to come here and find such a fine one. Mr. Adamson said that it was very important that St. John should have all the facilities necessary, principally on account of the freight, etc., shipped from the west.

Senator Young and J. E. Cyr said that the more they saw of St. John the more they were convinced that it was one of the finest ports in Canada. Both gentlemen said that it required many improvements, which should be made immediately.

Mayor Sears, and General Superintendent Downie of the C. P. R., accompanied the members in their car to the west side, where they visited the big C. P. R. yards at Bay Shore, the new round house, the big apple warehouse and the wharves and warehouses at Sand Point. They were then taken on board the C. P. R. Empress of Britain and were escorted about the big steamer. By one o'clock they sat down to an excellent repast provided by the C. P. R.

CITY GRANTS $1,000 TO CHAMPLAIN MONUMENT

Ald. Sproul and Ald. Holder Are the Only Two Who Opposed the Grant---Monument is Assured---Assessors Appointed for Next Year.

(See also page 11.)

At a meeting of the common council this morning it was decided to make a grant of $1,000 toward the Champlain memorial fund.

The board of assessors were re-appointed.

There were present at the meeting: Deputy-Mayor Tilley (presiding), Ald. Baxter, Holder McGoldrick, Rowan, Christie, Lewis Bullock, Willett and Sproul.

The following report from the treasury board in reference to the appointment of assessors for the ensuing year was read:

"Your board recommend that Uriah Drake and Richard Farmer be appointed under the provisions of The Saint John City Assessment 'Law, 1889' and amending Acts, Assessors of Taxes for the City of Saint John in the present year to constitute with the Chairman, Arthur W. Sharp, the Board of Assessors of Taxes of the City of Saint John."

This report was adopted.

Ald. Bullock brought up the matter of making a grant toward the Champlain memorial fund. He referred to the splendid amount that had been raised by subscription, and also that the provincial government had granted $1,500. He thought the city should do its share. He then moved that the city of St. John make a grant of $1,000 toward the fund.

Ald. Rowan seconded the motion, also speaking of the large amount already raised.

Ald. Willett raised the question as to whether this morning's meeting had power to deal with the matter or not. He thought, perhaps, it had better be left over until Monday's meeting.

Ald. Bullock said his only reason in bringing the matter up now was to save delay and facilitate the contract being awarded to the sculptor.

Ald. Sproul asked if it was $1,000 discussed at the meeting before, or $500.

The chairman replied that $1,000 was the amount suggested.

Ald. Holder thought they should'nt give the people's money away in this way. The amount ought to be raised by subscription. He thought the money could be raised without the city making a grant. He would vote aginst it.

On the motion being put, it was carried. Ald. Sproul and Holder being the only one's opposed.

Ald. Vanwart arrived just as the meeting adjourned and expressed himself as greatly pleased at the action taken. He hoped the monument would be erected on the Queen square.

The river people, who have been travelling on the ice lately, state that navigation will not begin for three weeks yet, and then only if the weather continues mild. The ice is still very thick, which is owing to the severe winter. The river steamers are being painted and their engines are being repaired. The May Queen is getting new carpets and new furniture for her saloon.

A few days ago the Times told of the dreadful experience that J. Purdy, Dr. H. B. Nase and Robert Maxwell had in the last big storm, while driving to "Disappointment" Lake, and of the accident which occurred to one of Mr. Purdy's horses by falling over an embankment. Mr. Purdy brought the injured animal from Floyd's last night to the train, by hauling her on a sled, as the cut in her left fore-leg is a very severe one. Mr. Purdy walked the animal to his barn from the train this morning.

James Barry, arrested for refusing to move on when ordered to do so by the police, was cautioned and allowed to go

In the morning King Hall's Te Deum" will be sung and during the offertory Holden's "Easter Triumph" will be rendered. In the evening the choir will sing Morley's Evening Service.

April 20 is the date arranged for hearing of applications for county liquor licenses.

THE TIMES NEW REPORTER

BIRDIE'S ANXIETY.

The lovely Miss Birdie McWhat telephoned to the Times new reporter this morning to enquire about the weather probabilities for tomorrow. She enquired six times, and was finally referred to Director Hutchinson of the Observatory. Two hours later the Director called up this office and said things. He wanted to know if the Times thought this was the First of April, or if the staff thought it was a neighborly act to give his telephone number to a lunatic. The new reporter explained to Mr. Hutchinson that tomorrow is Easter Sunday; that today is overcast; that the querist in the case is the beautiful Miss McWhat, and that the fair Birdie has a new Easter hat. The explanation, Mr. Hutchinson said, was entirely satisfactory.

DIDN'T KNOW CHAMPLAIN.

There was considerable talk at City Hall this morning before the question of a grant of $1,000 for the Champlain monument was brought up. Opinion was much divided.

One alderman declared that the name of Champlain did not appear on the voters' list in St. John, and he questioned if there were a dozen people in the city who ever saw the man. Besides, he was a Frenchman, and no doubt favored the dual language.

Another alderman said that he could not find out anything Champlain ever did for St. John, and there was a hole in the sidewalk in his ward. He was opposed to monuments outside of the cemetery.

As the mayor was not present with a paper on the subject it looked for a time as if the grant would be shelved, but in the end only two aldermen opposed it. Nevertheless, the late Mr. Champlain had a close call.

A man who was caught with a pick in his hands this morning trying to open a gutter and divert the stream that flowed over the sidewalk was arrested for a deliberate attempt to interfere with the course of nature. He will spend Easter in jail, as the miscreant deserves to do.

CHARGES OF GRAPE SCATTER PEASANTS

Troops Are Gaining Upper Hand in the Roumanian Revolution - - - Women Fighting in Peasant Ranks, Beside Their Husbands, Sons and Brothers.

BUCHAREST, March 30—Field guns loaded with grape shot, are winning against the revolutionary peasantry, whose arms are mostly hay-forks and scythe blades. The insurgents were able to hold their own against the troops at close quarters and even withstood cavalry charges, but the slaughter since the troops used artillery appears to be terrifying them into submission. In the district of Vlashica, where the outbreak was particularly serious, large numbers of insurgents have surrendered and denounced their leaders to the authorities with the result that many of the latter have been arrested. The government hopes that with the leaders in jail the undisciplined bands will soon abandon the field. The self-styled "generals" usually turn out to be country school-masters and village priests. Numbers of women are fighting in the insurgent ranks and many of them have been found among the killed, side by side with their husbands, sons and brothers.

Details of the attack made by the peasants on Galatz show that a pitched battle was fought. The insurgents, who were several thousand strong, began the assault at midnight, carrying the outer earthworks by storm, and captured a provision camp, which they set on fire after pillaging it. Three batallions of infantry tried to stem the advance into the city itself, but the fork and scythe men fought desperately hand to hand and had almost routed the troops, when the governor ordered field guns loaded with grape shot to be fired at the insurgents. The field guns wrought great havoc, killing the peasants in masses.

A number of conflicts between troops and marauders continue to be reported. Two thousand insurgents at Goroj are said to have been quieted by the assistance of the authorities without resorting to force. A hundred and fifty more rioters have been wounded at Bialstechsti, and many of them have since died. Artillery was used at Cucuesti, Valocicle, and elsewhere, and in some instances, whole villages are said to have been utterly destroyed by fire of nine-inch shells.

"HE IS TALKING THROUGH HIS HAT"

This is Judge Forbes' Comment on Rev. Dr. Mackay, af Montreal.

Judge Forbes when seen today regarding the statement of Rev. Dr. MacKay, of Crescent street Presbyterian church, Montreal, published elsewhere in this issue, in which he expresses surprise that the confessional has never been introduced into the principles of the Presbyterian church, said that if Mr. MacKay meant the actual introduction of the confessional—as practiced in the Roman Roman Catholic church—into the Presbyterian church, he was talking through his hat, and would have to step down and out on that score, as it was directly opposed to all principles of the Presbyterian church.

He added that it would be better, however, if there was a stronger bond of confidence between pastor and people. He had no desire to hurt the feelings of the Roman Catholics or to reflect on their religion.

Judge Forbes rescribes Mr. McKay as a high church Presbyterian and opposed to union.

Montreal, March 29—"I am rather surprised that an institution which exists at present in the Roman Catholic church has never been introduced into the principles of our church. It is the only true medium by which a pastor can be to his congregation what he ought to be. I refer to the confessional."

This was the significant statement made by the Rev. John MacKay, of Crescent street Presbyterian church, in his address at the induction of the Rev. W. J. Clark to the pastorate of St. Andrew's Presbyterian church, Westmount.
