Several new subscriptions were added to the fund this morning. Hamilton MacCarthy, the sculptor, when seen about noon, said he was very much pleased with the success he had met with this morning. In addition to those who had subscribed, he had received assurances of support from Rev. G. M. Campbell, James Pender, Recorder C. N. Skinner and others.

Hon. Wm. Pugsley had expressed his approval of the scheme and in addition to giving a subscription of $25, he promised to bring the matter before the government at their next meeting.

It has been suggested that an earnest effort should be made now to raise the balance necessary to carry out the work, as the time set by the dominion government in connection with their grant being available, expires in March. It is urged that the provincial government should make a grant of $1,500 and the city council $1,000 to assist this meritorious undertaking. As the monument would be representative of one of the principal events in the history of the province as well as of St. John, it is contended that there should be no hesitation on the part of either body in making a grant.

The following letter was received this morning:

St. John, N. B., Jan. 28, 1907.
Editor of The Times:
How would it be to erect the Champlain monument at the entrance of the harbor, or at the head of King street.

MOTHERS WIN
CIGARETTE CASE

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 28. — Fifty mothers with more than that many small boys filed into quarter sessions court to accuse half a dozen storekeepers of selling cigarettes to the youngsters. These were the first prosecutions under the new anti-cigarette law. After arraignment the defendants promised that they would cease to deal in cigarettes altogether. There was such applause from the women that the judge had to threaten to clear the court. As the defendants were all poor men, Judge Ferguson said he would suspend sentence. The new law provides a fine of $300 and not less than $100 for selling cigarettes or cigarette paper to any person under 21.

EVERY DAY CLUB

All men who have signed the roll of membership of the Every Day Club are requested to be present on Thursday evening at eight o'clock, along with any others who desire to see the club made effective as an institution "to help men to be men." Thus far the attendance nightly has been very large, but there has been a lack of organization, partly due to the fact that so many were present and there was so much in the way of entertainment.

It was decided last evening by a vote of the present, to exclude the boys of the Thursday evening and appoint committees of men and discuss the general question of a systematic programme, and a more general sharing of the work of the club.

There was another very large crowd in attendance and a short programme last evening. Many more men signed the membership roll.

DR. PUGSLEY TALKS

He Deals With Some Matters
Which May Come Before the Next Executive Council Meeting—A Woman Factory
Inspector Asked for.

Hon. William Pugsley, who returned yesterday from a trip to Montreal and Ottawa, said that he was in Montreal when the news reached there of Hon. A. G. Blair's death. A profound feeling of sorrow was expressed by everyone, and it seemed, he said, as if the people had lost someone from their own family. He regretted that he was unable to stay in Ottawa until after the funeral, but owing to business requiring his attention here, he just had time to spend part of a day in the capital.

Before leaving he had, in company with Premier Tweedie, ordered a floral tribute to be sent on behalf of the provincial government.

Asked regarding matters to come before the government at its next meeting, the attorney-general said there was a communication from the St. John W. C. T. U. asking for the appointment of a woman as factor inspector.

Mr. Pugsley said no doubt an opportunity would be offered them to be heard at an adjourned meeting in this city.

A sub-committee from the Free Kindergarten committee, composed of Mrs. H. Pickett, Mrs. F. E. Holman and Mrs. W. F. Hatheway, have sent a communication asking that two additional ladies be appointed on the school board. They will also be in all probability be heard at a meeting here.

Applications to the Forestry Convention at Fredericton next month have been sent out. Among those attending will be Mr. Renshaw, head of the forestry bureau of the United States; Mr. Stewart, of the Dominion bureau; and the minister of railways.

His honor the lieutenant-governor has issued an invitation to a state dinner, on Thursday, Feb. 14th. His honor having given up his house in Fredericton, the function will be held in the Queen Hotel.

It is understood that one of the matters which Premier Tweedie is looking into at Ottawa is the question of getting cheap transportation for the L. C. R. for immigrants to various sections of the province, as urged by Mr. Storie, of the Central Emigration Board of London, on his recent visit here.

A MUSICAL EVENING

The young people of Calvin Presbyterian church held an enjoyable musical evening in the school room last night. Mr. Murphy presided and an excellent programme was rendered. The evening closed with the singing of the doxology and the benediction.

The next gathering will be held under the direction of the social committee.

The programme was as follows: Piano solo, Miss Helen Hayward; vocal solo, Miss Margaret N. Seaton; reading, Miss Gertrude McFarg; duet, Mr. and Mrs. McLean; vocal solo, Miss Gordon; reading, Miss V. Buchanan; solo, Rev. L. A. McLean.

The Thistles' Curling rooms will be the scene of a memorable event this evening, when the members of the club will congregate to give a right royal time in honor of their representatives who did so nobly at the Montreal bonspiel. The reception will take the form of a dinner and smoke, while an impromptu programme will tend to help the spending of the evening in a first class manner. During the night's fun the beautiful "granite" cup will be presented by the winners to the club and speeches from many present will be in order.

The congregation of St. Jude's church Carleton, will hold a re-union in their school-room tomorrow, Wednesday evening.

EXPECT THAT THE THAW
JURY WILL BE SELECTED
AT THE SESSION TODAYOnly Three Remained To Be Chosen When Court Opened—
One Hundred Extra Talesmen Summoned While Thirty-five Remain of Old Panel.

NEW YORK, Jan. 29.—It is confidently believed by counsel in the Thaw case that the jury will be completed today. Thirty-five of the original panel of 200 talesmen remain to be examined and if these fail to suffice in the selection of the three jurors needed, another 100 talesmen who have been summoned will be drawn upon.

Despite the great care and deliberation that are being shown by District Attorney Jerome and Clifford W. Hartridge in the selection of the jurors, the progress made has been gratifying in the opinion of both sides. But for the personal direction of the prisoner in challenging talesmen, the jury would have been completed yesterday. On three occasions Thaw has challenged preemptorily men accepted by his counsel. Two of these challenges he ordered last week and one yesterday.

An interested spectator yesterday afternoon was Jack Barrymore, the actor. He came to the court room with Detective Flood of the district attorney's office and in a certain contingency he will be a witness for the prosecution. Barrymore was acquainted with Evelyn Nesbit, when Stanford White made her acquaintance and is familiar with the circumstances under which the architect came to know her. Should any attempt be made on the part of the defense to introduce testimony regarding White's acquaintance with Evelyn Nesbit that would tend to blacken the late architect's memory, it is believed that the actor will be put on the stand in rebuttal.

One hundred new jury talesmen were present this morning when the Thaw trial was resumed before Justice Fitzgerald. They were summoned yesterday when it seemed that the old panel of 200 might be exhausted before the jury box could be filled. There were three vacant jury chairs when this, the fifth day of the trial was started and there remained about 35 names in the original jury panel to be called. It was agreed that they should first be exhausted before calling upon any of the newly summoned talesmen.

All the members of the Thaw family were again present today.

Both Attorney Delmas, who is suffering from a cold, and his law partner, Mr. McKee, were absent from the defendant's counsel table when the morning session opened. This left a gap of two vacant chairs on the prisoner's right and gave him a clear view of the jurors thus far sworn. He profited by the opportunity and studied their faces for some time. Then he exchanged confidences with Attorney Peabody, who sat on his left. Mr. Jerome questioned the talesmen today as to the extent they have been reading the newspapers since the trial began. He desired to know if they had been influenced by the publications, but none of the first batch of talesmen would admit that they had attached importance to anything outside of actual court proceedings.

HIS NAME
IS RODGERSIdentity of Man Who Died in Hospital Early This Morning
Is Known Now.

It has been learned that the name of the unfortunate man who was rescued from drowning at the Pettigill wharf last night, and who died later at the hospital, is John Rodgers. He was 22 years of age and a native of Newfoundland.

Dr. Malcolm, resident physician at the hospital, says that a couple of letters were found in the dead man's pockets, and in one of them it was announced that his brother had died recently.

The body is still at the hospital and Dr. Malcolm is unable to state definitely when interment will take place. He adds that if the man was a sailor he will be buried by the government, if not it will devolve upon the city.

WASTING BY-PRODUCTS

U. S. Consul at Vancouver Refers to Commercial Wastefulness.

In the new and rapidly developing country of British Columbia, L. E. Dudley, United States consul at Vancouver, finds in commercial enterprises a degree of wastefulness that appalls one who has been accustomed to the economical methods of older communities. This leads him to write:

"But little attempt is made to utilize by-products in any of the enterprises in this province. I will call attention to a few of the opportunities that exist for making fortunes from materials that are being thrown away, more often disposed of at considerable cost of labor and expense. There are in the province, for example, 1,200 to 1,500 coal mines and the number is constantly increasing, yet there is no attempt to utilize the coal tar, which is available in large quantities. Persons familiar with the numerous valuable articles of commerce which coal tar yields can but wonder that some chemist with capital does not seize upon the opportunity here presented.

"There are now many smelters at work night and day in several portions of British Columbia. Most of the ores smelted contain sulphur, which must be disposed of before the ores can be successfully treated. The gases are roasted and the sulphur is vaporized and allowed to pollute the atmosphere, and often to kill the vegetation in the vicinity. Yet there is a great demand for sulphur and sulphuric acid.

"The supply of timber here seems inexhaustible. So it seemed to the people of New England not so long ago, and they would give much today for the great white pine and spruce logs they rolled in heaps and burned in the process of clearing their lands. It would be well to conserve the great forests of British Columbia. As I understand, only the largest of the fir and cedar are taken, and only the better portion of these. The tangled brush that covers the so-called logged-off lands presents the best possible opportunity for the spread of forest fires.

FIVE KILLED
IN COLLISIONExpress Train Struck Special
Freight on the Boston and Maine.

DEERFIELD, Mass., Jan. 29.—Five persons were killed and several others injured in a collision between an express train and a special freight on the Fitchburg Division of the Boston and Maine railroad near South River today.

The injured included railroad employees and several passengers. The collision was caused by a sudden stopping of the express train, the freight crashing into the rear of the express. The signal could not be set. The injuries to the passengers consisted mainly of bruises caused by the sudden stopping of the trains and the shock of collision.

The wrecked cars at once caught fire and two of the cars of the express were burned.

CHIEF KERR'S
ANNIVERSARY

Great preparations have been made by the firemen for the celebration of Chief Kerr's 25th anniversary tomorrow evening. All surviving members of the city and old Portland councils and fire fighters of the north and west ends and the city proper are expected to be present.

Among the old timers who were in the department in days gone by are: John McKelvie, Wm. Quigley, Wm. Reid, (Clarence St.) Wm. Reid, (Courtney St.) Andrew McNichol, Robt. Byer, W. H. Bowman, John LeLachur, Geo. Chamberlain, Wm. Bennett, Wm. Barby, Silas Hoy, Jas. Dinmore, Sr., Edward Blake, John Magee, Robert Magee, John Jackson, Norval McLaughlin, A. J. Stewart, Robert Jackson, Albion Winchester, Henry Dunbrack and Clarence Ward.

A good time is looked for.

At the meeting of the common council yesterday afternoon, Ald. McGoldrick in moving that the mayor and aldermen accept the invitation to be present at Chief Kerr's anniversary said he thought they should pay a tribute to the chief by thus attending. Ald. McGoldrick referred to the long service of the chief, who he said had been a faithful and painstaking official. If the chief had not been a "pretty good fellow" he would not have been there so long.

THE TIMES NEW REPORTER

BIRDIE ENTERTAINS

The beautiful Birdie entertained a select number of her party last evening. The party went out through the park and over toward Millidgeville, and it was on a steep incline on this route that Birdie entertained her companions. Her toe caught in some very unexpected manner and she went forward head first, burying her head and shoulders in a snow bank. She was extricated with some difficulty, after several friends had themselves come to grief in rushing to her assistance, and the whole affair was highly diverting to the whole company. Birdie declares that it was just too funny for anything, and just too funny for her companions heartily coincide.

THIS IS GOOD NEWS.

NEW YORK, Jan. 29.—(Special).—The members of the Thaw family are well this morning. Mrs. William Thaw is well. Mrs. Harry K. Thaw is well. Mrs. Harry K. Thaw is well. The rest of the Thaw family are well. Mrs. William Thaw ate her breakfast as usual. So did Mrs. Harry K. Thaw. Harry himself took some nourishment. These important facts were learned this morning by the careful enquiry of two hundred newspaper representatives, each of whom made an independent investigation. Not only so, but they learned that the Thaw family expect to be in fairly good health tomorrow. It is hoped that by tomorrow some member of the family will carry a bouquet, or yawn in court, or whisper to somebody, or do something else of vital importance to a good, readable, thrilling story of the great trial. Stanford White is still dead.

PROSPECT OF
ADJUSTMENTPlan of French Bishops
M. Settle the Differences

CHURCH AND STATE

Bishops Have Submitted
Model Contract Which Practically Provides For the Leasing of the Churches to the Priests by State Officials

PARIS, Jan. 28. — The proposition which the French bishops, with the approval of the pope, have now submitted to the government seems to offer the first real prospect of an adjustment of the conflict between church and state under the separation regime.

While it involves a material modification of the position taken in the last papal encyclical, the proposition put forward has all the appearance of an ultimatum. Whether the government, in spite of the concessions made today and making in the matter of religious peace, will accept a settlement based upon the absolute recognition of the Roman hierarchy, remains to be seen. The model contract which the bishops have submitted provides for the virtual lease of the churches in perpetuity to the parish priests by the mayors, the lease being for 99 years and renewable by their successors. The leases, which carry a stipulation engaging the communal, municipal and state authorities not to interfere with the administration of the church and parish, are invalid without the express ratification of the bishop and become null the moment the parish priest loses the bishop's authorization. The bishops must act together to insure the acceptance of the contracts everywhere or nowhere. It developed today that the report that Cardinal Richard, the Archbishop of Paris, had summoned another meeting of the Episcopal was not correct.

UNPARALLELED
HEARTLESSNESSSalvation Army Forced to Bury Body of Deserted Infant
They Kindly Cared for—Why?

The body of the homeless babe, who was so cruelly deserted on the night of the 15th of this month, was buried this afternoon, at the expense of the Salvation Army, to whose lot it fell to care for it during its short lifetime.

The matron of the S. A. Rescue Home told the Times today that she failed to see why the Army should be called upon to stand the funeral expenses, which would probably amount to ten dollars, and which they were not in a financial position to bear.

She adds that the Alms House commissioners should have taken the matter in hand, instead of acting as they have. In all her experience, she says, she has never in any city seen such heartlessness. The body of the deserted little one was placed in a tiny white casket and interred in Fernhill this afternoon. The services were conducted by the matron.

Chairman Knodell, of the Alms House commission, today said that had the case been reported to them in the first instance, no matter where the baby was placed at the time, they would have intervened into its parentage, and in the event of failure to locate parties who could have been held responsible, then they could have looked to the burial of the child, which the matron said they did not feel justified in doing. Mr. Knodell added that if Coroner Berryman recommended that the child be taken to the rescue home, he should have reported to the Alms House commissioners if the intention had been for them to look after it.
