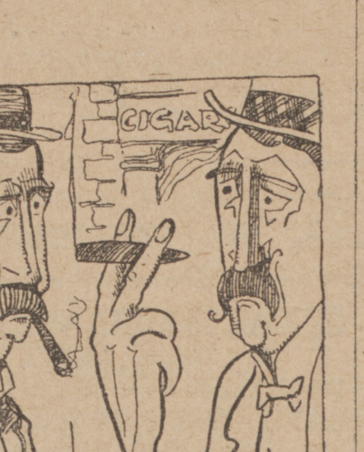
Smile Inducers.

By RYAN WALKER.

Mr. Richasmud—What do you think of our new butler?
Mr. Tellit Wright—He's tremendously fat.
Mr. Richasmud—We got him to match our new heavy dining-room furniture.

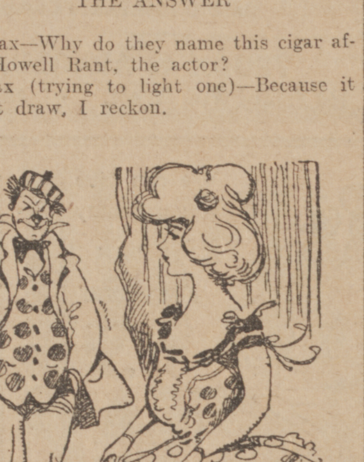


THE ANSWER

Hoax—Why do they name this cigar after Howell Rant, the actor?
Joax (trying to light one)—Because it won't draw, I reckon.

SURE

First Literary Hack—If Jonah had lived in these days he'd have been a lucky chap
Second Literary Hack—I should say. He could easily have gotten five hundred for that whale story.



WELL QUALIFIED

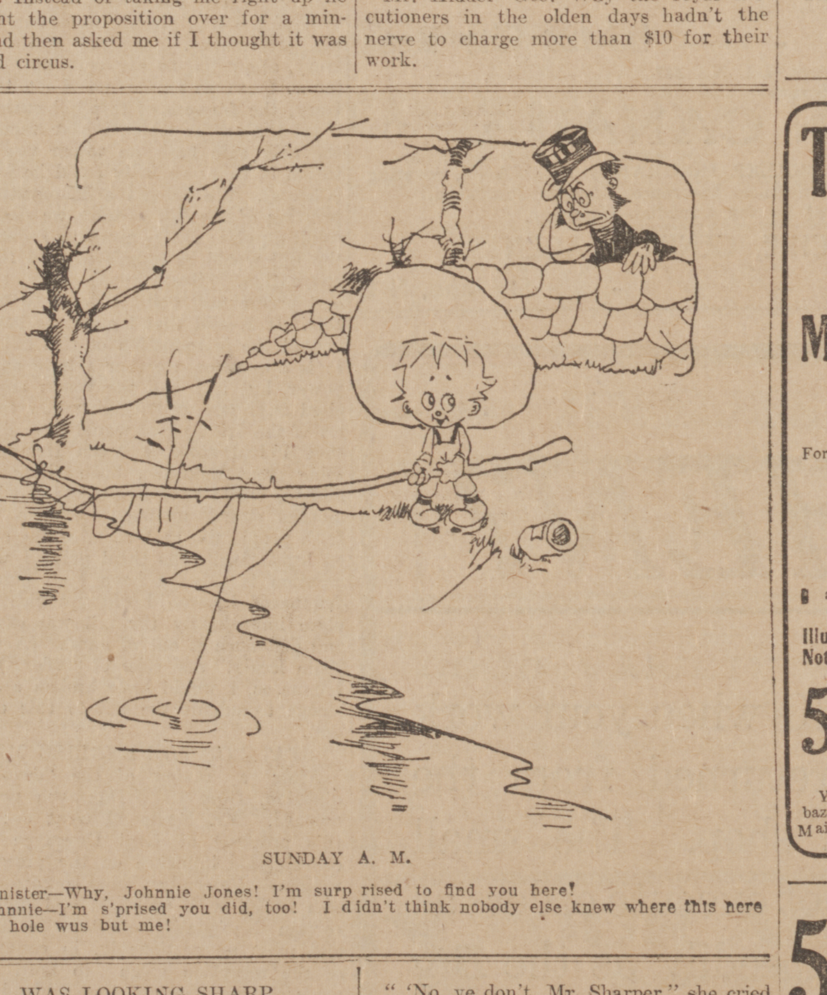
Soubrette—I tell you. I turned down that phonograph manufacturer good and hard.
Comedian—But Melba and grand opera stars don't hesitate to make records for the phonograph.
Soubrette—But he wanted me to give an imitation of a cat-and-dog fight.

WAS THERE EVER ANY OTHER KIND?

Bronson (earnestly)—I'm going to be proud of that small boy of mine one of these days.
Woodson—Is he talented?
Bronson—No. He's going to be a business man. I told him last week that if he'd be a good boy I'd take him to the circus. Instead of taking me right up he thought the proposition over for a minute and then asked me if I thought it was a good circus.

AND KILLED 'EM QUICKER, TOO.

Dr. Chargem—My fee for such an operation would be $700.
Mr. Kidder—Gee! Why the royal executioners in the olden days hadn't the nerve to charge more than $10 for their work.



SUNDAY A. M.

Minister—Why, Johnnie Jones! I'm surprised to find you here!
Johnnie—I'm s'prised you did, too! I didn't think nobody else knew where this here fishin' hole wus but me!

WAS LOOKING SHARP

"There are still a few honest men left in the world," said J J. Hill the financier, at a banquet. "It is well to be cautious, but we should not suspect everybody. If we are too suspicious we make ourselves absurd.

"I worked in St. Paul in my youth, and they still tell there about an old farmer and his wife who started for St. Paul on a visit.

"Before the couple set off they were cautioned frequently by their friends to beware of the St. Paul sharpers. They replied that they would keep their eyes open. And they started on their journey with a nervous determination to look out for sharpers and confidence men.

"Well, on the way the old farmer got off at a junction to buy some luncheon, and the train went off without him. It was a terrible mishap. The last he saw of his wife she was craning out of the car window, shouting something reproachful at him which he couldn't hear on account of the noise of the train.

"It happened that an express came along a few minutes later. The old farmer boarded the express and beat his wife to St. Paul by nearly an hour.

"He was waiting for her at the station when she arrived. He ran up to her and seized her valise.

" 'Well, Jane,' he said, 'I'm glad to see you again. I thought we was separated for good.'

"But the old woman jerked the valise from him indignantly.

" 'No, ye don't, Mr. Sharper,' she cried 'I left my husband at the junction. Don't be comin' any of yer confidence tricks on me or I'll call a policeman.' "—Minneapolis Journal.

LOSING INTEREST.

"Your father is in politics, isn't he, my boy?" asked the stranger.
"Yeh," replied little Tommy Tipples, "but mom thinks he's gettin' cured of it."
"You don't say?"
"Yeh; his stumick's gone back on him an' he can't drink like he useter."—Philadelphia Press.
