FREDERICTON DOES HONOR TO THE VICE-REGAL VISITORS

FREDERICTON, Aug. 15—The welcome extended to Earl Grey and party in New Brunswick's capital this afternoon was a hearty and spontaneous one. His Excellency and party arrived on the steamer Elaine at 4.30 and the guests received at the gang plank by Mayor McLeod, City Clerk McCready and a guard of honor from the 71st Regiment. A delegation from Islington Lodge Sons of England was also present and acting on their behalf Miss Nancy Kingdon, daughter of Bishop Kingdon, presented a beautiful bouquet of cream roses to Countess Grey.

The party then drove to the Opera House where the civic address as published yesterday was read by Mayor McLeod.

His excellency was loudly cheered when he rose to reply to the address. He spoke about ten minutes in tones that could be distinctly heard in every part of the hall. The audience hung on to every word and enthusiastically applauded his reference to the beauties of the St. John river. His address was as follows:

I thank you for the loyal welcome you have given me in the capital as the representative of his majesty, the king, and also of the expressions you have used as regards my family and myself. I can assure you I esteem it a great privilege to be assisted as I have been assisted today, to make myself conversant with the various provinces of your great dominion. Every town in my extensive journeying throughout Canada has revealed to me new objects of interest and beauty, new sources of wealth, new opportunities for the creation of prosperous industries and happy homes and this long journeying over all parts of your wonderful country, appropriately culminated in the never to be forgotten sail up the historic and most beautiful St. John river.

Gentlemen, it is impossible to spend a day on this splendid river without regretting that its charms and attractions are not more widely known. I believe it would be hard to find any other place with so great attractions of scenery and climate, combined with equal opportunities for safe boating, as those which your river St. John, so easily accessible to England and the United States, offers to those who are in search of change, health, rest and recreation.

You also wish that the great advantages offered by your Maritime Provinces to the settlers who come from across the seas were better known in the United Kingdom, and that a larger portion of the increasing numbers of immigrants who are coming to your shores could be directed to your lands. The parts of Nova Scotia and New Brunswick which I have visited, lead me to believe the life which awaits a settler in the Maritime Provinces is admirably suited to the people of England, Scotland and Ireland and Wales, and is more attractive from the point of view of comfortable living amid pleasant surroundings than that which is to be found in many portions of the motherland.

Gentlemen, my visit to Nova Scotia and New Brunswick has confirmed my faith in the magnificent future which awaits Canada. Here it is possible to see in the making a strong, prosperous and God-fearing nation to which, as the years roll on, it will be not only more and more of an advantage but more of an honor and privilege to belong. All that would appear to assure the fulfilment of Canada's high destiny is the belief of her people in her own future and a firm unfaltering resolve that their lives shall not be unworthy of the loyalists, from whom they sprung. The fact that men, who regarded comfort and wealth as of little importance when compared to the call of duty and loyalty to the flag, were the fathers and founders of this province, is a priceless advantage which no momentary weakness or temporary lapse from high ideals can ever take from you and which if you are faithful to your ideals, will in time to come enable you to win for yourselves a foremost place among the races of the world.

At 8.30 o'clock his excellency entertained the following ladies and gentlemen at dinner: Countess Grey, Lady Sybil Grey, Lady Evelyn Grey, Governor and Mrs. Tweedie, Premier and Mrs. Robinson, Mayor and Mrs. Sears, Mayor McLeod, Miss Tweedie, Captain Newton, Arthur Sladen, Col. White.

The reception and dance at parliament building this evening in honor of the vice-regal visitors was attended by about 300 ladies and gentlemen, including quite a number from outside points and was a very brilliant function. Their excellencies received the guests in front of the speakers dais in the assembly chamber, R. S. Barker and Captain Newton making the presentations. The large room was handsomely decorated, and the many beautiful costumes worn by the ladies, combined to make a very striking and pretty scene. A short programme of dances was carried out to music furnished by Hanlon's orchestra. Refreshments were served in the library during the evening under the supervision of J. J. McCaffrey, of the Queen Hotel, who was in charge of the catering arrangements. The function was brought to a close at midnight.

The 71st Regiment band gave an open air concert this evening in front of the parliament building, providing entertainment for upwards of 1,000 people.

The day's festivities concluded with a luncheon given by Premier Robinson and members of the government at the Queen Hotel. Premier Robinson presided and Hon. Mr. LaBillois occupied the vice chair. Those present were His Excellency, Earl Grey; Lieut. Governor Tweedie, Mayor McLeod, Mayor Sears, Ald. Bullock, Premier Robinson, Speaker Osman, Hon. W. P. Jones, C. H. LaBillois, Hon. James Barnes, T. B. Winslow, G. N. Babbitt, H. B. Rainsford, G. Y. Dibblee, Dr. L. A. Currey, Col. Geo. R. White, Col. Loggie, Capt. Mackenzie, Auditor General Loudon, City Clerk McCready, Warden McFarlane, Sheriff Sterling, Capt. Osborne, Judge Barry, ex-Governor McClellan, T. C. Allen, Dr. Inch, Chancellor Jones, Capt. Newton, Arthur Sladen, R. S. Barker, Dr. Hannay.

An excellent repast was served in Landlord McCaffrey's best style and the affair passed off very pleasantly. The toast to the health of King Edward was proposed by the chairman and duly honored.

His excellency and family have greatly enjoyed their trip up the river and in conversation with members of the government expressed regret that their stay was to be of such short duration. The party will return to St. John by the 9.20 train tomorrow morning. On Saturday they go to St. Andrews. Governor Tweedie will accompany his excellency, but the members of the local government will remain here tomorrow to hold a meeting.

AMUSEMENTS

THE NICKEL
Thursday, Friday and Saturday
Big New Programme

GENEVIEVE OF BRABANT
Gorgeous pictorial enactment of the legendary story of the eighth century in German history. Genevieve, wife of the valiant Seigfried is accused of wrongdoing and is banished to the wilderness with her infant to perish. However, the suckling child is kept alive by a wild roe and the mother manages to protect it for six years until discovered by Seigfried while hunting in the forest. The pursuit of the roe leads the father to his wife and child. Swift justice is meted the dastardly Colo, the hanging scene being a triumph in motion picturing.

THE EXPRESS SCULPTOR
In other words clay modellers of remarkable dexterity and artistic merit. One of the highest paid vaudeville "turns" on the European stage today. Will be shown in the big American cities this coming winter.

ANGLING IN NORWAY
An educational picture of interest to everybody, but particularly to adults, casting light upon the mode of pleasure fishing in the frigid Scandinavian peninsula.

POOR LITTLE MITES
Two woodchopper's children are lost in a blizzard in the mountainous regions of France, while returning from the camp to which place they had taken their father's mid-day meal. A dramatic rescuing.

CHASING A MOTORIST
Ludicrous situation in a country village in which almost the whole population arises to smite the man in the benzine buggy. Why they didn't do it.

TWO NEW ILLUSTRATED SONGS
"Fanella," charming Spanish love ballad, sung by Miss Emma Felix.
"Stingy Moon," a brand new hit-song, sung by Mr. E. Joe. Brown.
