MONEY IS "EASIER" NOW CRISIS HAS BEEN PASSED

How the Stringency Has Been Felt in Toronto, and Indications Which Point to More Favorable Conditions.

(Toronto World)

"Unless my premises are altogether wrong the crisis in the tight money period has been passed and from now on terms to borrowers will gradually be lowered."

This was the statement made yesterday to a World man by one who has been a close student of money and its affairs, and whose opinion in such matters is acceptable as somewhat authoritative.

"The stringency in money circles has been no respecter of persons. Federal and provincial governments have had a difficulty in getting enough money to get along with, and the situation in relation to municipalities has been keener. Towns cities and villages throughout the Dominion have had to curtail improvements because of the difficulty of selling debentures and of procuring temporary accommodation, except at exorbitant rates from the banks.

HIGH INTEREST

"The last to feel the pinch is real estate. Here in Toronto first-class loans are in instances almost unobtainable. The principal loan companies are asking as high as 7 per cent. interest and even at this loans have to be held back until funds have accumulated.

"Well, all this, as any business individual will admit, is bad for development, and herein comes the first reason why a betterment is in prospect. The financial institutions have begun hoarding funds, because of the dangerous outlook, and the enforced curtailment of development in all directions is admitting of a period of recuperation.

"A ban has practically been placed on the increase of securities. There have been practically no new flotations in Canada for months, the only demands for funds in the way of securities coming from municipal or government debentures.

"Again the savings of our people will gradually fill up the exchequers of the deposit institutions and leave a surplus.

"Exceptional preparations are already made by the banks for financing the crops, but this year, owing to a shortage, the funds will not be needed to anything like the extent of other years, because farmers are not disposed to sell their produce, and the distribution of payments will be spread over several months.

"I notice also outside of Canada that money is getting less tight. At London, England, the official bank rate of discount is 4 1-2 per cent. A year ago the rate reached the almost unheard of figure of 6 per cent. At New York time money is procurable at easier rates, and at Paris most of the evidence of stringency have passed. The only large financial centre still showing disturbance is Berlin, but the strain here is expected to be bridged over in the next couple of months.

"Canada, of course, will feel the influence of the change some time after the large financial centres, because the funds are necessarily attracted to the big centres before distribution. When this does take place there will be an outpouring of money into Canada fom Europs as Canadian investments are being sought as they never have been by investors in Britain and on the continent.

"There are other minor reasons why I expect cheaper money, but these are subservient to those I have named, and which I think form a good basis for the belief that the change for the better has arrived."

The substance of the above remarks was put before several managers of Toronto financial institutions, but in some instances those interrogated preferred to await developments before making any prognostications.

Byron E. Walker, president of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, said the money question was too intricate to give an offhand opinion.

NOT ENOUGH MONEY.

'It is certain," he remarked, "that the world's business has outgrown the volume of money, Canadian. and in fact the banks of all countries have found it necessary to restrict business. Our borrowers have recognized the acute situation the last three or four months, and have curtailed expenditures. The forethought of the financial institutions has prevented what might have proved a calamity. I notice that the London money market is improving, and the same might be said of the United States centres. Good Canadian business has been hampered because of the money stringency, but I think this is only temporary. I am not prepared to say that there will be any material change in the future. The world's business is still under a full head of steam, but the precautionary measures already adopted have no doubt improved the situation."

HONEY WILL BE HIGH

WINNIPEG, Sep. 12—Reports coming in from different parts of Manitoba and the east would seem to indicate that the honey crop this year is far from being what might be called satisfactory. On account of the cool weather and excessive rains during August, very little could be accomplished in the way of gathering honey. A few western ariarist fortunately report exceptions to this condition of the honey crop, but generally speaking, the season has been bad and the result is that the quantity of good honey for the market is very slight. Ontario and the Lower Provinces, it is understood, fared even worse than the west in this particular industry, and the prospect for the fall market is very high prices, and a scarcity of first-class honey at any price.

CANNED GOODS

TORONTO, Sept. 12—The wholesale grocers of Toronto state that the outlook for the pack of canned goods is gloomy. So far as the earlier and small fruits are concerned, there is a very small crop, and prices are now 30 to 35 per cent. above what they were a year ago at this time. While the plum crop is a fair one, plums are dear on account of the demand made for them to take the place of other fruits. The vegetable crop is smaller than last year, and prices have opened on peas at an advance of 32 per cent. on the opening prices of a year ago.

DIVIDENDS IN OCTOBER

Many Banks and Industrials Will Make Payments to Their Shareholders.

In October close to $11,000,000 will be paid in dividends by concerns listed on the Montreal Stock Exchange.

The Canadian Pacific will, of course, pay out the most money, with the Mackay Companies second, and "Soo" Railway third.

October is one of the largest months of the year, as far as dividends go, and ranks with January, July and April.

The concerns paying dividends next month are as follows:

Quarterly Banks—Dominion, Molsons, Royal, Crown, Townships, Nova Scotia, Traders, Metropolitan, New Brunswick.

Quarterly Stocks—General Electric, Halifax Railway, Havana El. preferred, Illinois preferred, Toronto Railway, Winnipeg Railway, Laurentide preferred, Trinidad Electric, Dom. Telegraph, Textile preferred, N. S. Steel common, Mackay common, Mackay preferred, National Trust, Sao Paulo, Tri City preferred, Twin City, Montreal Steel, Bell Telephone, Montreal Telegraph, Nipissing, N. S. Steel preferred, Dominion Coal.

Semi-Annual—B. British N. A., "Soo" preferred, C. P. R. common, "Soo" common, Western Bank, C. P. R. preferred.

Annual—Ogilvie Flour Mills common.

Bonds—Can. Col. Cotton, Bell Telephone, Dominion Steel 2nd, N. S. Steel, Inter. Coal, Montreal Power, G. T. Pacific Railway.

Prominent concerns to hold annual meetings in October are Ogilvie Flour Mills, Granby, Lake of the Woods, Canadian Pacific and Molsons Bank.

ADVANCE IN OATS

MONTREAL, Sept. 12—There is a stronger feeling in the market for oats, and prices scored a further advance of ½c per bushel, which is due to the strength displayed in the Winnipeg market and the comparatively small supplies on spot. The demand from local and outside buyers continues good, and sales of car lots of Manitoba No. 2 white were made at 50 1-2 to 51c. per bushel, ex-store.

DAIRY PRODUCE

MONTREAL, Sept 12—Prices in the local cheese market are being firmly maintained at the recent advance. Business is quiet, as foreign buyers are not disposed to pay the prices asked. We quote: Finest western at 12 5-8 to 12 3-4c.; Townships at 12 1-4 to 12 3-8c, and Quebecs at 12 1-8, to 12 1-4c.

The butter market is firm at the recent advance. There is no improvement in the foreign demand, and only a jobbing local trade is passing in choice Townships creamery at 22 1-2 to 22 3-4c.

Predictions now made that copper metal may sell as low as 12 cents.

THE LONDON MARKET

LONDON, 2.30 p. m.—The fortnightly settlement is being concluded smoothly. The markets are quiet and easier. The decline in Copper and weakness in New York have caused hesitancy on this side. The Rio Tintos have declined a point to 71¼. There has been concentrated selling of the metal. British home rails have receded ¼ to ½ per cent and Americans after rallies of equal proportions are now easier. This market is narrow and lacks special feature.

LAIDLAW & CO'S LETTER.

NEW YORK, Sept 13—The latest developments in the copper situation are that the Amalgamated Co. intends to shut down work in part of its mines in Montana pending the developments of better and more definite conditions in the copper market. No official confirmation of these reports is obtainable. The general security market has been suffering from the decline of securities in Philadelphia, and from circulation of trouble stories of various kinds. Rumors of the last named sort have for so long a time played such a familiar part in the daily operations of our market that the trading element do not seem to take any great note of them. Aside from the copper stocks the rest of the market does not show so much weakness but on the contrary there is an appearance of some support and a scarcity of stock.

PEOPLE OF NOTE

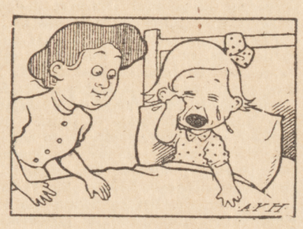

Francis E. Leupp

Francis Ellington Leupp, who is Commissioner for Indian Affairs at Washington, is a noted newspaper man with additional success as a public official. He was born in New York on January 2nd, 1849, and graduated from Williams College in 1870 and the Columbia Law School in 1872. He abandoned the law for journalism, and in October took an editorial position with the New York Evening Post. The same month he married Miss Ada Lewis Murdock. He became interested in Civil Service Reform and edited a magazine in favor of the movement. This attracted the attention of President Roosevelt and since 1905 he has held his present post in Washington, which he has also adopted as his permanent home.

Mrs. W. H. Myles' Interesting Paper Before North End W. C. T. U.

An interesting meeting of the north end W. C. T. U. was held at the home of Mrs. W. H. Myles, 16 High street, yesterday evening, when a paper prepared by Mrs. Myles wes read by Miss Jackson, and discussed by those present.

Miss Lida Dale and Mrs. Harper were appointed delegates to the provincial convention, to be held in St. Stephen in October. Miss Ida Apt and Miss Emma Gray are the delegates from the St. John union. Regret was expressed at the death of Ida Parlee, a former member, and Mrs. Myles will visit the bereaved home with a floral tribute sent by the St. John union.

In the course of her paper, Mrs. Myles referred to the desirability of extending the work of the "Y" branches of the W. C. T. U., and the boys of this community should get wise women for wives and the girls ought to have good, sober, earnest men for husbands. She expressed the opinion that today sober men are hard to get and the girls are not altogether what they might be.

Relative to dancing parties, the front seat in the theatre, afternoon teas and bridge whist, she does not think that the woman who is content with these is the one to help a man to win.

The paper also dealt with other matters of interest.

MAY BE INCENDIARY

Considerable Speculation as to the Origin of a Recent Fire on Moore Street.

There is considerable speculation as to the origin of the fire which broke out in Mrs. Mary Gormerly's house, Moore street early on Tuesday morning. The blaze started in the lower part of the house, which was unoccupied. Various theories are advanced, and some are inclined to believe that the blaze was the work of a fire bug. The damage amounts to only a few hundred dollars, and the insurance is carried by companies represented by D. R. Jack. Appraisers looked over the house yesterday, but no agreement was reached and the origin of the fire may be gone into.

MANTELL IN KING LEAR

Famous Actor to be Seen as the Grief Mad Monarch on Monday Night Next.

There is a certain significance, it seems, in the fact that Mr. Robert Mantell is to open his engagement in the St. John Opera House, on Monday night, September 16, in the splendid revival of "King Lear," which he made known here when he last acted in the city, a year ago. The significance resides in the fact that Mr. Mantell made the revival against the advice of all his friends and of the managers with whom he had to deal in his tours of the United States and Canada. One and all used the same argument—that the play would be "rare" because no actor had ever succeeded in it.

But Mr. Mantell's manager, William A. Brady, was positive that a public would be found for the great tragedy, which was first revived in the Garden Theatre, New York city, in December of 1905, toward the end of Mr. Mantell's remarkable three-months run there in the plays of Shakespeare. Mr. Brady's predicition was carried out. "King Lear" was acclaimed by the critics as too great a play to be allowed to lie unread and unacted in the library; Mr. Mantell's impersonation of the majestic character of the title was hailed by all as a great piece of acting; and the big Garden Theatre was thereafter crowded night after night to see Mr. Mantell as the grief-mad monarch.

When, a year ago, Mr. Mantell made his well-remembered tour of the Lower Provinces, "King Lear" was among the plays he acted in Sydney, Halifax, and this city. He returned to Sydney on the night of September 2, and opened in "King Lear." His Halifax engagement, Sept. 9, began with the same play. And now "King Lear" is the play that will begin his engagement of five night performances in the St. John Opera House, also. All of which would seem to indicate that the great tragedy won first honors from playgoers when he acted it here last year.

Seats are ready for all the Mantell nights, which have been arranged, as to roles, as follows:—

King Lear ..... Monday night.
Macbeth ..... Tuesday night.
Shylock (first time) Wednesday night.
Hamlet ..... Thursday night.
Richard III. ..... Friday night.
