BRADSTREET'S ON THE SITUATION

Banking Interests Taught a Severe Lesson---Drastic Action Was Necessary in New York.

(Bradstreet's)

A decidedly critical situation in bank affairs at the metropolis has again been taken in charge and, to all appearances, successfully met by the Clearing House Association, acting through its committee. To accomplish this, drastic action was found necessary, and the spectacle has been furnished of wholesale retirements and practically enforced resignations of directors and officers of the banks involved in the matter. As a result, however, of such a course, the position, as far as the Clearing House banks at New York is concerned, is generally regarded as having been rendered far sounder than it was, while the separation of certain individuals and interests from active participation in banking at New York is looked on as removing a constant source of danger and a menace to the security of the financial community. Nor was this an entirely new matter. For some time past conservative bankers have shown little concealment of their disapprobation and even anxiety concerning the course of certain comparatively new interests which had entered the New York banking field upon a large scale, their policy being to create so-called chains of institutions, closely allied through stock ownership by the different elements, which were in most cases associated in the directorates of the banks in question. It is also very generally believed that the control or substantial holdings of such bank stocks were secured in some if not all cases by loans made to the operators in question from their own banks, with the stock of other banks as collateral. Moreover, the parties in question were identified with the promotion of various industrial and other enterprises requiring strong support from banking quarters, and to which assistance such as the chain of banks could afford was a vital necessity. Hence the dangerous nature of the situation and the evident readiness of the Clearing House committee to take radical steps when the plight of the Mercantile National Bank furnished occasion for intervention and called for help to the threatened institution.

LAIDLAW & CO.'S LETTER.

NEW YORK, Oct. 29—The clearing house banks are very properly using the loan certificates only when imperatively necessary, the money pool is dissolved and henceforth brokers must arrange loans with their own bankers. Any house suspected of doing a speculative business will not be accommodated. These methods will hasten a return to normal conditions. So far as Wall street is concerned the crisis is passed, but as always happens in such periods, the country at large must suffer the consequences. The work of rehabilitating institutions forced to temporarily suspend as the result of unreasoning public distrust will be slow and it is unlikely, therefore, that the stock market will enjoy more than temporary recoveries for some time to come.

FOUR THOUSAND SPANIARDS HELD SLAVES BY SAVAGES

Awful Tale Told by a Fugitive Excites Madrid.

Men Forced to Work in Fields Under the Whip and Treated Like Wild Beasts---One Who Escaped From Imprisonment Relates His Experience.

MADRID, Oct. 28—A thrilling story, related by a Spaniard who recently arrived from Manila, is attracting a good deal of attention in the Madrid papers. This man, who gives his name as Bulguera, declares he was on board the Spanish cruiser Reina Marie Christina when she was wrecked. He says that when the warship foundered and her crew of 627 men were thrown into the water, though more than 300 were drowned, many were saved.

The survivors, he declares, were captured by Tagalos and taken to the Island of San Juan Del Monte, in the Bulacan Province. According to Bulguera's story there are more than four thousand Spanish prisoners in that island. They are forced, he says, by the natives, to drag their ploughs and are whipped and treated like beasts of burden, and the only reward they get is scanty rations of green corn.

Bulguera has related his story to a correspondent of El Pueblo, and he says that in June last ninety Spanish prisoners tried to escape by swimming. Practically all were drowned, he says, but he succeeded in landing on the opposite bank and was subsequently able to reach Manila. Then he went to the American authorities, who provided him with passage on board the steamer Baltimore, bound for Cadiz. He reached that port in September, but was only able to proceed to his native town a few days since, where he had long been given up for dead.

One of Bulguera's companions has also just reached his home, at Valencia, where he found that not only had he been presumed to be dead, but his wife had married again. This story of four thousand Spaniards being still alive and in the hands of Tagalos has caused a great sensation and is made the subject of comments by the press of Madrid.

SPRINGHILL STRIKE OVER

Springhill, Oct. 28—The strike of the employes of the Cumberland Railway & Coal Company has been called off a second time by the men. This came today, following a meeting of Pioneer and Mechanics' Lodge, P. W. A.

"A case of blind faith," said the clergyman. "The doctor writes out a prescription. Oftener than not you cannot read it, and you don't know what it is. He tells you to take it. 'Yours is not to reason why; yours but to do and die.' "

Whether or not Dr. Patton meant it, there was a distinct ripple throughout the congregation.—Boston Herald.

THE BORDER CITY TIMES

News of the St. Croix Valley Gleaned by Times Correspondents.

Calais, Oct. 29.

Right Reverend Robert Codman, Bishop of Maine, will visit St. Anne's Episcopal church on Sunday, November 3. There will be a celebration of the holy communion at 8 a. m., service with confirmation at 10.30, and evening prayer, with address by the bishop at 7 p. m. The bishop is an able and interesting speaker, the attendance at the several services on Sunday will no doubt be large.

While the steamer Henry F. Eaton, of the Frontier line, was towing the Viking, of the Deer Island and Campobello route, which had become disabled on the down trip, Friday, the lines parted while the steamers were off Dog Island, near Eastport, Saturday forenoon, and the two vessels came together with a crash. The Viking was damaged somewhat, but was later towed to Eastport, by the tug Phantom, and received the necessary repairs to machinery and hull. The accident occurred in the whirlpools.

Howard Acheson left Tuesday morning for Eastport, to rejoin the steamer Calvin Austin, on which he is employed, after spending a few days with his family in this city.

George Claridge, superintendent of the Eastport Electric Light Co., was a visitor to his home in Calais, Sunday.

While Officer Macnamara, of the Calais police force was making a double arrest Sunday afternoon, one of his prisoners got away and lost no time in getting across the line to St. Stephen. The other fellow made a kick, but was finally landed in the cooler.

The death of Mrs. George McCracken, which occurred on Sunday morning is deeply regretted by her family and friends. Mrs. McCracken was stricken with typhoid fever about a week ago, and the progress of the disease was rapid. She leaves a husband and several children, for whom deep sympathy is expressed. Deceased was a native of St. Stephen, her maiden name being Georgie Hanson. The funeral services were held on Monday afternoon, and were largely attended.

A Slav, employed at the paper mill, Woodland, broke into a trunk owned by a fellow countryman and abstracted therefrom the sum of $100, the offence occurring Saturday afternoon. As usual, the matter was kept dark by the police, and, as usual, the thief made good his escape.

The Boston shoe store, managed by W. H. Foster, closed its doors on Saturday last, pending a settlement of affairs with the creditors. The amount of liabilities is unknown.

O. R. McKay, electrician for the Seacoast Canning Co., of Eastport, spent Sunday with his family in this city.

The barkentine Shawmut, with a cargo of coal from New York for the Washington County railway, is discharging at the railway pier.

Several schooners are hung up at Calais for lack of crews to man them, although good wages are offered.

Mrs. B. M. Rutherford has returned to her home in Eastport, after a pleasant visit with friends in Calais.

PREMIER AND ORGAN

Hon. Mr. Robinson and the Sun Appear to be at Variance.

In the Sun this morning Premier Robinson says:—

"There seems to have been a feverish desire on the part of the local opposition to have some person sworn in as attorney general, and both the opposition barnstormers and their press have been supplementing their lamentably weak attacks by reckless statements that this important office had been hawked about the country from lawyer to lawyer. I do not desire to censure our opposition friends too strongly for their oft-repeated misstatements in this regard, as I confess that had I as little real solid ground to stand upon I might have been compelled to resort to similar tactics. I can only deny the misstatement."

The Sun itself on Sept. 17th, said:—

"The presence of Premier Robinson in the city yesterday in consultation with prominent local supporters has caused the report that A. P. Barnhill, K. C., may be asked to enter the provincial cabinet with the portfolio of attorney general. While the impression is prevalent that the report is well founded and that Mr. Barnhill would be a splendid acquisition to the government, any authoritative verification at present is impossible."

Premier Robinson said in this morning's Sun:—

"I am sure that even our opposition friends will admit that it was difficult to have Mr. McKeown appointed to the office during his absence in England."

The Sun on Sept. 17th said:—

"Some opposition criticism has been visited upon the premier for his delay in selecting an attorney general. If it be true, as is reported, that Mr. Barnhill's absence from Canada has been responsible for the delay, the premier is fully justified. A man like that is worth waiting for."

TO EXTEND MANITOBA'S BOUNDARIES

Bill Providing for Extension to a Lake in Keewatin is Now Being Prepared.

TORONTO, Oct. 29 (Special)—A Globe Ottawa special says: "The government have under consideration the preparation of a bill respecting the extension of Manitoba's boundaries to take in part of the present district of Keewatin, as promised last year by Sir Wilfrid Laurier. Owing to the necessity of shortening the last session to allow of the departure of the premier and his colleagues to the imperial conference, it was impossible to deal with so important a question last spring and the measure was accordingly deferred until the coming session."

A CHAMPIONSHIP FIGHT

Abe Attel and Teddy Weeks Will Go 20 Rounds Tonight for Featherweight Title.

LOS ANGELES, Cal. Oct. 29—Abe Attel, the feather-weight champion of the world and Freddie Weeks, the little cyclone from Cripple Creek, Col. who are to fight 20 rounds here tonight for the title that Attel now holds, yesterday finished their training and both camps announced that the fighters are in fine condition. The articles of the fight call for 122 pounds ring-side and both Attel and Weeks are now at the right figure. Attel displays his usual confidence and will be a big favorite. His opponent, however, is expected to put up a hard and game battle. There is comparatively little betting on the result of the fight.

THE VANCOUVER RIOTS

Of the Twenty-two Men Arraigned Only Three Have Been Convicted.

VANCOUVER, B. C., Oct. 29 (Special)—Three only of the twenty-two men in the first instance arraigned for rioting on September 7, in the Chinese and Japanese quarters, have been sent to jail. Of the twenty-two, fifteen were sent to trial to the assizes, but in six cases the grand jury returned no bill. Two were found not guilty. The petit jury disagreed in three cases and one was postponed until the next assizes. The last man convicted was dealt with yesterday and sentenced to one month.

HARKINS SCORES A GREAT SUCCESS

The Shadow Behind the Throne a Distinct Hit at the Opera House Last Evening.

It was the glad hand for "Uncle Bill" Harkins all the way at the Opera House last evening, and the popular manager, as well as his company, must have been greatly delighted at the large and fashionable audience which, in spite of the disagreeable weather, turned out to bid them welcome. St. John audiences have always felt that they had a sort of proprietary right in Harkins' Company. They seem to get closer to the audiences than many other organizations visiting here, and anyway it is worth a half a dollar of almost any man's money to see Uncle Bill's jolly rotund rubicund countenance at the door, as he gives the sunny smile to his many friends.

This season's company is fully equal to the best that Harkins has brought to us for many moons. "The Shadow Behind The Throne" is a melodrama cast on rather novel lines. It is wholly unconventional and for this reason is more worthy than most of them. If it has a fault it is that the final act is crude, but the rest of it is good enough to make the audience quite willing to forgive that. The company is well cast in it, and the result is a smooth, harmonious production.

The play teaches a great moral lesson, and the story is based on the efforts of the Viceroy of China to have the English ambassador, Col. John Calhoun, sign an important treaty which would be very beneficial to the Chinese nation. To aid him he secures the services of Henry Seaton, who is an attache of the English embassy, Seaton, however, fails in his attempt to force the ambassador, Col. Calhoun, to sign the treaty and according to the "Chinese Brotherhood" is sentenced to a horrible death. Later he is promised immunity if he will deliver into the hands of the viceroy, Dorothy Calhoun, daughter of the ambassador. This Seaton succeeds in doing, but Dorothy is rescued by the "Mandarin"—the power behind the throne—and finally weds the man of her choice, George Ingram, her father's aide-de-camp.

As mentioned before the company is a good one and is very largely made up of material new to St. John. Miss Sue Van Duser, Harry Stubbs and Aldrich Bowker being the only members who are remembered as having been here before under the Harkins management. They were heartily welcomed on each appearance, and it is not necessary to criticise their work beyond saying that they were seen at their best. Just how good that is is a matter of record in St. John.

Of the new-comers, Orson M. Dunn, as the viceroy, gave an excellent conception of the part. He has a rich resonant voice, a good stage presence and excellent facial expression. Beyond a doubt he will become a favorite here.

Carl Fey, as the Mandarin, or "the shadow behind the throne," was also a distinct success, and made a most favorable impression on the audience as an actor of ability.

Miss May Anderson, as the Unknown, was also exceptionally good, while the remaining members of the cast rendered first-class support.

The piece was well staged and dressed, and altogether a most enjoyable production throughout. It will be presented again tonight.

LETTER FROM MISS KELEHER

To the Editor of The Telegraph:

Sir,—Today, much to my surprise, I received $38.52 as the winner of the first prize in the Star's limerick contest of last week. My hopes had not soared so high as to be first prize winner. But much of the pleasure was taken away in reading the Star last evening, where I found references to private family affairs which, to say the least, were in very bad taste. Among other things, it was stated that four of our family are in bed with scarlet fever and that I "have been living away from home," as I was "compelled to go daily to work at Wilcox Bros.' and of course had to avoid any possibility of contagion." Also that the money "will find plenty of use." It is true there has been sickness at home, but I am thankful to say all are well again, and I think the Star might very well have allowed personal matters to remain where they belong—at home—and not in the columns of a newspaper. The Star has made it appear almost as if the prize money was a charitable donation while, on the contrary, I entered fairly into the contest, carried out its terms and won the money fairly. Thanking you for your valuable space, I am,

Yours truly,
MARGARET H. KELEHER.

NEW SINGER, NEW PICTURES, NEW SONGS, BIG ORCHESTRA

Nickel Theatre Had Grand Opening for Another Week Last Night.

The Nickel had a grand opening for another week last night, and the afternoon shows were well attended as well. Besides the superior show of motion photographs, Harry Newcomb, of Portland (Me.), made his bow as a singer. He is a good looking young man, of fine stage presence, and possesses a most melodious baritone voice, full of expression and of great flexibility. In the march-song, The Girl You Leave Behind, he made an instant hit, and was generously encored. De Witt Cairns, in Chas. K. Harris' ballad, Because I Love You So, was also received with unstinted plaudits, and the Nickel is congratulating itself upon securing the services of two such remarkably fine vocalists—young men who are well mated as singers.

Another particularly attractive feature of the show is the exceptionally fine incidental music by the orchestra, which was last night augmented by the addition of Prof. W. C. Bowden, violinist. It is the aim of the Nickel management to give its patrons the benefit of the best talent available. The Irish airs in connection with the Glimpses of Erin, were highly commented upon. New waltzes, intermezzos and caprices were also very catchy.

Of the principal part of the programme, too much cannot be said in the way of commendation. The large crowds of thoughtful, appreciative people who saw the West African scenes, the Irish scenery and the fine exposition of horses belonging to Louis Winans' famous English farm, were charmed with the entertainment. A comedy film brought the usual amount of laughs. Tonight and this afternoon the same show will be put on.
