ALEX. CORBET, Manager

The Captain of the Kansas

By LOUIS TRACY.

(Entered according to Act of Parliament of Canada, in the year nineteen hundred and seven, by McLeod & Allen at the Department of Agriculture.)

"I will try," she said, and she walked to the piano which was screwed athwart the deck in front of the polished mahogany sheath of the steel mainmast. It was in her mind to play some lively excerpts from the light operas then in vogue, but the secret influences of the hour were stronger than her studied intent, and when her fingers touched the keys, they wandered, almost without volition, into the subtle harmonies of Gounod's "Ave Maria." She played the air first; then, gaining confidence, she sang the words, using a Spanish version which had caught her fancy. It was good to see the flashing eyes and impassioned gestures of the Chilean stewards when they found that she was singing in their own language. These men, owing to their acquaintance with the sea and knowledge of the coast, were now in a state of panic; they would have burst the bonds of discipline on the least pretext. So, as it chanced, the voice of the English senorita reached them as the message of an angel, and the spell she cast over them did not lose its potency during some hours of dangerous toil. Here, again, was found one of the trivial incidents which contributed materially to the working out of a strange drama, because anything in the nature of a mutinous ory breaking out in the first part of that soul-destroying night must have instantly converted the ship into a blood-bespattered inferno.

Excited applause rewarded the song. Fired by example, the dapper French Count approached the piano and asked Elsie if she could play Benares's "Hoi d'Yvetot." She repressed a smile at his choice, but the chance that presented itself of initiating a concert on the spur of the moment was too good to be lost, so M. de Poincilt, in a nice light tenor, told how

Il était un roi d'Yvetot
Peu connu, mais d'histoire.
So avant tard, so couchant tot,
Dormant fort bien sans gloire.

The Frenchman took the merry monarch seriously, but the lilting melody pleased everybody except "Mr. Wood." The "Oh, On!" and "Ah, Ah!" of the chorus apparently stirred him to speech. He strolled from a corner of the saloon to the side of Gray, the American engineer, and said, with a contemptuous nod towards the singer:

"What rot!"
"Not a bit of it. He's all right. Won't you give us a song next?"
If Gray showed the face of a sphinx, so did "Mr. Wood," whose real name was Tolemache. He bent a little nearer.

"Seen the rockets?" he asked.

"No. Are we signalling?"

"Every minute. Have counted fifteen."

"You don't say. Things are in a pretty bad shape, then?"

Run-down!

How frequently we hear this expression! How completely we understand its meaning! It is that dull, weary, listless feeling which betokens faded nerves and overtaxed system. Your food is not yielding its nourishment properly because indigestion is at work. Instead it is loading your blood with impurities, and that is why you are run-down.

Mother Seigel's Syrup

"I felt dull and low-spirited; my tongue was coated and I had a nasty taste in my mouth; my appetite was poor, and dizziness and pains in my back made sleep impossible. But Mother Seigel's Syrup and Pills have made me ever so well."—From Mrs. McPherson, 186, Canning St., Montreal, July 11, 1907.

A NOVELTY IN OSTRICH HEADRESS.

With such charming novelties as this in head-dressings it is to be wondered at that ostrich effects are once more to know a popular vogue? Ostrich hair ornaments have been practically dead since the dignified Prince of Wales tips fell into disuse some years ago. There is a fancy this season for matching these ostrich ornaments not to the costume but the coiffure, and the effect while unusual, to say the least, is nevertheless, very attractive. This idea is perhaps the prettiest seen. It may be worn with equal satisfaction with the low parted coiffure, or the costly waved, high knot arrangement. This particular dressing is in two shades of rich golden brown, both of which compliment tones in the wearer's hair.

A WOMAN'S SUFFERING

Consultations With Doctors and Specialists Gave But Little Relief.

Halifax, N. S., Sept. 4.—Mrs. R. J. Rawlings, of 12 Argyle street, gives the following statement which should be of interest to every reader: "No one could know what I have suffered from torturing headaches, faint feeling, and lassitude. In the morning I was scarcely able to do my work and when night came I felt too miserable to sleep. The doctors did me little good, so I decided to buy Dr. Hamilton's Pills, about which I had heard so much good. In a week I improved. My headaches were less severe, my appetite increased, and faintness passed away. Day by day I gained strength, and increased in weight. The trouble I am sure was in my stomach, and Dr. Hamilton's Pills did what was necessary. I used twenty boxes and in consequence will live twenty years longer."

Just the prescription for every tired, ailing woman, try Dr. Hamilton's Pills and see if this isn't so. Sold by all dealers, 25c. per box.

Courtenay, with one cold glance, chilled into silence the muttered prayers and curses of the Chileans.

"It may be necessary, about daybreak, to endeavor to beach the ship," he continued. "I wish you all, therefore, to guard against possible exposure by wearing warm clothes, especially furs and overcoats. Money and jewelry should be secured, but no baggage of any sort, not even the smallest handbag, can be carried, as all other personal belongings must be left on board. Passengers will gather here, and remain here until I send one of the officers for them. The companion doors will be closed again, but the decks are quite impassable. You hear for yourselves that they are momentarily swept by heavy seas."

He turned to the chief steward.

"Your men, Mr. Malcolm," he said, "will begin at once, under your directions, to draw stores for each boat. There need be no hurry or excitement. We are, as yet, many miles distant from the nearest known land. If the wind changes, or one of several possible things happens, the Kansas will suffer no damage whatever. I wish all hands to be prepared, however, for the remote chance, I trust, of the ship's being driven ashore, and I beg each one of you to remember that discipline and strict obedience to orders are not only more necessary now than ever, but also that they will be strictly enforced."

The concluding sentence was uttered very slowly and clearly. It was evident he meant the ship's company to understand him. Before any of his hearers attempted to question him, he jammed the southwest corner of his head and ran up stairs. The dog followed, somewhat ruefully, the cozy saloon being far more to his liking than the wind-swept, spray-lashed chart-house. Mr. Malcolm promptly stirred his myrmidons with a command to fall in by boat's crew, and Comol won his chief's approval by quietly translating the captain's orders. Beyond Mrs. Somerville's subdued sobbing there was little outward manifestation that another crisis in the history of the Kansas and her human freight had come and gone.

"The skipper did turn up, you see," said the American, when Tolemache came to him. The silent man screwed his lips together as if he would put a padlock on them.

"From your knowledge of the coast, do you think he will be able to beach the ship?" went on Gray, some humorous imprompting him, even in that tense moment, to draw the expected answer from his new friend and ally.

"Yes, in pieces," said Tolemache, and the reply was neither humorous nor expected.

Why Liquid Catarrh Remedies Fail

They go direct to the stomach, have little effect on the linings of the nose and throat, and entirely fail to cure. Only by cleansing the air passages by relieving the inflammation and killing the germs is cure possible. No combination of Antiseptics is so successful as Catarrhazone. In breathing it, you send the richest pine balsams right to the seat of the disease. Irritating phlegm is cleared out, hoarseness, coughing and hacking are cured. For a permanent cure for catarrh, nothing equals Catarrhazone, 25 cts. and $1.00, at all dealers.

AND VICE-VERSA

"Lots of people are good when it is easy."

"Yes, and I have observed another peculiar thing."

"What is it?"

"They are so apt to be easy when they are good."—Nashville American.

STRIKE PREVENTED BY A BARREL OF BEER

Company's Liquid Arbitration Keeps Little Cigarmakers On the Job.

(New York American.)

A barrel of beer brought into play on the top floor of the factory of the Petite Cigar Company, No. 227 Pearl street, yesterday, prevented a strike of little cigarmakers. But the leaders of the Progressive Rolled Cigarette Makers' Union have new plans to bring about a walkout. For every barrel of beer put up by the Petite Cigar Company the union threatened to put up two.

The union sent a committee to the factory to induce the men to quit. They found the cigarmakers busily consuming lager and could not get even a hearing.

PIMPLES

Facial Blemishes, Blackheads, Eruptions

They Have One Common Cause. An Impure Condition of the Blood

Make the blood normal and you cure the pimples.

Not a bit of use to try external applications. The fountain of life, the blood, must be purified.

More than that, the blood must be supplied with the elements necessary to furnish the organs with increased power to do their work.

Ferrozene supplies exactly these constituents, and it does more.

It stimulates through the nervous system all the eliminative functions of the body.

By stimulating the kidneys and liver, the skin is relieved of an excessive work, and it soon resumes its normal mode of action.

Ferrozene destroys the poisons in the blood, gives it new and rich material through the thorough digestion of food.

The skin resumes its normal, rich color. Every vestige of blotch, pimple or eruption then disappears.

You see then that Ferrozene is not only a blood purifier, but a blood fortifier, and when your blood is pure and strong, not only will the skin be freed from blemishes and pimples, but the whole body will be rejuvenated and fortified, and given the power of endurance, vim, the natural outcome of health. Ferrozene is sold by all dealers in 50c. boxes.

SUMMER HOTEL BURNED

BELFAST, Me., Dec. 5.—The Ocean House, a summer hotel at Northport campground, valued at $10,000, and owned by L. W. Benner, was burned to the ground tonight, starting a conflagration which threatens to destroy all the property in the south shore district. The $5,000 cottage of Ira Coby, of Chicago, is in flames, and a score of smaller structures in the path. The Belfast firemen have gone to the scene, but at last accounts had not been able to make much headway as a strong wind prevails and there is no apparatus available except one or two small hand tubs. Should the fire spread to the bay shore, the loss will be $20,000 or more.

SNEEZES AND REGAINS HIS HEARING

ITHACA, Dec. 4.—William Shepard, of Horseheads, who is visiting in this city, and who has been deaf some ten years, had his hearing restored while attending service in Zion A. M. E. Church yesterday. The cure was not the result of any miraculous manifestation, but was produced by a vigorous sneeze.

"Just as I sneezed," he said today, "something in my head seemed to crack with a report like a pistol shot. My hearing returned and it is as acute as at any time during my life."
