JOHN WHITE WILL GIVE UP BUSINESS

Bennett Enterprises Ltd. Have Leased His Building and He Will Retire After March 1.

The old established furniture business which has been conducted by John White in Charlotte street for many years will be discontinued early in the new year. The building has been leased by Mr. White to the Bennett Enterprises, Ltd., now the proprietors of the Unique Theatre in the same thoroughfare. The building occupied by the Unique and Biograph theatres will be opened by Henderson & Hunt, the King street clothiers. The news of the retirement of Mr. White from active business will be received with a considerable measure of regret by a majority of the citizens. For the last forty years, first as a partner with the late George Stewart, and since 1887 in business for himself, Mr. White has shared in the city's prosperity and won the esteem of all with whom he has come in contact.

The business was first carried on in the old Smith building which stood on the site of the new building next to the Globe office in Prince William street. After the fire of '77 the present building was erected and it is a noteworthy fact that it was the second brick structure completed after the conflagration. Here Mr. White has remained ever since.

When questioned by a Telegraph reporter as to past events and his future plans Mr. White replied that he had given a lease of his building to the Bennett Enterprises, Limited, at a rental very satisfactory to himself and would give up possession before March 1.

It is understood that Henderson & Hunt will commence business in Charlotte street after May 1 next. When asked for further particulars last evening Donaldson Hunt said the firm's plans were not yet matured.

FAIRY LAND.

The programme now running at Fairy Land is one of the best that has yet been shown at that popular theatre. The Wedding and of a Coon, is a full reel of fun and enjoyment, portraying the trials and tribulations of life before and after marriage. A Free Lunch, is a four-minute comedy of the usual bad boy and some hungry tramps. The Piker's Dream, is the story of an opium fiend's dream of luck on the race course. Mr. Dykeman will sing the new illustrated song, The Flowers Outside the Cafe. Everyone should make it a point to see this excellent programme. Tonight is your last chance. Entire change of pictures Friday.

VICTORIA RINK.

If there is "zero" weather for five minutes before 12 o'clock today, the Victoria Rink will open tonight, as advertised; otherwise, not until Friday evening or Saturday afternoon, further announcement of which will be made.

In the meantime, season tickets are on sale at the box office of the rink, where Santa Claus has already made numerous calls, and has secured envelopes which will gladden the hearts of many young people. Nothing gives quite so much pleasure, at Christmas time, as a ticket for Victoria Rink.

THE JOY OF GIVING.

comes from the pleasure we take in the selection of the gift, and in the anticipation of the happiness it will bring, the recipient and an article of jewelry, a watch, a diamond ring, a clock, a toilet or manicure set, a piece of silver ware, cut glass, a jewel case of a good reliable quality are lasting reminders, a thing of beauty and a joy forever, and will bring delight to giver and recipient alike. I have a most beautiful assortment of such articles in stock and will be more than pleased to show, to offer and sell at most reasonable prices to would-be purchasers and guarantee them to be just as represented. W. Tremaine Gard, Goldsmith and jeweler, 77 Charlotte street.

At the Nickel

That nothing succeeds like success pertains to moving pictures as well as other things and the enormous crowds that attended the Nickel Theatre last evening were so well pleased with the big comedy bill that today's attendance will be equally large. It has been some time since the Nickel devoted two whole days to fun pure and simple and the experiment has proved the wisdom of the idea.

The picture titled Dream of a Welsh Rarebit Fiend is the leading film and comes from the Edison laboratory, the foremost of American moving picture makers, and originators of The Night Before Christmas, College Chums and other slides shown at the Nickel recently. This is a ludicrous conception from start to finish and the scene wherein the victim of the dream sails over New York city in his bed is side splitting. The trick photography draws forth many exclamations of surprise and delight.

The other pictures are: Mike, the Artist's Model, a clever vaudeville sketch put on before the camera, and one of the wittiest pantomimes one could imagine. The make up of this stage Irishman excites everybody to continuous laughter. The Exciting Cab Ride and the Escaped Lunatic complete the funny bill of fare.
