LATE LOCALS

St. Mary's Band will hold an at home in St. Mary's schoolroom tomorrow evening.

Battle line steamer Trebia, Captain Hill, sailed from Cardiff yesterday for Genoa.

J. C. Allen, Fredericton, has purchased Minnie McGregor, 2.15 1-2, and she may go to the ice races in charge of Collins.

Norwegian steamer Hermod, Captain Sorensen, sailed from Dalhousie, N. B., yesterday for Rosario via Sydney, C. B., with a cargo of dry lumber.

Dr. J. H. Seammell, who has been acting as quarantine officer since the death of Dr. J. E. March, last evening received notification that Dr. R. E. Ruddick would undertake the duties after November 30th.

Boston steamer Calvin Austin arrived this morning early, and landed 23 passengers. She was detained by the recent storm.

A mass meeting of the St. John Orange-men will be held in Orange Hall, Germain street on Friday evening at eight o'clock, under the auspices of the St. John Community Lodge. Matters of importance in connection with the order will be considered.

A verbal report was received from R. A. McIntyre, auditor of the books in the chamberlain's department, at a private session of the treasury board yesterday afternoon. The board will meet again this afternoon to hear the chamberlain with reference to the existing state of affairs.

Russian sailing ship Imperator Alexander II, Captain Tsek, and from Dalhousie, N. B., for Melbourne, Australia, last Sunday, but owing to the fierce gale on Monday the ship had to put back to a safe anchorage.

A meeting was held last evening in the Victoria street Baptist church for the purpose of organizing a sisterhood in connection with the B. Y. P. U. The organization was formed and Arthur Vanwart was elected the first president. Some sixty ladies joined as charter members.

The C. P. R. tug Cruiser, Captain Stevens, which has been used as tender for the Empress steamers at Quebec the past season, arrived at Halifax last Monday evening for shelter. The tug is on her way here, where she will be engaged during the winter months in docking the winter port steamers.

It is stated in Boston steamship circles that the steamer Yale will next summer resume her sailings between St. John and Boston, and that her sister ship will perform a service between New York and Halifax. Both steamers are now controlled by the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railway Company.

Police Clerk Henderson has received from P. B. McCafferty, formerly of the local press, who is now in Saskatoon, a newspaper clipping dealing with the organization of a Canadian Club in Saskatoon. Mr. McCafferty's name appears on the list as a charter member.

The steamer Empress, from Pictou, which arrived at Charlottetown on Saturday, had on board the bodies of three former P. E. Islanders who met their deaths by accident. The bodies were those of Daniel McDougall and wife, who were suffocated in their home, and Mrs. William Green, who was instantly killed by being struck by an automobile, while stepping off a street car.

A woman unknown to the police was picked up in a dazed condition, the result of drinking, at the foot of Dorchester street last night. Sergt. Kilpatrick carried her as far as King Square where he handed her over to Edmund Marshall and Hughes. The woman was chilled when discovered, but revived after reaching central station.

Eighteen of the Allan liner Tunisian's passengers who attempted to land at Halifax were deported because of trachoma or other disease, or lack of funds. One of them, a Jewish woman, had a first class ticket and possibly thought in this way to escape inspection, but she came under observation and made one of the eighteen who went back on board. Twenty of the immigrants also went to the detention hospital.

OUR CANADIAN HERITAGE

Interesting Lecture by Mrs. E. A. Smith Last Evening.

A large and representative audience gathered in the school room of St. Andrew's church last night when Mrs. E. A. Smith, in behalf of the Ladies' Aid Society of the church, delivered her very interesting illustrated lecture "Our Canadian Heritage." Starting at St. John, the lecturer took her hearers first to the historic city of Quebec and from there by the C. P. R. through cities of interest and then across the great Canadian Rockies with their gigantic peaks, yawning canyons, mirrored lakes, brawling streams, majestic falls, and glaciers. Then on through tunnel after tunnel, over trestles of dizzying height and out over the great wheat regions of "the bread basket of the world," and finally landing at the Pacific coast, with its many items of interest.

The views were—most of them—taken by Mr. Smith, who had accompanied the lecturer on her journey.

Mrs. Smith is a fluent, easy speaker, with perfect command of the English language, and these, combined with descriptive powers of unusual excellence, made this trip across the continent a particularly delightful one.

Needless to say, Mrs. Smith has already made an enviable record as a lecturer.

At the close, on motion of Judge Forbes, a very hearty vote of thanks was tendered Mrs. Smith, who made a brief but suitable reply.

CLARENCE WARD RESIGNS AFTER 26 YEARS' SERVICE

Secretary of N. B. Historical Society Gives Up That Position—Rev. W. O. Raymond Succeeds Him.

After 26 years as secretary of the New Brunswick Historical Society, Clarence Ward, at a meeting held last night, resigned his position.

T. O'Brien presided, and the members, to show their appreciation of Mr. Ward's long and faithful services, elected him president for the ensuing year. Rev. Dr. Raymond was elected secretary.

The society will meet on New Year's eve, when a number of short papers on bygone modes of celebrating that festival will be read.

Mr. Ward's resignation was received with regret and those present spoke warm words of praise of the faithful and efficient manner in which the secretary had carried out his duties. To mark the occasion, Mr. Ward read a paper in which he sketched briefly the history of the society since its foundation in 1874.

OBITUARY

Isaac J. Palmer

Isaac J. Palmer, a native of this city, died at his home in Jersey City, on the 23rd inst. Mr. Palmer was the owner of a number of dry docks. He is survived by three sons and two daughters. He was a prominent member of the Masonic fraternity, Mystic Shrine, I. O. O. F., Knights of Pythias, and a number of other societies.

Charles L. Richards

Word has been received by Miss Alice Nowlin, 197 Charlotte street, that Chas. L. Richards died in Denver (Colo.), on the 7th inst. Mr. Richards was a well known barrister of this city. Miss Nowlin is his sister-in-law. Deceased is survived by three sons, all in Denver.

Capt. J. W. O'Dell

Digby, Nov. 26—Capt. J. W. O'Dell, a retired deep water master mariner, died at his home in Smith's Cove, at 5:30 yesterday morning aged 74 years. He was taken with apoplexy of the brain Friday, from which he never rallied. He was a member of the Baptist church, was a good citizen and highly respected by all who knew him. He leaves a widow and two children, Avary Sulis O'Dell, of Everett (Mass.), and John E. O'Dell, of New York; also one brother and one sister, Allan O'Dell, of New York, and Mrs. Isaac Smith, of Smith's Cove. The funeral takes place Wednesday afternoon, with interment in Smith's Cove Baptist cemetery the services being conducted by Rev. Mr. Carter, of Clementsport.

Miss Mary E. Daniel

Miss Mary Elizabeth Daniel, daughter of the late Rev. Henry Daniel, and sister of Dr. J. W. Daniel, M. P., died last evening at her brother's residence. She had been an invalid for many years, but only in the last four or five days had become seriously ill. Miss Daniel was seventy years of age. She was a member of Centenary Methodist church and the pastor, Rev. Dr. Sprague, will conduct the services at the funeral, which will be held Thursday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from Dr. Daniel's residence, 148 Princess street. Many friends of the family will join in sympathy for them in their bereavement.

W. D. Foster

Yesterday a telegram to a friend in St. John, announced the death of W. D. Foster, at Norristown, Pa., where he had been for the past month under treatment by physicians there.

Mr. Foster had been in ill health for a long time and last May severed his connection with the firm of C. N. Beal & Company in St. John, and removed to St. Andrews.

He is survived by his wife, and two children, a son and a daughter—the son being a resident in the Western States, and his brother, Dr. D. A. D. Foster, formerly practising in St. John, and now resident in Norristown, Pa.

His first wife was a daughter of Capt. Green, late of St. Andrews, and his second wife a Miss Ketchum, daughter of the late rector, Dr. Ketchum, of St. Andrews.

Mr. Foster's father was formerly connected with the imperial customs service, and later proprietor of the news room in St. John.

He was active in Masonic circles, and during his residence in St. John was a prominent member of the Mission Church on Paradise Row.

The Late Mrs. Shannon

Annapolis, N. S., Nov. 26—The funeral of the late Mrs. Shannon took place today from the residence of W. J. Shannon. Services were conducted by Rev. J. R. Douglas, of Milford, Hants county, a former pastor of the Presbyterian church of this place, assisted by Rev. Mr. Thorp, who is supplying St. Andrew's and Rev. H. H. McNeil, Methodist. A choir under the leadership of Mrs. Rogers rendered Jesus Lover of My Soul, Abide With Me, and other hymns.

After the service the funeral cortege with Western Star lodge of Oddfellows and Annapolis Royal lodge of Freemasons, preceded the hearse, followed by a large concourse of citizens, marching to the railway station and deposited the remains on the train en route to St. John for interment.

On the casket were a large number of floral tributes, which included a wreath from Annapolis Royal lodge of Freemasons; wreath from Western Star lodge Oddfellows; wreath from the Women's Christian Temperance Union; pillow from the family of the deceased bearing the word "Mother"; wreath, from Mr. and Mrs. A. M. King; wreath, Mr. and Mrs. Atter; wreath, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Crowe; cross, Mrs. Barnes; cut flowers, Mr. and Mrs. Blackie.

WEDDINGS

Boyce—O'Donnell

Miss Annie O'Donnell, daughter of Rodrick O'Donnell, for many years proprietor of the Government House, Petersville, Queens county, was married yesterday at the residence of her father to Daniel Boyce, of Bentley street, this city. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Charles Carleton. The bride wore pink mousseline de soie. She was attended by her sister, Miss O'Donnell, who wore cream crepe de chine. Charles Keating, of Fairville, supported the groom. Mr. and Mrs. Boyce will reside in Bentley street, North End. The bride received handsome wedding gifts. Among those at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Heenan, Terence O'Donnell, brother of the bride; James Dawson and Charles Keating, of Fairville.
