TAKING ALL PRECAUTIONS AGAINST BUBONIC PLAGUE

Stmr. Alcides Will Be Thoroughly Examined and Fumigated.

Alcides Passed Brier Island This Morning--Dr. Scammell Ordered to Keep Sharp Lookout for Bubonic--One Glasgow Boat Had Two Cases.

The good news that the Donaldson line steamship Alcides, Captain Rankine had passed inward at Brier Island, N. S. this morning at 10 o'clock was received by Signal Master Morton.

The Alcides left Glasgow on the 19th, October and was overdue several days on account of severe weather in the Atlantic ocean. There have been a number of ocean steamships overdue at Boston and New York which arrived and reported high winds and heavy seas during the whole passage which no doubt the Alcides also met with, as all her other trips to this port were made in ten to twelve days. The Alcides will be due off Portridge Island this afternoon at about four o'clock where she will come to an anchor.

Dr. Scammell, the acting port physician, has been instructed to make a thorough investigation of the Alcides and to have her thoroughly fumigated. This is done for the reason that a steamer recently arrived in the St. Lawrence River from Glasgow with two cases of bubonic plague on board.

The Alcides has a large general cargo on board, including a large lot of Scotch hard coal. If everything is all right, and there is no sickness on board, the steamer will come up to her berth tomorrow morning.

LITTLE INTEREST IN THE NEW YORK ELECTIONS TODAY

Indications Point To a Very Small Vote--Balloting Slow and Voters Apathetic.

NEW YORK, Nov. 5--The quietest election in years so far as general public interest is concerned, is proceeding in Greater New York today, following a spiritless campaign. Political orators tried in vain to arouse the apathetic voters. Slow balloting in the early hours today indicated a light vote, despite fair weather, and an agreeable temperature. An "off year" is the explanation of the politicians for the apparent apathy, as only state assemblies, county officers and some judges are to be chosen. What little interest there is has been centered in the fight for sheriff of New York county. The candidates are Thomas Foley, Democrat, long a Tammany leader, and Maximilian F. Ihmsen, Independence League and Republican who has acted as campaign manager for William R. Hearst for several years. Both sides early today expressed themselves as confident of victory. The only state officers to be chosen outside of assemblies are two judges of the court of appeals. Edward T. Bartlett and William R. Hearst were nominated by both the Republicans and Democrats and are practically certain of election. They are opposed by nominees of the Independence League.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Nov. 5--There are elections in twelve states today. In Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Maryland, Mississippi and Kentucky, a governor and other state officers are to be chosen. In New Jersey, a governor only; in New York two associate justices of the court of appeals; in Pennsylvania, a state treasurer, and in Nebraska, a railroad commissioner and two regents of the university. In Ohio, Utah and California, municipal officers are to be selected; while in New York county a number of judges and a sheriff are to be voted for.

MARATHONS AND MONCTON SURE

Greeks Get Word That Railway Town Team Will Play Here Saturday.

All doubts as to whether the Moncton football team would be here to play the Marathons on Saturday have been set at rest by the receipt of a telegram by Manager Donald from the Moncton management this morning to the effect that the fifteen from the railway town would be here without fail. It had been thought that the threatened ill fortune of the Monctonians would prevent their playing the Greeks. Matters have been fixed up however and lovers of football can rest assured that the contest will be a rattler from the start. It is too early as yet to figure out line-ups, but it will probably be found that the Marathons will play the same team that played against the U. N. B. on Saturday.

Col. Denney of London, Eng., managing director of the Dominion Atlantic Railway, accompanied by R. L. Campbell, secretary of the company, passed through the city today in the private car Earlsfield attached to the Atlantic express. They were en route to Halifax to make a tour of inspection of the D. A. railway system. Col. Denney is head of the big ship-building firm of that name, who built the Shamrock III, and other well known vessels.

STMR. ALCIDES WILL BE TRIED BY THE SENATE

Unusual Procedure in Italian Misappropriation Case Which Opens Today.

ROME, Nov. 5--Much interest is taken throughout Italy in the trial of Signor Nuncio Nasi, former minister of public instruction, which begins here today. Signor Nasi is accused of the misappropriation of public funds while in office and he will be tried by the senate sitting as a high court of justice. This unusual procedure adds to the importance of the occasion and attracts the especial interest of the people. The government has taken every precaution to preserve order for it is certain that there will be serious demonstrations in favor of the accused man. With Signor Nasi, Signor Lombardi, formerly Nasi's secretary, is under indictment. Though he is suffering from pneumonia he will appear before the high court and he declares he will fight with his last breath to prove his innocence and that of his friend and one-time master.

MUSEUM PROFITED BY DECISION

CHICAGO, Ill., Nov. 4--The Field Museum of Natural History profited by a decision rendered by Judge Cutting of the probate court today, to the extent of $420,000. The museum was paid by the late Marshall Field to the trustees of the museum prior to the date of his will, which contained a bequest of $8,000,000 to the trustees against the executors of the will to determine whether the bequest was intended to be exclusive of the amount previously donated. Judge Cutting decided the suit in favor of the museum on the testimony of President Higinbotham, of the board of trustees.

STEAMER SPRINGFIELD DESTROYED BY FIRE AT HATFIELD'S POINT TODAY

The steamer Springfield, owned by Captain Joseph Porter and Herman Belyea of Brown's Flats, was burned to the water's edge at Hatfield's Point early this morning. The captain and crew all escaped safely from the burning boat, but they lost all their clothing and effects. The first announcement of the disaster came in a telephone message from Captain Hal Mabey to Geo. R. Cromwell, in D. H. Nasse's store in the north end. Mr. Cromwell was asked to notify Captain Mabey's family and others that all on the steamer were well.

A telephone message to the Times from Hatfield's Point, which is the terminus for the steamer at the head of Bellefleur, was to the effect that the fire was discovered about 1.30 o'clock and half an hour later the steamer was totally destroyed. Herman Belyea was the first one to awaken, and smelling smoke he opened the door of his stateroom and saw that the boat was in flames. He called at once to the captain and told him to arouse the crew, that the ship was on fire. As quickly as possible all were apprised of the danger and they had to fly for their lives. Mr. Belyea tried to save the steamer's books, but could not do so, neither could he get any of his clothing. It was a narrow call for their lives for the boat was a seething mass of flames in a few minutes.

As soon as all were safely on the wharf the boat was cut loose from her moorings and a strong westerly wind that was blowing drove her across the dredge track and out on the marsh where she grounded in about three or four feet of water at a point about opposite Bayview.

By two o'clock, so fierce were the flames that everything was consumed except the wheel and stern posts and a stock of cordwood that had been laid in for today's use.

The burning boat made a very pretty fire as the wind carried the smoke away leaving the bright red flames. A large crowd of people from nearby houses gathered at the wharf to watch the conflagration.

Mrs. Mott, cook on the ill-fated steamer, was the only one who escaped unscathed, but when the message was sent had recovered.

The members of the crew about nine o'clock started from Hatfield's Point to drive to the main river to take the steamer for the city.

Captain Porter said the steamer was insured for only $2,000. He thought the fire must have caught from the furnace as the blaze seemed to be about that region of the boat when first discovered. He is of the opinion that the fire was accidental.

The crew of the burned steamer was as follows: Captain, Hal Mabey; mate, Alex. McClary; engineer, Capt. J. Porter. Mrs. Mure and Mrs. Thorne were stewardess and cook, respectively, and the deckhand,

DEMAND THE GUILLOTINE

Increase of Crime in France Results in Popular Cry for Restoration of Death Sentence.

PARIS, Nov. 5--The increase of crime in France has aroused a popular demand for the restoration of the death penalty, which has been practically abolished by the systematic commutation of the sentences of criminals condemned to death. The government desires to formally abolish capital punishment and has been commuted to death sentence to imprisonment at hard labor for life. During the present session of parliament it was the intention of the ministry to secure the adoption of a measure formally doing away with the execution of criminals, but recently juries throughout the country have recommended having recourse to the guillotine as being the only means of stopping the atrocious murders which are of daily occurrence in Paris and in the provinces. A popular vote taken by a local newspaper has resulted in 1,083,655 persons pronouncing themselves in favor of restoring capital punishment while 328,693 announced themselves as being opposed to it.

THE TIMES NEW REPORTER

HIRAM HAS HOPES.

Mr. Hiram Hornbeam is much interested in the announcement that the cheese factories in Ontario are making money out of whey, and making money out of it. He entertains hope that the Ontario people will in time measure up to the standard of intelligence that marks the people of Hornbeam Settlement.

"They're comin'," said Hiram to the Times new reporter. "But we got a man out to the Settlement could give 'em some pointers. He kin make butter out of 'lard. He sold six tubs o' butter last fall, an' on a little of it come from the cows--just enough to put on top an' look nice. In the bottom was grease worth about ten cents a pound. The cow, as a butter maker, alwus necessary. She helps some, but this is an age of progress. That's what the papers say, an' I guess mebbe it's true. I heard about a feller buyin' a lot o' potatoes up our way last week, an' when he turned the bar's out he had enough old boots an' coats an' things in the bottom to start a second hand store. He did--By Hen!"

It is stated that a meeting of the medical society will be held this week to adopt resolutions thanking the government for having discovered a gentleman qualified to fill the office of port physician without thrusting that honor upon any member of the profession in the city. It was feared that some city physician would be seized upon and asked to take the job, but this fear is now allayed.

Offer of Premium for Hard Cash Brings Out Hidden Wealth.

Men, Women and Children Pour Their Savings Into Gotham's Financial District and Earn Bonus Offered by Bankers Who Needed Money.

NEW YORK, Nov. 5--Currency of all denominations in varying stages of crispness poured into the offices of several brokerage houses in Wall street yesterday from all the nooks and crannies of New York. Hearing that 2 1/4 and 2 1/2 per cent premium was being paid for ready money, men, women and boys brought their savings to the financial district and exchanged them for certified checks with the premium increase which they deposited for them in the banks. In the offices of Mann, Bill, and Ware, 48 Wall street, one of the firms that led in the premium paying, there was a never ending line of assorted personalities throughout the day. They came from the East Side principally, and they carried their savings, which ranged all the way from one or three hundred dollars to five or six thousand dollars in pasteboard shoe boxes, in toy banks, in old socks, tied with a bit of cord, in their pockets and in one case in a derby hat. In one of the brokerage offices a lad appeared with $200, his savings from the sale of newspapers and periodicals for three years. This, too, he exchanged for a certified check including the premium.

The English Markets

LONDON, Nov. 5--Trading on the stock exchange today started well, operators being cheered by the announcement that gold shipments from Paris to London were being arranged. Led by cotton, which rose 3/8, most of the gilt edged securities benefited by the promised assistance from France, while Americans taking their cue from the favorable close of the market in New York yesterday, started quite firm at above parity prices, but subsequently dropped from the best quotations. Inquiries made in the bullion markets show that the brokers expect the Paris shipments of gold to London to be fairly considerable. They also express the opinion that the outflow of gold to America from London would continue for some time even if the Bank of England's discount rate is raised to seven per cent. It is pointed out, however, that if such a rate becomes necessary it is bound to attract gold from other sources, thus offsetting the American drain. It is further remarked that the Bank of England's discount rate has not been above six per cent since 1873 when on Nov. 7, of that year, as the result of a panic on the stock exchange, the rate was put up to nine per cent.

Berlin is Apprehensive

BERLIN, Nov. 5--President Koch of the Imperial Bank of Germany, today authorized the Associated Press to deny the reports that the bank had interposed difficulties in the way of taking gold from that institution for export. "Gold," he said, "is always freely given in the redemption of notes at our head office in Berlin. This, however, is not done at the branches like Hamburg and Bremen, in unlimited amounts, since these would impose on the bank the necessity of paying transportation charges thither from Berlin. The Imperial Bank viewed with considerable apprehension the fact that the open market discount in London today exceeded the Bank of England's, giving grounds for fear of a further advance in the latter's bank rate. This would necessitate again marking up the Berlin's bank rate, and the president fears that such a step, with an additional half per cent would not be sufficient but that a full one per cent would be necessary, making the rate 7 1/2 per cent, which would be higher than the Imperial Bank has ever placed it. A considerable sum in gold was taken from the Imperial Bank today for export to the United States, and further withdrawals are regarded as probable. The officials of the bank are watching the American situation with much interest and some anxiety, but they are not disposed to attribute the present disturbance of the German money market wholly to the American situation. For example, French exchange here is now above the gold point, which apparently is not due to the American demand for gold but probably to unfortunate speculations in copper and Kafirs at Paris.

Bank of France Ships Gold

PARIS, Nov. 5--The Bank of France today made its first shipment of gold to the Bank of England in order to relieve the tension here caused by the American demands. In pursuance to the decision reached last week the bank of France at the request of the Bank of England, purchased 3,000,000 pounds sterling bills remitting for them English sovereigns and American eagles.

Gold From Buenos Ayres

BUENOS AYRES, Nov. 5--Nearly 5,000,000 pesos in gold which several banks here have withdrawn from their conversion fund, has been shipped to New York.

More Gold Bought in London

LONDON, Nov. 5--The United States this afternoon purchased another consignment of bar gold amounting to £750,000, from the Bank of England. Canada also took £25,000 in sovereigns, presumably for the United States. A large quantity of gold will be shipped to New York tomorrow on the steamer Oceanic.
