A SPLENDID CONCERT

The Miller-McClaskey Concert in the Opera House Last Night Was a Rich Musical Treat.

Very pleasing indeed to Mrs. Miller, Mr. McClaskey, Miss Murray and Mrs. Scovil must have been the tribute paid to their musical talents last evening at the opera house. Not only was the house filled to its full seating capacity, by one of the most fashionable audiences of the season, but from the opening number each artist was greeted with applause that in every case insisted upon a second or third appearance. The tribute was well deserved. Music, sweet and tender, and rarely interpreted, threw its charm over the great audience, and there was enough of variety in the programme to heighten the general effect.

So great had been the demand for tickets for this concert that extra chairs were placed near the stage.

Mrs. S. K. Scovil gave the first number, a piano solo. This was artistically given and heartily received—the audience insistently demanding an encore, which was thoroughly enjoyed.

Mrs. Miller next appeared, singing "A Song of Love," by Mrs. H. A. Beach. She was accorded a very warm reception. When she responded to a hearty call for an encore a beautiful bouquet was passed over the foot lights for her.

Harry McClaskey sang Vesti la Giubba, in Italian. He was in fine voice and his appearance on the stage was the signal for generous and hearty applause, denoting his popularity with St. John music lovers. He was heartily encored.

Miss Olivia Murray made a most favorable impression with her rendering of Svendsen's "Romance," on the violin.

Mrs. Miller then followed with three numbers—The Nightingale's Song, A Little Winding Road, and A Pastoral, which were thoroughly enjoyed. Again she was compelled to respond to an encore.

Mr. McClaskey then gave four songs—"In the Garden of My Heart," and "Songs My Mother Taught Me" were finely rendered, though it would be difficult to discriminate as all were sung with much feeling and expression. He was called upon for an encore and sang "My Dreams," which was a treat.

The second part of the programme was opened by Mrs. Scovil with a Hungarian Rhapsody which showed her brilliant technique well. This stimulated the audience to great applause and ensured an encore which was well executed.

Mrs. Miller followed with Chanson Provencali, which was most enjoyed. A second bouquet was presented to her and she was again encored.

As assuring her popularity Miss Murray was given a hearty reception when she appeared in Part II and gave an artistic rendering of Wienawski's Legende. She was encored again and again.

Mrs. Miller and Mr. McClaskey then sang a duet, "A Night in Venice," their voices blending perfectly. This number was rendered most enthusiastically and the performers had to come before the audience and bow repeatedly before the audience would forgo an encore.

Mr. McClaskey then sang Mendelssohn's Aria, "If with all Your Heart," and as an encore sang "Mother o' Mine," earning many plaudits by both numbers. The closing number, Tosti's "Good Bye," was given by Mrs. Miller and was given with exquisite feeling. As an encore she sang Annie Laurie, accompanying herself on the piano.

D. Arnold Fox presided at the piano for the vocal and violin soloists and his artistic work added greatly to the evening's entertainment. Perhaps more significant than the loud applause was the almost perfect silence which reigned during the various numbers.

"Nerviline" the Best Rub for Athletes and Workers

A bottle of Nerviline in a pint of water makes the best rub-down. It's wonderful how soothing Nerviline is to over-strained or tender muscles—laming and strain is relieved at once. Pleasant to use, has an agreeable odor and makes it impossible to catch cold after you use it. Nerviline is the acme of perfection, and athletic leaders say there is not a pain, ache or bruise it won't cure. Not a liniment on earth with Nerviline's penetrating and pain-subduing power; try it.

Don't waste your time while in the schoolroom, but devote your study hours to your books.
