THE WHEEL O' FORTUNE

By LOUIS TRACY

Author of "The Wings of the Morning," "The Pillar of Light,"
"The Captain of the Kansas," etc.

(Copyright, 1908, McLeod & Allen, Toronto)

"Ah, poor, darling grandad! I hardly dare ask you how he bore it. I grieved more for him than for myself. You see, I knew it was all a wretched mistake. Those horrid men meant to carry off Mrs. Haxton."

"I gathered as much from what Mr. Fenshawe said. Of course, he was very greatly distressed, but, if matters go well with us now, you will be restored to him in another hour."

"I have no fear of anything when you are near, Mr. Royson. Something told me that long ago. And that is why I was vexed with you for leaving me this afternoon."

Dick's heart gave a great throb of joy, and his voice was somewhat husky as he answered:

"I could not help myself. The Italian whom you and Captain Stump noticed in the street was Alfieri. Mrs. Haxton saw him, too, and I would never have believed that terror could alter a woman's face as it altered hers. She begged me to find von Kerker, and warn him, and I thought, perhaps foolishly, that if I obeyed her wishes it might bring about the very thing you and I most desire."

Irene did not reply immediately. She felt unaccountably timid.

"It is stupid of me, but I do not quite follow your meaning," she volunteered at last.

"Well, you are anxious that this expedition should be abandoned, and I ought to return to England, where I am in great demand, it seems, after some years of scandalous neglect."

"Oh!" she said. "Is that it?"

There was another pause.

"But the fact that Mrs. Haxton, and not I, should be sitting here so—so confidentially—does not explain how it comes about does it?" she went on.

"I was so interested in what you were saying that I lost the thread of my story. We were listening to an excited jabber of nonsense in the hotel—for instance, one of the negro servants said you went away of your own free will—and wondering what on earth we could do, when this genius of an Arab came to me in a mysterious way, and led me straight on your track. Shall we bid him discourse?"

"Oh, please do. It is all so wonderful. I could see through the open windows of that hateful carriage when we crossed the causeway and went off to the left into a wild country. I gave up hope then. Your appearance on the beach was an actual miracle to my thinking."

INCURABLE HEART TROUBLE

Looked for Death in a Short Time—
Entirely Cured by "Fruit-a-tives"

"Gentlemen:—The days of miracles are not all past and I feel that my complete recovery, from what seemed inevitable death, is practically a miracle. I suffered from severe Indigestion and Dyspepsia for nearly two years. I could not take food without fearful distress, and I became almost a skeleton as the result of the suffering. I could not do any work and became so run down and weak that I could hardly walk. I was attended by two experienced doctors. They both pronounced my case heart failure and incurable, and I looked forward for death in a short time. I not only had the doctors but after they gave me up I tried many remedies and treatments but got no better."

"At this time my son asked me to try 'Fruit-a-tives,' and from the outset of taking these wonderful tablets I was better and gradually this medicine completely cured me. I took a large number of boxes, perhaps a dozen, and now I am entirely cured and I have gained over thirty pounds in weight."

"I am now so well that I have sold my farm and bought 200 acres more land. I make this statement voluntarily for the sake of humanity, and I am convinced that 'Fruit-a-tives' is a wonderful remedy that will cure stomach trouble where doctors and everything else fail."

(Sgd.) HENRY SPEERS, J.P.

The doctors were all wrong. Mr. Speers had what we call "irritated heart." Indigestion and dyspepsia completely upset the stomach. Poisonous gases were formed which swelled the walls of the stomach and pressed against the heart.

"Fruit-a-tives" immediately strengthened the stomach, insured sound digestion and regulated the bowels. There were no poisons—no noxious gases remained in the system, and the heart was no longer irritated. Then the pain and fluttering stopped.

"Fruit-a-tives" is put up in two sizes, 25c and 50c. If your dealer has not both, write Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

Abdullah, thinking to meet him again five minutes later.

But their next encounter with the Spear-thrower was destined to take place under strange conditions. His present intent was to slip away and seek an interview with Mrs. Haxton, as he had managed to worm out the information that she was on board the yacht. The last thing he desired was to be dragged into prominence. Though he had not been taught that a man might "do good by stealth and blush to find it fame," he was specially anxious that his action of that night should not be trumpeted forth in every ear.

Long before they gained the main thoroughfare, both Royson and Abdullah were conscious of many prying eyes. Not a few passers-by yielded frankly to curiosity and followed them. The girl of course, was hatless. Her dress of fine muslin was of a style and texture seldom seen in Massowah, and if the rare beauty of her face could excite comment in Hyde Park it could surely not pass unnoticed in a small and semi-barbarous Red Sea port.

Royson, too, thought his white drill uniform was familiar enough to the public, was out of keeping with his surroundings. He towered among the puny Italians; not a stalwart negro nor gaunt Arab in the throng could equal him in stature and physique.

Fashion Hint for Times Readers

EXTREMELY DIRECTOIRE.

The best phase of the Directoire mode is usually to be found in tailored garments, two-piece coat and skirt suits or the very smart one-piece tailored dresses, which are to be worn this season as pedestrian toiles, with handsome small furs. Such dresses, because of the fact that they will be worn without wraps, will be developed in the heavier cloths, serges, chevots, and similar weaves, with beautiful trimmings of braids disposed in military effects and embroideries of conventional design. The sash, as well as full-length tight sleeves and Directoire revers, will be the distinguishing features of such models.

PLAYS AND PLAYERS

LA TRAVIATA MONDAY

The Boston Opera Singers Company will open at the Opera House on Monday evening in Verdi's "La Traviata." The story resolves itself into four principal scenes—The supper at Violetta's house, where she makes the acquaintance of Alfred, and the ruptures between them occasioned by the arrival of Alfred's father; the ball at the house of Flora; and the death scene and reconciliation linked together by recitative, so that the dramatic unity of the original story is lost to very little extent. In the first act there is a party in Violetta's house; Alfred Germont, a young man from Provence is in love with her. The sincerity of his passion finally influences her to turn aside from her life of voluptuous pleasure and to cherish love for him.

In the next act she is living in seclusion with her lover in a country home. Alfred discovers she has sold her property and he refuses to be the recipient of her bounty and sets out for Paris to recover her property.

During his absence his father visits Violetta and pleads with her to forsake Alfred and she consents. She then secretly returns to Paris where she once more resumes her old life.

The next act is in the ball room of the house of one Flora who is an associate of Violetta's. Alfred comes to the ball and meets her again and overwhelms her with reproaches finally insulting her by fingering her miniature at her feet. Stung by her degradation she goes home to die. The fourth act shows her bed chamber. The doctor has given up all hope of saving her life. In the meantime Alfred has learned from his father of his visit to Violetta and hastens to her to ask forgiveness. He arrives just in time to have her die in his arms forgiving him.

The musical numbers are very pretty. On Tuesday evening the company will give Flotow's "Martha." Seats can now be secured for the engagement.

KLARK-URBAN CO.

In the Opera House today the Klark-Urban Company will close their engagement, playing Rip Van Winkle in the afternoon, and Rachael Goldstein in the evening. There will be good specialties.

HARKINS COMPANY

Commencing Thanksgiving Day, W. S. Harkins and his excellent company will open a brief engagement in the Opera House here, presenting a number of the latest London and New York successes.

A GRAND CONCERT

The musical event of the season will be the grand concert to be held in the Opera House, on November 24, the advertised attraction being the appearance of two St. John favorites—Mrs. Lizzie Blair Miller and Harry McClaskey, together with the best local talent. Mrs. Miller, who will be remembered as Miss Olive, when a resident of this city, some years ago, possesses one of the sweetest soprano voices ever heard in St. John. Mr. McClaskey is so well known that little need be said of his artistic ability.

The prices of seats for this concert have been placed within the reach of all who desire to hear good music.

AT THE NICKEL

With fine clear bracing weather, a cosy warm theatre and the best show in weeks, the Nickel will be patronized by many hundreds of children this afternoon. The programme is to be an hour long and will include the lovely Dramagraph feature "Blue Bonnets," a story with an elevating moral. This consumes nearly twenty minutes and is full of the prettiest scenes and lovely acts in which two of the cutest children on the stage are introduced. The pictures, "A Fire at Sea," "The Surprised Lover," and the strong melodrama "A Voice From The Dead," are also in the bill. Miss Foley will sing "Can't I Be Your Sweetheart?" and Mr. Cairns' contribution is new and catchy. Tonight the same show will be put on. Monday's Dramagraph play is something entirely new, entitled "The Black Princess," a drama in India, centering about an English missionary, his family and a troublesome rajah. The picture introduces elephants, camels, etc.

AT THE PRINCESS

A good crowd attended the Princess last night. The pictures are the best yet and the singing of Mrs. James Tufts was excellent. The Motor Boat Race is a very exciting picture, the boats going at great speed. A Witty Ghost is a good drama. Wanted, a Bed for the Night and the Luckless Spike, are both good comedies. E. Courtney in singing I'm Starving for One Sight of You, had to respond to a number of encores; special matinee today for ladies and children.

BABY'S OWN TABLETS A BOON TO CHILDREN

A medicine that will keep babies and young children plump and good natured, with a clear eye and rosy skin is a blessing not only to the little ones but to mothers as well. Baby's Own Tablets is just such a medicine. They cure all the minor ailments of children and make them eat well, sleep well and play well. They are used exclusively in thousands of homes when a child medicine is needed. Mrs. G. Collins, Hirkella, Man., says:—"Baby's Own Tablets are the most satisfactory medicine I have ever used for the ill of young children. They are as good as a doctor in the home." Sold by all medicine dealers or by mail at 25c. a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

H. M. HOPPER TAKES ACTION FOR LIBEL

He Will go After the Fredericton Gleaner and James H. Crockett for Statements in Reference to Queens-Sunbury Election.

H. M. Hopper, secretary-treasurer of the St. John Railway Company, yesterday took preliminary steps in two separate actions for libel which he is bringing against The Gleaner Publishing Company, of Fredericton, and against James H. Crockett, the editor, as a result of statements published in the Gleaner in connection with the election in Queens-Sunbury.

Speaking of the matter last evening, Mr. Hopper said the Gleaner in the recent campaign, referring to the Queens-Sunbury election, had named him and identified him with the position he held with the St. John Railway Company and charged that he had used rum, money and carbon paper in the election. He denied absolutely having used any of these things in connection with the election.

Mr. Hopper added that he had signed two papers yesterday, one in a suit against The Gleaner and the other against Mr. Crockett. The matter was now in the hands of F. R. Taylor, of St. John, and Charles Allen, of Fredericton.

WORLD'S LARGEST DEPARTMENT STORE

Toronto Will Soon Have it—
A British Syndicate With
$3,000,000 Capital Buys
Knox College Property for the Purpose.

Toronto, Oct. 30.—The option on Knox College property in Spadina avenue circle has been closed and all arrangements have been made for the erection of one of the largest department stores in the world. The purchaser is the British-Canadian Department Stores, Limited, of London, with a capital of $3,000,000. The building which will occupy the whole circle, will cost between $600,000 and $700,000. Knox College Corporation which received almost $185,000 for the property will build a new college nearer to Toronto University.

A Woman's Furs

Lend these distinguishing touches to the apparel that mark the woman of refined taste in dress. Good Sable, Mink, Sealskin, Ermine, etc., last a great number of years, and are frequently valued treasures handed down from a former generation.

When three hundred and fifty ladies of the sister province bought a garment for their future Queen, H.R.H. the Princess of Wales, they commissioned us to make the Royal garment. You know how well we did it.

We want you to commission us to make your winter furs. The same skill will be exercised in making your furs in the smallest detail. That is what has made the Dunlap-Cooke Furs famous, as the furs of quality. We'll please you because we want your future business—and we will guarantee to satisfy you at any reasonable cost, when we book your order, because we want your influence. We will sell you reliable furs at a lower cost than would be possible if our facilities were not so large as they are. We buy direct from trappers for our four stores in Canada and one in Boston—make all garments in our own workrooms and sell direct to you, eliminating middlemen's profits. Here are some prices for comparison, you will appreciate the exceptional values:
