THE WHEEL O' FORTUNE

By LOUIS TRACY

Author of "The Wings of the Morning," "The Pillar of Light," "The Captain of the Kansas," etc.

(Copyright, 1908, McLeod & Allen, Toronto)

"Yes, miss. He came with Mrs. Haxton. Mind you miss, I haven't seen him, but one of the stewards told me that the Baron went straight to Mr. Fenshawe's cabin and the order was given to raise the anchor immediately. I'm sure they made plenty of noise. They woke me up, miss, and I'm a sound sleeper."

The maid was ready to say more, but Irene had learnt to discourage servants' gossip.

"I think the Aphrodite might have fired cannons last night without disturbing me," declared lightly. "What time is it?" "Nearly nine o'clock, miss. No one seemed to be stirring, so Mr. Gibson put off breakfast for half an hour. He said that everybody must be worn out after yesterday's worries."

Irene laughed. Gibson, the head steward, a fatherly sort of man, was a martinet in the matter of punctuality at meals. This adjourning of the breakfast hour was a great concession on his part. It showed how strenuous life had been at Massowah.

Despite her aches and pains, she dressed rapidly. She was all agog to learn how von Kerber had regained his liberty, and what new development was marked by the yacht's unexpected sailing. When she hurried to the bridge for news, the first person she met was Royson, and perhaps one of those old deities of Memphis would have smiled darkly were he privileged to see the tell-tale color that leaped to both faces.

Naturally, the girl was the speedier to find her tongue.

"Good gracious, Mr. Royson," she said, "what is the meaning of this?" and a generous hand-sweep included sea and sky, and distant coastline in the eager question.

"I don't know," he said. "Captain Stump and Mr. Tagg entered into a conspiracy to keep me in bed. I have not been on deck five minutes."

"But didn't you ask? Aren't you consumed with curiosity? Who is in charge of the bridge?"

"Mr. Tagg. His stock of information is limited. Cleared the islands at four bells, course South-40-East is practically all he has to say."

"It may be, then, that you are good at guessing? Have you not heard that the Baron is with us?"

"ONLY MEDICINE THAT DID ME ANY GOOD"

"Fruit-a-tives" Cured Backache After Doctors Failed Utterly

I have received most wonderful benefit from taking "Fruit-a-tives." I suffered for years from backaches and pain in the head and I consulted doctors and took every remedy obtainable without any relief. Then I began taking "Fruit-a-tives" and this was the only medicine that ever did me any real good. I took several boxes altogether, and now I am entirely well of all my dreadful headaches and backaches. I take "Fruit-a-tives" occasionally still, but I am quite cured of a trouble that was said to be incurable. I give this testimony voluntarily, in order that others who suffer as I suffered may try this wonderful medicine and be cured."

Mrs. Frank Eaton, Frankville, Ont.
Be wise. Profit by Mrs. Eaton's example, and start with "Fruit-a-tives." They will quickly relieve Pain in the Back, and stop Headaches because they keep bowels, kidneys and skin in perfect order and insure the blood being always pure and rich.

"Fruit-a-tives" is now put up in the new 25c trial size as well as the regular 50c boxes. All dealers should have both sizes. If yours does not, write Fruit-a-tives, Limited, Ottawa.

"What's the game?" he inquired sympathetically. "You've eaten nothin'. Feelin' bad?"

"No. Oh, no," Royson laughed and reddened.

"Then what's wrong? Didn't you fancy the coffee an' bacon after the high livin' ashore?"

"The fact is, I met Miss Fenshawe, and she detained me a few minutes."

"Is that any reason why you shouldn't eat?"

"None whatever. I—er—really—forgot."

"Forgot your breakfast! Come out of it."

Tagg climbed up, monkey-like. "Take my tip," he said earnestly. "This is a bad climate to get hungry in. You'd have a touch of the sun in less'n no time. Just go below, an' force your way to nibble a bit. I'll be your good, an' I don't mind keepin' watch another spell."

Royson obeyed in silence. His friend's kindness supplied an unconscious but necessary tonic to his system. Obviously, the second mate of the Aphrodite had no business to trouble his head about the symbolism of a woman by Miss Irene Fenshawe. Yet he wished he knew which was the engagement finger.

Shortly before noon Captain Stump came on deck to take the sun. This was a semi-religious rite with Stump. Though the contours of the coast design with Donizetti's Lucia di Lammermoor. As in the previous visit of the company, this proved one of the most enjoyable productions and hearty applause showed how keenly the audience appreciated it.

Mrs. Darling surpassed herself and won honors in every appearance. Mr. Boyle, Mr. Paul, Signor Cantori, Miss Richey, Mr. White and Mr. Chauterau were all heard to excellent advantage, the chorus work was good, the stage settings and costumes appropriate and the orchestra did its work well.

The company's engagement will close today. In the afternoon, there will be a double bill—Cavalleria Rusticana and the last act of Rigoletto. In the evening Carmen will be sung. These will bring into the cast all the principals.

AT THE PRINCESS

A record-breaking crowd attended the Princess last night. The excellent programme was much enjoyed. The management announced that the pictures would be the best seen for a long time and they certainly were good. "Foul Play" an exciting mining drama, was loudly applauded; "The Signal Man's Bride" is a railway drama, with many interesting scenes; "Saved from Destitution" is a drama of everyday life; "Wash Day" is a comedy. Mrs. Tufts was encored repeatedly as was also Mr. Courtney. There will be a special matinee today, and a holiday bill on Monday.

SUDDEN DEATH OF I. T. RICHARDSON

Well Known School Teacher
Passed to His Reward Yesterday.

Israel T. Richardson, one of the most prominent colored citizens of St. John, and a man respected by all, died suddenly last evening in his home in St. Andrew's street. He had complained at times of dyspepsia but by none was his condition considered serious.

Yesterday, as usual, he put in the day teaching the pupils of Queen street school, and was apparently in his usual health. He ate his evening meal but afterwards complained of pain and the customary home remedies were applied. He grew worse, however, and it was seen that he was in a serious condition. A messenger was sent hurriedly to his nephew, Albert A. Richardson, in Princess street, and Dr. James Christie was also summoned. Before either arrived, however, Mr. Richardson had passed away.

Mr. Richardson was sixty-nine years old. He was a native of Bermuda and came to St. John more than thirty years ago and had ever since taught the Queen street school. He was a man of education, much interested in the work in which he was engaged and giving faithfully his time and talent in the cause of education. He won and retained the respect of all citizens who knew him and the news of his sudden death will be read with much regret.

Mr. Richardson was a member of the Masonic fraternity and was a charter member of Acadia Lodge, Grand United Order of Oddfellows. He is survived by his wife and one daughter, Miss Edna, in St. John and two brothers and one sister in Bermuda. The funeral will be held on Monday afternoon in Trinity church, of which Mr. Richardson had long been an attendant.

Fashion Hint for Times Readers

A DIRECTOIRE EFFECT IN BROADCLOTH.

Straight down from French Revolutionary days comes the pelisse influence that is cutting up all sorts of capers with the one-time convenient tailored suit and causing unimaginative tailors a deal of worry. Most conspicuous, perhaps, is the pointed lower edge—last year hinted at in the diagonal cut of otherwise conventionally shaped coats. Now the coat with straight lower edge is the exception. So familiar now have become the characteristic style marks of the Directoire period that most women will pick them out directly in the broadcloth afternoon costume pictured today. The high-waisted, double-breasted coat front, for instance, with long skirts and coat tails, the broad revers and big cuffs, the military frog trimming across the front and the elaborate braiding, that even stimulates huge buttons by being carried round and round in large discs. The big hat, laden with willow plumes, shows the new close-to-the-head manner of millinery adjustment.

PLAYS AND PLAYERS

LAST CHANCE TONIGHT TO HEAR OPERA SINGERS

The Boston Opera Singers delighted their audience in the Opera House last evening with a grand presentation of Donizetti's Lucia di Lammermoor. As in the previous visit of the company, this proved one of the most enjoyable productions and hearty applause showed how keenly the audience appreciated it.

Mrs. Darling surpassed herself and won honors in every appearance. Mr. Boyle, Mr. Paul, Signor Cantori, Miss Richey, Mr. White and Mr. Chauterau were all heard to excellent advantage, the chorus work was good, the stage settings and costumes appropriate and the orchestra did its work well.

WILL EXPORT A LARGE QUANTITY OF PULWOOD

Bay Shore-Lumber Co. Reports a Great Increase in Business.

The Bay Shore Lumber Company expects in the spring to export between 15,000,000 and 16,000,000 feet of pulp wood from this province to their mills in Maine. Of this amount they will cut about half on their own properties, the rest being supplied by contract. In future years they hope to export the same or larger quantities of pulpwood.

Hitherto all the work which has been done by the company on their properties on the North Shore of the bay has been merely preparatory. Now the business has been brought to such a point as to warrant commencing operations on a large scale. Two barges for the carrying of pulp wood have already been launched at Great Salmon River and the fleet will be added to as rapidly as circumstances will permit. The points from which exporting will be done will be Black River, Tyne-mouth Creek, St. Martins and Great Salmon River. At all these places there are wharves convenient for loading the barges.

PILES CURED IN 6 TO 14 DAYS

PAZO OINTMENT is guaranteed to cure any case of Itching, Bleeding or Protruding Piles in 6 to 14 days or money refunded.

The commissioners of the General Public Hospital are looking into the question of installing a new elevator and placing a new stairway in the building. Neither matter has been decided on as yet. As regards the elevator, it is found that more power will have to be secured from the street railway plant. At present, the line in that section carries a heavy load and the power would have to be increased before the new elevator proposed could be operated.

SEEKING MILLIONS AT BOTTOM OF SEA

Great Iron Tube Will be Driven
Into Sand Where Treasure
Ship Went Down in 1797,

To the mouth of the River Colne, off Brightlingsea, an extraordinary machine has been towed for use in a final attempt to recover the $2,500,000 treasure of gold in coins and bars, which is said to have gone down in the British warship Lutine in 1797, near the Island of Terschelling, off the coast of Holland.

A portion of the treasure has been recovered, but an ordinary dredging plant is now useless, as the vessel has sunk into the sand. The new device is a great steel tube, nearly 100 feet in length, and wide enough to allow a man to walk erect down its centre. At one end is a metal chamber provided with windows and doors, and at the other a medley of giant hooks and other tackle.

The apparatus has just been completed, after years of work, by Messrs. Forrest & Co., shipbuilders, in their Wyvenhoe yard. "One end of the tube," explained a member of the firm, "will be clamped to the side of a steamship or barge. The other end, by means of water ballast tanks, will be sunk until it touches the bottom. Then, by means of compressed air, all the water will be forced from the tube and also from the chamber at the bottom of it, which will be flush upon the bed of the sea."

"Divers will walk down a stairway in the centre of the tube until they reach the submerged chamber. Here they will don their diving costumes, and, opening a series of watertight doors, will step straight out into the water. Engineers will be stationed in the chamber, and following the instructions of the divers, who will communicate with them by means of portable telephones, they will operate the mechanism of two powerful suction pumps or dredgers which are fitted to the sides of the tube."

"These dredgers, it is hoped, will suck away the sand around the sides of the heavy chamber until it gradually sinks by its own weight right down to the deck of the wrecked ship. Then the divers, making their way from the chamber to the deck of the ship, and thence to the hold, will be able to transfer the treasure from the ship to the chamber by easy stages."

OBITUARY

William McKinley

Rothsay, N.B., Nov. 6.—William McKinley, a well known farmer of Fair Vale, died last night. He has been ill for a number of months and his death was not unexpected by his friends. Mr. McKinley was a somewhat extensive landowner and a farmer who was very well known, not only in the parish of Rothsay, but in the city of St. John, where he was a frequent visitor. He leaves a wife who is a daughter of Mr. Elijah Vincent, of Fair Vale, as well as a number of relatives residing in St. John.

Dr. Mabel Hannington gave an excellent address on her work as a missionary in China, at the service in St. Jude's church, Carleton, last evening. There was a large attendance and much interest was shown in Miss Hannington's description of people and scenes in the far east.

Rev. Mr. Macrae, of Knox College, Toronto, who was to preach in St. John Presbyterian church on three Sundays in November and December, will not be able to come, as he is going west instead. Rev. Mr. Wright, of Wolfville, will be the preacher tomorrow and next Sunday.

A meeting of the faculty of the St. John law school was held yesterday afternoon in the office of Earle, Belyea & Campbell, to arrange the lectures for the ensuing term. The first lecture will be given on Tuesday, Nov. 10, at 8 p.m.

WOMAN DRUNKARDS ARE HOPELESS

That is the Opinion of the Magistrate in Manchester—Not One Recovered.

"Women drunkards are hopeless." That was practically the verdict of the Manchester City Justices at a special meeting yesterday called to consider the Langho inebriates' home for women which Manchester city council has just voted to build. A special report by a committee showed that last year the percentage of feeble-minded people in the home was 80, the percentage for the three previous years being 60. In commenting on this the report stated: "It is now admitted that habitual drunkenness is in the great majority of cases due to mental defect, congenital and otherwise."

A summary of results of commitments to 1905 showed that 86 were committed and that 64 of these were reconvicted after leaving the city courts. The Langho home had absolutely failed, and the returns from the other inebriates' homes throughout the country were identical.

Mr. Broadfield said that women at Langho had cost £100 each, and at the end of their time had come out in a few days, scarcely helped drunk.

Dr. Russell stated that in 40 years' experience of women habitual drinkers he had never known one who really recovered. The woman steeped in alcohol was as much lost as if she was in exile. That might be an unkind thing to say, but it was true. He knew that sometimes in the reports of societies they were told that women were reclaimed, but he felt that these gentlemen were a little carried away by their hopes and faith. The woman soddie in drink was never reclaimed.

The speaker said he was not surprised that the home was a failure. They did not send people there until they were habitual. They had to be a patient in an advanced state of consumption to a sanatorium.

The Lord Mayor said the report was one of a most deplorable nature. He hoped that the legislature would realize that the time had come to deal with it in a practical manner. The enormous expense of building inebriates' homes all over the country.

THE BORDEN CLUB

At the annual meeting of the Borden Club, which was held last night in Keith's assembly rooms, Norman P. McLeod was elected president for the ensuing year. A resolution was expressed approval of the personal qualities of William Cruikshank and of his services to the club, and regret at his removal, was introduced and carried. Mr. Cruikshank has been a member of the club since its inception. He will leave soon for Fredericton to assume his duties in the auditor-general's office.

There were 275 members present last night. The reports from the officers showed the organization to be in a satisfactory state financially. It was decided to hold meetings monthly during the year. Besides Mr. McLeod, the following officers were elected: W. V. Donahue, F. R. Fairweather and W. H. Harrison, vice presidents; J. Starr Tait, secretary; W. H. Golding, treasurer. The officers with thirteen additional members were appointed as the executive.
