CALL ON ALL TO HELP IN FISH, FOREST, AND GAME PRESERVATION

Statement of Conditions in New Brunswick by Secretary of New Association--To Make This Province Sporting Paradise of Continent.

Douglas W. Clinch, secretary-treasurer of the New Brunswick Fish, Forest and Game Protective Association, gave out yesterday the following views of the organization of the fishing and shooting conditions in the provinces:

"On the evening of January 27, 1908, fourteen men at the board of trade rooms formed the St. John branch of the New Brunswick Fish, Forest and Game Protective Association. Since that memorable evening some 250 men have enrolled as members. They are lending their assistance and support to the effort the society is making to improve the conditions under which fishing and shooting are carried on in this province. The hope and expectation is that with better game laws, coupled with a proper supervision of the crown lands of the province, and rightly enforced, there will be offered such fishing and shooting as will make New Brunswick the sporting paradise of North America. Thus the people will reap the golden reward following the influx of pleasure seekers from all parts of the world.

"On taking up the subject of fish, the association found that the salmon fishing carried on at present in the harbor of this city owes its existence to the protection of the past few years. It was shown that where ten years ago the catch of a season hardly paid for the necessary equipment, today the fishermen make a good living. It was proven beyond all question of doubt that all rivers having access to the Atlantic, or the Bay of Fundy, would offer splendid salmon fishing were the federal laws demanding the establishing of dams and fishways carried out and enforced.

"It was proven that the annihilation of spawning fish with nets and dynamite had advanced the cost of living by putting the price of many fish so high that none but the wealthy could afford them. With adequate protection and restocking from well managed hatcheries, salmon and trout fishing could be had in every lake and stream in the province, and so make it the very centre of attraction to the tourist.

Forestry.

"The subject of forestry was also dealt with and though it was impossible in so short a time to handle a matter of such magnitude, it was proven that little of real scientific cutting was known to the great bulk of small lumbermen. Under the present system a concern or private individual leasing from the government for a term of years, naturally cuts all the lumber they come across and which can be transported to the stream. They have cut lumber under the regulation limit of size at the butt and have simply carried everything before them. It was also found that fires had been set simply to furnish blueberry patches for a number of farmers to reap the benefit. There is no organized body of rangers to check forest fires and unless some means are taken to preserve these forests they will in time be mere legends to the oncoming races.

"The game of the province from bird to moose is in urgent need of protection. Though it is impossible to state the actual figures, it is safe to say that 1,500 moose are annually killed illegally. From the statements of the most reliable guides, it is considered a safe estimate that every full-grown bull moose is worth to the province from $200 to $300, if killed by a non-resident. Thus last year alone the people of this province lost upwards of $400,000 through the relentless slaughter of moose. When the total value of the caribou and deer killed is added we have an appalling fact to face.

"Summing up the entire subject and by making comparisons with the state of Maine, we find that where thirty years ago the shooting and fishing were nearly exhausted, today they receive annually $25,000,000 from their fishing and shooting alone. These figures are by no means exaggerated and are from the best authorities on the subject in America. They have been proven by house to house canvassing, figures furnished by railways, hotel proprietors and others competent to judge.

"This is what the people of New Brunswick are today face to face with. We have without question far better facilities and natural assets than has the state of Maine. Are we to rise to the occasion as a united body of business and sporting men alike and take advantage of our golden opportunity, or is it to be sacrificed at our very door? This association thinks not and they wish therefore the co-operation of every man throughout the entire province.

"DOUGLAS W. CLINCH, Sec. Treas."

INQUEST INTO DEATH OF ABBIE WEATHERBY

Coroner Berryman Conducts Inquiry; Several Witnesses Give Evidence.

Coroner Berryman last night opened the inquest into the cause of the death of Abbie Weatherby, who died in the General Public Hospital recently. A number of witnesses were examined including Dr. Warwick, Dr. Douglas and Dr. Emery, and the inquiry was adjourned till the 24th inst. S. A. M. Skinner was present to watch the proceedings in behalf of Alfred Lake and William Rudd.

Kate Myra of the Park Hotel staff, told of hiring Abbie Weatherby as chamber maid. She stayed a week and was sick the greater part of the time. Dr. McDonald, who was called, said she was pretty sick. A man whom she called "uncle" called on Monday night and took her away in a coach. She said a young man, other than the one she called "uncle," visited Monday morning.

Dr. Warwick told of making a post mortem. Death was primarily due to blood poisoning.

Wm. Rudd, who lived at 16 Pond street until Wednesday last, said he had been twice married. His last wife was living, but he considered that his marriage to her was not legal. He had known Alfred and Ed. Lake since last January. They rented a room from him in his house. The deceased girl had been frequently to the house while the Lakes were there and at one time before going to the Park Hotel she stayed there eight days continuously. The witness understood that Alfred Lake was the one who brought her from the Park Hotel to his house. Lake told the witness to get a doctor, and he brought Dr. Douglas. Once he heard Lake suggest that the girl's relatives be called, but she refused. This witness was stood aside, being bound over in the sum of $40 to appear again when called on.

Dr. Ellen Douglas told of being called to attend the girl.

Mrs. Peter Weatherby told that about a week before Christmas, Alfred Lake and the deceased and Mrs. Stephen Lake called at her house to see her husband who was Miss Weatherby's half brother. The girl told her that she had been Alfred Lake's housekeeper in Nova Scotia, and in fulfillment of a promise Lake brought her to this city and was taking care of her. Lake and Miss Weatherby often called at her house, and once they stayed a week. Mrs. Weatherby said she once saw Lake give the girl a tablet. She told the girl that if she did not keep clear of Lake she would have to keep clear of her house.

Dr. Emery told of being called in consultation with Dr. Douglas. The girl's death, in his judgment, was the direct result of malpractice.

At this point the inquest was adjourned till the 24th inst., at 7 o'clock.

TALK OF BIG SURPRISE IN CITY ELECTION CIRCLES

Report of Complete Slate of Representative Men for Mayor and Aldermen at the Eleventh Hour--The Names.

A statement gained circulation yesterday, which if true will throw a bomb into the arena of civic politics almost at the eleventh hour. The story is that a large number of influential citizens have selected a ticket which will appeal to the best elements among the electors, and propose to nominate these men and carry them off their feet by virtually compelling them to accept office. The following is the list mentioned:

Mayor—W. H. Thorne.
Stanley—J. Fraser Gregory.
Lorne—Frank H. Flewwelling.
Lansdown—A. P. Barnhill.
Dufferin—Phillip Grannan.
Sydney—James Pender.
Wellington—James Paterson (North wharf.)
Victoria—M. E. Agar.
Prince—Joseph Allison.
Queens—E. C. Elkin.
Dukes—W. S. Fisher.
Kings—T. H. Estabrooks.
At Large—R. T. Hayes, Dr. J. H. Frink, W. E. Scully, Chas. McDonald.

The names mentioned in connection with the west side wards are H. Colby Smith, and J. B. M. Baxter.

Prince Jarloryski, a Police nobleman, is in Montreal seeking his daughter, who, he says, eloped with a penniless poet.

BORDEN CORRECTS FALSE STATEMENT

Calls Attention to Article That He Favored Asiatic Labor — Belated Speeches on Budget Delivered.

Ottawa, April 10—In the house today before the orders were called R. L. Borden took occasion to deny a statement, which he was informed was in a Victoria (B.C.) newspaper saying that he opposed legislation protecting the white labor against Asiatic labor. "This," said Mr. Borden, "is absolutely untrue."

Two or three members of parliament intended making speeches on the subject and were disappointed, because they were not present when the debate closed. On motion to go into supply they took occasion to run these off. The first was from Mr. Clements (Kent) who spoke of the necessity of increased protection to farm products. He arraigned the government on the question of graft.

Mr. Loggie (Northumberland, N.B.) followed. He took up the matter of protection to farm products, referring to pork, which Mr. Clements cited. Mr. Loggie said that in fishing and lumber camps the class of pork used was not produced in Canada and had to be imported. If the duty were increased the fishermen and lumbermen would suffer.

Mr. Loggie advocated strongly the taking over of the branch lines by the Intercolonial.
