FINANCIAL and COMMERCIAL

(Furnished by D. C. Clinch, Banker and Broker.)

NEW YORK FINANCIAL BUREAU.

Some of the special despatches say the bank deposit guarantee subject is becoming more of an issue in the campaign for the presidency and that Taft has resolved to take the stump on account of more alarm in Republican papers. The Times has a special from Frisco giving an interview with Harriman to the effect that he views the apathy apprehensively because he fears the conservative vote will stay at home. He favors tariff modification. One favorable feature of the campaign however, is that business men are taking a greater interest than ever according to President VanCleve of the National Association of Manufactures who talks at length in the Journal of Commerce. If unfavorable the crop report may be made the excuse for a raid by professionals.

DETAILED STOCK GOSSIP.

Last information is bullish on U. P., S. P. and Reading. If offerings just above Friday's close are removed these stocks should do much better. Harriman intimates there will be no difficulty in getting cash for So. Pac. Smelting and ACP. have not completed reactionary operations but may be bought on breaks. Lawson in his ad. to-day still bulls Smelting. Paul is moving in a narrower range of 143 to 146. Breaking of these limits may mean extension of move. Erie still displays an upward tendency. Great Northern and Northern Pacific are still in a trading area but should be bought for turns on declines as heretofore stated. R. I. Pfd. and M. K & T. are the best low priced stocks. Lead is still meeting support near 83 according to our reports. Con. Gas and Telephone are reported destined for higher prices. B. R. T. is in a trading position with reports rather bullish on tractions from the pools. Steel is sold on rallies and covered on declines by the room.

Liverpool due opened steady 1 to 2 higher than Monday. 12.15 p.m.—Steady net 5 to 6 points higher than Friday on near month and 2 1-2 to 4 higher on late months. Fair business done in spot, 7 points advance above Friday, middlings up's 5.32d. Sales 8,000, speculation and export 500, Amn. 7,000. Imports 6,000, none American.

COTTON LETTER.

There has been considerable talk of late regarding the October situation. One of the big spot interests was believed to be long of that month against sales abroad and sales of Dec. and Jany. in the local market. The idea may possibly be to work Oct. up to a parity with the Southern markets and attract a larger stock here for the protection of short hedges. If so, the Oct. short interest may become uneasy with the approach of the first delivery day and furnish the market a certain measure of support. Otherwise there seems very little promise of a buying movement as the market has not yet arrived at a point likely to attract investment buying, nor will it have done so until the ability of the South to sustain prices has been thoroughly tested, as the weight of the new crop reaches its height.

Weather:—No particular features have developed over the holidays. Local rains have occurred in the South Atlantic and Gulf States and the indications point to the continuation today and tomorrow.

Liverpool:—Wheat opened quiet 1 1-8 off from Friday's closing. Corn opened dull and unchanged. At 1.30 p.m.—Wheat unchanged to 3-8 up. Corn unchanged.

TOWN TOPICS.

The strong closing which took place on Friday last is likely to stimulate a fair amount of buying by commission houses at opening today. The outlook is for an active and strong market during the greater part of the morning session but we are of the opinion that advantage will be taken of any bulge of a point or so by insiders to liquidate stocks. There is every reason to believe that politics will play a more important part in the market fluctuations from now on. For the time being we think traders would be wise in accepting moderate profits on the long side as there is a great deal of uncertainty ahead of the market and should a political scare develop there is little doubt that banking support to some extent would be withdraw.

WASHINGTON WILL HAVE A GREAT CROP OF APPLES

Spokane, Wash., Sept. 8.—Reports compiled by the Spokane chamber of commerce show that orchardists in Washington will receive more money for their crop this year than in any previous season. The yield of commercial winter apples this season is a record-breaker in this state, and the fruit is larger and of good flavor and color. The orchards were sprayed well during the growing period and as a result the fruit is clean. Wholesale prices are firm, and the growers say that a combination among eastern buyers is about the only thing which can affect the present quotations, ranging from $1 to $1.50 a box of 50 pounds. Short crops in eastern, middle western and southern states indicate greater activity in buyers in northwestern orchards, and, in addition, there are the markets in the Pacific states to supply, which, during the coming year, will be double that of any year in the history of the country. Early apples are being shipped from the Walla Walla, North Yakima, Wenatchee and Spokane valleys to Boston, New York, Chicago and southern points, and while the freight rates to the eastern marts have been increased, it is not believed this will materially affect large shipments in the fall. L. G. Monroe, secretary of the Washington State Horticultural association, who is also secretary of the Spokane chamber of commerce, has reports that shipments of Washington apples to Europe and Australia will be larger than ever before.

HIS EPITAPH.

(Washington Star.)

Secretary Cortelyou was elaborating his recent epigram, "Politics are a duty." With a smile he said:—

"I don't mean by politics spoil hunting and office seeking. Politics is a good and honorable word. It is a shame to have degraded it. We should try to uplift it again to its right place."

He paused, then went on:—

"We don't want the word 'politics' to evoke the picture of such a man as Hilary Harkness.

"Hilary Harkness was a politician of the lowest type, and unsuccessful at that. His whole life was devoted to office-seeking; he spent 37 years vainly seeking a $5,000 office—hours 10 till 2—while his wife and daughter supported him by keeping a candy shop.

"Well, Hilary died at last. A modest shaft was put above his remains, and the executor asked the editor to suggest an epitaph to go upon the shaft.

"The editor thought a moment. Then he smiled, and slipping a sheet of paper in his typewriter, he clicked off:—

Here Lies
HILARY HARKNESS
in the only place
for which he never applied.

A STRANGE BEQUEST.

A very remarkable bequest has been made by a Canterbury lady named Mrs. Catherine Stewart Peter, wife of the Rev. Robert Godolphin Peter, who died recently and left an estate of the value of $82,900. She bequeathed $7,000 in consols to the Bishop of Ely upon trust to apply the income as to £1 per annum to the Rector of Cavendish, Suffolk, for the purpose of hot cross buns to be distributed to the Sunday school children and their teachers on Good Friday, the remainder of the income to be paid annually to two poor single women for life resident in Cavendish, preference being given to those who have stayed at home to help their parents.

Manchester, Robertson, Allison, Limited, are to-night advertising an advance showing of autumn and winter millinery tomorrow morning, which will satisfy a demand for new headwear that invariably springs in advance of the regular opening days. Street hats and tailored effects are the principal shapes to be shown and prices are so graded that any lady in need of new headwear will find our sale a very opportune one.

IN EVERY BLOCK.

In almost every block in the city are found successful young men and women who have been trained and placed by the Currie Business University in such numbers as to defy all argument or opposition.

This is the only institution with public service offices splendidly equipped where pupils may earn their tuition fees many times over before accepting permanent positions; thus raising their value fifty to one hundred per cent. over the graduates of opposition schools.

THE SELF-FEEDER COAL.

About the quality of coals, there are many opinions, but the proof of the pudding etc., is settled by burning Triple X Lehigh coal in your self-feeder.

Ask anybody who has burned Gibbon & Co.'s Triple X Lehigh in their self-feeders, then secure enough to supply your own self-feeder for this winter.

DREAM INVENTION.

Willis Pratt, a farmer living near Farmersburg, Ind., has suddenly become $25,000 richer owing to an invention which he pictured in a dream. Some time ago Pratt dreamed three nights in succession of an improved churn. The construction of it differed so radically from churns now in use, that he set to work and modelled one after the one he pictured in his dream.

As soon as the model was completed he obtained a patent and began manufacturing churns on a small scale at his home. Various patent journals published announcements, describing the invention in full. Last week a churn company of Chicago asked Uratt to place a price on his invention, which he did, putting the figure so high that he had little hope of the company accepting the price. Contrary to his expectations, he received a reply that the company would accept the offer and that it would send a representative immediately to close the deal.

The building of the Chicago drainage canal has been the means of so improving the sanitary conditions in that city that the death rate from typhoid and similar diseases has been reduced 67.5 per cent.

MARINE NOTES

The bark Ensenada, 999 tons, Captain Morris, has arrived at Buenos-Ayres. She left Bridgewater on June 13.

The steamer Usher arrived at Melbourne on Wednesday from Auckland, N. Z. From there she will probably proceed to Newcastle to load coal for a port on the west coast of South America.—Yarmouth Times.

The owners of the bark Madura, at present in Yarmouth, are taking advantage of her enforced idleness to have her given a thorough overhauling. She has been hauled on the slip, as already stated, and is being painted and otherwise repaired.—Yarmouth Times.

Washington, Sept. 5.—According to the monthly report of the bureau of navigation of the Department of Commerce and Labor, 125 sail and steam vessels were built in the United States during August, which were officially numbered.

These had a gross tonnage of 4,583 and include five steel steam vessels and 120 wooden vessels of which 19 are sailing ships.

Syren and Shipping, one of the best known papers devoted to maritime matters, makes the following comment in its last issue:

"The New York correspondent of a daily contemporary states that the experiment of employing a lady purser is to be tried on board 'one of the big coastwise liners.' Once inaugurated, the system will no doubt spread like wildfire, and we shall find neat chambermaids replacing the old familiar bedroom steward, deft-handed waitresses in the saloon, and smiling Hebes behind the bar. Whether the navigation of the ship will benefit under the new arrangement is, however, open to doubt. Sailors are notoriously susceptible, and we have a vision of some smart second officer standing on the bridge at midnight and whistling, 'Put me among the girls,' when he ought to be concentrating his mind on the possible dangers ahead. Passengers, no doubt, will regard the scheme with favor. Many of them, in fact, will welcome it with open arms."

If it is a question of price—then, all things considered, "Salada" is the greatest tea value for the money paid, for experience has proven that "Salada" (packed in air-tight lead packets) is tea excellence.
