CELEBRATION OF PENTECOST

Jewish People Will Celebrate It Commencing Tomorrow and Lasting for Two Days.

The Jewish people the world over will celebrate the anniversary of the Feast of the Pentecost commencing tomorrow evening and continuing for two days.

The following statement regarding the celebration was given to the Times this morning by Rabbi Amdur.

"The rotation of seasons brought us once more the day when Israel the world over celebrates the anniversary of the feast of Pentecost. The Biblical name for it is "Shevuos," feast of weeks, for on this day it concluded the seven weeks from Passover, which according to Mosaic ordinances, had been devoted to the work of harvesting in the crop from the field, the Jews then as a nation, in a political sense of the word, and dwelt in Palestine. When full were the barns with Nature's bounty, a most auspicious time for a festive day had come. The Bible also names it the day of the first fruit (Biccurim) numb. 28-26, for the reason that of the many kinds of fruits the first ripe ones were, in this season of the year, brought as a thank offering in the temple. But in the course of historical development it lost its original signification and in post Biblical history other ideas, higher and nobler than those that in the first became connected with this day, the institution of Pentecost. Since time immemorial Israel celebrates this feast as a day of sublime importance, commemorating the fact in which God blessed Israel with holy law, proclaiming the ten commandments on Mount Sinai, and formed them into a nation. It took place on the sixth day in the third month (Sivan) since their emancipation from Egypt.

"This year it occurs on Friday, June 5th, commencing the preceding eve, and continues two days. Services will be held in the Hazen Avenue Synagogue on both days. By Rabbi L. Amdur, Friday 10.30 a.m., a sermon in English; subject, "Old Pictures in New Frames."

Fredericton, N. B., June 2.

Hon. J. D. Hazen, D. C. L.

Dear Sir,—Included in my late father's estate we have 25 volumes of the old Morning News from the year 1839 to 1862, inclusive.

Hardly a month passes but enquiry is made from one source or another as to certain historical facts contained in these files.

My mother has suggested my writing to you to ask if the government would accept these 25 volumes as a donation to the Legislative Library, if so she would be pleased to hand them over.

W. T. H. FENETY.
