QUITE TO THE POINT

An Englishman, writing to the Campbellton Graphic in defence of Mr. Thomas Malcolm, describes the men brought out from England last summer as "corner boys, loafers, spongers and tramps." These persons were sent out by the "special labor representative" and "special executive of the construction employment department of the International Railway Company of Canada," headquarters "44 Great George Street, Liverpool." Who, therefore, is responsible for their presence in New Brunswick? The Times entirely agrees with the writer in the Graphic when he says:—

"I think it is quite time that Englishmen here or elsewhere in this country who are trying to earn an honest living and win the respect of our brothers out here in Canada, should unite and pootest against the scum of England being sent out here to represent labor. They are not only sowing seeds of disgust in the minds of the Canadian people for the Old Country, but are the means of making Englishmen feel small. I sincerely hope and trust that the people of Canada will take these men for what they are worth and think none the less of the men who are trying hard to win their confidence and respect."

These Englishmen should get after the special executive of the construction employment department of the International Railway without delay.

New Amsterdam Bank and Frank W. Kinsman its President.

NEW YORK, Feb. 3—It has been decided to close the doors of the New Amsterdam National Bank, one of the chain of C. W. Morse's institutions around which the banking disturbance of last October centred and from which it was unable to recover.

At a midnight conference directors of the Mechanics' and Traders' Bank a state institution with a capital stock of $2,000,000, also decided to close its doors. The banking department was immediately notified and the bank will be in the hands of the state banking department.

Making a direct accusation against the clearing house association the directors made public the following series of resolutions adopted at their conference:—

"At a meeting of the board of directors of the Mechanics and Traders' bank, held at the banking office, No. 565 Broadway, on the evening of January 29, 1908, the following resolution was unanimously adopted.

"Whereas, the clearing house committee informed the officers of this bank at five o'clock this afternoon that the clearing house holds some $6,000,000 of approved collateral of this bank, against which we owe them only about $1,900,000; and

"Whereas, although this bank is absolutely solvent ,the cash resources in the possession of the bank make it appear inadvisable for the bank to continue business without such present aid; and

"Whereas, it is for the best interests of the depositors, under the circumstances, to avoid any preferential payments to any depositors, all of whom should be treated alike, it is

"Resolved. That this bank do not open its doors tomorrow, and that we communicate with the banking department forthwith.

"Further that it is the intention of the directors to reopen the bank at the earliest possible date."

THE HERALD IS WRATHY

An Indication of the Heated Condition of Fredericton's Political Atmosphere.

As an illustration of the heated condition of the political atmosphere in Fredericton the following attack on Mayor McLeod taken from the Fredericton Herald will suffice. The item in question forms portion of an alleged news report of a meeting of the city council on Friday evening.

"His worship the mayor then arose to his feet and throwing the dignity of his office to the winds, started in to give his views on the subject in most intemperate and vehement manner. Fredericton has been sixty years a city and in all that time no such deliverance has been heard from the lips of a chief magistrate. When Harry Beckwith was mayor he occasionally found it necessary to speak very plainly in order to suppress Ald. Peter Duffie but he usually had sufficient provocation. There is no other case on record that can hold a candle to last night's exhibition. The mayor had scarcely started to speak before he began to show marked symptoms of brain storm, transitory mania and other ailments of that sort He moved the chair back out of reach and pranced up and down the platform like a caged lion and kept his arms swinging like a windmill. The spectators sat dumbfounded at the exhibition but they must have been impressed with one thing—a man of his worship's violent temper was never intended by God or nature to hold any representative position."

A BIRTHDAY PARTV

The home of Henry McFarlane, 113 St. David street, was the scene of a pleasant gathering on Monday of last week, the occasion being the celebration of the birthday of his son, Charles A. McFarlane. The party numbered twenty in all, including three generations of the family, and a feature of the evening was the presentation to the guest of honor of a very handsome silver mounted French briar pipe, with amber mouthpiece, with a fine leather case. A sumptuous repast was served, and the evening passed pleasantly with games and music.

Suffered From Heart and Nerve Troubles FOR THE Last Ten Years.

The heart has supplied to it two sets of nerves, one set which quickens, the other which slows its action. The proper action of these nerves, so important to the well-being of the heart, depends upon the general condition of the nervous system. If there be nerve derangement of any kind it is bound to produce all the various phenomena of heart derangement.

Knowing the intricate structure of the heart, and being aware how diseases of the nerves affect the heart, we have combined in Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills a treatment that will cure all forms of nervous disorders as well as act on the heart itself, and in this is the secret of their success in curing so many cases of heart trouble which have defied all other treatment.

Mrs. John Riley, Douro, Ont., writes: "I have been a great sufferer from heart and nerve troubles for the last ten years. After trying many remedies and doctoring for two years, without the least benefit, I decided to give Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills a trial. I am thankful to say that, after using nine boxes, I am entirely cured, and would recommend them to all sufferers."

Price 50c. per box or three for $1.25, at all dealers, or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

A young turkey has smooth black legs, an old one rough and reddish legs. When fresh killed the eyes are full and clear, and moist feet. The bills and feet of geese are red when old, but yellow when young. The feet are pliable when fresh killed, but stiff after being long kept. Ducks vary greatly in their flesh. Always choose those which are plump and firm to the handling.

SARDINIAN HAD AQUILLA'S CREW

Survivors from P. E. I. Vessel Brought Home on the Allan Liner Which Reached Here Saturday.

Allan line steamship Sardinian, Captain Henry, arrived in port last Saturday afternoon just before the big storm set in, and is now berthed at the I. C. R. wharf. The steamer reached Halifax last Friday, and had on board the crew of the Prince Edward Island brigantine Aquilla, who were taken off their ship in mid-Atlantic early in December after the Aquilla had been reduced to a derelict by a succession of gales. Huddled on the poop of their waterlogged ship for five days with no fire and nothing to eat but sea soaked biscuit, and momentarily expecting the hull to go to the bottom, they had an experience which none of them ever want to face again.

The same storm which drove the Mount Temple to her fate on Ironbound Island, caught the Aquilla, which was taking a cargo of laths from Richibucto to New York, off Cape Cod. By the end of three days she was reduced to a helpless derelict. Sails, rigging, deckload, bulwarks and cathead had all been washed overboard by the tremendous seas and with no shelter, and but scanty provisions, the crew were forced to take refuge on the poop.

Finally, on December 8th, when 300 miles off Sandy Hook, the Anchor liner Italia hove in sight and seeing their signals, launched a boat. The sea had somewhat subsided by this time, but it was still running furiously, and it was several hours before the men were taken off. The Aquilla was then set on fire and after two hours more hard work, the Italia was reached. They were treated most hospitably on the Anchor liner, and on landing at Genoa they were sent to London by the British Consul and joined the Sardinian, where Captain Henry, a fellow countryman treated them most hospitably.

The crew consists of Captain Kelly, Summerside; E. Peacock, mate, Bedeque; A. Gallant, Summerside, second mate; H. Fraser, Georgetown; steward; T. Miller, Valparaiso; and F. Clements, Nova Scotia, seamen.

GEORGETOWN, P. E. I. Feb. 3—(Special)—Capt. Basil Kelly, of Summerside, and three members of the crew of the ship-wrecked brigantine Aquilla, arrived at their island homes yesterday from Naples. The Aquilla lumber laden left Shelburne, N. S. for New York Nov. 30th She encountered a series of terrible gales one of which sent the Mount Temple on the rocks and for a week was at the mercy of the winter seas.

For five days the crew was exposed to terrible hardships, suffering from cold and hunger. The vessel sprang a leak, sails were blown to pieces, and she became a complete wreck and waterlogged. The crew only wanted a favorable opportunity to abandon her. She was then 300 miles south east of New York and being driven to the eastward. Two steamers passed without responding to signals of distress. On December 8th. the S. S. Italia from New York to Naples picked them up taking them to the latter place. One of the men exhausted by incessant labor at the pumps and exposure became violently insane but subsequently recovered. They sailed from Naples to London then to Halifax arriving there on Friday last. The Aquilla was owned by Jos Read & Co., of Summerside.

The provincial government was reconstructed on Saturday. J. D. McInnis being sworn in a member of the executive to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Premier Peters.

DIED FROM HIS INJURIES

Seven-year-old Cecil Cooper, of 141 Mecklenburg street whose clothes caught fire on Saturday as the result of playing near a self-feeder stove died from his burns during the day. The little lad was a son of Mr. and Mrs. William A Cooper. The funeral will take place this afternoon at 2 o'clock.

OBITUARY

Mrs. Robert H. Edwards

Dr. Joseph Andrews, of 51 Garden street, received on Saturday morning a telegram with the sad intelligence of the death of his sister, Annie, wife of Robert H. Edwards, of Halifax. No intimation of any pervious illness had reached here and it is presumed that the end was sudden. She was a daughter of the late Joseph Andrews, who in his time was a prominent resident of Paradise Row. Mrs. Edwards is survived by her husband, two sons and one daughter. The sons are Fred and Robert H., and Mrs. Harry Cordiss is the daughter. Besides her brother, Dr. Andrews, she is survived by two sisters—Mrs. McCourt, wife of Joseph McCourt, of McCourt Bros., in this city, and Mrs. Charles Heales, of Port Williams (N. S.) The deceased was well known in this city, where she often visited and where she leaves many relatives. She was a very affable woman and counted her friends by the hundred and many in her native city will regret to hear of her death.

In Halifax her death will be a distinct loss to the poorer classes as she was a foremost worker in all movements looking towards the amelioration of their condition. She was a noted worker in St. Paul's Episcopal church. At the time of her death she was secretary-treasurer of a movement which had for its object the erection of a home for working girls where they could find comfortable quarters at cost. It is presumed that the energy which she manifested in this and similar work hastened her end.

Unfortunately, owing to ill-health,neither Dr. Andrews nor Mrs. McCourt will be able to attend the funeral, which will take place this afternoon.

Sister Mary Louis

Sister Mary Louis died Saturday morning in the Mater Misericordiae Home, after a lengthy illness. She was formerly Miss Mary E. Walsh, of Milford. She was a member of the community of the Sisters of Charity of St. John for thirty-two years and taught in the schools conducted by the sisters in St. John, Moncton and Fredericton. Her former pupils, as well as a large circle of friends, will hear of her death with regret.

Miss Jennie McDade

Miss Jennie McDade, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James McDade, died on Saturday at the residence of her parents, Mill street, after a tedious and painful illness. She was taken sick last June with some internal trouble and was sent to Boston, where she underwent an operation at the hands of an eminent specialist, but from the effects she never fully recovered.

Miss McDade was a young woman of a wide acquaintance and was well liked everywhere. She is survived, besides her father and mother,by three sisters—Annie, Lizzie and Mollie, and one brother, John, all of whom live at home. The funeral will take place Tuesday afternoon.

TOMORROW'S CARNIVAL

Judging from the very large advance sale of tickets there will be a great crowd at the fancy dress carnival to be held in the Victoria Rink tomorrow, Tuesday evening. According to report there will be many novel costumes and some very funny combinations. The K. of P. Boston '08 Club is sparing no effort to make the affair a grand success and the offer of $40 in prizes, the prospect of good keen ice and up-to-date band music, indicate that the carnival will eclipse all previous undertakings of this kind.

Get your tickets early and avoid the crowds at the rink entrance.

A NEW LIMERICK

The novel limerick contest to be conducted by The Prince's Beach Company offers opportunity to secure a desirable lot for a summer home on the St. John river. The lots are at Harding's and Sand Points, two of the most beautiful spots on the river, and the prizes offered are unusually attractive. Everyone should read the advertisement in today's issue and then investigate the offer.

Don't forget the high-class entertainment to be held in Ludlow street United Baptist church on Tuesday evening, February 4th. Some of the best local talent will take part.

The First State Bank, of Beaver City, Okla., has quit business and notice given to all depositors to withdraw their money.

There came to light yesterday indications of what appears to be a dastardly plot to discredit certain banks of this city for its hoped for affect in the stock market. Numbers of depositors in different institutions were called up and hints given that something was wrong with the banks where their funds were deposited. In some cases mention was made of alleged rumors that the banks were in trouble. In each instance the name of some bank was given but when the person called up asked for the name of his informant the telephone was hung up at the other end. Obviously the purpose of these unknown parties was to create a run while at the same time concealing their identity and hoping to escape discovery and punishment.

London:—Americans were steady about parity with a very small volume of business doing. General market was quiet and a trifle heavy. The royal assassinations in Portugal tended to create dullness rather than specific weakness except of course in Portuguese bonds. Money was in fair demand abroad but the only pressing requirements is Paris settlement and that concludes today. Rates should be very easy later in the week.
